

DOC Seniors Strut Their Stuff at Portfolio Review Day

Patrick M. Scanlon pmsgsl@rit.edu

18 April 2007

At the 2007 Portfolio Review Day, on May 17, Department of Communication seniors will present their portfolio work for review and comment by faculty, staff and peers. The event takes place in the Skalny Room of the Student Alumni Union beginning at 4 p.m.

The Communication Portfolio is comprised of projects, papers and related professional materials compiled during each student's academic career, and exhibits his or her abilities, skills, and knowledge. During the Portfolio Review, these collections are on display in a variety of forms, including publications, binders, posters, and CDs. You are encouraged to attend, review and applaud the seniors' work, and remain for the initiation ceremony for Lambda Pi Eta, the National Communication Association Honor Society, which follows at 6 p.m. in the same space. A gala reception caps the evening.