Printers Have Distinguished Speaker At Banquet Tonight

With John Adams Lowe, director of the Rochester Public Libraries, as their guest speaker, the students of the Department of Publishing and Printing, bound together in the "Pi" Club, will hold their fifth annual banquet this evening at Lorenzo's.

The official name of the club is ETAON SHRDLU (taken from the first two vertical rows of lino-type keys), but it is commonly known as the "Pi" Club. This club is directly affiliated with the National Student Graphic Arts Society.

Elaborate plans for the banquet have been made by the committee in charge headed by John Whitman. The programs, place cards and menus have been designed and printed for the occasion by the freshmen.

Toastmaster for the evening will be John Whitman. Joseph F. Sorace, faculty adviser, will present awards.

Tennis Season Opens Tomorrow

Tennis varsity squad preparations have reached their peak for the first meet of the season which will be held with an invading Brockport State Normal congregation tomorrow afternoon on the local courts, starting at two o'clock. Six singles and three doubles matches are anticipated.

Coach Bill Toporcer notices great improvement in the skill of last year's squad members who are returning this season, and has also spotted some promising freshman material on the courts.

Veteran players slated for varsity play tomorrow are Kupferschmid, O'Conner, and Willig. Three freshman players, Nowik, Morse, and Malara, which show great promise, complete this list along with Reibischke, Bull, Melver, and Warren.

Approximately sixty students are regularly turning out for tennis activity so far this season.

Cafeteria Staff Frolics

The block in charge of the cafeteria this month will frolic tonight at Willow Point Park. Marjorie Bieksler is in charge of entertainment and refreshments.

Annual Convocation Exercises Will Be Held Next Saturday

The Annual Convocation exercises for the citation of senior students will be held next Saturday morning, May 17, at the Central Presbyterian Church, North Plymouth Avenue corner Church Street.

The main address will be delivered by Peter Marshall, of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Washington, D. C. The Convocation Exercises are scheduled for 10 o'clock. A practice senior rehearsal will be held Friday morning at 9 a. m. in the Central Presbyterian Church.

Exhibits—12:30-1:30 p. m.

Following the Convocation, students and their guests will have an opportunity to visit the various departments and meet the counselors and teachers. All laboratories, studios and shops will be open and instructors will be there to explain the exhibits to the visitors. There will be exhibits of the work of Art students in the Bevier Exhibition Hall, of Photography students in the Eastman Assembly Hall and exhibits of the Publishing and Printing students in the Printing laboratory.

Dinner and Dance—7:30 p. m.

The Annual Alumni Reunion Dinner and Dance will be held Saturday evening at 7:30 at the Oak Hill Country Club, off East Avenue. All seniors are invited to attend. Each senior may attend without charge. Extra guest tickets may be purchased at $2.25 at the Alumni office or from the cashier in the Eastman Building. Reservations close Tuesday, May 13.

Softball Season Begun

Batter up!!!

Softball is in full swing. The opening game of the season was played Tuesday afternoon in Genesee Valley Park between the Art School and the Photo-Techs.

With Metro Bastuk striking out 13 of the opposing batters and his teammates blasting out 16 hits—9 for extra bases—the Art School defeated the Photo-Techs 15-3 in a 7-inning. The Art school got 15 runs on 16 hits and had 2 errors in the field; the Photo-Techs got 3 runs on 6 hits and committed 3 errors in the field.

The Annual Senior Ball, which will be held in the Masonic Temple Ballroom this year, is scheduled for next Friday, May 16, with dancing from 9 to 1. The McFarland Twins, America's only twins of syncopeation, have been obtained for this dance, with their famous trio the Norton Sisters.

The McFarland Twins feature both sweet and swing rhythms. They incorporate a distinctively new type of dance music, with the twin idea used throughout. Their aggregation is unique in that both of the twins stand in front of the band, directing and featuring their saxophones.

After five years with Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians, the twins—George and Arthur—premiered their own band at the Rainbow Grill, Radio City, where they remained for six months. Two of their outstanding engagements, were at Hotel Penn, in Philadelphia and the Clinton in Albany.

Another highlight of the Senior Ball this year will be the coronation ceremony of the girl chosen queen. The committee members feel that an event as important as the crowning of a queen should be attended with great ceremony and wish to take this opportunity to enlist the cooperation of all those planning to attend the dance.

Candidates for this honor, chosen for their "vim, vigor and vitality" as well as their beauty, were selected by the executive committee. The girls are: Marilyn Smith and Jane Hathaway, Retailing; Eleanor Brockmyre, Art; and Betty Booden and Betty Sears, Foods. The Queen will be chosen by ballot.

Plans are being made to form a court for the queen and her attendants, the success of which will depend upon help from the audience. The grand march, which will be the closing episode honoring the queen and her court, will also depend for its success upon the unrestrained help of those attending the Ball.

With the help of the student body in general, the committee believes that this year's Senior Ball can be made the finest and most impressive dance ever given at the Institute.

General chairman of the ball, James Tobin, predicts that "the dance will go over big" and Martha Lapham, in charge of ticket sales, states that tickets are going fast.

Tickets for the ball may be purchased from Betty Booden, Rocky Bills, Tom Jennings, Dottie Holt, King Fleek, Michael Hammar, Clyde Johnson, Dick Eisenberg, Jimmy Cox, Martha Lapham and Frank Kovarik.

Dr. Mark Ellingson, president of the Institute, and Dr. Alan Valentine, president of the University of Rochester, have announced the pooling of educational resources in the Departments of Fine Art, Applied Art and Education of Rochester's two leading educational institutions.

Beginning next September, the cooperative use of facilities among other benefits will mean that for the first time local area students seeking careers as public school art teachers, may qualify for certificates here in Rochester instead of going to some large metropolitan institution.

Of greater interest in educational circles, however, was a joint statement by both school heads indicating the willingness to pool resources in other fields if such close cooperation would result in maximum use of resources possessed by the two institutions.

College credit for work done at the Institute in the Art School will apply toward degrees at the University of Rochester.

The University of Rochester has for a long time recognized the caliber of the Institute's instruction by allowing full credit for work at the Institute.

A single fee will cover tuition in the art field, with arrangements made to care for problems arising in matters of administration details such as class schedules and academic credits.

Commercial art, illustrative art and advertising techniques are among the practical specialties taught here in the Art School.

Band Completes Successful Season

The 1940-41 season for the band ended officially Friday evening, May 2, when it played at the Annual Horse Show.

This is the first time in many years that the Institute has sponsored a band.

The band was organized in the early part of October by William Rushmore, Photo Tech junior. Under his direction, the band, with a total of 17 charter members, practiced for about a month and a half before it made its first public appearance. The present total membership numbers 25.

The Student Council appropriated $250 to the band for hiring an instructor and for the rental of instruments. William Popowich was made director and Earle M. Morecock was made faculty advisor.

The band appeared at every home basketball game and went on the road once, to Geneseo with the team. Members of the band had to give up two or sometimes three nights a week in practicing and appearing in public. It is the opinion of many that the band's playing at the basketball games improved the school's fighting spirit immensely.

The concert held in conjunction with the Glee Club was a great success.

The success, which the band enjoyed this year could not have been accomplished without the support and cooperation of the members, their director William Popowich, faculty advisor and others.

For their hard work this past season, the members of the band were authorized to wear the school letter given to them by the Student Council.

Those who will receive letters in the very near future are: Tom Alvoid, Art Hyde, William Rushmore, Larry Adams, Dick Kingsbury, Harry Reynolds, Max Case, Marie Blair, Clayton H. Olney, Leslie Stroebel, Harvey Dudley, Harry Davis, Dick Rice, Betty Shamble and Carl Greene.

Student Council Briefs

Tuesday, April 29, 1941

Donald Stevenson, Chemical freshman, was elected to serve as council representative on the Council Music Committee.

A complete organization chart of all standing committees of the Student Council, all budgeted activities and other groups will be drawn up by the Student Council. After it is drawn up, the chart may be printed and a copy will probably be available for all students.

Committees are being organized and are already working to make the dedication of "Clark Union," on Thursday, June 5, a very notable event. Ozzie Button is chairman of the committee on invitations which will work with the school administration.

The dedication plaque has already gone to the engravers and a spot in the "Union" has already been chosen for hanging the plaque.

Fencing Continues Without Coach

The fencing club, after lengthy conferences with its coach, Harold Florescu and its alumni adviser, Ozzie Weigle, has decided to do without the expert instruction of their coach until the beginning of the next school year.

The club was forced to take this drastic step because of the tremendous burden was too great.

The group will continue, however, with its first string fencers doing the coaching for the duration of the school year.

The club hopes that Florescu will be back at the beginning of the next season to lead the squad to a very successful fencing year.

Music Appreciation Concerts Continue Until May 28

Since the first week in February the Music Appreciation Committee has been arranging and presenting a music program for all students from 4 to 5 in the afternoon on Wednesdays. The Committee chose its selections chiefly on the basis of request slips that were handed in on the preceding week. Each list of selections was annotated by the program committee, and a mimeographed list of program notes was given to each student attending. The last concert will be given Wednesday, May 28.

An average of 50 students attended these concerts. Some concerts, however, drew as many as 85.

In addition to the Wednesday concerts the set was operated five other hours during the week—Mondays from 4 to 5; Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12 to 1; and Fridays from 3 to 5. The Appreciation of Arts class met from 3 to 4 on Fridays, but anyone else was invited to attend at that time also.

The five selections that were requested most often were: Ravel's "Bolero," Strauss's "The Bat," Tschaiakowsky's "Waltz of the Flowers," Ponchielli's "Dance of the Hours," and Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade."

Some of the members of the Music Appreciation Committee who have been showing a keen interest in the programs are: George Agan, Lionel Alderman, Rachael Smith, Shirley Patterson, Margaret Linsin, Betty Shafer, Jean Schaeffer, Elizabeth Gray and George Kupferschmid.

On April 2 the Committee sponsored a Music Memory Contest, in which 25 of the better-known were played. Winner of the first prize was Elizabeth Gray; Vete Nowik was second.

Dorm Girls Honor Seniors At Dinner

The first of two dinners honoring seniors of Residence Hall was held last Wednesday evening in the Institute Cafeteria. Freshmen and junior girls were hostesses.

The class will and prophesy were read and each senior girl received a corsage.

Senior girls that were feted are: Janet Alexander, Eleanor Brockmyre, Natalie Cummings, Wanda Mary Daetsch, Clarice Fuller, Laura Funnell, Doris Gordon, Edith Groh, Dorothy Holt, Virginia Kitchen, Virginia Moesel, Jean Randall, Janet Roberts, Marilyn F. Smith, Dorothy Sutfin, Doris Ward, Pauline Weir and Patricia Woodard.

Rita Greenwood was general chairman of the dinner with Ann Griffiths, Louise Emes and Virginia Crowe aiding her. The second dinner will be held sometime later in the month for the "A" block.

Miss Meyer Returns

Miss Florence Meyer, director of the Residence Hall, has returned from a week's vacation in Des Moines, Iowa, where she visited her brother and sister-in-law both of whom came back with her to Rochester.

UNIONISMS

During Clark Union open house on Convocation Day from 12:30 to 2 o'clock, Milton McCullough and members of the Music Committee will present a program of selected numbers from the Carnegie records in Room 1.

House Committee and Counselor will be assisted in receiving by Mesdames Alfred A. Johns, Louis A. Bownan, Mark Ellingson, Herman Martin, and Alfred L. Davis.

Alfred Johns, Jr. is the only graduate this year whose father is a member of the Institute faculty. Several years ago Justine Ulp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Ulp, was graduated from the Institute.

A book of western Kodak views taken by Frank Estrich who has toured the Pacific coast, has been much admired here this week. And Frank's family name actually is "Oesterreich," an Austrian cognomen.

We-all hereabouts think that the Photo Tech Bulletin is tops, and we wish to congratulate the Psimar staff for last Friday's edition. The headline work was pronounced especially commendable.

So far, Ross Baglio has escaped the tonsorial activities of would-be hirsute artists, for his moustachio is still intact. And last Saturday Ross caught in Oatka Creek trout that weighed—was it three, or thirteen or thirty pounds?

Why shouldn't Dick Rice let the students have a voice in selecting a suitable name for his brand new daughter? Bob Hope asked for like aid.

Oswald Button brought in Mrs. Button, and Mr. and Mrs. George Deitzel of Elmira Saturday for a look about the place. Many out-of-town guests have been in of late, and all seem pleased with the surroundings.

Donald Wolz, '40, is home from Ohio State this week-end to attend the wedding of his sister, Phyllis, who was married yesterday at high noon.

Bob Ripple, who is now working forty hours a week at his printing profession, and keeping up his school work in addition, allows that he will one day draw as much salary as does Julian Kubit, given time.

'42 Ramikin Plans Discussed

Plans for a bigger and better 1942 Ramikin were made at the first meeting for next year's book held April 30 in Clark Union.

An enthusiastic staff, after much lively discussion, decided upon a new and unusual idea for the general theme of the book. This theme, the exact nature of which is to be kept as a surprise, concerns itself with the unique type of education offered at the Institute. Different aspects of the theme will be developed in succeeding years.

Assisting Ruth Thomas as editor-in-chief, are: Bob Reuter, business manager; Philip Mikoda, photographic editor; Jim Steg, art editor; Louise Emes, Rosemary Doerr and Shirley Doersam, general staff.

Interested students are invited to attend Ramikin meetings.

Mrs. Hoke Serves On Malnutrition Committee

Mrs. Georgie C. Hoke, counselor of the Food Administration Department, is acting as head of one of the administrative committees for the Rochester Committee on Malnutrition For National Defense.

Mrs. Hoke will attend a meeting on May 8 in the Board Room of the Board of Education Building.

Dr. McCully Visits Institute

Dr. C. Harold McCully, director of personal services at the University of Denver, visited the Institute recently to become acquainted with the training program and educational process here.

On bicycles built for two and bicycles built for one, students rode through Genesee Valley Park last Saturday afternoon on the first bike hike of the season sponsored by the Physical Educational Department.

Nearly 100 students participated in the bike hike and the steak roast which directly followed it.

Rosemary Doerr was in charge of arrangements and was assisted by Helen Stoddard.

Printers Visit Small Town Weekly

The printers were guests of the Livonia Gazette yesterday afternoon. Arrangements were made by the department faculty.

Livonia is in the Finger Lakes region on Conesus Lake, almost directly south of Rochester.

The trip was one of many that have been taken to correlate theory and lab experience with conditions as they are in the outside world.

Printing Department Secretary To Wed

Mr. Charles F. Kesel has announced the forthcoming wedding of his daughter, Arlene, secretary of the Publishing and Printing Department, to James J. Miller who majored in electrical engineering here at the Institute. He is now employed with the Rochester Products Division of General Motors.

The ceremony will take place Saturday morning, May 24, at 10 o'clock in St. Michael's Church.

Miss Kesel will continue her position with the Printing and Publishing Department after her marriage.

Miriam Drewery Leaves Hospital

Miriam Drewery has been discharged from the hospital, and is now living at her home at 296 Kaowton Avenue, Kenmore, New York.

Miss Drewery is still in a cast, but is able to get about on crutches. Friends are sorry to learn that she will be unable to be present at convocation.

Riding Club Members Exhibit Superb Horsemanship at Show

Members of the RAMI Riding Club gave a splendid performance to scores of Institute students and their guests at the Marsh Road Stables in Pittsford last Friday evening.

With music furnished by the Institute band and fair weather to their advantage, all the events went off as scheduled.

Several awards were given as follows:

Winner of the Class A Horsemanship Student Council trophy was Jane Utter in first place; Ruth Geisinger, second; Barbara Maulbetsch, third, and Nick Christy, fourth.

Class B Horsemanship was won by Peter Reisert in first place, Frank Kirby, second; Nicky Sozzi, third and Shirley Rupright, fourth. Shirley Rupright was first in Class C Horsemanship followed by Mary McCune, Nick Sozzi and Jane McNelly.

Phyllis Engleson won the horsemanship open class with Peter Tretial, second; Jane Whipple, third and Martha Lapham, fourth. A variety of events were held in addition to the above mentioned ones. Robert Ripple won the trophy in the jumping class with Ruth Geisinger, Barbara Maulbetsch and Walter Chase as runners up.

The doughnut eating contest came out a tie between Doris Bauer and Betty Reisert, and Clayton Sharping won the costume parade with Ruth Geisinger, second; Barbara Maulbetsch, third and Jane McNelly, fourth.

After the horse show many stayed for the cabin party open for everyone attending the show. Virgil Zetterlind was general chairman of the show while Don Warren has charge of events; Ruth Geisinger, awards; Barbara Maulbetsch, programs and chaprons; Bob Marshall, publicity and Doris Bauer, cabin dinner party.

Bill Dellenback and Jane Adams

Members of the Chi Delta Phi fraternity and their guests frolicked at their annual Spring Dinner Dance held last Saturday evening at the Brook Lea Country Club. Favors were given to the girls attending.

Music for the evening was furnished by Nobert Klem and his popular orchestra.

Among those seen chatting around the dinner table and the band stand were: Doris Blacklock with Robert Ripple, Virginia Norris with Clayton Sharping, Rita Greenwood and Jerry Rollins, Megs Austin and Jerry Anderson, Barb Coe and Robert Marshall, Betty Booden and Paul Robinson and Jean Schaeffer and King Fleek.

Fun was had by all and everyone congratulated the committee in charge for their splendid work

Dorm Girls Have May Day Breakfast

The Dormitory girls ushered in the first day of May last Thursday bright and early with a May Day breakfast. Pauline Weir was chairman of the event, assisted by Pat Woodard, Bambi Davis, Dottie Holt, and Miss Grace Lee, secretary of the Residence Hall.

Cornucopias filled with spring flowers were hung on each door. The breakfast was served in the Institute cafeteria and with fresh pineapple as the attraction.

Newman Club Makes Plans For Next Year

The final meeting of the Newman Club for the present school year was held Tuesday evening, May 6. The club has adopted the constitution they had been working on for some time.

Several committees were appointed to start work early next fall. The club has many plans for the coming school year. A membership drive will be launched next September.

Retailing Notes

An all day conference of personnel executives from Rochester, Buffalo, Syracuse and surrounding towns was held yesterday at the Institute. After the meeting the guests were entertained at a luncheon and dinner and also went on a tour of the defense training program.

The Retail Selling class of Genesee High School was guest of the Institute Retailing Department last Wednesday and made a tour of the Rochester stores.

Miss Margaret Holensen, training supervisor at Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co. gave a talk on organizing training programs before the class in Personnel Relationships today.

Squire Perkins says: "Th' parson says folks is losin' their fear o' hell. I don't doubt it—familiarity breeds contempt."
