Homecoming To Feature Art Show, Sale

More than 30 artists from New York State, Pennsylvania and Canada will participate in the first annual Homecoming clothe-line arts and crafts sale Saturday, October 20 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the academic quadrangle at RIT.

The show and sale will include paintings, wood sculpture, weaving, pottery, ceramics and stained glass work by alumni as well as current students, said Chris Belle-Isle, director, Alumni Programs.

The annual Homecoming October 19, 20 and 21 is planned for the whole community -- alumni, students, parents, faculty, staff and guests, Belle-Isle said.

The first major event of the weekend will be the Class of 1923's Golden Reunion Luncheon at noon Friday, Oct. 19.

On Friday evening, the RIT Sports Hall of Fame Dinner will be at 7 p.m. in the dining hall at the College-Alumni Union.

George Cook of Avon, N.Y., Business Administration '58, and Gary "Kraut" Dotzler of Sunnyvale, Calif., Electrical '55, will be inducted into the Hall of Fame this year. Cook, considered a playmaker and defensive specialist, was an outstanding basketball and baseball player at RIT. He was offered a minor league contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates, but turned it down. Dotzler

National Company To Present 'As You Like It'

The National Shakespeare Company will perform Shakespeare's "As You Like It" Wednesday, October 17 at 8 p.m. Ingle Auditorium on RIT's Henrietta campus.

The National Shakespeare company, a New York State non-profit organization headquartered in New York, has performed for audiences of more than 250,000 college students annually since the company was formed 11 years ago.

"As You Like It" is Shakespeare's comedy "about love in its innumerable versions," a National Shakespeare Company spokesman said. "It's a comedy of friendship, playful deceit, and honest to goodness romance....(a) pastoral romance filled with humor and entertainment for the fun of it."

The company is directed by Phillip Meister, theatre veteran of 25 years who worked on-and off-Broadway and at several regional theatres before founding the National Shakespeare Company in 1963.

The RIT performance is sponsored by the College Union Board, and tickets are available from the College Union information desk at $2 for students and $4 for visitors.

Silvius, played by John Caldwell, professes his love to Phebe, played by Anni Long, in the National Shakespeare Company's production of "As You Like It."

The Women's Council of RIT will hold its first meeting of the academic year on Wednesday, Oct. 17, in the Graphic Arts Conference Room of the Frank Gannett building beginning at 10 a.m.

The featured speaker for the meeting will be John F. Trauger, RIT associate professor and coordinator of the Biomedical Photography program. Trauger will discuss the Biomedical Photography program with emphasis on career opportunities for graduates, settings in which biomedical photographers work and the types of photography they will perform on the job.

Criminal Justice Seminar Friday

"Current Trends in Corrections," a symposium on criminal justice trends in the community, will be held at RIT Friday, Oct. 19, beginning at 10 a.m. at the Inn on the Campus.

The symposium, the first of three to be sponsored by RIT's School of Criminal Justice and the New York State Probation and Parole Officers Association, will feature Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., senior United States Senator from Maryland and member of the Senate Judiciary committee.

Other speakers will include criminal justice professors as well as a parole officer, a probation officer, and Vito Ternullo, superintendent of the Elmira Reformatory.

Mathias, now in his fourth term in the Senate, served as a member of the Judiciary Committee's subcommittees on administrative practice and procedure, juvenile delinquency and penitentiaries, and is considered to be in the forefront of Congressional efforts to streamline the U.S. criminal justice system.

Forums Begin Monday

"Developing the Human Environment at RIT: Implications of the Lagoon Articles," an open forum with RIT President Dr. Paul Miller, will be held Monday, October 15 from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the mezzanine lounge of the College-Alumni Union.

The forum is the first in a series of discussions planned by Dr. Miller and the student affairs division to "enhance communication and understanding between students and staff," said Dr. Fred Smith, vice president for Student Affairs.

Student representatives from campus communication organizations have been invited, and all students, faculty or staff are welcome.

Homecoming

ended a four-year wrestling career at RIT with a 10-0 record his senior year. Later Friday evening, at 8 p.m. in Booth Auditorium in the Frank E. Gannett Memorial Building, the Frederic W. Goudy Distinguished Lecture in Typography will be delivered by Dr. Robert L. Leslie, who has been a leader in the graphic arts industry in New York for 50 years. He has organized and presented a series of lectures called "The Heritage of the Graphic Arts."

At the awards luncheon at noon Saturday in the main dining room of the College-Alumni Union, Joseph A. Jiloty, Photography '48, and Daniel J. Pasto, Chemistry '58, will receive the Outstanding Alumnus Awards of the Alumni Association.

Former Urban League Aide Appointed In Personnel

Mrs. Ariel Mabry, formerly with the Urban League of Rochester, has been appointed personnel assistant/employment, at RIT Personnel Director Everett Merritt announced last week.

At the Urban League, Mrs. Mabry's duties included training, development, and placement of employed, underemployed and unemployed minorities in the Rochester area. Mrs. Mabry also taught several grade levels in the Rochester City School District. She holds a BS in sociology from Brockport State.

Her duties at RIT will include recruiting and employment of Institute staff, and work with the Affirmative Action program, primarily in the area of community relations, Merritt said.

Biomedical Photography Prints On Display

More than 70 prints by students in the biomedical photography program will be on display in the College-Alumni Union October 15 through 17.

The prints were previously shown at the annual meeting and print competition of the Biological Photographic Association, an international organization of medical and scientific photographers.

The students took 30 per cent of the awards at the print competition.

Jiloty, of 11 Huntington Meadow, Penfield, has capped a 25-year career with Eastman Kodak Company with his present position as manager of sales operations in the Graphic Markets Division. Dr. Pasto is a professor of chemistry at the University of Notre Dame.

The Sarah Margaret Gillam Award, recognizing a graduate of Food Administration for outstanding contribution to dietetics or food service administration, will be awarded to Betty Montanarella of 2816 Edgemere Drive, Greece, Food Administration '56. She has been director of Food Services at the Greece Central School District since 1957, and is responsible for the food service in 18 schools.

The football game at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the athletic field will pit RIT against Brockport State. Half time will feature skydivers and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen.

Management Seminar Opens In New Format

RIT's 15th Annual Management Seminar began on Tuesday with a new format and schedule.

The Management Seminar, this year is called "Second Tuesday" and will be held on the second Tuesday of each month through March. Participants will meet for breakfast at the Top of the Plaza. Discussion leaders will include local and national personalities: Lucien A. Morin, Monroe County manager; Donald A. Gaudion, chairman of the board, Sybron Corp.; Dr. Harold C. Passer, assistant treasurer, Eastman Kodak Co.; Dr. William J. Beeners, professor of speech, Princeton Theological Seminary; Dr. Seymour L. Wolfbein, dean, School of Business Administration, Temple University; and Rosalind Loring, assistant dean, University Extension of the University of California at Los Angeles.

The seminars are geared to improve the managerial knowledge, skills, and proficiencies of the participant in ways that will increase his effectiveness on his present job and help prepare him for greater responsibilities. Discussions will be centered around broad social, political and economic factors, providing insight into the analysis of problems from the viewpoint of the participants' companies as a whole.
