

CMT Student Argues for the Public Interest

Bruce A. Austin baagll@rit.edu

26 March 2002

Michael Saffran, a graduate student in the Department's Communication & Media Technologies (CMT) masters program, had his Letter to the Editor of Radio & Records published in the 15 March edition (pp. 3, 15). Saffran argues persuasively that the U.S. broadcasting media's public interest mandate has been undermined by ownership consolidation. A copy of Saffran's well-written letter is posted above the student mailfolders, outside of the Department office.

In addition to his CMT studies, Saffran is a Senior News Specialist at RIT's University News Services and a former Rochester radio broadcaster.