

Signatures Hosts an Open-Mic & Welcomes Your Creative Work

Bruce A. Austin baagll@rit.edu

3 February 2004

PTC student and Signatures magazine Co-Editor Jacqui Licht writes to remind you of two events associated with the magazine.

First, Signature magazine is sponsoring an open-mic web-streamed Poetry Reading tomorrow, Wednesday, February 4th at 7:30 pm in the Wallace Library Idea Factory. All are welcome to read their original works in front of a live and web audience. Recordings may be used on the upcoming Signatures 2004 multimedia CD edition.

Also, this is your last chance to submit your work for the 2004 publication. Magazine submissions will remain open on our website through Wednesday evening. We accept all forms of art and literature, including poetry, short stories, music, art, animation, photography, film, and new media. See our website <http://www.rit.edu/signatures> for submission guidelines and to access our online drop-box.