Evening School Enrollment At, Record High

Nearly 2900 students are attending Evening Division classes this semester, according to Mr. Robert Pease, associated director of the division. This is a 5 per cent increase over last year and represents the largest enrollment in history.

Mathematics is the most popular subject, the Math II class having doubled in size. About 300 are participating in the A.A.S. degree program in the Industrial Technology, Electrical and Mechanical Departments.

Classes are held each night except Friday and many practical courses are offered for the people of the Rochester area.

By attending school two or three nights a week, it is possible for a student to earn an A.A.S. degree in five years. However, Mr. Pease says that most students require at least six years.

A definite lack of interest has been evidenced in the Food Administration Department where only nine ladies are enrolled in the Home Cooking class. At one time, says Mr. Pease, as many as 35 were taking the course. He blames the many prepared foods now available for the recent decline in interest among homemakers.

Two Students Win Grants

Two freshman students have been awarded the annual $1,000 Pfaudler Co. scholarships for study at RIT, it was announced this week.

Recipients of the grants are Frederic K. Masterson, 71 Raines Pk., a graduate of John Marshall High School, and Vaidevutis C. Draugelis, 117 Durnan St., a former Benjamin Franklin High pupil. The third annual award of the Pfaudler scholarships will be used by the two for study in the RIT Mechanical Department. Under the Institute's cooperative work-study plan, they will be employed by Pfaudler during their student years.

Masterson was elected to membership in the National Honor Society while at Marshall where he was a member of the track team and reserve basketball squad. Draugelis, who lived in Germany and Lithuania before coming to Rochester, has been a Boy Scout troop leader and while at Franklin ranked in the top third of his class and played soccer and volleyball.

Cashier's Office Changes Policy

In past years it was the policy bf the Cashier's office to cash checks for students up to the amount of thirty five dollars. However, with the beginning of the 1955-56 school year this policy will no longer be in effect. Due to the large sum of money that had to be kept on hand, plus certain insurance restrictions have made the check-cashing service no longer possible.

Students wishing to cash checks ($35.00 or less) may present them at the Cashier's office where they will be endorsed. Checks then may be presented to local banks for cashing.

Photo Society Program Planned For Season

Scientists from General Electric, Philco, RCA, Ansco, and Kodak, as well as specialists in sports photography and law enforcement photography, will make up the 1955-56 speakers' program of the Rochester Technical Section, Photography Society of America.

Mr. William Shoemaker, instructor in the photography department and program coordinator of the local technical section said that topics for the year will range from several talks on aspects of color photography to such subjects as light amplification and electrophotography.

Mr. Shoemaker stated that the deadline for obtaining membership in the local section of the Photographic Society of America will be Thursday, Oct. 13. Yearly membership dues are $1.00 for students and $2.00 for all non-students.

Membership may be obtained by contacting either Mr. Shoemaker in the photography department office, or Gordon Young in the photo cage near the chemis-

Italian Printers Visit RIT; See Dept. Facilities

A group of Italian printers made a tour of the photographic and printing facilities at RIT on Thursday, Sept. 29, as part of a nationwide visit to various printing establishments, newspapers, and schools throughout this country.

Representatives of the Bianchi Printing Factory of Milan, Italy and the Zeppegno Printing Factory of Turin, Italy were escorted on their tour by Mr. Byron G. Culver, head of the Department of Printing, and Harry Watts, Jr., News Bureau chief.

After luncheon in the RIT cafeteria, the group visited the departments of printing and photography, as well as the Graphic Arts Research Division.

All of the meetings will be held at the Dryden Theatre of the George Eastman House, 900 East Ave., starting at 8 p.m.

Chordettes, Ed Meath Featured at SCF Show

"RIT Nite at the Barn", the first major social event of the school year, took place on Friday evening, September 30, at the Gannett Youth Barn.

This social affair, different in many respects from what RIT students have been accustomed to, was complete with dancing and a floor show which featured the famous "Chordettes,"

Sponsored by the Student Chrisheld to raise money for the purchase of a high fidelity music system to be installed in the new Student Lounge now being constructed in the basement of the Eastman Building.

Dance music was provided by Ray Dunlop and his Orchestra with songs by Betty Coia. Ed Meath of radio station WHEC acted as master of ceremonies.

Freshmen Elect Representative

Elections of freshmen representatives to Student Council were conducted in all departments during the preceding week. The newly elected representatives were notified of their appointments by letter and attended their first council meeting this past Monday.

In accordance with the Student Council constitution, one representative is elected for each forty students, or fraction thereof, on a class basis within each department. In departments where more than one representative is to be elected, those individuals having the greatest number of votes are the ones chosen to represent their department.

The "Reporter" was able to obtain only part of the election results at deadline time, inasmuch as all of the votes had not been tabulated. The following is a partial list of the newly elected freshmen representatives.

Food Administration: Ray Johnson; Retailing: Nancy Barbour and James Perrin.

Printing: Daniel Miller, Richard Nally, and Gordon Price; Mechanical: Tony Zello, Randall Clark, and Robert Curtis.

Electrical: Alleyne Campbell and Ralph Agresta. A second ballot will have to be taken in this department inasmuch as a tie resulted in the selection of the third representative.

The results of the elections of topping students, which will be held this coming week, as well as the rest of the results from the freshmen elections will be carried in the next issue of the "Reporter."

promised by the sponsors, presented top notch talent including dancer Gloria Vitto of the Horace Heidt show; David Howe, pantomine artist; 40anne Bieder, dancing and singing daughter of an RIT employee; Jimmy Embrey, dancer from East Rochester High School; and Tom Coleman singing such favorites as "I Believe" and "Birth of the Blues."

The featured guests were the Chordettes who came from New York specially to be at this show and at Ed Meath's anniversary party, his tenth anniversary with WHEC. The four girls, ex-Arthur Godfrey show performers, really brought the house down with their version of "Way Down in New Orleans" and "Mister Sandman." Their record of "Mister Sandman" sold 1,500,000 copies, Ed Meath announced at the show.

At the close of the evening, Earl Short, Student Christian Fellowship president, announced that the project was a success and that the hi-fi system will be ordered and installed immediately. He thanked Mr. Howard Bloomfield, manager of the Bam, for helping to provide the talent and premises for the evening. Short said that all the talent was donated by the entertainers.

The Barn, located on East Henrietta Road, is the Gannett Youth Club, built and presented to the youth of Rochester and Monroe County by Frank Gannett.

Among the guests were the Reverends Murray E. Cayley and Andrew Yoggy of the First Presbyterian Church, and Father Edward Zimmer of the Immaculate Conception Church. Father Zimmer stated in an interview that he was glad to see his Newman Club members attend this social event. Mr. Yoggy agreed when Father Zimmer said that "we should have more of this very good, high type entertainment.' Father Zimmer mentioned a little-known fact that there is dancing every Friday evening at his Church to a 14-piece orchestra to which RIT students are admitted free of charge.

Entertainers, sponsors, and patrons all agreed that affairs like the one at the Barn for RIT's students should be held more often.

Where's The Fire?

We have been widely accused of being a nation in a hurry and to a great extent, that is true. Unfortunately, as a rule the only thing our haste gets us is the age-old question, "Where's the fire?"

There is a literal answer to that question—An answer which Fire Prevention Week, being observed October 9-15, is designed to provide. Where's the fire? In most cases its where someone was in a hurry, taking chances and cutting corners, with no time or interest for safty precau-

President Eisenhower has issued a proclamation setting aside this week of the year for nation wide fire prevention effort. Illustrative of the need for more concious thought on the part of every individual in the nation are the awesome totals recently released by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Fires-90 per cent of which could have been prevented—last year destroyed 11,000 lives and $870,984.00 in property in the Fire prevention takes on added meaning here at RIT. We can't afford to drop our guard against fire for one minute-for one minute is about the start a fire would need to be well on its way to total destruction of certain temporary buildings.

All students at RIT can contribute to the success of Fire Prevention Week by merely being aware of—and hense more cautious in their everyday routine with materials capable of causing fires. These materials may consist of cigarette butts, matches, frayed electrical cords, broken electrical appliances and fixtures. When given half a chance, through careless use, any one of these articles will produce for you a fire capable of raging out of control, destroying property, and possibly making you just one more statistic with which the National Board of Fire Underwriters may impress the rest of us.

With your cooperation in the cautious handling of combustible material in your daily routine, we can make RIT a safer place to study and enjoy ourselves without having to stop and wonder if we are in any way at fault upon hearing that old question "Where's the fire?"

Student-Faculty Committees Needed At Institute

On Wednesday, September 28, an event took place which we belive to be another "new first" here at RIT. On that day the Administration's Policy Committee met with the student group which planned and conducted the recent "Freshmen Daze" orientation program to discuss and evaluate the events of that memorable weekend.

In our minds that is one of the very few times—if not the first time—that such a joint meeting of students and admimistration representatives has been held for the purpose of mutual evaluation of activities that directly affects both groups.

As a direct result of this meeting basic steps were taken to have a joint studentfaculty committee work on the prepration of plans for next year's orientation program, and if at all possible, to expand such a program.

We here on the "Reporter" heartily endorse such a joint committee, and urge that similiar committees be established for other common purposes.

We believe that student-faculty-administration committees should be established for all purposes which are concerned with the formulation of policy and regulations directly relating to and closely affecting student life. The existance of such committees would give the administration a chance to present their ideas on a certain subject directly to a representative student group, as well as giving the students a chance to present their oponions to the administration.

It is quite possible that had such a joint committee been in existance regarding the regulation of social policy, the recent misconceptions arising over the admimistration's temporary banning of all sicial events could have been avoided. Had such a committee been in existance, and if it was felt that similiar action had to be taken, it would seem logical that the announcement of such action would, and should have, come through such a committee:

Instead we have all witnessed the muttered grumblings and have heard the flood of rumors that circulated the campus as a result of this social ban, and as a result of the way in which the whole matter was announced.

Granted, there were time limitations to contend with during the initial phases when the news was spread by word-ofmuoth. However, there could have beenand should have been—some formal public announcement at the onset, if for no other reason than to lay the facts on the line and to quelch the possibility of rumors.

At the present time, and during this past week, various committees-both student and faculty-administration—are in the process of meeting in an effort to come up with some concrete solutions and regulations for social affairs. It is hoped that when such new regulations are made known for publications, they will have been formulated by a joint student-faculty-admimistration committee, and will be announced by this joint committee.

Council Representatives Lag In Attendance At Meetings

A moderately alarming situation has been in evidence at the first few Student Council meetings this year.

What we are referring to has been the spasmodic attendance by some of the elected representatives and, in a few cases, the complete absence from all of the meetings held so far by some of the other members.

This spotty attendance has resulted in the assemblage of just a handful of students to discuss and act on various measure. In some cases, only a bare majority of the representatives were present.

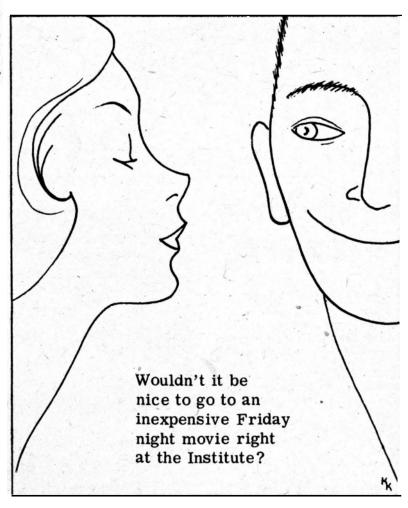

Granted, the freshmen representatives were elected just a week or so ago, and that they constitute a sizeable portion of the total Council membership. However, the upperclass representatives make up a fairly large group also, and a gathering of this size has not been in evidence at the first few Council meetings.

It should be pointed out that a great deal of important business is transacted at the Council meetings at the beginning of each year; business that requires the consideration and intelligent vote of al of the representatives, and not just the vote of a

Each elected representative should be aware of his or her duty and responsibility to attend each Council meeting. Each elected representative should also be aware that he is representing forty of his fellow students, and that each time he votes on a particular issue, he is in reality, casting forty votes. And at the same time, whenever he is absent from a meeting and a vote is taken, he is depriving forty of his fellow students from the right to vote.

And on the opposite side of the fence, it should be the duty and the responsibility representatives aware of these obligations; of each of you students to make your elected obligations that he agreed to assume when he consented to his nomination as one of your representatives. It is through your elected representative that you, the individual student, has a voice in the proceedings of your Student Council; a voice that will directly affect you as a member of the student body.

So, to you Council members, fulfill your obligations by being in attendance at each Student Council meeting. And to you students, see that your representative carries out his duties by adequately representing you and your opinions at these weekly meetings.

Student Ideas And Opinions Sought By RIT "Reporter"

How about it! What's the matter with all of you? Don't you have any opinions or ideas regarding various issues, or is it that you just don't care? And this is not being directed at just you students-it includes faculty, administration, and alumni as

Perhaps you may have some ideas on possible new campus organizations; or maybe you have a "gripe" or compliment that you want to voice regarding some present activity, regulation, or proceedure now in effect; or perhaps there is something that you want to obtain more information on. Whatever it is, lets hear about it!

For one thing, as far as we ourselves are concerned, the editorial staff would like to obtain your opinion on the material that

Dear Editor

Dear Editor:

I have been at the Institute since 1952 and have been quite active in student affairs. Every year I have heard talk of an allschool election for the President of Student Council. Each time this question has been brought up some group has seen to it that it was not discussed. Personally, I would like to see an all-school election, as would many other students. I believe that the Student Council should nominate certain candidates capable of handling the job and then allow the entire student body to elect from these nominees.

If you (the reader) are in favor oi this idea would you take a iev moments to tell your council representative to bring it to the floor of the student council and TO VOTE FOR IT.

"Reporter" main boxes are located at various places about the campus. They are there for your convenience and for your use. These mail boxes may be found in the lobby of Kate Gleason Hall, at the main desk in Clark Union, and in the Eastman Lounge in the basement of the Eastman Building. Or if you prefer, you may bring any material that you would like placed in our "Letters to the Editor" column directly to the "Reporter" office. Remember, the new office is located on the top floor of the Clark Building tower, directly over the photography department's main office.

There is one stipulation, however, regarding any material submitted for publication in the "Letters to the Editor" column. All material submitted must be signed with the individual's name, department, and year. In the case of faculty, administration, or alumni, their title and or address should be included in addition to their name.

Without this above mentioned information we will be unable to print your letter. If you wish your name to be withheld for any reason, we will be glad to do so. However, your original letter must be signed!

So, how about it! Let's hear from you! Surely you must have some ideas and cpinions on matters connected with life here at the Institute.

Question

Question: Now that you have been in school for one month, what is your opinion of RIT in comparison with your expectation?

> Reporter Photographer Herb Forgash

Gottfried H. Maier .. .

My opinion of RIT in comparison with my expectations is that everything is almost the way I expected it to be. I received information about RIT from former students. They more or less told me what to expect.

La Rea Knapp ...

After seeing other schools such as Syracuse University and Cornell, I was disappointed by the outside appearance of RIT. But after being here for a while, I found that other things compensated for the disappointment. There have been many improvements on the inside of the buildings.

Dave Koehn .. .

Not realizing how old the school was, I must say that I expected the buildings to be a little more up to date. However, I'm not disappointed. The facilities and equipment in the Mechanical Department are excellent, and the new gym is far beyond any of my expectations.

June Snyder ...

I saw this school for the first time on a cool rainy day in March, and I must say, I was slightly disappointed with the buildings. But now I see that the buildings don't really matter, it's the people in them that really

Fire Prevention Week To Be Observed

Fire Prevention Week, which is observed this year from Oct. 9 through 15, always includes the anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire of Oct. 9, 1871.

Fires in the United States during 1954 destroyed approximately 11,000 lives and $870,984,000 in property, the National Board of Underwriters report.

Test Your Wits; Can You Solve The Syllablegram?

In solving a SYLLABLEGRAM, the first step is to read over the syllables printed at the bottom of the puzzle. Then, go through the definitions and write in the answers that come readily to mind. As the answers are supplied, it is imporant to encircle or cross out each syllable below, to show elimination. As the solution progresse ination. As the solution progresses, the possibility of recognizing words in the proverb is increased.

It is important to work back and forth between syllables and the quotation, using every possible clue.

Figures in parentheses after definitions show the number of syllables to be used, and each syllable listed below may be used anly once. The first and last letters of each definitions, when read from top to bottom, will form a well-known proverb.

To get you off to a good start, four solutions, and their first and last letters, have been supplied. From there, you're on your own, but if you must peek, the answers will be found on page 7.

In the next issue, however, the SYLLABLEGRAM may be harder to solve!

Wrestling Candidates Basketball Squad To Meet' October 12

Coach Earl Fuller, RIT wrestling coach, has set Wednesday, October 12, as the date for the first meeting of all candidates interested in trying out for the wrestling squad. Room E-203 has been tentatively set for the meeting place. Although special emphasis has been placed on the ned for upper classmen in the 177 lb. division and especially in the heavyweight class, everyone interested should attend the meeting.

The first official practice session has been slated for the first week in November with the exact date to be announced later, depending on facilities available to the squad.

The wrestling team is made up of a JV and a Varsity squad, with four freshmen and four upper classmen on the JV squad and the Varsity being comprised strictly of upper classmen. It is hoped by Coach Fuller that enough candidates will turn out for the team so that a freshmen

Students Welcome At Clark Union

Clark Union is the student center for all of RIT's day students. It is located on the first floor of the Men's Residence Hall at 102 Spring St. The building houses meeting rooms for student organizations and Student Council offices. In addition there is a large lounge with comfortable chairs where students, male or female, residents or not, may relax.

Current magazines are also available at the Counselor's desk, and there is a music room with a large selection of records. Clark Union is open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays; from 10 a.m. to• 11 p.m. on Wednesdays; from 10 a.m. to 12 midnight on Fridays; from 2 to 12 p.m. Saturdays; and from 2 to 10 p.m. on Sundays.

A snack bar also located in the building is open from 6 to 12 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays, and from 2 to 10 p.m. on Sundays. This snack bar is operated for Student Council by Miss Mabel Brown and a group of other women.

In a new effort to raise money for the new student lounge now under construction, the Student Christian Fellowship will operate the snack bar on weekday evenings until the new snack bar is opened. A good sandwich at a reasonable price and a five cent cup of coffee can still be had at this snack bar squad can be formed, thereby opening more berths for potential wrestlers.

Returning from last year's squad, which finished the season with a record of 5 wins, 3 losses, and 2 ties despite an injury ridden roster, are eight varsity men and six junior varsity men. Varsity wrestlers are: Doug Keeler, 121; Rocky Roman, 130; Jim Modrak, 137; Jim Cargnoni, 147; Dick Moyer, 157; Jerry Hortop, 167; Marty Seabock, 177; and Clark Butler, heavyweight. Junior varsity members returning from last season are Tony Palmeri, Carl Johnson, Sal Schifano, Hans Dotzler, Dick Carlson, and Dave Smith.

Coach Earl Fuller

The first opponent to face RIT will be Case Institute of Technology from Cleveland, Ohio. The match is being scheduled for the new Ritter-Clark Building on Dec. 9. Following Case Institute on the schedule will be Colgate University, Waynesburg, Ithaca College, Lockhaven Teachers, Toronto University, Cortland State Teachers, Clarkson Tech, Baldwin-Wallace, Alfred University and Buffalo University. Also scheduled is the 4-I Tournament in Cleveland on March 9-10. Last year the RIT representatives emerged from this tournament with 2nd, 3rd, and 4th place

Registration Held; Cage Films Shown

MT's potential basketball play ers turned out at the meeting held in the Bevier Assembly Hall Thursday, Oct. 6. Coach Lee Fox and faculty advisor Harold Brodie were introduced and then in turn introduced the members of last year's team to the candidates for this year. After registration of players, movies on both offensive and defensive basketball were shown.

The first practice was scheduled for Oct. 10 at 5:30 p.m. at the Jefferson School gum at Edgerton Park. The first home game will be held against Potsdam State Teachers College in the new RIT gym. This contest will make up part of the weekend Carnival of Sports which will officially open the new gym to sports contests. Except for this first home game, the JV team will play before all varsity home games.

Following Potsdam on the schedule are McMaster University, Ontario College, Roberts Weslevan College, Fredonia State Teachers College, Geneseo State Teachers, Oneonta State Teachers, Utica College, Oswego State Teachers, Akron University and the big rival, Brockport State Teachers College.

Mr. Brodie has announced that all students wishing to be candidates for manager should report to him or to Mr. Alexander as soon as possible as the manager position will be given on a first come, first serve basis.

YMCA Open To Student Members

Mr. Howard Simmons, Men's Housing Director, has announced that the annual membership drive of the Young Men's Christian Association of Rochester is currently in progress and will continue through Monday, Oct. 10. Applications for membership in either the Central YMCA or in any of the neighborhood branches may be obtained by contacting Mr. Simmons in his office at 102 Spring Street.

A partial payment schedule is in effect for all memberships, if the individual so desires. Payment for a YMCA membership may be made in monthly installments from now until the first of February.

Mr. Simmons also announced that he has available, while they last, a limited number of guest passes to any of the YMCA branches here in Rochester. These passes allow the individual use of the facilities, at any of the YMCA brances, during a par-

President Names Advisory Group

The appointment of an Advisory Committee for RIT's Retailing Department has been announced by Dr.. Mark Ellingson, Institute president. Members of the Committee are prominent retail executives in Rochester. They are Egil Krogh, president, Sibley's, Chairman; Maurice Forman, president, B. Forman Co.; Theodore F. Lemm, vice-president and general manager, E. W. Edwards and Son; Gordon McCurdy, vice-president, McCurdy and Co.; Melvin Neisner, vice-president, Neisner Bros., and Chairman, Rochester Retail Merchants' Council, ex-officio; and W. Fremont Chester, director, Department of Retailing, Rochester Chamber of Commerce, ex-officio.

The major purpose of this committee will be to work with the Institute staff in the further development of the Retailing program at RIT.

Meet Albert Rickmers, New Math Instructor

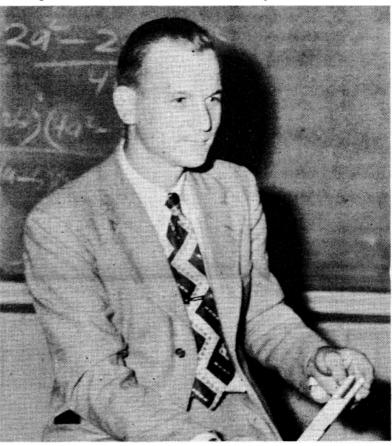

One of the most welcome additions to the faculty in recent years is the subject of our faculty profile for this month, Albert D. Rickmers. Mr. Rickmers is a math instructor in the RIT's Photo and Printing Departments.

Although he considers himself a freshman -instructor here at the Institute, he has been in the teaching field for a number of years, and has shown a tremendous interest in all kinds of youth work and activities.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mr. Rickmers graduated from Milton Hershey High in Hershey, Penn., and after two years at Hershey Junior College where he majored in small homes architecture, he went directly into the service. He spent four years in the Marine Air Corps as an instructor in automatic pilot and bombsight. He was also in charge of a rocket range at a California Naval Base.

After receiving his discharge as a Technical Sergeant in 1946, Mr. Rickmers attended Bloomsburg State Teachers College, receiving his B. S. in Secondary Education in 1948, with a major in Math. He continued his education at the University of St. Bonaventure near Olean, N. Y. at the same time taking a teaching position in a high school in Ellicottville, N. Y.

In 1950, he received his Master's degree in Administration, with a minor in Guidance. He has since continued with his graduate studies in Math for non-degree work. He remained as math instructor at Ellicottville Central High School until until 1950, when he accepted a position as Vice-Principal at Limestone, N. Y., for three years.

Albert D. Rickmers

He returned to Ellicottville Central High in 1953, where he remained until his departure for RIT, as of September 1955. While at Ellicottvile, Mr. Rickmers coached all the sports teams for the school, as well as the Midget League Baseball Team, which he helped to organize seven years ago. He served as Youth Recreation Director in Ellicottville for two years, since his main interests are basically concerned with youth and young people.

An avid sports fan, Mr. Rickmers is a member of the National Association of Approved Basketball Officials and the National Association of Approved Baseball Umpires. He lists all sports, both spectator and active sports, among his hobbies. Of special interest to him is aviation, and the building of model planes.

Among his other interests, of which there are many, are chess, and cards-any kind! He and his wife Zelda were married in 1945 and have three children and one "on the way". The family includes Laura, "Pudgie", age 9; Albert Jr., "Duffer", age 8; and Aldonna, "Ponie", age 4. They are temporarily residing at 154 Troup St.

When asked for a statement, Mr. Rickmers was very thoughtful about his answer. He said:

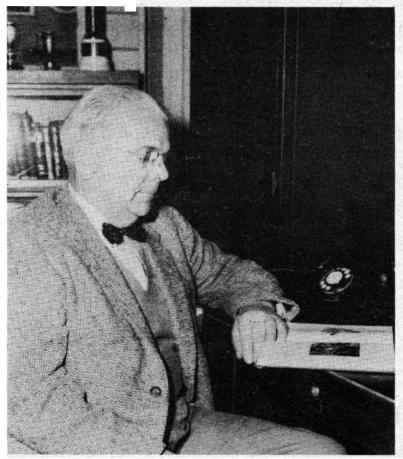

"I believe that my work here at RIT will prove to be both interesting and chalenging. Interesting from the field of work with which I am associated, and the contacts with the faculty and students; and challenging from the Departments with which I am connected. In all, it looks like a very promising situation.

"I was surprised to find students here from so many distant places, and the great number of colleges whose students have transferred to our department. I know I'll like RIT, I hope RIT likes me!"

This candid, personable young instructor already shows signs of being well-liked by his students and well received by the Institute. The Reporter takes this opportunity to make an informal official "welcome", and best wishes for the heir-to-be!

Sports Profile

Although quite a few students aren't aware of it, one of the most active men in RIT's sports program is Sherman Hagberg, instructor in the Mechanical Department. Upon his appointment as Athletic Director of RIT in 1931, Mr. Hagberg shouldered all responsibility for all matters concerned with athletic contests in which RIT appears. He has great influence on such matters since all faculty advisors and coaches are directly responsible to him. Also on his list of duties as Athletic Director is the chairmanship of the Athletic Board of Control which is comprised of four faculty members; Mr. Stanley Witmeyer, Mr. Harold J. Brodie, Mr. Clarence E. Tuites and Mr. William Toporcer; and four members of the student body, Frank Silkman, Jim Modrak,

Sherman- B. Hag berg

Fred Moss and Art Borock. The duties of this group of men is to study any problem connected with athletics at RIT and submit an advisory report to the Student Council for fur-

Mr. Hagberg first came to RIT when it was known as the Mechanics Institute in 1919 as an instructor in the Mechanical Department. His first connection with the sports program took place immediately after when he was appointed as faculty advisor to the now defunct football team, there not being an Athletic Director until his appointment in 1931. While being interviewed, Mr. Hagberg recalled many memories of his past 36 years at the Institute and the past glories of RIT's athletes. Foremost were those of the former football team when they played at Edgerton Park against such formidable foes as Niagara University, St. Lawrence University, University of Buffalo and St. Bonaventure. Strange as it may seem, the big rival at that time was the Rochester School of Optometry whose buildings were located on the present site of the Clark Building and is now a part of the University of Rochester. Two wellknown personages were football coaches at that time, Jack and Ben Forsythe, head coach and line coach respectively, now prominent lawyers in this city. Another familiar figure in Rochester at the present time is Dave Kessler who once was the basball coach for this school and is now chief new caster at radio station WHAM.

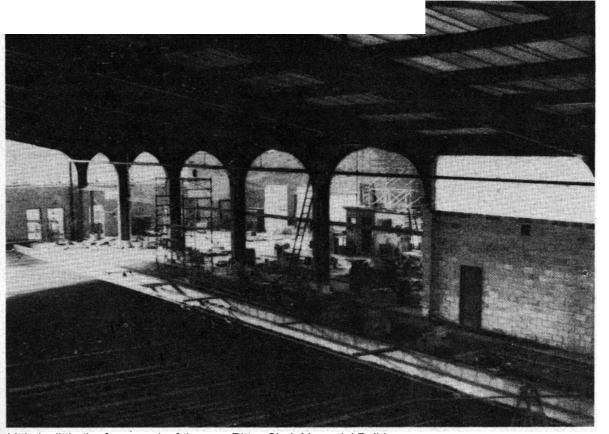

One little known fact was that of RIT's track team which at times used to practice in the streets surrounding the schools buildings. It is supected that Mr. Hagberg could go on for hours with such sidelights of RIT's past but at the moment foremost in his mind is the completion of the Ritter-Clark Building and the beginning of the phrase "home game" meaning just that.

Many plans are being thought of for the future of the sports program at RIT, the most important of which is a possible membership in the National Collegiate Athletic Association which would mean a better caliber of opposing teams and a bigger name for RIT on the athletic scoreboard of the east. Let's hope so.

Barn in Akeley, Pennsylvania, Mr. Hagberg moved to Jamestown, New York and then to Rochester where he gr aduated from the University of Rochester with a Bachelor of Ssience degree. He and his wife are, at present, residing in East Rochester. Among his many outside interests are membership in the American Society of Tool Engineers and the position of Chan man of the Education Committee of Chapter 16 of the National Education Committee whose headquarters are in New York. As a side note, the Rochester chapter presents an annual $800 scholarship to the Mechanical Department.

Over this will be placed the permanent basketball floor which will give with the stresses and strains of the individual player. It is said that such a floor cuts down the wear and tear on both player and court due to reduced shock.

At the present time heating and ventilating ducts are being installed in the gymnasium. A large section of the Livingston Park-Spring Street section has been ripped up to permit the installation of steam lines. These lines will also furnish Kate Gleason Hall with steam heat in contrast to the old stoker-type.

With work going along at this fast pace there is little doubt that the building will be ready for the big Dec. 10 weekend of sports events. In the past two months very little rain has fallen in the Rochester area causing very little delay in the work schedule.

Until opening day the wrestling team will not hold any practice at all. The basketball team will use the facilities of Jefferson High until they are able to practice on the new court. The fencing team will most likely hold practice sessions in the Clark Building Lounge.

Faculty Wives Sponsor RIT Forensic Society

• In the interests of the Forensic Society the Faculty Wives of RIT entertained at a tea on Thursday, September 22 at 3:30 p.m. in the Eastman Building. Chairman of the affair was Mrs. Hollis Todd, wife of an instructor in the Department of Photography, and president of the RIT Women's Club.

the newly-formed Forensic Society, the Institute debating group. They have volunteered to serve as judges for all home contests, since many of them hold degrees from colleges and universities all over the country. The Wives, under the direction of Mrs. Murray A. Cayley, will also act as hostesses for the informal receptions at home meets.

A meeting of the Society was held on Sept. 26 as part of the organizational program of the group. They decided to hold an informational meeting for Freshmen on Sept. 29.

Members represent all ten departments of the Institute, and the officers for the academic year are as follows.

Robert Ball, second year Printing, President; George Thielen, second year Photography, Secretary-treasurer; Judith Gleason, freshman Retailing, Corresponding Secretary; Richard Anderson, second year Mechanical, Librar-

The Vice-presidents are: Jack Tierney, second year Printing, Administrative; Richard Cruwys, second year Printing, Home Debates; Frank Kowalski, second year Mechanical, Oratorical Contests; Richard Mort, second year Printing, First International Affairs Seminar; and Harry Airey, second year Printing, publicity.

RIT debators will enter their first tournament on Nov. 4 and 5 at Houghton College, in which they will compete against approximately twenty northern New York colleges.

On the same weekend, here at the Institute, the Society will sponsor the first annual International Affairs Seminar. This should mark one of the highlights of the academic year. The program on Nov. 4 will include an assembly in the morning and two one-hour seminars on International Affairs in the afternoon.

The Chordettes, radio and television stars, entertain the more than 300 RIT students that attended RIT NITE at the Gannett Youth Barn, Fri., Sept. 30.

Council Notes

The newly elected freshmen representatives attended their first Student Council meeting on Monday, Oct. 3 where they were welcomed to, and congratulated on their election, to Council by Dick Mort, president pro-tern.

The chairmen of the various standing committees have been approved by Council and these chairmen have in turn, selected their own committee members. In accordance with the Council constitution, the new vice-president, Frank Kowalski, has taken over the chairmanship of the Budget and Program Committees.

Bud Rusitsky, Food Administration student, is the chairmen of the Parking Lot Committee. Assisting him in the job of checking on parking violators and various other jobs connected with the operation of the student parking lot are Bob Lorenzen, Al Rossetto, Paul Baacke, and Jim Humphrey.

The Publications Committee will be headed by Rod Brower, second year printing student. He along with committee members Mike Blobstein, Claude Rose, and Pat Bonner will be in charge of the Student Directory, preparation of the Student Activity Card, and will work in a liaison capacity between Council and "Techmila." In addition, they will work on a complete revision of the Student Handbook for next year.

Robert Ball, chairman, and Karen Smith, Sue Hart, Dick Cruwvs, and Jack Tiernev comprise the Assembly Committee which will be responsible for planning the all-school assembly programs held periodically in the RIT Chapel.

Bob Seabrooks, fourth year mechanical student, is in charge of the Lounge Committee. Assisting him will be Robert White, Chris Rhoades, John Forward, and another member still to be selected. Recently, Bob stated, 'So far this year, the lounges have been in very satisfactory condition. Let's all remember that bottles are to be placed in the racks and that baskets are provided for paper. Plans have been made to re-stripe the pingpong tables in the Clark Lounge, and any suggestions concerning better lounge facilities will be greatfully accepted by the members of the committee.

The Civic Affairs Committee is headed by Bobbie Grey. At present her committee members include Linda Larken and Marvene Landers, in addition to two others still to be selected.

Other committee members to be selected are for the Awards Committee, headed by Malcolm Luft, and the Constitution Committee, which has Dick Osburn as chairmen.

Masquers Plan Year

Nearly 50 enthusiastic RIT students and faculy members got together for the first meeting of the Masquers Guild on Friday, Sept. 23, to make plans for the coming year.

Kris Broikou announced that the first production this year will be on Nov. 7, with tryouts to be announced at a later date. Notices will be posted. Kris is the Librarian for the club.

Officers for 1955 are President, Howard Rogers, Vice-president; Peter Jedrezek, Treasurer; Michael Spallucci, and faculty advisor; Mr. L. R. Sanders.

New Directors for Women's Housing

Miss Margaret Beiszer of North Hills, Penna. is the new director of Kate Gleason. She attended Hunter College, Indiana University, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and is now studying textile design in the School of American Craftsman at RIT.

The new director of the Annex is Mrs. Elsie Kline of Union, New Jersey. She attended Pratt Institute and has done free-lance costume designing.

Greek Talk

The brothers of Sigma Theta Gamma Fraternity wish to extend a hearty thanks to all their fine friends who patronized the mixer, the Mad Hatter, on Friday evening, Sept. 23. We are sure that a good time was had by all in the clean, gay fashion in which the dance was carried out. The unique theme of crazy hats produced some varied contortions of the finer arts of the millinery culture, in fact some would make the bigwigs of headgear fashions cringe with pain, it all adding up to a wonderful evening. Many thanks are also in order to our sister sorority, Delta Omicron, for their part in making the dance a success.

At their regular meeting of Sept. 26, the brothers of Theta Gamma unanimously voted to keep all social functions during the rest of this quarter free of alcholic beverages, thus setting a precedent long desirous of the fraternal realm.

Theta Gamma, anticipating that the ban on off campus activities will be lifted, now looks forward with great enthusiasm to Saturday evening, Oct. 29, when it cordially invites its friends to join them in a good old fashioned square dance. There will be more about this gala Halloween event in future issues of the "Reporter." (11-11:11-1C11

Paz Family Back In News

The family of a former RIT student was in the news recently as a result of the recent Argentine revolution. With the ousting of Juan Peron, Alberto Gainza Paz, editor-publisher of La-Prensa, the Buenos Aires paper closed by Peron in 1951, made plans to return to his homeland after a four year exile in Paraguay and New York. His son, Maximo Gainza, attended classes at RIT in 1953 for a six week course in Graphic Arts Orienta-

Maximo was a special guest of the Merganthaler Linotype Company during his stay, and took the course with representatives of the firm during their sales trainee course. He showed a deep interest in the Graphic Arts field, despite the fact that his previous training was in a completely foreign field.

From Rochester, Maximo traveled on to a tour of the Scripps-Howard newspapers and an extensive tour of the U.S. He had no other formal schooling plans, and was preparing himself for his eventual return to Argentina, and "La Prensa," largest Spanish language publication in the western hemisphere.

Arena To Present All-Negro 'Hamlet'

Rochester's Arena Theatre—the only box office supported theatre - in - the - round resident company in the United States—is currently conducting its season subscription campaign.

During this two-week drive, scheduled from Oct. 3 through the 15, 2000 subscriptions must be sold in order that the Arena may open this year's nine-show season during the first week in November as planned.

Slated to open the Arena's fall season on Nov. 8 will be the first all-Negro production of "Hamlet" ever presented in this country. A group of Broadway actors will comprise the cast of this initial production and, depending upon its success, a New York run and a European tour are tentatively planned.

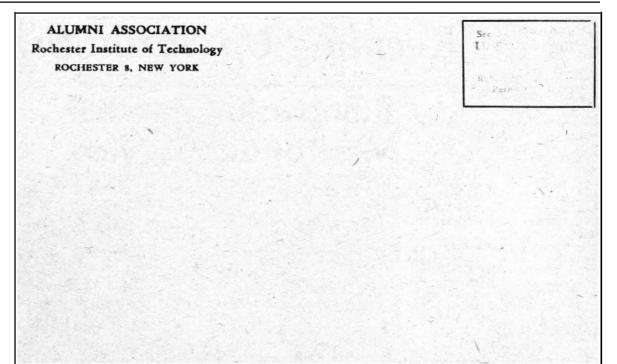

The Pulitizer Prize-winning play for 1953, "Picnic" by William Inge, will bow in at the Arena on Nov. 22. Following this on Dec. 6 will be the season's first musical, "Guys and Dolls."

Six other shows are slated for production from January through May.

At the present' time no definite information is available regarding special student rates for various Arena productions. As Mr. Omar K. Lerman, Arena producer, stated, "Special prices will prevail for productions that are of interest to students." Mr. Lerman also stated that such prices would definitely apply for the first two scheduled shows. More complete information regarding such rates will be available in future issues of the "Reporter."

The Arena Theatre, located at 12 Hollister St. will be starting its sixth year of presenting top quality legitimate theatre to Rochester audiences. All shows at the Arena are produced by Miss Dorothy, Chernuck and Mr. Lerman.

Women's Club Holds Fall Tea

The annual fall tea and business meeting of the RIT Women's Club was held on Thursday, Sept. 22, in the Henry Lomb Room in the Eastman Building. About 50 members heard Mrs. Warren L. Rhodes describe her trip abroad last spring. She recounted experiences from the point of view of family travelling in Europe.

The Rhodes family accompanied Warren L. Rhodes, head of RIT's Graphic Arts Research Division, when he represented the Institute at two international conferences in Denmark and in Holland.

Mrs. Hollis Todd, club president, conducted the business meeting. Plans for the current academic year were discussed.
