

American Advertising Federation Social Event

By Karen Doktor

9 March 2007

Build your resume, develop your communication portfolio and make professional contacts by attending the RIT chapter of the American Advertising Federation's (AAFR) social event on Tuesday March 13, beginning at 7 p.m. in the SAU Fireside Lounge.

If you think you're interested in becoming an AAFR member, attend their business meeting on the same day beginning at 5:45 p.m.: SAU, Clark B meeting room on the mezzanine level. Also at the business meeting, a new AAFR executive board will be elected.

For consideration to be an AAFR Director on the Executive Board, send by March 9th a letter of intent and your resume (including winter quarter GPA, cumulative GPA and leadership experience) to the chapter email: RIT07@AAF.gmail.com.

The AAFR encourages interested student and faculty to attend their meetings. For more information contact Kayla Himelein at knh9686@rit.edu.