Brain Auto Pilots, Misfires, and End Runs

- You arrive at work and can't remember a thing about the 30 minute drive you just took
- You just finished your shower and realize you have no idea if you washed your hair or not
- In a group of friends someone brings up a TV character and every member of the group can picture the face but can't remember the name --- "collective brain disease"
- You forget how to spell "thought" as you're writing a note --- "it just doesn't look right!"
- You have a hard time remembering someone's name . . . and you gave birth to them

You May Need to Balance IT

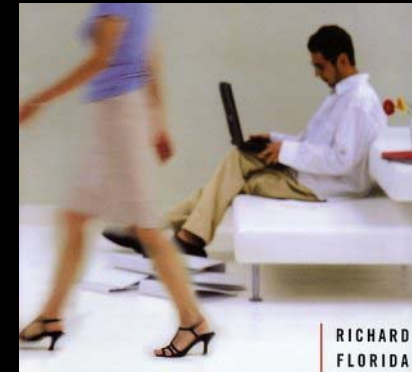

- If you get a nervous tick after not checking your e-mail for more than 12 hours
- If you wake up at 3 a.m. to go to the bathroom and on the way back to bed you check your e-mail
- If you can't sit through an entire movie without having at least one device on your body beep or buzz
- If you continue to talk on your cell phone when you enter public restrooms
- If you're using PowerPoint to lecture your children
- If your first thought after seeing this list is that you'd like to get a copy so you can e-mail it to someone
