

NATIONAL

DISTORTER

A Withering Tabloid

THE DAY AFTER APRIL FOOL'S DAY 1993

SIMONE MEETS

WOMAN OF HIS DREAMS

ALSO INSIDE: WACO AT RIT, THE NEW
ALCOHOL POLICY, MOOSECHUCKING AT RIT

LUNCH WITH ADRIAN
WHITE

VOTE FOR ROB AND KEVIN

Men with more insight and flair than those other two bozos who we know absolutely nothing about except that they eat lunch each day in the Ritz and pay for it using the student's activities fees because they have massive $6000.00 hospitality budget lines that they spend on god knows what but Rob and Kevin will at least invite you to lunch like a bunch of winners because they are. So VOTE!

IF ANYONE HAS ANY QUESTIONS OR CONCERNS ABOUT
 DISTORTER, WE WILL BE HAVING AN OPEN
 FORUM IN ROOM
 A426 IN THE
 STUDENT ALUMNI
 UNION ON FRIDAY,
 APRIL 2, AT 3:00
 P.M. ALL INTEREST-ED PARTIES ARE ENCOURAGED TO ATTEND.

P.S. ELAINE MADE US DO THIS.

HEAD HICK
Slim McAnus

MASTERBATING EDITOR
Spanky

EJACULATIVE EDITOR
Muffin

FART DIRECTOR
Krisp N. Foamy

DIRECTOR OF PORNOGRAPHY
Rod

OLD FUCKERS
Dildo K.Y. Turnquet • Stephanie L. Schmuck

DEPUTY EX-LAX EDITOR
Deputy Dan of the Royal Canadian Mounties

COPULATION EDITOR
Sharin' Mucus

ASSHOLE EDITORS
*Carload O, Burritos, Snooze
 Aimee Zakrewski, Spits
 Burstin' Cunter, Creatures*

BITERS
*Tomorrow Slamham Filledup Balls-hurt
 Piss Mates • Wratha Khan
 Mark Nut'n'honey • I. Leanpu'ken
 Sean Ariyan • Jeffrey X*

RE-PRODUCTION MANAGER
Pimp Daddy Mack

PRODUCTION STIFFS
*Hairy Penis • Crispy Colon
 Spent Possum • Christine Bare-ass
 Illustratords: Jason Rape
 Michael Mammaries • Jackoff Latoya*

PHONEY EDITOR
Smelly MyCann

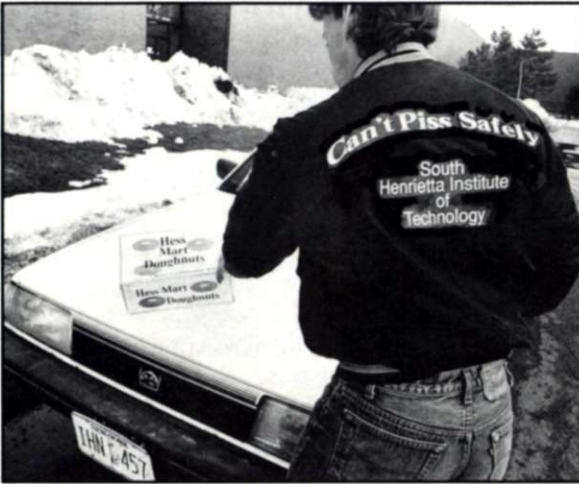

PHOTOGRAPHERS
*Evan Ca-ca • Anus Econo-penis
 Mike Foreskin • Bethany PocketPoulin
 Helen Keller, Darkroom Tech*

ADVERTISING MANAGER
Babs

OLDEST BUISNESS
Holly Will

DISRUPTION STAFF
Michael Late • Michael Not Dunn

ADVISOR
Dogtor Elaine Spaniel

Prudish Affairs Halts Bait and Shoot

Spam McBenzine, Persistent Vice President for Prudish Affairs, called a halt to the practice of Bait and Shoot, currently underway in an attempt to curb the overpopulation of student ticketing officers from the Department of Can't Piss Safely. McBenzine cited concern for the cruelty and waste behind the program. "It's cruel to leave those donuts around where students who must eat at Greasies can smell them, but dare not eat them for fear of being mistaken for a Can't Piss Safely student ticketing officer. With the growing fiscal crisis here at the Institute, we just can not condone such a waste of good food. Another means must be found to reduce the overpopulation amongst the herds of ticketing officers."

Students Rebel At Arizona University

Students at the Tucson campus of Arizona University rebelled last February when the campus spent money on repairing the snow removal facility located in the center of their campus. The campus president went on record as saying, "We are not sure why our campus was designed with snow removal equipment and walkways protected from potential snow fall, but if our campus designers felt it was important, who are we to figure otherwise. Perhaps they had some insight we now lack. And if we have the equipment, we might as well upkeep it."

UA's Student Government chairman, Michael Hunt, voiced the complaints of the campus. "This campus was an asinine design built for Arizona. The buildings block the wind and the windows capture the sun. And then they waste money connecting all the buildings with tunnels and further waste money by heating all of them. Even the long tunnel between the dorms and the union. But to continue to maintain the efficient snow removal system that heats the walkways to prevent ice build-up. That was the last straw."

Beaver Liquor Changes Slogan
After over a year of controversy surrounding its 1992 advertising campaign, Connie Langis Distilleries of Beaverton, Oregon, has announced it will no longer use its "It may be stinkin' but you'll keep on drinkin'!" slogan to advertise its popular line of Beaver Liquors. The new slogan will be, "You can beat your meat, but you can't beat a Beaver. Beaver Liquor."

Post Office Offers Third Elvis Stamp

The U.S. Snail and Postal Office has announced the latest Elvis stamp. In addition to the choice of the "young Elvis" and the "older Elvis" you now can select the "current Elvis." For more information, call 1-900-GET-A-LIFE. Calls are $9.75 for the first minute and $7.50 for each additional minute. Operators and Elvis are standing by.

CIMS Building Relocated

In a rare admission of a mistake, the South Henrietta Institute of Technology has decided to correct a long standing mistake when they separated the residence side of campus from the academic side of campus with a quarter mile pathway. In a further attempt to bridge this gap, the first being the creation of the Student Lies Center, the Institute is relocating the proposed site of the Center for Intentionally Manufactured Statements. The building will be constructed in the middle of the recreational fields and should be large enough to connect the frats with the ice rink. When asked about the loss of the recreational fields, Jerk Smith-and-Wesson, Institute Spokesman, said, "Who gives a damn? We'll just up their course load so much they won't have time for recreational activities. Don't you see how important Manufactured Statements are to this Institute? How would we have survived the CIA crisis without them? So what if we lose some more student facilities. Hell, we built them that damn Student Lies building. What more do they want? This is off the record, right?"

Tunnel Fire Threatens Weight Room

A small tunnel in the fire under the quarter mile caused smoke to billow into the weight room in the Student Lies Center last Thursday around 7:00 P.M. Fortunately, the smoke was quickly detected as alert students noticed that something was finally coming out of the ventilation system in the weight room. The fire was extinguished when fire fighting crews entered the tunnel through the access door at the far end of the weight room. Only minor damage to Institute surveillance equipment occurred. Provost Tom Got Plowed said the Institute slush fund should more than cover the replacement of the damaged equipment.

Library Sinking Problem Solved

Disassociated Vice President Reamo Antionette announced the long standing problem of the sinking library has finally been solved. By expanding the library and distributing the books amongst all the new shelf space, the library is no longer sinking into the swampy ground. When the library was first constructed, architects neglected to account for the large additional weight caused by the books on the shelves. As such, the undersized foundations were slowly pushing down into the soft soil in the area. The walkways in front of the library had to be repaved every so often to correct for the slowly sinking entrance. But with the larger footprint, the library is no longer sinking, thanks to the distribution of the books. "Don't ever expect to see the shelves filled up," said Antionette. "We don't want to see the problem reoccur, so the shelves will remain in their current sparse state."

RIT Changes their Policy, AGAIN

- I. P. Freely

ROCHESTER INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY has announced their new drug and alcohol policy. Yet more changes have been added just to confuse the already muddled masses. RIT, in all its wisdom and divine judgment, now believes that it has adequately foul legislation-leaving no student unaffected. In fact, they have expanded the policy beyond specific drug and alcohol related issues to include all aspects of RIT life. This new Campus Life Policy is expected to be adhered by all students and faculty/staff. Note: the seventh floor administration is exempt.

This new policy may endanger RIT's reputation as the copulation capital of the world by making beer goggles much harder to obtain; however, our administrators along with Adrian (who speaks for all students) feel that this is a justified risk.

The policy is as follows:

(RULE #1) RIT is not a police state and will not set itself up to enforce local and state alcohol regulations.

(RULE #2) These rules are subject to change at any given time without warning or participation from the general student body.

(RULE #3) New rules will be added without warning or notification.

(RULE #4) Rules will be outlined behind closed doors, only one elite "yes-man" from SG will be allowed to attend these seances.

(RULE #5) Making out on the bronze tiger will not be tolerated.

(RULE #6) His balls will fall off, so you better watch out.

(RULE #7) Necrophilia is prohibited while under the influence of a foreign substance.

(RULE #8) Asking Gorbachev to enjoy a screwdriver at a frat party is not an acceptable question at his speech.

(RULE #9) Nude rugby is only allowed if Dr. Simone is invited.

(RULE #10) If you puke for distance make sure you know which way the wind is blowing.

(RULE #11) Hide the beer during parental visits.

(RULE #12) Anyone caught pissing on building one will be severely reprimanded (except you, Adrian).

(RULE #13) The RIT Beaverettes must now bathe regularly and will not be allowed to ride in the same elevator due to weight restrictions.

(RULE #14) RIT co-eds wearing gray are fair game for whale hunting season.

(RULE #15) Throwing stray cats into bonfires has just got to be the wrong thing to do.

(RULE #16) The sterling dick of Can't Piss Safely Inc. will monitor all panty thefts from the laundry rooms.

(RULE #17) Typesetters CANNOT enter text.

(RULE #18) If at first you don't succeed, buy her/him another beer. If you still don't succeed, you must be at RIT.

(RULE #19) You are only permitted to drink more than one beer in your room, under your bed, with the lights off.

(RULE #20) If you use a U-HAUL to blow up the world trade center, you may not get your deposit back.

(RULE #21) Honking your horn at an NTID student is just plain stupid.

(RULE #22) (Amendment to RULE #13) The Beaverettes must also NAIR twice a week.

(RULE #23) The Can't Piss Safely officer who gives the most unnecessary parking tickets to fund Dr. Simone's inauguration will receive the sterling dick award.

(RULE #24) Dropping acid will only be permitting to decipher student government advertising in the Reporter.

(RULE #25) Selling plastic bags of powdered sugar is inexcusable, and Elaine wants her money back.

(RULE #26) Rumors of an Opium Den in the new Faculty lounge are not to go any further than the brick walls of RIT.

(RULE #27) Frats are not allowed to have beer at their parties and are encouraged to take up Bridge on Wednesday nights.

(RULE #28) Smoking Marijuana is OK as long as you don't inhale.

(RULE #29) Computer Science Majors must stop clogging the urinals.

(RULE #30) All alcohol policy is expanded to deter art students from drinking their hair dyes.

(RULE #31) RIT health services can no longer prescribe codeine for faculty.

(RULE #32) Dormitory beds are the property of RIT therefore, there will be a substantial penalty for early withdrawal.

(RULE #33) When in doubt, put a rubber on it.

(RULE #34) Anyone thinking about getting drunk and having an orgy, please dial 1-900-SIM-MONE.

(RULE #35) RIT is not responsible for underage drinking.

(RULE #36) RIT is not responsible for underage sex.

(RULE #37) RIT is not responsible for underage guests of faculty and administrators.

(RULE #38) RIT is not responsible for students jumping off two story buildings into snow drifts.

(RULE #39) RIT is not responsible for replacing old equipment.

(RULE #40) RIT is not responsible for maintaining the institute's reputation.

(RULE #41) RIT is not responsible for misappropriated funds.

(RULE #42) RIT is not responsible for a student's well-being.

(RULE #43) RIT is not responsible for giving students their money's worth.

(RULE #44) RIT is not responsible for (RULE #45) RIT is responsible for giving out parking tickets.

(RULE #46) Apartment complex loaner vacuums may only be used to suck dirt off the floors.

(RULE #47) Due to budget constraints, RIT faculty will no longer be able to use the 1-900 services. Instead, the financial aid staff will be available when they are done screwing the students.

(RULE #48) NTID students are required to wear gags during sex.

(RULE #49) Fking on the quarter mile is encouraged.

(RULE #50) Photo Students will no longer be able to eat the urinal cakes (they are reserved for communications students).

(RULE #51) (Amendment to RULE #11) Hide all prophylactics and change the sheets during parental visits.

(RULE #52) Can't Piss Safely will enforce all regulations with their new attack helicopter.

(RULE #53) Fifth floor at Sol Heumann must all read spank-magazines with two hands.

(RULE #54) Engineering students must wear their standard issue pocket protectors, and carry their HP scientific calculator or be subject to Beaverettes Strip search patrol at Gracie's.

(RULE #55) All unicyclists are required to ride seatless.

(RULE #56) All figure models must be deloused by the Orkin man before reporting to class.

(RULE #57) All computer lab assistants must now speak third grade level English.

(RULE #58) Can't Piss Safely parking patrol is annoyed at the rash of car bombs rigged to the windshield wipers.

(RULE #59) Back issues of spank-magazines will no longer be allowed in the reserved reading restrooms at the library.

When asked about the new polices intruding into the bedrooms at RIT, one administrator said, "With the onset of AIDS and the rising awareness that 'sex kills,' we in the administration feel that RIT is one of the safest colleges in the nation, let's keep it that way." This is the RIT Campus Life Policy for this week and again we would like to express that this is subject to change at any time of the day or night.

Cantpiss Safly, gaurding their new attack helicopter. RIT has great hopes that this multi-trillion dollor investment will enable them to enfore the new policy in an efficient manor

MTH #69

The Adventures of Engledork

Stick it to me!!!

I touch myself
 when I look at you Morty
 baby..

Oh Morty..
 Fuck me! Suck me!
 Ram me! Jam me!

COMPUTER SCIENCE MAJORS GET ALL THE CHICKS.

© A Fuck for out to Carl, Ot, John, Mike K and Mike D... You Assholes!!!

MAMMI
 uncensored 93
 * F U C K A L L Y A L L !!!

MOOSECHUCKING: THE LAST WORD IN RIT SPORTS.

As a silent shroud of fog lifts slowly from the dark moist playing field, ace chucker Claude LeFaux steps up to the zero hoof-line. He adjusts his grip with the help of Jaques Vallachuck, offensive anteer, prepares to chuck-off. The crowd is hushed; the opposing team waits with nervous anticipation as Claude checks the wind direction. Again, he grasps the monstrous beast's mighty hind quarter. After five 360 degree swings, he releases the animal and the behemoth is airborne. The awe inspired silence is broken only by the gasps of the crowd and the deafening moo of the soaring moose.

Although unfamiliar to the majority of the general public, one-legged moose chucking has been an established sport for years prior to its recent success in the United States. Let it now be known to the faithful chucking-fans that this unique sport has finally arrived at R.I.T. With the formation of the NCAA One-legged Moosechucking League, this season promises to provide the exposure this sport needs.

For those reading this article, that may never have experienced the exhilaration of this king of sports, a brief history of the game is essential.

Understanding the beauty and power that has become One-legged Moosechucking, begins with the understanding the sport's origins. Although the sport may resemble the hammer-throw practiced by the ancient Greeks in the early Olympic games, it is, in fact, derived from an early Native American game. The Grabba-Krotchee tribe, of what is now northern Canada, played a game called Beaver-hurling. This game was picked up and played by the early French fur-trappers.

The sport was not fully developed until some years later by a band of bored lumberjacks. Foreman of the Saskatchewan Logging Company, Charles Mooseau, was challenged by his comrades, to toss the original one-legged antlered creature across the camp. The moose landed upon the roof of one of the companies log cabins, and the sport of Moosechucking was born.

After a brief stint as an Olympic Exhibition Sport, an established set of Moosechucking rules was established. A modern Chucking team consists of one chucker, two anteers, and two hoofers. It is the offensive team's objective to hurl, in a series of chucks, the moose as close to the opposing team's building. When the team feels they close enough to the roof-line to attempt to score, they will upchuck. The clock is stopped and the moose is chucked. To score a full 12 points, the moose must clear the roof and land on the other side of the building. Partial points are awarded if the moose hits the roof and slides off, or comes to rest upon the far side of the roof. The game is divided into 20 minute halves, each team having two time-outs per half. The clock runs continually unless the moose is chucked out of bounds, moose possession changes, an upchuck occurs, or when a formal time-out is called. The clock may also be stopped should one or both of the teams suddenly run out of beer.

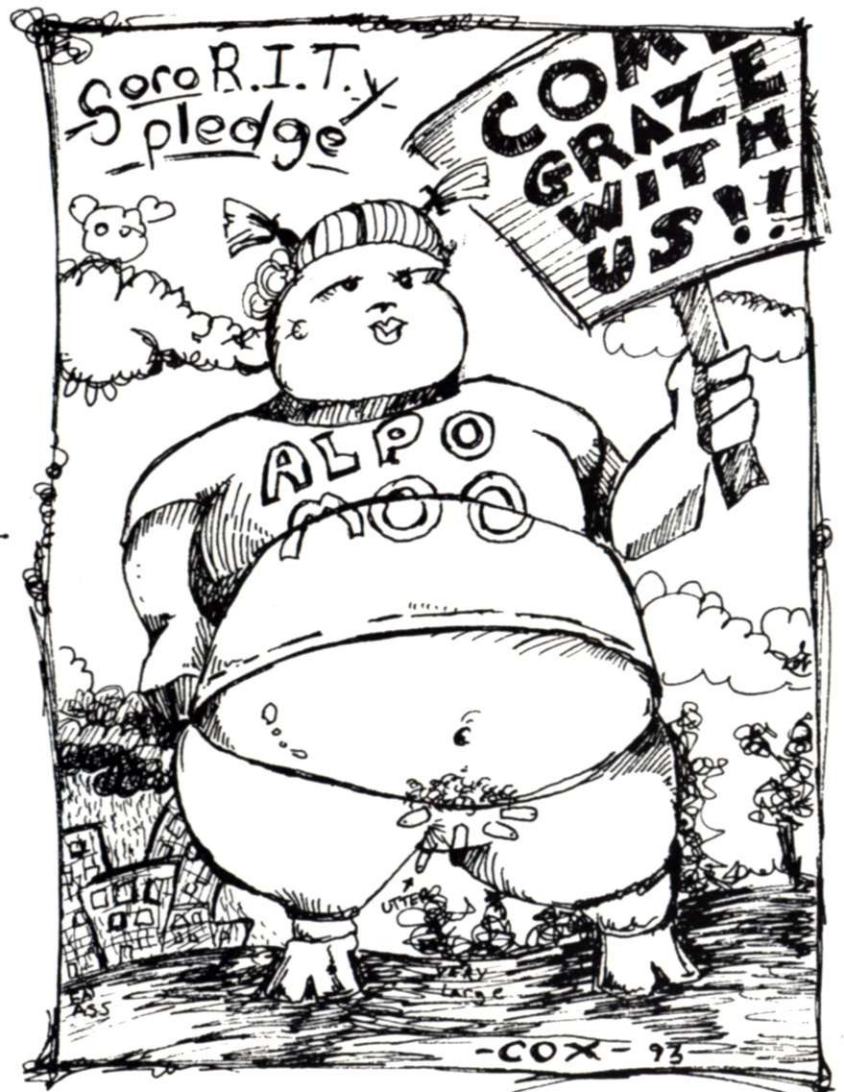

Because the popularity of this new team sport is growing by leaps and bounds, do not be left out. Moosechucking may not be the sport for everyone, but as RIT students, we've all come to appreciate the finer things in life. The sheer poetry of movement that occurs when an experienced chucker launches one of these majestic animals, will leave you with something you can tell your grandchildren about.

Guidelines for the selection of moose, as stipulated by the NCAA Division 1 Moosechucking Rulebook, are as follows:

- A) Between the ages of two and four years
- B) Genetically engineered to have only a rear right leg with high strength tendons
- C) Ample antlerage
- D) High impact strength
- E) A general desire to be chucked *

* In accordance with the Humane Society and various animal rights organizations, I would like to stress again that the moose must agree to be chucked.

Distorter Perils Parallel Waco, Texas

(Rochester, NY)—Members of the now defunct magazine "Reporter" have seized their office and have established an armed stand-off with federal agents. Five students, six police officers, 21 administrators, and 14 federal agents were killed at noon on Friday, April 2, when they were showered with a barrage of bullets sent forth by the past editors.

"The carnage was incredible," states Tommy Longfellow, an RIT campus safety officer. "They [editors] stormed the building by driving an RIT van into the front of the Student Alumni Union. Then they jumped out and began shooting. They had the whole lunch crowd scrambling for any available exit—windows, doors, and some jumped off roof tops to safety."

The stand-off has frightened the parents of several students. "I am so concerned with the safety of my son," exclaims Mrs. Joe Baggadonuts. "He's so young and innocent. He loves computers and Star Trek. If anything happens to him I don't think I'll be able to say 'Jean-Luc Picard' anymore."

Federal agents have evacuated the campus. An army of law enforcement agents have surrounded RIT in an effort to begin negotiations with the cult. CIA officials would not disclose the amount of manpower being used, but some experts speculate that it is well over 1000 armed men and women.

Above: An artist's depiction of the cult's leader, Slim McAnus.

"They may be able to hold out for several months," states Stephen Schultz, an RIT employee familiar with the cult. "There is a campus restaurant, a bar, a game room, and sanitary facilities located within 50-feet of where they may be holding out. I doubt if they will be uncomfortable for a long time."

The cult, which calls itself "Distorter", is lead by extremist Slim McAnus. McAnus is not a newcomer to armed conflict. In 1987, he worked as a mercenary in the crumbling country of Somalia. There he sold and distributed narcotics, military supplies, and human slaves trained as soldiers.

After a special task force of CIA and British counter-intelligence agents failed miserably to capture McAnus, he relocated to Panama. There he was befriended by now imprisoned Manuel Noriega. It is rumored that McAnus was the motivator behind all of Noriega's crimes against humanity and Panama.

In the fall of 1988, McAnis came to RIT to seek sanctuary in the residence halls. There he assumed the role of an ignorant student from New Hampshire. He made several friends and was employed by the campus magazine "Reporter."

While he was working for "Reporter," he influenced the magazine to his own desires. This prompted RIT to close its doors. When they finished chaining the door shut on the office, McAnis is quoted as saying, "You'll regret this."

Angered by this, he manipulated his editors with alcohol and drugs. Because of their addictions, they instantly became committed servants who would die for his cause.

Apparently, this initial assault is the first move in a complete takeover of the entire RIT campus, and possibly the city of Rochester.

Past writers, photographers, and layout personnel have been round up for questioning by the CIA-RIT's own private global police. Experts hope to find a motive for the cult's armed assault on the building.

McAnis is not a loathed man. Past writers would agree.

"I think he's sexy," says one female journalist who chose to remain anonymous. "So do I," proclaimed a male who also chose to remain anonymous. "We've already started a 'We Would Blow [up] the World for McAnis' fan club!" adds another.

This grassroots support is what has experts worried. "We could see several sympathetic groups pop up all over the country," states Phil McKraken, another CIA spokesperson. "This event could cause riots similar in size and greater in impact as the ones we experienced in Los Angeles earlier this year."

As it stands right now, RIT is closed until further notice. RIT officials are not prepared to offer refunds to those students whose class schedules have been interrupted by this event. "We really could give two hoots about the student's concerns right now," states Jack Smythe, vice president for RIT communications. "This type of event is not listed in RIT policy as a reason for a refund. We are in a critical situation, and we are doing our best to preserve the safety of our faculty and staff. I am surprised that students are placing money in front of lives. Where are their priorities?"

McAnis is thought to be taking control over the radio station that is located in the same building. Radio DJs tried to prevent a takeover by playing some of their favorite selections. "I just wanted it to stop," stated Homer "Daddy Rock" Blaisdale. "So I put some of my favorite Barry Manilow and Wayne Newton albums on to stop them. They blew up the outside speaker, but they haven't been able to get the ones in the studio. I'm glad I set the CD player on auto-repeat."

Experts think that this situation should be under control within days. As it stands now, people are dead and negotiations are on the way. Let's all hope that this is the end of the beginning.

-Ima Drunk

OBITCHUARY

It's difficult to understand
Not necessary to read, and it always takes a lot of effort.

Sorry the editor's
DEAD

Impersonals

Hey Olaf- Get your own girlfriend!!
Congratulations to Stitch Turner-RIT's Hallway Hockey MVP
w my lip...Mommy!
Go on a diet. Go on a ROYAL diet!!!
Trisha- you were great Saturday night! Love the Rugby Team
Trisha- you were great Friday night! Love the Distorter Staff
Congratulations to the SPIRIT team. It must be tough building a solar car in a sunless town!!
"I am Poo-Poo."
"Give us a week we'll take off the weight!" Rush the Royal Ladies
When Santa Claus was a child, who brought him gifts at Christmas?
Amy and Andrea are GDI proud!!!
What do you call dirt that you put in a hole? PHIL!!!
FIPG SUCKS!!!
What's the difference between a dollar bill and a Buffalo Bill? You get four good quarters out of a dollar bill.
Live to Ride, Ride to Live. RIT Can't Piss Safely-Hell on Wheels!!
Nice Bikes Guys!
Trisha- you were great Sunday morning! Love Can't Piss Safely
David Koresh is God!!
Elvis is King!!
Slim McAnus Lives!!
 Don't pick on us we're not geeks-Computer Science House
"WORD" What the fuck does that mean?
Katie- Which house is it this week?
Hey Rox- Did ya Boink him?
Phil and Jill went up the hill and fucked till they got some water.
Hey Perky, Why the hell would you want something obnoxious and ludicrous such as a Bad Ad? love, me
Are you an idiot or socially deprived? If so come down to DISTORTER and work with the rest of us.
 If you can't laugh at yourself, who can you laugh at? About the majority of the campus!!!
Brenda- I wuv you with all of my little pathetic heart. You are the one for me, you are beautiful. Please fulfill my fantasies, I need you. By the way how can I meet you? Love Smiley
I love my big sis, she has me so psyched. Love your Little.
Greek Week is coming, so don't blink!
Trisha- you were great Monday night! Love Michele
Quato Lives!!
Spilly- masturbating was better.
Katie- you look stressed.

Meanwhile...

I wish I could be a ROTC and degrade myself too. I love those cool jackets, the one's that have GI Joe carrying his rifle, but we know what you guys are really packing!!
Don't lose your cat in Riverknoll it may be eaten.
To all the guys that think size doesn't matter, IT'S A LIE!!!
Bad Ads aren't free and we really don't give a damn!
Hey Max- That was the best Malt Liquor I ever had you twelve sandwich eating bitch!
We're GREEKS not GEEKS, just ask Jordan-Alpha Phi Omega
Ra Ra Blah!! Go TIGERS Go your school is behind you!!! (just don't look back)
Urine Samples Available. Contact the RIT Math Club Fund Raising committee.
 When a cow laughs, does milk come out its nose?
Trisha- Woof! Woof! Woof! Tuesday night Howl! -Fido

Denouncements

CAB presents RED SOVINE this Friday in the RITZ!
 Attention Students: Be part of an exciting environmental project. ROT Bioyuck department is busy trying to turn human flatulence into usable energy. Must like beans and have little or no sense of smell. Men, wear the hole in the back. Call 475-FART
WACC- Announces its Forth Annual "Slap Da Bitch" contest with special guest host Woody Allen
LOST-Competency and personality. If found please return to Student Activities.
LOST-Morals and a sense of humor. If found please contact Distorter.
The Royal Ladies will be sponsoring Sumo Bar Wrestling this Thursday night in the Ritz.
WANTED-Student Volunteers for Botulism testing. Please contact Food Service.
WANTED-A Fraternity House if you have a spare one contact Phi Psi For a good time call 1-900-69TRISHA LOST-Compassion and a life. If found please return to Ellen Exciting summer jobs located here in Rochester! Must enjoy Arctic conditions. Shoveling skills a must.
Can't Piss Safely is now hiring. Students with militant, cocky attitudes, and the intelligence of banana slugs are needed.
NTID Student Circus-Appearing

weekly, exclusively at Greasies!!!
RIT Film/Video Department is now offering an exclusive course for Techie types and Informational Gizmos. VCR Operation and Programming. Now you too can learn to press the play button.
Watch for FREE PIZZA's reunion tour, coming this spring with ICE D.
Attention all students living in the Residence Halls. The prices of your Greasies meal plans will again be increased next year to subsidize for the new Faculty and Staff Only Club.
 WillTimMcManuspleasereturntothehippingpost.
INTERIOR DESIGN Majors Apply now for $400k contract of an RIT home. Call 1-800-SIMONE
 People Who think they're Jesus Society's Annual Bake Sale and Arms Convention-Complimentary brownies and C4 to the first 100 through the door. Listen to a great sermon too. This Sunday morning on the 7th floor of Building One.
Attention all Greeks- apply for the "Where Are They Now Scholarship" sponsored by Theta Xi
LOST-A sense of reality. If found please contact the RIT Star Trek Association
LOST-A sense of purpose. If found please contact Student Government
FOUND-Ethics and six thousand dollars of student activities fees. If you lost this it was found at the RITZ during lunch.
GUEST SPEAKER This week in Ingle. Architect Hugh G. Rection talks about how he came up with design for RIT by dropping acid and playing with Leggos.
LOST-A hell of a lot of hair. If found contact KPT Volleyball
LOST-A sense of individuality and self respect. If found contact ROTC
Female Roommate wanted to share large male.
Dr. Simone will be revealing the new condom dispenser in the Bronze Tiger this Friday at eleven.
CAB announces that this year we're really going to try to get a band that people will really want to hear. Is your car void of necessary parts? For any Ford model acquire form Can't Piss Safely
NEEDED-Talent, Please contact the RIT Student Music Association
LOST Young psychopathic male wearing green and brown. Disappeared somewhere in C lot. Responds to the name Maggot shit and looks like Gomer Pile. If found return to ROTC
We know what the students want and we don't care.-Student Activities

Do you have no life? Do you wander around aimlessly at night? Do find pride in wearing a postal uniform? If you answered yes to any of these questions than sign up to be an RSA today.
The Homo-Phobic Vertically Challenged Misguided Malaysian Non-English Speaking Culturally-Biased Women's Association meets every Tuesday at 8 in the Clark Dining Room
CLUBS & ORGANIZATIONS Earn $1000's Weekly!!! Learn to set up your own prostitution and drug rings. Easy to follow free brochure shows you how. Call 1-800-IAMEASY
TERM PAPERS AVAILABLE- Subjects include Russian Political Evolution, Economic Reform in the Soviet Republics, and Seeking Employment in Today's Tough Job Market. Contact Mikki G at the Candy Counter

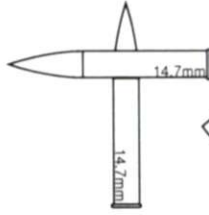

FOR SALE

FOR SALE-It's a penis, It's a phone-only $19.95
 Interested in buying a good resume? Just kiss ass at Student activities!
FOR SALE-One brain, slightly used, only five years of mindless debauchery. Contact any Graduate office
For Sale- One Corvette, used only during seasonal breaks, I need money quick! Call Dick Rose
FOR SALE-Text books that you really don't need, but we'll overprice them anyhow!! Stop by RUMPUS ERECTIONS in the Union.
FOR SALE Something found in the bioyuck lab, we have no idea what it is but it sure tastes great, and gives you a great buzz!!
FOR SALE-USED CONDOMS
 Impress your house mates or anyone else that needs proof of your virility. Contact anyone at the University of Rochester
WANTED-Guns. We'll buy all makes of hand guns and shotguns. Contact Sterling Dick, Director of Can't Piss Safely.
FOR SALE-Slightly used office furniture. Used barely over a year. Contact RIT Telecommunications Department.
ONE Handicapped Parking Permit for sale. Contact Can't Piss Safely, Highest Bidder takes it.
Question of the Week: What will Bill Clinton do with the first abortion bill that comes across his desk??? Pay it!!!- Jamie

Infamous Stationery Letterheads

A. Hitler

David Koresh

Saddam Hussein

Anne Boleyn

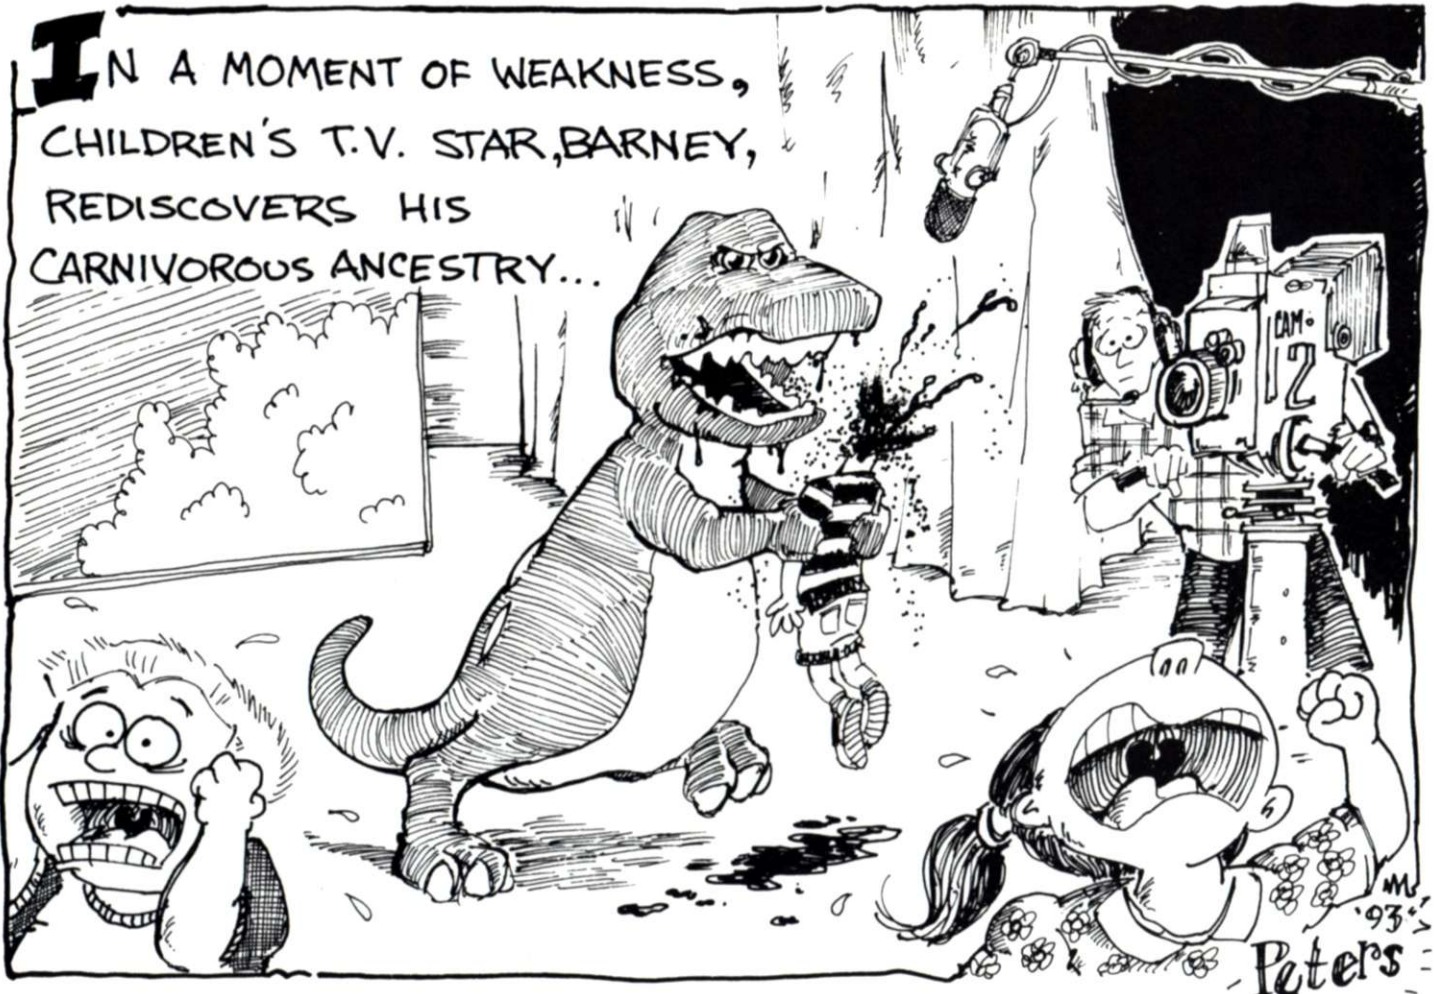

Serbia

Charlie Manson

Abusements

DISTORTER, here it is again. In an attempt to tone down this year's issue we decided to implement a radical new concept: good satire. While we realize this was probably too lofty a goal, the attempt was made nonetheless. We hope that we don't offend anyone quite as successfully as we did last year.

In the past, DISTORTER has drawn severe criticism from almost every special interest group on campus, including, among others, Greeks, the army, and women's groups. Our decision to tone down DISTORTER, however, was in no way influenced by these groups. Frankly, I could care less if they were offended or not. Generally, the only effect their bitching and moaning ever has is to piss me off.

I hope everyone finds something entertaining in DISTORTER. It is impossible to please everyone, so if you don't like something, or find something offensive, move on to the next item and deal with it. We have personally read and re-read all of the material in this magazine at least twice. Our staff wasn't offended to the point of disgust, and we assume the same will be true for our readers.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact us. However, be warned that anonymous notes will be turned over to our recycling department unread.

Thus I offer you the pages of DISTORTER. You may not love it, but at least the administration may not attempt to empty the stands as has happened in previous years. Enjoy!

P.S. Elaine Spaul has no input in DISTORTER whatsoever. As such please address all concerns DIRECTLY to DISTORTER staff.

Slim, I started making lots of changes, so I just re-wrote it. I liked what you wrote, I just got carried away with editing. Sorry. This version is saved as Distorter Disclaimer 2. It's yours if you like it.

The Women's Network would like to congratulate President and Mrs. Simone on the birth of their new baby 'Barney.' Many happy years await them of singing, letters from small children, and carnivorous meals.

Cantpiss Safely Emergency Notice!!!

It has come to our attention that large mutant cats are roaming around the Riverknoll Apartment Complex. This surveillance photo was taken by a hidden Cantpiss Safely bush-cam. Researchers speculate that the beasts are due to the result of the photo department dumping old photo chemicals into the ground under the apartment complex. If you encounter one of these cats, please go to the blue-lit Cantpiss Safely boxes that are placed on the side of buildings in dark, hard to see locations. DO NOT FEED THEM CATNIP!!!