April 12, 2011

Dr. J. Fernando Naveda – Calendar Conversion Program Director Chandra McKenzie – Assistant Provost for Academic Affairs

Agenda

- Q2S principles and strategies
- Calendar conversion co-op committee report
- Staff incentives
- Scheduling
- Advisor job description
- Helping faculty redesign courses

Q2S Principles and Strategies

- Document has been shared with
 - Associate deans
 - Department chairs
 - Student advisors
- There are costs involved
 - Summer, Q2S bridge courses, independent study course sections, etc.
 - Student tuition and board
- Who should this document be released to?

Calendar conversion coop report

- Steering committee
 - Discussed and sent it to the Provost
 - Provost recommended we look at assessment of experiential learning in each curriculum
 - Possible equivalence between experiential learning, innovation experiences, study abroad and co-op was more complicated than it seemed
 - Document was discussed with the associated deans who recommended it not be released at this point

Staff incentives

- Two major projects dominate today
 - SIS (PeopleSoft, Oracle)
 - Calendar conversion
- Staff are participating on both
- Need to find a way to incentivize those who are actively engaged in conversion activities
- What do we do?

Scheduling

- The Registrar provided a draft scheduling model
 - Mon Wed Fri for 1 hour lectures
 - Tue, Thur for 2 hour lectures
- Exceptions can be handled but will need approval
- Will ask other schools about their experience
- First semester calendar ready by Fall 2012
- Overload tuition through Summer 2013

Advisor job description

- Sent out to all Deans
- Intention is to have a unique job description

Helping faculty redesign courses

- Capitalize on the opportunity
- Alternative course delivery models
 - Distance
 - Blended
 - Other models
 - Bucknell university
