Alcoholic beverages may be served at other times by special permission from both the Director of Student Activities and the social chairman of Student Council.
2. Beer may be served in non-academic buildings, RITskeller, and other areas designated by both the Director of Student Activities and the social chairman of Student Council.
3. Mixed drinks and/or cocktails may be served for a maximum period of two hours in the Pioneer Room of Nathaniel Rochester Hall.
4. Admittance to events where cocktails and/or mixed drinks are served is to be by couples only with ^{at least} one person being a R.I.T. student.
5. Non-alcoholic beverages ^{must} ~~should~~ be available at all events where alcoholic beverages are served.
6. The Pioneer Room of Nathaniel Rochester Hall will be the only dormitory facility where alcoholic beverages may be served.
7. All beverages must be served in containers such as cups or glasses which are not to leave the specified areas.
8. Sponsoring organizations and chaperons are responsible for all misconduct and ^{must} ~~should~~ report all incidents of misconduct to the proper authority.
9. All students are expected to behave in a manner becoming ^{RIT students} ~~adults~~; failure to do so may lead to disciplinary action.
10. Before a person is admitted to any area where alcoholic beverages are being served, adequate proof of age ~~should~~ ^{must} be shown.

Suggestions

1. Alcoholic beverages may be served at events open to the public, if children under 12 years of age are not present, with the approval of the Director of Activities and the social chairman of Student Council.

2. Punch should be the only alcoholic beverage served at events following cocktail parties scheduled on Institute property.
3. Adequate proof should consist of:
 - a. Picture of person in question, along with date of birth and name displayed on same card.
 - b. Proof of being a student.

It is suggested that a student identification card be issued to all students upon entrance to the Institute. Each year these cards could be validated by a date stamp. These cards could serve also as a Student Association Card. Until this happens, students are advised to obtain a police I.D. card available in Rochester.

Students' proof for the present time should be:

- a. Student Association Card; and
 - b. Proof of age, i.e., birth certificate, driver's license, etc.
4. Before the fall of 1967 a committee should be set up to revise and ammend the present recommendations.

The following are not directly affected by the preceding regulations:

- a. Fraternity houses on the present campus.
- b. Married-student housing.
- c. Events scheduled by the Student Wives Association for married couples.
- d. Individual student living quarters (apartments).

Forensic Society

As you are probably aware, the Forensic Society has existed on this campus for nine years. During this time, we have represented the Institute and the student body in inter-collegiate debate competition throughout the northeastern United States. During this period, we have met several hundred Canadian and American colleges and universities in academic contests. (Enclosed is a list of schools that we have met in the last year and one-half.)

The benefits accrued by the student body and the members of this organization may be divided into two groups, vocational and avocational.

The organization offers much in the avocational area. To those students who are members, it opens up the entire area of communications. Participation in inter-collegiate debate, discussion and oratory allows one to perfect his abilities as a speaker, a conversationalist and a person. He learns to be at ease on his feet before groups large and small. He becomes more at ease with people and is more interesting when he presents his ideas. Finally, the social interaction with many different peoples broadens his outlook on life and equips him with the social graces to handle most situations. For a person not a member of the organization, the Society sponsors at the present time three activities on the RIT campus. During the fall quarter we assist Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary forensic fraternity, to sponsor a high school debate tournament. This activity open to all, as are the other events provides the RIT student body with an opportunity to hear outstanding students debate a topic of national importance. During the remaining school year, we sponsor two events, the Oratorical Contest and the Canadian-American Debate Tournament. The Oratorical Contest is open to any student on campus except members of this organization. Through this event, we are trying to foster increased interest in the verbal arts. Our major on campus event, the Canadian-American Debate Tournament, enables every RIT student to see a unique blend of Canadian and American debating on a topic of general interest and international importance. A distinctive feature of this tournament is the Parliamentary debate staged by the Canadian debaters but open to all. It gives the RIT student greater insight into the workings of the government of another nation. In the coming year, the Forensic Society plans to extend its home and home debates which were initiated this year. This will bring colleges and universities from New York state to our campus for meets with RIT debaters.

In the vocational area, we offer even greater benefits to the student body. This lies in the value that is attached to their degree by either businesses or educational institutions. Each time that an RIT debate team engages in inter-collegiate competition on an academic nature it places one more plus on every student's diploma through the projection of the educational image of RIT. It brings the total student body and the Institute benefits when someone knows that RIT competes academically, and matches the fruits of its educational system against those of many other colleges and universities. And when the RIT Forensic Society wins, even more prestige comes to the Institute. A note here, during the past year and one-half, we have been triumphant in over 60% of our debates. Thus by enhancing the image of the Institute and its student body in the eyes of others, we have made a definite and substantial contribution to the welfare of the student.

As a member of the Forensic Society, an RIT student gains the ability to communicate what he knows. It is essential that a person in business be capable of informing his employer or his employees of his ideas, plans and interests. Being a student in an institution that offers many specialized fields, it is vitally important that we be capable of selling ourselves. It is in this area, that the Forensic society acts as an adjunct to the educational program of the Institute in that it allows one to engage in further experiences in the field of verbal communication beyond the five week course offered. The success of those who have been members of this organization is quite apparent. Those who were members for two years or more and are now working in industry are ahead of their former classmates in both rank and salary.

A final note, the abilities of the RIT debaters both past and present has brought to this campus a chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha. This honorary society is the only one on the RIT campus recognized by the Association of Honor Societies, the regulating body for all college, national honoraries.
