

PTC Alum Monica Haley Accepts New Professional Position

Bruce A. Austin baagll@rit.edu

16 February 2006

Monica Haley, PTC, recently accepted a new professional position with the Association for Manufacturing Technology in McLean, VA. She writes us that “I enjoy what I do – mainly doing research in databases and coming up with searching schematics for business propositions, market research and foreign trade.” Monica’s new position allows her to put to good use research skills she gained here at RIT and at graduate school. Congratulations, Monica!