

PTC Students Win Kearsse Writing Award

Bruce A. Austin baagll@rit.edu

23 April 2003

Congratulations to Jared Albright and John Nemeth who were each honored yesterday afternoon with a Kearsse Award recognizing their excellence in writing accomplishment.

John, a recent PTC graduate, won for his Senior Thesis in Communication entitled "Medium and News Content Preferences Among College Students." Jared, who is currently a PTC student, won the Kearsse Award for a paper he wrote for a Liberal Arts course, "Worlds of Writing"; his paper is entitled "Guidelines for a Modest Oral History Project."

In addition to John and Jared, 14 additional RIT students were recognized as Kearsse Award winners.