SIGNING UP About 50 people showed up last night for a free sign language class at the Henrietta Public Library, 455 Calkins Road. Lavina Hept, right, an instructor at the Rochester Institute of Technology's National Technical Institute for the Deaf, rubbed her hands together to demonstrate the sign for enthusiasm. The group, whose members can hear, above learned the sign for "think." Sitting in the back row of the group are Nana Adae, 12, Michelle and Stephen Zweig and Barbara Schleigh. In the front row are Lindsay and Seth Zweig, ages 10 and 9, and John Schleigh, 9. The class, open to the public, will be repeated at 7 tonight, July 21 and 22 and sometime in August.
