Institute's Blood Drive To Net Thousandth Pint

Bloodmobile Chairman Bob Van Auken informed a Reporter staff member that when the Bloodmobile arrives at the Institute, April 28, an RIT student will honor Tech by being the donor of the one thousandth pint of blood in RIT blood drives.

Van Auken went on to discuss the importance of a big turnout April 28. He asserts that Red Cross workers will be on hand to accommodate those ready to donate. He pointed out that no repetition of lack of facilities will occur. Van Auken reports that additional beds will be on hand to accommodate donors.

The Chairman reports that with blood donations for March 3 tallied it points to being the most successful blood drive ever performed by a New York State institute of higher learning. VanAuken said, "Drive workers will be pounding away to set the nationwide record we set as our quota at the start of the campaign. We are after those on block to contribute as generously as did the students that were on the campus March 3. If the April 28 drive exceeds the March 3 drive by just a few pints we will have established the record we seek. I hope RIT students realize how close they are to establishing for the Institute a record of having pledged more blood percentage wise than any other institute in the country. That is an honor we'll forever be proud to have attained. And we're going to do it. Six Hundred pints is the goal. We'll get it."

VanAuken went on to explain that 244 pledges, of the 304 who pledged, appeared March 3 to donate blood. The 244 pledges donated a total of 216 pints.

Two teams had been formed by Student Council to get out the donors. They were designated the Red and the Blue. The Red team came through with 129 volunteers and the Blue team with 115.

Department standings are listed below: Check the chart and see what you have to do to replace Mechanical Department. Van Auken states, "No RIT Department can touch the Mechanical students. They're the leaders now and they claim they'll still be the leaders when the drive ends."

Depts.	Percentage	Pints	Quota
Mechanical	75	30	40
Amer. Crafts	48	19	40
Chemical	48	15	36

Office and general educational instructors donated 11 pints.

VanAuken went on to describe the great demands being made on the Red Cross's blood banks and said, "Blood donations are the most important thing for April 28. Give a pint, get a guy or gal to give a pint and then remember it may be the pint that saves the life of a guy doing a job for each of us over there in Korea."

Softball Deadline

April 15 is the deadline for department squads to sign up for the intramural softball league. Those interested must turn in the names of students to play on the teams to Clarence Tuites, Electrical Department instructor and advisor for intramural softball by that time.

Safety Education Program

Plans Include Area Officials Aid

A need for traffic safety education and driver training originally expressed to Burton E. Stratton, director of the Institute's Evening and Extension Division, by the Traffic Safety Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has resulted in plans for a major program of education in this field, Stratton has announced.

The program was outlined at a recent meeting of representatives of the Institute, Police Department, Motor Vehicle Bureau,

Chamber of Commerce, Rochester Automobile Club, Sheriff's Office and several trucking firms. Everyone present showed enthusiasm and willingness to work with the Institute in planning the type of program to be the most effective.

Dr. Mark Ellingson Names Director

Appointment of Robert D. Pease to the post of associate director of RIT's Evening and Extension Division was announced recently by Dr. Mark Ellingson.

Pease, who joined the Institute staff in 1948 as an instructor in social sciences in the General Education Department, has been assistant to the director of the E & E Division since September of 1950.

Pease's main area of interest is adult education, especially Robert Pease those problems surrounding retirement. He is a 1933 graduate of Ursinus College where he received a bachelor of science degree. He earned a master of arts degree in sociology at the University of Rochester in 1950 and is currently working on a doctor of education degree at Columbia University.

He is president of the Upstate Sociological Society, and a member of the Adult Education Association and the National Council on Family Relations.

'Matching World's Manpower Fallacy!' Says Dr. J. Christianson

"To think that the United States can match the manpower of the world is an utterly preposterous supposition," Dr. J. O. Christianson warned Institute students at an assembly last week.

"Our hope in this time of crisis is superior know-how, for that is what made us great, and a closer unity and understanding among the many different segments of our great country," Christianson told his audience.

Christianson is superintendent of the University of Minnesota

School of Agriculture and has been named one of the 100 living great men of the state of Minnesota. In his talk to the assembly last week, he chided those who are afraid to say that they are proud of their own country and the American system of free enterprise which has made it so great.

Christianson is a proponent of the philosophy that the best solution for most of our national problems is for citizens to actively participate in local affairs to build a stronger political, economic, social, and spiritual foundation for life in their local communities.

The speaker complimented the Institute students and staff. He said, "Not only is RIT a fine, practical school teaching the know-how which is the strength of America, but there is among students and staff a wonderful morale and courtesy."

Dr. Christianson's talk was sponsored by the General Education Department as part of the regular assembly program.

Citizens of the Day

Three members of the RIT faculty are being honored on the WHEC "Citizen of the Day" program in March and April according to Bill Adams, program director of WHEC.

Vernon Titus, head of the Management program, was honored as citizen of the day on March 28. Others to be honored are Dr. Leo Smith, director of the Counseling Center, April 7; and Robert Pease, associate director of the Evening and Extension Division, April 15. The program is listed for 6:30 p.m. on the dates indicated, over station WHEC.

Neblette's Text Book Wins Critical Acclaim

Photography—Its Materials and Processes, by C. B. Neblette, Director of the Photo Tech Department, has rolled from the presses of Von Nostrand to the tune of hosannahs from the book reviewers of the nation's press.

The current edition, the fifth edition of Neblette's opus, like past editions will be many a photographer's bible. Earlier editions have been considered must material by leading photographers. So great has been the demand that there were 19 printings of the four earlier issues.

The new fifth edition of Photography exceeds 500 pages of text and illustrations. It contains more than 200,000 words, over 350 illustrations and is comprised of 33 chapters. The contents run the gamut from optics to the latest developments on color processing and reproduction.

Await Book

Long considered one of the outstanding men in his field Neblette's revised edition of Photography has been awaited with great impatience by the student body here at RIT and the photographic men of the United States. Prior issues have been translated into seven foreign languages and have been equally popular in strange lands as here in the United States.

Neblette has credited 14 associates, fellow faculty members and men connected with the following photographic firms; Kodak Research Laboratories, the Eastman Kodak Company, the Ilex Optical Company, Pavelle Color Laboratories and Western Electrical Instrument Company with aiding in revising Photography. He describes the work of his associates as "untiring and of great benefit."

Author's Associates

Those who were associated with Neblette are: Hollis N. Todd, Silas M. Thronson, and H. C. Colton, faculty members at RIT; G. B. West, J. M. Calhoun, W. T. Hanson and T. L. Tupper of the Kodak Research Laboratories; Charles Reid and M. L. Sandell of Eastman Kodak Company; Alfred Schwartz of Ilex Optical Company; Lloyd E. Varden of Pavelle Color Incorporated and W. T. Williams of the Weston Electrical Instrument Co.

During the week of May 26 three clinics will be held for the Photo Tech Alumni-Student Photo Salon. A demonstration of posing and lighting models for fashion photography, a demonstration on making a full color print by the dye transfer process, and a demonstration on coloring prints by the Flexichrom process will be added attractions to the first photo salon put on by the Department's Camera Club.

May 1 is deadline for the nationwide salon. All entries are to be sent to H. Brent Archer, salon chairman, in care of the Photo Tech Department at RIT.

Up to total of four pictures may be submitted in anyone or a mixture of the following categories: portraiture, commercial, pictorial and color, either prints or transparencies.

The prints will be judged according to the 1951 PSA standard: of illumination. Pictures, both prints and transparencies, chosen to be hung, will be on display in the E. W. Edwards and Son: Department store auditorium or May 27, 28, and 29.

Herman Martin Retiring Soon

Herman Martin, supervisor of the Mechanical Department of the Rochester Institute of Technology recently announced his retirement after 46 years of service to the Institute.

Martin is a graduate of the Mechanical Department in the class of 1904. He began as an instructor there two years later and helped in guiding that department into the prominence it holds today in training young men and women for careers in the mechanical engineering field. Several of his outstanding graduates are Ray Olson, president of Taylor Instrument Companies; Steffen Brown, president of the Brown-Brockmeyer Foundation; Norman Collister, who heads Collister, Inc. There are many others.

It was under Martin's supervision that the Mechanical Department operated on a 24-hour schedule in training over 12,000 defense workers during the rush days of World War II.

Martin has headed the Mechanical Department for the past 20 years. Before that he was one of its instructors teaching drafting, machine design, gas and steam engineering, strength of materials and mechanics.

Martin, who was born in Sweden, came to this country at age 9 to join his family. He attended public schools, graduated from the Institute, and attended summer and extension courses at Cornell University and the University of Rochester.

He is a member of the Rochester Engineering Society and the Rochester Athletic Club. Martin, who lives at 28 Highland Ave., says that he and his wife have no special plans for the future, "just more time to do the things we enjoy doing."

Fine to Live in Time of Chaos

Convocation Address is Theme; Appley's Talk Impresses Throng

"I for one think it is fine to be living in a time of chaos," Lawrence A. Appley, speaker at the 26th annual Management Convocation, told graduating management students last Thursday.

"What challenge would we have were not this a time of upheaval and crisis," he continued. "We must have faith in something. It is the adjusted person who has faith, who has something to work for." Appley stated.

Over 600 guests and 156 graduates heard Appley, president of the American Management Association, advise that while he believes that there is a master plan for civilization and its progress, that this was collectively true, but not individually true.

"However," he warned, "the progress of civilization depends on individual progress and personal growth. Our modern chaos pleases me because the challenge requires great personal growth to meet it. Not only does this challenge demand much of the individual, but it is his greatest source of happiness on the realization that he is creating something and that he has done something worthwhile," Appley stated.

There are three factors which help bring about personal growth, according to Appley. "First, we must clarify to those under your supervision just what his job is and what his relations with others with whom he works is. Second, we must check periodically. We must give the workers time," he continued.

And third," Appley advised, "we must stand ready to help them when they need it."

Dr. Mark Ellingson, who introduced Appley, extended his sincere congratulations to the graduating class. He outlined the history of the management program from its inception in 1926 with 10 students to today when there are 1,278 students enrolled.

Vernon Titus, counselor of the Institute's management program, presented the class to the guests and officials. Donald McMaster of the Industrial Management Council presented the diplomas to the 156 graduates.

Patricia Ann Walker's Death Saddens Friends

RIT students and faculty were saddened by the untimely passing of Patricia Ann Walker, 20, a senior in the Retailing Department. Miss Walker died from complications developing out of a heart condition coupled with pneumonia.

Patricia Ann was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Walker, 214 Eggert Road, Buffalo, New York.

Illness felled the gracious RIT student while on work block at Washington, D. C. She was rushed to a Washington hospital, where she died, with pneumonia; complications set in after her arrival at the hospital.

A resident of Kate Gleason Hall, while attending classes on campus, Miss Walker was a member of Phi Upsilon Phi sorority. Mrs. Pinder (associate director), Arlene Levine and Lynn Harrington attended funeral services as representatives of the Institute.

Patricia Ann was to be graduated in June and was participating in her final block when pneumonia struck.

Matmen Win At Annual Meet

Coach Earl Fuller's wrestlers came through with flying colors in the recent wrestling tournament at Cleveland, Ohio, in which team Captain Larry Wilson took second honors.

Chick DiBiase took on a Hofstra college grappler who has only one loss against him in four years of collegiate dual meet competition. The match ended with a 0-0 score. The ref awarded the decision to the Hofstra wrestler. Chick then came to grips with Edinboro's Malarkey, taking the match with a 3-2 score.

Fred March, Ithaca, was next on the DiBiase roster but a head injury sustained in the Malarkey tilt necessitated Chick's conceding the match. Had he competed and won he would have taken third honors.

John McCullough, injured in the early moments of his match with Tony Cianciolo, John Carrol College, was forced to default.

John Radocha, taker of third honors, met with Pitt's Hugh Perry and also with defeat. Perry, the son of the Panther's coach, has a record of having sustained only one loss in two years of dual meets. He took Radocha 5-0 and the tournament championship for the 117-pound class.

Radocha pinned with one defeat won by default from Case's Sciria. Lock Haven's George Custer then tangled with Johnny. Custer, an 86 match veteran, met his match in Radocha and bowed out on the short end of 2-1.

Captain Wilson's first opponent turned out to be Toledo's Miller, with a year showing 10 wins to one loss. Miller bowed to Larry in a rip-snorting match that ended with a 9-7 score. Wilson then met with Case's Waterson and took the match 3-0. He next grappled with Waynesburg's Bob Lurrine (incidentally Wilson's home is at Waynesburg) in a match that ended with Larry's getting the victory nod from the ref in a closely waged 1-1 battle. This victory placed Wilson in line for top honors and tournament championship. He then met DiAugustine and defeat.

Cornell Matches Finale for Techmen

RIT will be well represented at the 1952 Wrestling Championships of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States. The matches are being held at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., April 3, 4 and 5.

John Radocha will wrestle at 125 lbs., Larry Wilson at 137, Ross DiBiase at 147, and Gary Dotzler at 160 lbs. The boys will be accompanied by Coach Fuller.

This event is the finale to an excellent season for RIT grapplers, a season which saw Tech wrestlers break Alfred University's long win streak and the upset of University of Buffalo.

Election Seeks "Mr. Campus"

They stammer . . . they stutter . . . they clamor . . . they shout . . . Who, What, Where, and When will we know about Mr. Campus. So Reporter, reporters set-out in search of the who's, why's, am wherefore's on Mr. Campus.

This is what we learned. . . Mr. Campus will be that rollocking frolicking good time collegiate who gets a bang out of doing the extra little duties that bring his fellow students, and those who will wander across "The Asphalt Jungle" in search of higher learning, a little more enjoyment at RIT.

He's the kind of guy you'll bumf into at "Jake's", but he's also the kind of fella who'll help paint Clark Union. The guy with the "Hot-Rod" as well as the "B" average. He's the guy the gals comment about, today they may take note of his pork-pie hat but by tomorrow it may be a homburg. He's smart and sharp, keen and witty cheerful and dignified, a clown yet a debonair escort. A friend, an associate an all-around good guy - that's what Mr. Campus is. You know him, so do I but are they both the same guy? That's the question Jim Nolan's Spring Weekend Committee wants answered.

Each of us at RIT will have ample opportunity to decide on who Mr. Campus will be. Ballot boxes for your votes will be placed in the Main Hall of the Eastman Building and Clark Union, April 7. You will be able to vote every day up until April 24, at 5 p.m.

DOOR PRIZES

Once again, the Alumni Association of the Institute will donate three radios as door prizes, at Coney Island, the Friday night function of the Spring Weekend - April 25, 26, and 27.

The radios will be on display in the Library, and the lucky numbers will be drawn Friday night.

Minstrel Time Here Once More With "Showboat" Due April 18

By RUTH FARLEY

Do you remember this from last year—one of the outstanding shows of the year?

It's minstrel time again with a bigger and better show coming for everyone. If you upperclassmen thought last year's show was good, wait until April 18.

Delta Omicron sorority, with the help and support of Phi Sigma Phi fraternity, presents "Show Boat" starting at 8 p.m. in the Eastman Assembly Hall. The program promises some side-splitting jokes about your campus friends, along with southern flavored songs, skits and end men antics.

The end men under their bleached faces are Judy Wood,

Marie Kelts, Dorothy Bensch, Doris Finney, Joan Ellsworth and Joyce Mallory. The interlocutor is Roger Jones, who tries to keep the show in hand.

Included in this night of fun is dancing afterwards, held in the Eastman Smoker from 10 p.m. to 12 midnight.

For a song festive night filled with campus chatter, remember this date, April 18.

Ceramics Instructor Awarded Prize

Wildenhain is ceramics instructor at the School for American Craftsmen.

RIT Craft Students to Exhibit Work at Harvard

Harvard University's Graduate School of Design has invited the School for American Craftsmen to exhibit the work of its students and faculty at Harvard beginning next Monday and continuing for two weeks.

The exhibit will include work from all four departments of the School: ceramics, metalwork, textiles, and woodworking.

"Since our basic tenet is that professional craftsmen must take an important and creative place in the development of contemporary design, the School takes great satisfaction in this invitation from one of the best known design schools in the country," said Harold J. Brennan, supervisor of the SAC.

Harvard's Graduate School of Design is under the directorship of Walter Gropius, one of the leaders and one of the pioneers in modern design. It was Gropius who, as principal of the Weimar Art School developed it into the world famous center of art and craft known as the Bauhaus. Gro-pius, who regards himself as a follower of Ruskin and Morris, came to this country after Hitler had taken over the control of creative endeavor in Germany.

All four divisions of the SAC were also represented in an excellent display setup in the window of the Security Trust Company on Main St. The exhibit, pictured above, was in cooperation with the Hires-Turner Glass Co. showing how glass is used in modern living.

Commerce Department Begins Work at Institute

RIT's 10th department began operation at the Institute three days ago when the first classes in the Commerce Department got underway. Approximately 70 new students continued their studies in the newly constructed classrooms in the Eastman Building Annex after the move of the school from its former location on East Ave.

Early Monday the newcomers met with Dr. Mark Ellingson, RIT's president, in a special assembly where they were warmly welcomed to the Institute, told a little of its history, and its present organization and practices.

This Sunday the Student Association will hold an open house-reception for the Commerce Department students at Clark Union beginning at 2 p.m. The Residence Hall Association will join the Student Association as hostesses for the afternoon.

Jack Stumpf, president of the Student Council, extends a special invitation for the new students to attend and expresses the hope that there will be a good attendance so that the affair will help to integrate the newcomers into the Institute and student life at RIT.

Carpenters, painters, plumbers and other specialists raced against time through the month of March in an effort to complete the classrooms and offices of the new department in time for classes which began March 31. The new layout includes a large typing room, a secretarial practice room, lecture room and an office for the supervisor and secretary of the department.

In addition, the business machine practice room has been located in the tower of the George H. Clark Building. Other classes will be held in classrooms in the Eastman Building as they are held for other departments.

Tony Pastor for Spring Dance

Tony Pastor and his orchestra have been contracted to furnish the music for the Manhattan Merry-Go-Round Dance, April 26, Knights of Columbus Hall, according to Spring Weekend Chairman Jim Nolan.

Nolan reports that program plans are being completed for what should prove to be one of the most pleasant of all Spring Weekends.

Rated by students as the outstanding event of the school year, Spring Weekend attracts many alumni.

Activities will be centered around the main event of the week, the semi-formal dance, April 26, which features one of the nation's top bands.

Festivities end with an informal coffee hour program and open house at Kate Gleason Hall.

Friday night, alumni and students alike will visit Coney Island, Eastman Building, U.S.A. Booths and displays have been arranged and a carnival-like atmosphere will prevail throughout the usually staid halls of RIT's main building. The first and second floors will feature displays and booths; dancing will be offered in the smoker . . . the dance will be sponsored by the Reporter.

Members of Nolan's committee are: Kay Murry, secretary; Nancy Drake, treasurer; Bill Reyman, ticket sales; Jack Smith, publicity; Ron Freiman, Friday night activities; Gil Thompson, pep rally; Joe Cornacchia, printing; and Roy Getman, art work. Jack Stumpf and Granville Bentley are honorary co-chairmen.

Pledges Collect Clothes for Korea

Kappa Sigma Kappa's pledge-master Adrian "Bud" Prince disclosed last evening that in excess of 175 garments were collected by pledges, during the recent pledging period, for orphans in Korea.

Prince points out that it was a pledge's idea and a pledge conducted drive that collected the clothing which will be sent to Lt. Angelo D'Amico, United States Air Corps Korea. The idea developed from a casual reading of a story about the orphanage being sponsored by D'Amico's squadron, touched a spark and KSK pledges set out in search of clothing.

The clothes will be dispatched, this week, to Korea. They are being sent to Lieutenant D'Amico for distribution as he sees fit. In case D'Amico is on his way back to the States, his commanding officer will distribute the clothing,

Lt. D'Amico and two Korean friends beside one of the Jeeps they use to transport food and clothes to "The squadron's orphanage". D'Amico's family, Mr. and Mrs. Santo D'Amico, 1364 Clifford Avenue, Rochester.

Spring Weekend Just Around the Corner

With only about three more weeks until Spring Weekend, the entire school is anxiously awaiting its arrival. This is always the biggest event of the entire school year and students and alumni always turn out en masse for it.

Coney Island is the grand opening. This year, bigger and better, it will occupy three floors of the Eastman Building. Booth assignments have been made and preparations are well under way, some almost completed for the Friday night affair.

It is rumored that Phi Upsilon Phi sorority is going all out in their preparations to regain the prize which they lost last year to the School for American Craftsmen's booth. The spirit of competition which always exists makes these Friday nights much more enjoyable.

Once again the Alumni Association is offering prizes to three students who are in attendance at Coney Island. Last year the prizes were three attractive table model radios. This year's prizes have been announced and again we know they will be very fine additions to three students' personal possessions.

Saturday night is the climax of the weekend. The night of Manhattan merry-go-round featuring the world renowned orchestra of Tony Pastor. The dance will be held at the Columbus Civic Center on Chestnut Street.

Sunday's festivities will be high-lighted by an Open House at Kate Gleason Hall. The girls will have the Hall in immaculate order for the appraising eyes of their guests of the day. We know the guests will discover much culinary talent which heretofore has been hidden and deprived of male approval. We rather suspect that a number of the guests will be moved to do something to relieve this situation. Anyway, we do know they will be impressed.

Welcome Commerce Department

We of the Reporter feel we mirror the feelings of the entire school, students, and administration alike, when we say "Welcome" to you of the new Commerce Department.

It is indeed good to have you on our campus as an integral part of this great institution. We hope you will make every effort to take advantage of the many and varied social activities we offer. These are your activities, too.

You will learn that the Reporter is your paper, read it faithfully for the latest news of your friends and your activities. Learn the progress being made in preparation for the many social events, who the next assembly speaker will be, what you have ahead of you. Let us be your best friend during your orientation period.

You are now a part of the oldest educational institution in the city of Rochester. Paralleling the growth of its home city, the Rochester Institute of Technology has developed along with the industries here that are world renowned for their technical perfection and high qualities of production control.

RIT is 123 years old, but progress is the unofficial motto of our college. In Dr. Mark Ellingson's term of office advancement has been rapid, the changes many. Three departments have been added in the last 15 years—Publishing and Printing, the School for American Craftsmen, and your own Commerce Department.

Increasing demand for technically trained people is providing stimulus to the entire school to increase the scope of its program to provide the finest educational facilities and techniques to all peoples to better serve themselves and the commerce and industries of their country.

The cooperative education plan at RIT which you are a part of was one of the pioneers in this country. This plan used in six of the ten departments provides the student with a period of study of theory, and an equal time in industry on the job to make practical application of these theories.

Finally we say, make friends. We are from 37 states other than New York and nine foreign countries. It may seem that we are wrapped up in our own studies and problems, but just give us a smile and we'll return it.

PARADE OF OPINION

Utopia No. 1 . . .

A group of enterprising students at Yale university have published a little book called "Going Places", designed to help college men date college women on a sounder, smoother basis.

Twenty women's colleges are dealt with at some length, including maps of each campus, important telephone numbers and details about curfew.

One of these colleges, we regret to say is a fiction. Located somewhere in New Hampshire, its women are beautiful and its regulations are lax. The editors hope other colleges will take the hint.

Utopia No. 2 . . .

The ratio of men to women at the University of Oregon is 2 to 1. There are 5 per cent less women than last year, 17 per cent less men.

This, Then, Is Advertising . . .

A collegiate lass in search of political advertising for her school's periodical was asked the question "where is your circulation?"

To which she replied, "The majority is in Rochester, but our alumni are scattered all over the world and all members of the alumni receive a copy of our publication."

The advertising agency's guiding light, happy to get off the fence, immediately replied, "Oh, then that kills the whole idea . . . we're only interested in Monroe County votes."

THE QUESTION

What do you think of the Clark Union Lounge after the redecorations?

Roger Franke . . .

Applied Art Senior

I think the students appreciate a better lounge. The students should take pride in the fact that they, them selves, participated in the redecoration of the lounge. The lounge should be kept open at all times so that if parents of fellows come in from out of town, they will have a decent place to go.

Bud Dewhirst . . .

Publishing and Printing Senior

I don't believe the lounge is used enough. It should be kept open later than ten o'clock on weekdays, at least until twelve, to give the boys a place to meet and watch television later than ten. It should be just as much a meeting place as Jake's. I think the lounge has been nicely furnished and renovated and the students that use it should appreciate it.

June Fanning . . .

Retailing Freshman

I like it. The new color scheme is very nice. It shows the students have put a lot of time and energy into it and will now appreciate it much more. It also shows a cooperative spirit. I don't think it fair that the lounge should be closed at ten o'clock. It should be kept until twelve to give the fellows a place to meet and talk.

Art Graichen . . .

P&P Freshman

The lounge improvement is 100% better than it was before the renovation. Television adds to the enjoyment of all who use the lounge. One suggestion—the lounge should be kept open a little later than at present to permit the students residing in the dorm to use it when they so desire.

Pete Brown . . .

It looks pretty good to me. The floor and re-covered furniture has added beauty to the lounge. I think the students will spend more of their off hours at Clark Union now. The students should be able to use the lounge at their own discretion inasmuch as they pay for the use of it. Another reason why it should be kept open is that it is the only place on the whole campus where students can gather and talk.

Coffee Hour Discussion Considers KG Curfew

By JOE MCKENNA

"Feminine students should not be permitted to visit their homes during the first six weeks of school" Robert D. Pease declared at the culminating discussion conducted by the ladies of Sigma Kappa Delta, in the City Girls' Lounge.

Pease elaborated on his statement, made during a discussion on the "be home hours" at Kate Gleason Hall, by pointing out such a program would be of tremendous value in breaking down the girls' dependence on home and family.

Student Council President Jack Stumpf opened the March 25 session with an informal complaint registered by RIT instructors. It was to the effect that fraternity and sorority pledging periods were causing a disintegration in the study program by pledges and the suggestion that pledging programs be conducted with this thought in mind.

Social activities cornered time when Al Scharf (Mech Jr.) brought into focus the fact that most of the girls at Kate Gleason Hall are experiencing prolonged social inactivity and little fraternization because of the "ridiculous" hour at which they must return to quarters. It was pointed out that femme students at the U of R and Eastman Dental have much later hours and therefore have many more social associations with RIT males.

Accordingly, Jim Nolan (P&P Senior) pointed out, a 10 o'clock deadline means that students dating dorm lassies must have their "chicks" headed homeward by 9:30. This, felt discussion participants, lent little towards the couple's enjoying a complete evening. It also offered little hope for the young ladies becoming popular with the Institute's male escorts.

Miss Mary Dotterer then stated, "if a girl were taken I'm quite sure the girls would favor the 10 o'clock hour."

At the request of several in attendance the Reporter has agreed to conduct just such a poll. Residents of Kate Gleason Hall will be polled on the questions "Does the 10 o'clock recall hour meet with your approval? And, 'What time do you feel girls should be permitted to stay out, on week nights, on Friday and Saturday nights?" Results of the poll will be reported in the next issue of the Reporter.

Discussion of other school activities and the sharing of coffee and cake brought the program to a close. Members attending have gone on record as commending Sigma Kappa Delta for the "Highly successful and always enjoyable program at The Coffee Hour." They also expressed hope that this will be continued in the future and that special mention should be rendered the members of the sorority, (membership in Sigma Kappa Delta is the lowest of campus sororities) as having initiated one of the most outstanding programs carried on during the current school year.

Talks to Students

Henry Berring, educational director for Weston Electrical Instrument Corporation, Newark, N. J. will address electrical students at 10 a.m. April 22 on the topic, "Construction and Applications of Electrical Instruments."

Berring, a graduate of the Institute of Technology in Berlin, came to this country in 1927 to serve a year as apprentice for the Weston corporation, and since then has served in many various capacities in the plant's Engineering Department. He has a wide background in the development and design of various electrical instruments.

'Chester-Fact' Mr. ABC Quiz

RIT students have a chance to win free smokes for the next four weeks from Chesterfield campus representative Nelson Hodgkins.

"It's a Chester-Fact is the name of the contest which provides a free pack of Chesterfields if you know the answer and you are carrying a pack of Chesterfields when the mysterious Mr. ABC asks you, "Do you know the Chester-Facts?" You can win two packs if you can state the Chester-Fact verbatim and happen to be smoking a Chesterfield.

The contest opens April 7 when Mr. ABC will begin making calls on the campus. He will approach students at random to ask "Do you know the Chester-Fact?" The answers will be announced on the campus by posters.

Chester-Facts for the weeks of April 7, 14, and 21 appear on bulletin boards throughout the school.

Fencing Teams Split Meet with Syracuse

RIT's fencing team bowed to fast moving Syracuse University swordsmen at the Eastman Assembly Hall, March 8, the score was 23-4.

Dave Minor, Ed Geier, Gerry Hults, and Connie Strub captured one out of four matches for Tech's four points. The foil and sabre teams both lost by the same score, 7-2, and the epee men dropped all of their matches, losing 9-0.

The women's team took some of the sting out of the men's loss by toppling their foe 9-7. Marge Voehringer took all four of her matches. Ellie Rulof captured 3 out of 4 and Clea Cooper and Diane Kleppinger emerged victorious in one out of four contests.

GREEK TALK

ΓΦ On March 19, five new brothers were welcomed into Gamma Phi fraternity. The event took place at the Spring House in Pittsford. William Clarke, Richard Nelson, John Ratcliffe, Charles Montondo and Ralph Dandrea are the new brothers, with John Ratcliffe being unanimously chosen as Honor Pledge. After being feted to a turkey dinner, the pledges were inducted into Gamma Phi by President Stuart Lyon, and Pledgemaster "Willy" Willson.

A few people found out, at Sunday's Cabin Party that our quiet, women-hating Ron Holzman is not so quiet and not so women hating as he would like us to think. Ron says, and we quote: "... Let's have more Cabin Parties!" After the football game, in which the men took a terrific beating from the girls, there were hot-dogs, hamburgs and dancing for Gamma Phi members and their dates. Some came home slightly bruised, but all who were there had a "great" time!

Soon it will be Coney Island time—and what would Coney Island be without a Tunnel of Love? This is something that no one will want to miss! Come see Gamma Phi's Tunnel of Love at Coney Island during the Spring Weekend! !

KΣK March winds blew cheerful news into the ears of 17 KSK pledges. It was notification of their acceptance into the Institute's only national fraternity, Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Initiation of KSK's new members was held March 19. Those initiated are: Ned Austin, James Brody, John Campbell, John B. Clark Jr., Jack Veers, J. Hull Wilson, Perry Main, Harry Prout, Harry Richards, Frank Robinson, Donald Samis, Milton Siegfried, Richard Sperlich, Richard Terwilliger, Richard Van Duzer, Raymond Vosburgh, David White, Donald Writer and Al Scharf, a pledge from the last group who was on block when the last initiation was held.

The Season

The 1951-52 RIT basketball squad completed one of the best seasons in the history of the Institute when they won 11 games and lost only 5. In the process they established a new high in total points with 1,178—setting a record per game average of 73.6 points. Another new high for the record book was Ron Freiman's 33 points in a single game.

RIT's record for 1951-52 was Coach Lee Fox's best season since taking the reins in 1941. It surpassed the 10-6 mark set in 1946-47, and was second only to the 1931-32 record of 12 and 5. Playing their final season this year were Bishop, Bauer, Freiman, Henry, and Westphalen.
