Rachacha.com is a student-run virtual community for Rochester-area college students, created by volunteers from RIT's IT department but open to all interested students. We are seeking students interested in writing content for web distribution on subjects of interest to their fellow college students. We have sections on sports, entertainment, travel, dating and student resources.

Rachacha.com is a great opportunity to gain exposure and experience. Interested PTC and CMT students should email the editor, Jonathan Atleson, at jatleson@rochester.rr.com .

A Rachacha prototype is available at: <http://rachacha.com/rachacha/>
