

Z-113, Techmila Goes Monthly

Message From the Janitor

Smiley

The decision of Techmila to have their dictionary become a monthly publication is real nice, not only because the students are surprised, but also to keep you kids off the street.

To go along with this, I'm real glad that you've done it. I think that a lot of good will come from this and that no one will really pay any attention to it anyway. Course you're going against stiff competition when you buck the Gardner Gazette and the RIT Repeller. Both, right now, are infamous for misspelled words and a completely biased opinion. Up 'till now, Techmila has just complained and hasn't been able to express any opinions. Now Techmila will be in line for complaints—monthly.

Come to think of it, Techmila gets off pretty light since they publish just before the kids go home. Nobody can complain that way. This change will end all that and really be OK.

I think I speak for the entire Institute janitors when I say that Techmila's going monthly will be real nice. We'll all work real hard to keep your office real clean.

SMILEY,
Clark Building Janitor

Student Television Station Begins Operating Schedule

Television (radio with eye-strain) was installed in Nathaniel Rochester Hall last week.

Mr. Melvin Rinfret, director of housing, announced that WRIT-TV is now broadcasting on a limited scale until sets are installed in all of the rooms.

Rinfret and his enterprising staff of electrical students built the television cameras from spare parts salvaged from past class projects-gone-bad.

The new studios are located in the ex-hotel kitchen which has been remodeled to make room for the $15,000 transmitter which was donated by Mike's Funeral Parlor.

Bob Miller (Mech 5), president of the Dorm Broadcasting System Inc., has announced that although the system is a closed circuit system at the present time, his company will erect an aerial on the roof to beam the "Broad"-casts to Kate Gleason Hall.

Photo students have been commissioned to take movie newsreels for nightly news casts. Movies shown at the Dryden Theater in 1945 will be shown on an evening show intitled "The Be-lated Late Show."

Yearbook Staff Announces New, Exciting Policy Change

In a surprise announcement by Bob Grimm, editor-in-chief of the 1959 Techmila, the news of Techmila going monthly was introduced to the general Institute.

By special arrangement with the Reporter staff, Grimm has agreed to withhold release of the move until this date. Nick Mihael, next year's editor-in-chief, confirmed the announcement, as the new system will not go into existence until next year.

After considerable soul searching and argument within the staff, a vote of confidence was taken and the new status of Techmila assumed form. The 1960 Techmila will be compiled on a monthly basis and distribution will be made on the first Monday of each month. Copy and photo deadlines will be arranged at a later date, but at present, advertisements are rolling in at a phenomenal rate of speed.

Grimm stated that through the increased amount of advertising now available, little additional aid would be required from the Student Council. Grimm put the additional funds required at a little less than $60,000 per year.

In requesting these additional funds, Student Association fees will double beginning with the 1959-60 school year. With this change, Techmila and Forensic Society will control 90 percent of the budget. Since little money will be left over for sports, all athletic teams will have to be registered members of the Techmila staff.

Since all the funds for sports come directly from the Student Association, a complete revamping of the sports situation at RIT will be forthcoming. Along this line, in contrast to this year's Tech Tournament, next year the event will go under the name of "If You Donate The Trophies, We Will Have A Game-Tournament." At the present time, the Reporter has offered 20 copies of last year's April Fool Addition as a prize for the worse player of the tournament. Naturally, the Forensic Society has already offered a large gold cup for the first place team. Other groups are expected to join in the move to offer more trophies.

The staff is expected to increase in size from the five people presently employed, and the office space will be increased to include one more clothes closet. Additional lighting will be provided, in that the Buildings and Grounds Division has promised to replace the burnt out light bulbs that were wasted last year.

Promises have also been made from the Printing Department to provide more memo pads, but without any individual's name imprinted on the pads. Provisions have been made with the Art Department to have the names hand lettered by Norman Bate's drawing class.

Although lacking in experience, next year's staff promises many new innovations in the 1959-60 monthly Techmila. Included are Easter cards, Christmas wrapping paper, and an individual ballot for school-wide elections.

Hereafter, the editor-in-chief will be elected by school-wide elections. This will not come into effect until Mihael's term expires next year.

Bicycle 'Togetherness' Wins Contest

A new honor has been added to the ever-increasing list of awards achieved by members of the RIT administration and staff. Two members of the administration, Mr. Alfred Davis and Mr. Robert Belknap, were recently chosen as winners in the annual bicycle - built - for - two contest, sponsored by the RIT Women's Council

The pair, who were chosen to win the trophy for the third year in a row, won the competition hands down by their performance in several areas. In speed racing, endurance and free-cycling, they came out well ahead of their competitors.

In making their decision, the judges, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller and Mrs. Mark Ellingson, stated, "The outstanding abilities of these two men, their unusual degree of cooperation and stamina won the trophy for them." As this is the third year that the trophy has been won by the Messrs. Davis and Belknap, they will be able to retain it permanently.

TRoublesome Twosome—Modern administrative members take practice run around RIT "slanted" patio. Run went well until members of the Locust Club cracked down and required a $2 license from the team.

HATETORIAL

Lady Halitosis to Meet Defeat

This is just a rumor but we've heard that someone in the Mechanical Department has finally done it. A student of great social standing around the campus has invented a unique apparatus. This invention, which is being kept a secret, will make RIT famous. Just think, the only school in New York State with one of them.

Such a great honor could be bestowed on us if only the inventor would give up the patent. Will he? No. He's kept it a *secret for two years now, and just last week word sneaked out that there was one around the campus. Listen mister, give us a break. Look what it could do for everyone, a genuine garlic strainer.

Let's Hang Belknap For Kicks

What ever happened to the good old days? What ever happened to the mass meetings, panty raids, and gold-fish drinking that college kids did back in the twenties?

Today's college student just hasn't any ingenuity left to draw upon. Once upon a time there was an active rivalry between the University of Rochester and RIT. It meant fraternities painting their school's initials in red paint on campus buildings. It meant burning the school's initials on the football field. What has happened to RIT spirit? Evidently our jelly-willed students have been paying too much attention to what the administration has to say.

But then, just get some administration member by himself and ask him about his college days. He had fun. Not something someone else told him was fun, but something he really wanted to do.

Not so with present RIT college boys. They think there're having fun, but actually they're miserable and don't know it!

Some schools have it pretty good. The following has been stolen from the March 22 Democrat & Chronicle:

"Harvard boys once removed a 500-pound concrete ash tray from outside the library and carried it across the Charles River to the office of Boston Mayor James M. Curley. Posing as the non-existent 'Curley Club of Boston College,' they presented it to him as a treasure of Egyptian archeology and wished him well in the coming election. Delighted, Curley handed out copies of his campaign biography and locked arms with the ranksters for a rousing rendition of the B.C. fight song. Two hours later, Cambridge police arrived to reclaim the bogus article.

"Former football coach Earl Merritt of Pomona College gulped a fast cup of coffee one morning, pecked his wife and hurried out the door—right into a brick wall. Busy little hands had mortored up his apartment entrance during the night.

"A Cal Tech man once returned from a New Year's Eve revel to find a big cement mixer churning away in his room. This was in the '20's, but the rank has since been repeated with a Model T Ford, a weather balloon filled with water that burst when the occupant opened the door, flushing him down the stairs, and most recently with a variety of sports cars.

"But of all strange things ever found on campus, Utah State University boasts the oddest. Residents of Sigma Chi fraternity discovered one night that someone had led a decrepit horse into a narrow hallway and shot it dead. The carcass was in such a position that it had to be cut and carried out in pieces."

So RIT students: Break these chains that bind you. Get out and have some fun. Pull a few pranks on campus; have a marathon dance; build an outhouse on top of the gym. As Antie Maime would say, "Live, live, live!"

Three Cheers For Loof Lirpa

Some people have "Beat-nik" days to release their inhibitions; the Reporter staff has April Fool's Day.

By now our readers should have guessed that everything in this paper is completely fictional and all a joke. We've got our fingers crossed, hoping that not over fifty people sue us for libel. Everything was in fun, and the staff hopes that our readers had as much fun reading as we did in writing the stories.

RIT Gaseteria Opens; Tom Strader to Pump; Books Become Sideline

Announcement came last week from the office of Mr. Alfred Davis, Institute Foreign Relations Minister, that RIT was planning to convert the Hathaway Bakery to a Drive-In Library. This new announcement counters the last report made in the Reporter.

When asked the reason behind this radically new addition to the campus, Mr. Davis replied that "In this fast moving society, the administration feels we must cater to the sports car-driving students." He added that "This new library facility will allow students to drop off overdue books on their way to school."

Joe Zigadlo, leader of the RIT Vigilante Parking Committee, announced that any cars parked overtime in the library will be fined at the overdue book rate.

Besides offering drive-in book shopping, automotive work will also be incorporated in the semi-gasoline station atmosphere. Mr. Davis announced the following students to be in charge of the various activities involved: Window washing, Bob Miller; Grease jobs, Frank Lang; Air hose, Joyce Brennan; and Headlight polishing, Cromwell Schubarth. Gasoline pumping will remain in the hands of the library, as Mr. Tom Strader will be gasoline pumper, if he can find the hose.

FROM HERE to Obscenity

FRED GUEVARA

If drinking, smoking and carrying on are the pastimes of fools, methinks that RIT is turning out a most impressive crop of fools, all quite happy in their work. The aficionados of the affairs of the heart are especially dominant, and nobody will deny that there are no ole's more resounding than those heard as the bull is thrown in the arena of love.

The RIT turtle of Sex is staring us in the face. And yet, amid cries of "How come my dog don't bark when you come 'round" and "Come with me to the city girl's lounge," he is being ignored by the administration.

Now the problem resolves itself: Has RIT kept up with sex? Drop in on a Saturday night and examine the pressing problem in the lobby of old KG. The dorm may be crowded, but the greatest need for expansion is downstairs, where wall-to-wall lovers play kissy-face as the bewildered matrons ring their little bell. Herein lies the proof. Sex will never be replaced by color television on this campus, and yet the overcrowded situation is ignored. Space provisions are not made for goodnight kisses, also known as "scrounging" and "cheap physical stuff."

Now let's look at the educational picture. Here again, RIT's administration ignores sex. Few courses are devoted to the subject, although some progress has been made. Today only International Affairs, Marriage, and Physical Chemistry deal with the topic. Viewed in relation to other institutions, however, the sex education curriculum here is neither here nor there . . . In answer to those who argue "How can they teach what they don't know?" I have this consolation . . . Quite a few of them are accomplishing that now, and they have succeeded in faking everybody out.

And so may I direct this MEMO to the Administration . . . Get hip, cats! There are "live fast, love hard, and die young" forces at work at RIT. A revolution is at hand. Prepare for fraternity incidents, panty raids, and classes in which no self-respecting, beer-imbibing college man could possibly sleep. Sex is here to stay!

Said one goateed photographer to another: "I hear they're having a beatnik party, let's shave, put on a suit, and go!

Mr. Benz — Say, Bunkie, can't you see that "NO SMOKING" sign?

Mr. Finley— Yeah, and I saw a sign that said "WEAR MAIDENFORM BRAS" and I didn't pay any attention to that either!

Instructor: If this room doesn't settle down I refuse to begin the class.

Student: Then go home and sleep it off.

Concrete Quotes and Cement Mixer Mishmash. . . Rumor says Dr. "Cough" Murphy has tried camels but changed back to people "Not only do people pay their bills but they're not always licking your ear," states the medic. Here's a hot line . . . KSK's Mike (I MEAN) Gotz is secretly married. Got the news from weekend (spends a lot of time sitting down) guest Bob Roily as he munched specimens from Tom Strader's goldfish bowl at the old TG house (where, incidentally, Strader serves as house mother).

On the Basket Ball . . . The Kentucky Colonel is not from Kentucky! Also, a well-informed source informs us he is only a second looey . . . TG's Andy ("Bones") DeMarco expects his twins in February. . . Get plenty of rest, Andy, and lotsa luck! TEP (you know, they used to be Rho Tau) is reportedly trying to buy the RIT presidential abode . . . Comments Doc E., "It certainly has been a progressive year and the girls on the pep squad have done a wonderful job, but I really can't say, man!"

I understand that Mr. Robert Belknap, who prefers to be called Mr. Robert Belknap, has written a book entitled, "If all the College Men who Sleep in Class were laid end to end, They'd be a lot more Comfortable." Arthur (You do it your way, I'll do it mine) Gardner has also written a song, entitled "I Remember Memo", a sequel to the barefoot boy's hillbilly hit, "Get off the Kitchen Stove, Kay, You're too Young to Ride the Range."

(Ed. Note: Mr. Guevara, the author of the best-selling novels "I Love Loosely" and "Bachelor Father" is available for after-dinner speeches, riot-incidenting and guidance counseling. Address memos, subpoenas and petitions in care of this paper.)

RIT Men's Rooms Cleaned-Up Rinfret May Lose Kickback

The staff of Nathaniel Rochester Hall recently announced that a widespread "cleanup" will take place beginning next week.

Mr. Melvyn P. Rinfret, Housing Director, has secretly deputized two residents on each floor to be on the lookout for curious happenings.

The whole idea was brought into the light of suspicion when an unsuspecting photo freshman whose name is being withheld for obvious reasons, pulled down the right lever on the ice cream vending machine in the snack bar, and hit the jackpot. While he was filling his pockets with silver, one of the dorm staff members was already making a report on this.

Since then, it was discovered that more illegal business was being conducted in Rochester Hall than was imagined. While solving the case of the 3rd floor TV set that is constantly on the blink, it was found that a booming business in selling used radio tubes existed on the 7th floor.

If You Don't Like It Leave!

RIT REPELLER

ROCHESTER INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY
Weakly Unofficial Publication

Hatetorial Offices
3940 East Avenue
Rochester 8, New York

Telephone: LOcust 2-5780—Extension 354
Member: Associated Soviet Press

Co-Editors-in-Chief—Mary Alice Franks and Jack Franks

Campus Editor—Bernard Franks
Sports Editor—Edward Franks
Alumni Editor—Les Franks
Copy Editor—Nancy Franks
Photo Editor—Wes Franks
Art Director—Morris Franks
Public Relations Manager—Bud Franks
Business Manager—Louis Franks
Assistant Business Manager—Gary Franks
Mechanical Superintendents—Ronald Franks and Sidney Franks
Assistant Mechanical Superintendent—Richard Franks
Circulation Manager—Jan Franks
Propaganda Editor—Alfred E. Newman
Faculty Advisor—Hector H. Franks

I GO MONO

Religion a Requirement For '59-60 School Year

The General Education Department of RIT listed in the 1960-61 catalog, the course of "Religion." Students questioning the department brought to light the fact that starting in that year, all students will be required to attend "Religion" as a part of their regular curriculum.

The head of the GE Department stated that little change would be necessary, as the textbook presently being used "Culture and Society" covers the subject fully. "Most instructors will have to modify their courses very little," Mr. Clement stated. Some problems are expected to arise from the subject, as the other two religious groups on the campus are expected to complain.

Commenting on the subject, Ben Goldberg, president of RAA, said, "Probably the idea is good, but the only publicity we will be able to get from it is at the beginning of the course." Reactions of most of the students interviewed expressed just the opposite opinion, and the Repeller is expecting a deluge of "Letters to the Editor."

In this matter, the Reporter editors support the advance of religion, and are glad that a new issue has arisen on campus to give more students a chance to express their opinions. The editors feel that the "Letters" column has been monopolized by just a few students on campus.

Further, it was learned that if any student makes less than an A in the new course, he will immediately be placed on probation. Since this is a new restriction, a new type of probation had to evolve. This type of probation will be called "Hell, Probation."

No further information has been made available on the class scheduling as yet.

Stratton, Please Work on Grass

Due to the increased pressure from students and alumni for a "green" campus, the Institute is going to do something about the situation in the near future.

The RIT Evening Division has been appointed in charge of the project. Mr. Burton Stratton will be in charge of cement removal, while Mr. Robert Pease will be in charge of grass.

Through a mutual agreement, the Tike Construction Co. will be in charge of the actual work, but Mr. Stratton has promised constant personal supervision. The $12,000 patio will be removed by late summer, and the grass will be planted in early Fall. Penny-pitching will be outlawed when the excavation is completed.

Imported grass will be used in the new area, and students will not be allowed to walk on the green stuff. Obtained from the RBI campus, the grass will be of the cold-weather variety and will be obtained within the near future.

A faculty "Dig Day" will be incorporated in the movement of the grass from RBI to RIT. "Enough experience was gained by the faculty last year to insure safe transfer of the grass," stated Grass Chairman Pease.

Latest Campus Rumors

A goose riding in the elevator in the Cage got peopled . . . Sibley, Lindsey and Curr has been brought out by Joseph Fitzpatrick, Al Johns, and Dr. Lloyd out by Fitzpatrick, Johns, and Carr . . . The mid-quarter exams have been dropped due to lack of student participation . . . The K.G.'s one-minute bell has been replaced by the record "Problems" . . . Dr. Ulrich is passing out cigarettes to the students on the second floor of the Eastman Building . . . More girls are now wearing fraternity pins than there are brothers in fraternities.

Students Mob Mansion As President Escapes

The recent announcement that next year's tuition will increase $50 per quarter brought sudden reaction to RIT students. Violence flared.

Up in arms over the recent tuition increase, over 800 students stormed the mansion of Dr. Mark Ellingson, president of RIT, last Monday night.

From this action, all social fraternities have been placed on probation and inquiries are being made to locate the ringleaders of the ruffian group. News filtering out of the fraternities indicate that a mass rally of all campus groups will march down the Main Street of Rochester in what the groups call "sympathy to the unfair treatment of the social fraternities."

To combat such a move, the Locust Club has been notified, and all janitors have been put on 24-hour call.

The fracas started at approximately 8 p.m. on the Ellingson lawn; all leaders wore chemistry lab coats over their faces. After burning an up-side-down cross on the lawn, the entire house was pelted with rotten eggs and tuition bills. The Ellingson family was evacuated to the home of Kay Finley, president of Student Council, while the riot was underway.

Student leaders contend that the $150 a year tuition increase is unfair to all Institute students. Dr. Ellingson contends that the increase is necessary to combat blackmailing instructors and the increased government payoffs. "The University of Rochester is doing it", Dr. Ellingson stated, "I can see no reason why we can't do the same."

Countering this thought, the students cite the example of the recently acquired anti-air craft gun, purchased solely for the purpose of shelling the U of R. At the time of purchase, the administration stated that they had bought the gun as an "experimental" tool. The true information of its intended use, to bombard the river campus, was just recently uncovered.

Although the Ellingson home riot was short lived (two hours), the students threaten to extend the demonstrations to include all high officials of the administration if the tuition is not reduced to a more likely figure.

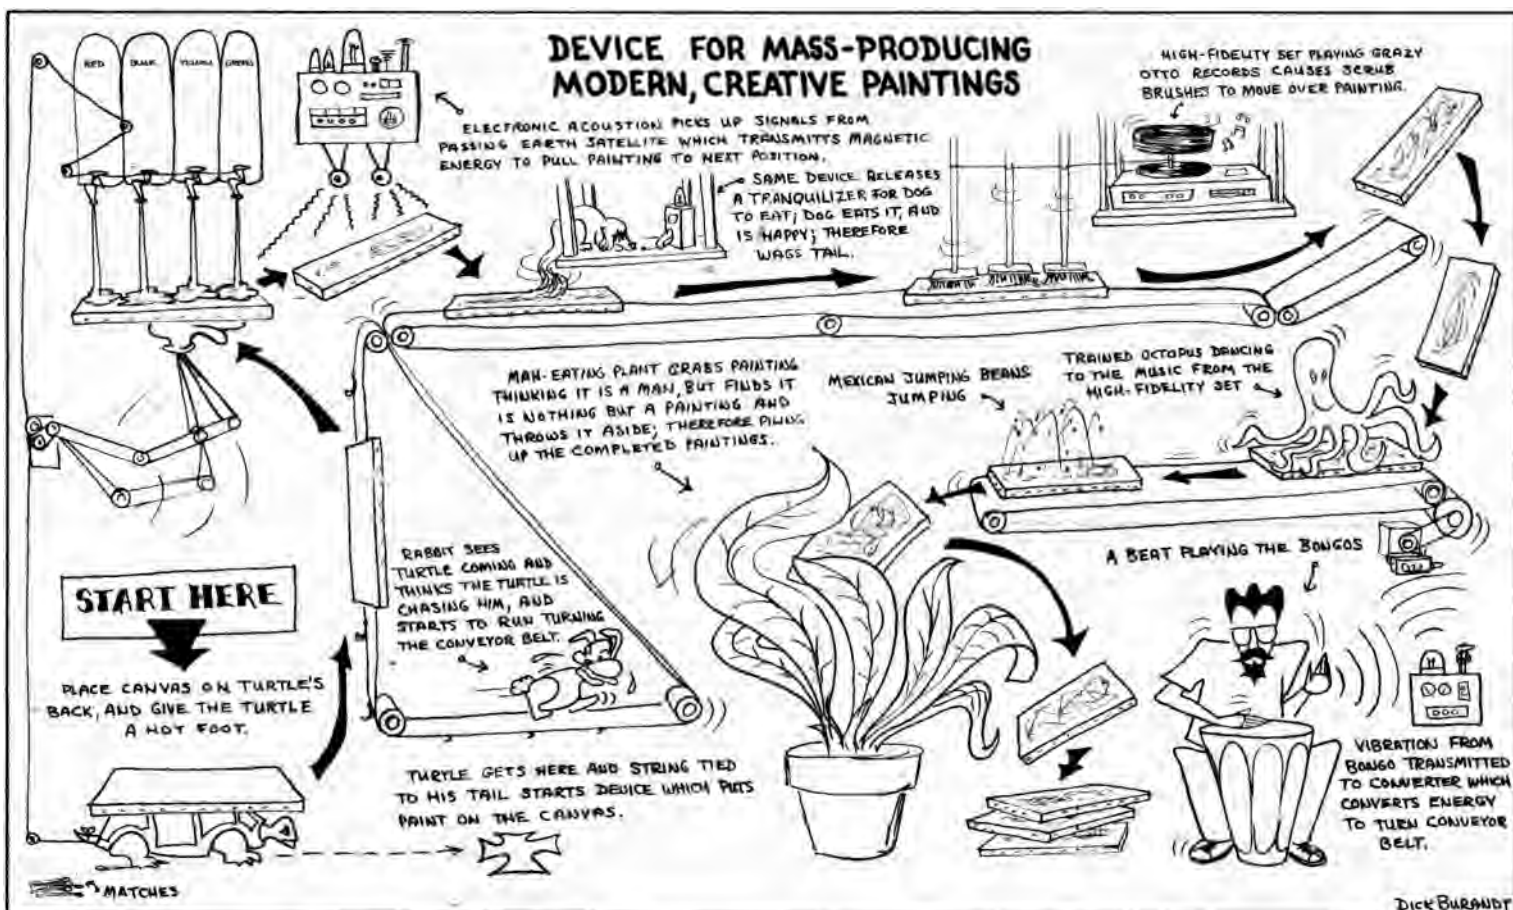

Newest Thing in Ads

REPELLER AD COME ALIVE—It pays to advertise in the Repeller as this photo advocates. Graphic Arts Research adds the necessary evil matter that makes the ads really stand out. Note: They also usually forget to put rules around the ads.

Have You Heard?

The fraternities on campus gave up beer for Lent . . . Kay Finley quit Student Council to join the Choraliers. . . Chickens raised in the pet shop where Phil Skidmore works ate racing forms and now they're laying odds . . . The freshmen printers have been expelled for excessive cheating; too many were on last quarter's Dean's List . . . Arnie Cardillo wears red leotights to bed . . . Draft beer is being sold in the snack bar on Friday afternoons . . . Art Gardner is writing "From Here To Obscurity."

SMOKERS!

Be prepared. Before you get caught doing the wrong thing, make sure you have:

- An "OFFICE" sign to hang in your favorite smoking area.
- A handy counterfeit $10-bill. (May also be used in cafeteria).

Reasonable Rates

Mr. Whitefather

Department of Printin'

MEMO—The RIT turtle hurries to the Friday night carnival to compete in the turtle races.

The Fidel Castro Quartet will provide music at the Saturday night dance. This group was contacted in response to demand by students for big name music makers. Among their best known numbers will be: "Firing Squad Foxtrot," "Havana Hullabala," "Oriente Tango," and Batista Beat." "Ragtime Raul" is the deranger for the four.

"SPRUNG WEEKEND"

As usual, the ice rink is defrosted for the Friday night carnival.

Photographed by Don Reicks
Page Layout by Morris A. Kirchoff

"SPRUNG WEEKEND"

"SPRUNG WEEKEND"

The weekend starts with great enthusiasm as students swiftly vacate classrooms to view the parade.

"SPRUNG WEEKEND"

Fluent Lee Wins Game; Loses Family

RIT has invaded the realm of basketball greats when a family feud wound up, in what has been termed by our secret source, as the greatest game ever played.

The game, RIT vs the ur (isn't worth capitals) and final score, 201-7.

It all started at a family reunion in February when Lee Addander Sr. and Lee Addander Jr. were discussing the basketball situation at the two schools. Lee Sr. then made the claim that RIT's opponents were so poor that a high school team could beat them and this was the reason for their good record. As a retort, Lee Jr. challenged the "great" yellowjacket team to a game.

So, on March 20th, the teams met in a game that wasn't supposed to be known to the public.

The game opened at the Ritter-Clark gym and the Tigerettes quickly opened a 20-0 lead in the first minute of the game. Ed Boocan, Jr. led the spurt with 12 points.

Lee Sr. then proceeded to call a time out and protested that these points should be struck from the books since the players weren't in RIT as of yet. When the ref agreed that the use of the sons of the players was a little out of the ordinary, Lee Jr. got his dander up and replaced the little guys with his regular starting lineup. This massive array of basketball skill quickly took its toll on the ur quintet and when the half finally rolled around, the Techboys were on top, 93-2.

On the trip to the dressing room, Lee Jr. then decided to add insult to injury. He talked to Lee Sr. and the two then decided to finish the game at the Palestra so that the yellowjackets couldn't claim a disadvantage because of playing on a foreign court.

After all the players trotted down to the ur's gym, (followed by the coaches in a chauffeured limousine) the game resumed.

Playing on familiar hardwood, the yellowjackets then started to quickly penetrate the tough defense thrown up by the Tigerettes. They rolled to 4 points in the first ten minutes but the only disadvantage was that RIT heated the nets for 49 more.

The rest of the game followed suit and the further the RIT quintet forged ahead, the worse the yellowjackets played. When the clock finally ran out of time, RIT was on top 201-7.

When the manager came into the joyous RIT dressing room after the game and announced that 14 records had been broken, Coach Lee had to tell his players that they didn't count since the game wasn't on the schedule.

However, we can still list some of the ones that would have been broken. The most notable was the one broken by Ed Boocan (the senior this time) when he dropped through 67 points for a new one game high. Don "have basketball, will assist" Paladin set the record for the most assists in a game, 49 and Ken Road for the most steals in a game. Ron Milk and Arnie Cadillac shared the record for the most points scored in a ten minute stretch.

At the last word from our secret source, before he was put in the state penitentiary for life for disclosing the information, we learned that Lee Sr. is now paying for the construction of a new ur gym since the present one collapsed when so much time was spent on the one side. Also, basketball is now a taboo word around the house of Lou Sr., having disowned his son for using it.

Shower Team Extremely Wet; On A Strictly Dry Campus?

Coach Lloyd Carr's veteran showering team is beginning to shape up and will be in top form for the opening match next week. The Tigers will open their season as a favorite over the visiting showerers from Piffard Barber College.

Star Showerman, Don Paladino, soaps up as Arnie Cardillo checks the temperature of the water, before big practice session.

Leading the Techmen this season will be co-captains Joe Zigadlio and Bob Pazda. Zigadlio, a four year veteran, was undefeated last season in first singles competition. Joe made the All-American squad and has been cited as the best showerer in RIT's long history of splashing.

Bob Pazda has been the number two shower since his sophomore year. Last season Pazda washed up an impressive 16-5 record. Bob was thought to be involved in a series of fixed showering matches but was found innocent.

Showering, in number three position again this season, will be the crown pleasing Matt Bernius. Matt made the All - Star Tech Tournament Showering Team last year when he showered, shaved and dressed in three minutes and 32 seconds to set a new Institute record. The 10-11 record that Bernius piled up last season is by no means any indication of his potential, he lost many close decisions last season by not completely drying his back and on different occasions he forgot, to take off his under-shorts while running to the shower.

The doubles team this season is composed of two fast washing seniors. The veterans Bill Hughes and Ed Baucum will team up for another season in the doubles competition. Last year the team of Hughes and Baucum won 20 matches and lost only one and both were unanimous All-Americans. Their only loss came when Hughes slipped and fell while running from the showers to the dressing room.

Hoopsters Ride on Donkeys Back? Donkeys Ride on Hoopsters Back!

Dr. Sternsher drags on to victory last Tuesday night at the Ritter-Clark Gym. Ron Milko watches in background. (What an International affair.)

The Fickley Flanker's romped under the City Crusers by a calculation of 5 to 4.

Keith Moosely was high scorer for the Flankers with two and a half points while Issorg Joe had two for the Crusers.

The only difficulty in the game is that each man has to ride a monkey or be helped by one to score. The coconut has to be dropped from a tree and then the monkey must slide down and help his man to get the coconuts down the court to the opponents milker. The coconuts have to be milked to feed the hungry monkeys. Then the hungry monkeys could join the game and help the other monkeys help the men to score.

Frank Bends scored the first crack to milk the coconut, with an assist from Earl Filler's head.

The score was tied after Ed Back'em rolled a nut down to Carney Armadillo who snopped it up off of Ken Ronson's toe to score the first crack for the Crusers.

Then a rampage came on the monkeys who dropped coconuts all over the place. They smeared Kob Boos with milk and dumped Sid Silversmith into the kettle containing the milk.

Brandy Alexander caught a flying nut to crack it on his monkey's jaw to make the calculation 3-2 in favor of the Fickley Flankers.

Ron Malenko snuck behind the great Ed Greekowski to steal the coconut and crack it on Greekowski's chin in the scuffel. This again tied the calculation at three all.

As the Flankers came riding down the court on their monkeys Dug Moan passed a nut to Moosely who cracked it only to loose a half to his monkey who was on the kettle rim as he snatched it from him. Again the Fickley Flankers took the lead with a score of 3 1/2 to 3. Then Issorg Joe's monkey dropped a coconut down to him and he accidentally on purpose dropped it and put the City Crusers ahead 4-3 1/2.

As the last minute of the game approached there was a dashing display of conglomeration by George Le Able who passed back and forth with Marty Swibick on a double pass between monkeys to score 1 1/2 points to beat the City Crusers five to four.

No Head, Just Copy

As the RIT League nears the end of the season, the old records are being shattered. Dick Justino, who until last week was in a slump carrying a 111 average, finally found his mark on the alleys by rolling 262, 250, 300 for an 812 series. Though he was high over average for the day, Jim Treloar, with his 178 average, was also in the spotlight. Jim had trouble with splits and will undoubtedly receive the booby prize. He rolled 92, 84, 82 for his 258 series and a final count of 29 splits in a row. It was obvious that Jim was discouraged in that he rolled two gutter balls in the tenth frame of his last game.

Due to the change of quarters, many of the bowlers left on block. To keep league strength up it was necessary to import Buzz Fazio, Steve Nagy, and Don Carter. The trio brought Therman Gibson along to fill out the team, but were badly beaten by the last-place Tenpins 2570 to 2130.

Half-Price
on half-diluted
BEER

Meet the gang and have a ball.

Nathan's Hideaway
"Ten floors of spacious quarters."

90 Main St. West

Lo. 2-4990

Council Dissolves Self; Gardner Filibustered

In an unprecedented move, Student Council last Monday, March 30, voted to dissolve itself.

Voting on the issue which brought about action allowing the Institute administration to take over all the functions and authorities of the Student Council was extraordinarily heavy, with those favoring the motion winning by a vote of 54 to 13. The measure was passed in spite of pressure from one faction of Student Council which threatened to walk out of the meeting at one point, thus leaving it without a quorum.

The new system was brought about almost single-handedly by

'Drunk of the Year'

A SAD Discussion

After organizing earlier this year, the Society for the Advancement of Drunkards, SAD, announced that it will hold its annual "Drink You Under the Table Week." The dates for this much looked forward to week, will be April 1 through 8. The week will be spent in Jake's located on Main Street.

The topic of discussion will be, "Who will succeed Mr. Fitzpatrick as Drunk of the year?" Rumors have it that the students are out to get the title this year and have appointed Fred Guevara as their main hope. It seems that Fred has been in training for this event. His main diet is beer. Beer for breakfast, on cornflakes of course; beer for lunch, on mashed potatoes; and beer for dinner, with gravy.

The only dark cloud hanging over this 'celebration is the recent speech made by the president of the Women's Christian Drinking Society, Dr. Mark Ellingson. He seems to be on a binge to end all intake of that amber colored liquid that seems to brighten the atmosphere at RIT.

Mr. Fitzpatrick made a comeback speech, even though it meant losing his job. A few high points from that speech portrayed the sentiments of the student body. Quote: "We, the members of SAD have attempted to build a program which will serve as a stimulus to the individual; we also feel that the only way to accomplish this aim is through "SAD."

the Council vice-president, Author Gardner, who conducted a lone man filibuster to push the act through the Council chamber. The filibuster lasted three days and sixteen hours. Although Mr. Gardner was not present at the time of the vote, RIT Medical Center authorities reported that news of his victory had considerably improved his condition.

In presenting his case for dissolving Student Council and allowing the administration to take over, Gardner stated, "It is the duty of students to cooperate with the administration in all matters. And if we cooperate like that, there is, logically, no reason to have a Student Council.

Following the cheers that went up after this statement, he continued, "In the past, students have shown by their performance that they would much rather have the administration run the show than to bother doing it themselves. Therefore, dissolving Student Council will leave the leaders of the student body more time to devote to more worthwhile activities."

Agreeing wholeheartedly with Mr. Gardner's statements were two active members of council, Jack Lloyd and- John Beusch.

Secretaries Club Purchases Yacht

The RIT Secretaries Club recently purchased a yacht for use by the members during the summer months. Miss Pat Her, president of the group, says that the craft will soon be remodeled. The present, nondescript color of the vessel will be changed to a powder blue with pink trim.

Dr. Ellingson has graciously extended the services of Mr. Al Lawson to act as Captain for the craft. Mr. Lawson, an instructor in the Printing Department, received navel experience as the captain of a sea-going tugboat during World War II. Other RIT staff members filling positions on Capt. Lawson's crew will be: cook, Miss Elizabeth Hurley; mechanic's mate first class, Mr. George Le Cain; ship stores, Miss Margaret Vetter; bartender, Ralph Van Peursem.

GARD Cuts Newspaper; Personnel Use 21/2 Bathroom Stationary

Strict economy measures necessitated a recent change in the page size of the RIT Repeller. Starting on Friday, March 20, the length of the paper was changed to 13 1/2 inches instead of the former 16 inches.

Blame for the change of size rests with the Graphic Arts Research Department which initiated it in an effort to save its employees unnecessary expenses in bathroom stationery. The extra 2 1/2 inches cut from the bottom of each newspaper will be trimmed and printed in soft pastel colors for use in the employees' homes.

In addition to the soft pastel colors, appropriate sayings and pictures will also be printed on the stationery. Perforations will be in various lengths for convenience.

Hot on the heels of this announcement came the news that a new invention by an RIT student had recently been patented by the U. S. government. Robert Wilbert (A&D 3) holds a patent on his invention of a handy-dandy bathroom stationery dispenser. It is a handy plunger of the type used for declogging sinks and drains. It attaches to the wall by suction and holds many rolls at once.

When interviewed, Wilbert said that his invention would not be on the market immediately, but that when it was available he expected sales to boom.

Convocation Changes

Recent discussion between the students and the administration has resulted in a new convocation policy.

Hereafter, students will participate in one graduation ceremony in their senior year. Prizes will be awarded for those successfully maintaining the lowest in grade point averages in their departments for the sum of their years at RIT.

Formality will be dispensed with as Dr. Mark Ellingson leads the procession into the gym to the strains of "When the Saints Go Marching In."

WANTED • Three, young, industrious, ambitious willing men to help in home-work. Inquire. Murphy's Funeral Parlor, Livingston Rd.

WANTED — Retired dentist to brush teeth. Inquire. Murphy's Funeral Parlor, Livingston Rd.

FOUND—Long, gold watch chain, owner still attached. Need good bondsman or locksmith.

PERSONAL—Mike, meet me behind the Genesee Vally Trust at 4:02 a.m., Mar. 32. Bring all necessary collateral for securing loan at low interest.

RIT CAFETERIA

The Home of the Brave
Support Your School Cafeteria
MENU . . . April 1, 1959

SOUPS:
Mock Turtle Soup	.10
Philadelphia Pepper Pot	.13
SALADS:
Stuffed Avocado Salad	.12
Lobster Gelatine Mousse	.04
Cottage Cheese with Carrot Sauce	.07
ENTREES:
Fried Frog Legs	.25
Boiled Squabs	.45
Grasshoppers alla Carte	1.05
Glazed Hickory Smoked Ham	.25
Southern Fried Chicken	.21
Filet Mignon	.18
VEGETABLES:
Boiled Corn Stocks	.11
Minced Onion Centers	.03
Eggplant Creole	.04
Chestnut Souffle	.06
Minced onion centers	.03
DESSERTS:
Whipped Cream Cake	.05
Lima Bean Pudding	.25
Apple Pan Dowdy	.05
Fruit Roly-Poly	.11
TODAY'S SPECIAL
Broiled Frankfurter, Grapefruit Rolls, Dressing Extra	$3.50

New Institute Alma Mater

PANTY RAIDERS

Words and Menlo by HARRY J. JOHNSON

VERSE

We're here to shout and tell a - bout our band of Col lege men, We're Hi Co - ed dear, come ov - er here and tell us what you know, Why not a - fraid to Pant - y Raid, we know just how to win, We do the gala and all their pals, know just how much to show, it look a - round for Pant - ice, then the Co - eds cheer us on. Please has been said that ev - ery Miss knows more than she will tell. Strike tell us why they cry and cry for us when we have gone.

up the band. Let , all men stand and give the Col - lege yell.

REFRAIN

Come all you toy - al PANT - v RAID - ERN and Cheer for the pink and the blue, The time has come for all Cru - sad - ers to proud - ly rise and shine a - new. Go forth and search the town for Pant ins, take those that are fan - cy or plain. Come on and Cheer! Cheer! the gang's all here, now the PANT - v RAID - ERS strike a - gain.

Copyright 1958 by Amy J. Johnson, 66 Embury Ave., Ocean Grove, New Jersey
International Copyright Secured Mark fr I ' S A All Rights Reserved

NEW ALMA MATER - After a majority vote of both Student Council and the administration, this song has finally been selected as RIT's new alma mater, and will be sung at graduation exercises which will be held in the Capitol Theater.

Earth Shaking News:

New Changes Scheduled By RIT Printing Department

At the weekly departmental meeting on Friday March 27, Mr. Byron G. Culver, head of the Department of Printing, told those present that there will be some changes in the department next year.

The courses which teach the use of the various types of type casting machines will have the most changes. Mr. Norman F. Thompson, Linotype - Intertype Lab instructor and Mr. Richard Beresford Jr., Lanston Monotype instructor will switch their courses. This change was brought about when both men came to the conclusion that the other man's type casting machine was the best, and asked Mr. Culver if they could change for they were unhappy in their recent assignments.

Secret Ballot Vote By KG Students Completes Successful Meeting

At a special meeting held in the Blue Lounge of Kate Gleason Hall on Sunday, March 29, several rules were changed and new ones added.

Among these was the abandoning of the bell heard regularly at one minute before the closing hour of the dormitory. The bell will no longer be needed as there will be no dorm hours for the girls.

Visitors are also welcome now above the main floor anytime from 9 a.m. to midnight, as a result of the rule change.

This summer the rooms in the dorm will all be remodeled with four stories being added, giving each girl her own apartment. A special maid will be assigned to each girl. Her duties will include doing dishes and making beds.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Johns, Mrs. Metzger, Mrs. Thompson and 150 dorm girls. The vote for changing the rules was done by secret ballot and the count was 150 to 3 for changing all the rules.

The meeting was a great success and the rules will go into effect at a date to be announced in the far future.

Mr. Harold O. Pattillo, Offset Camera instructor, will be leaving the department and moving upstairs to the Department of Photography where he will teach an advanced subject and be able to work for another degree. This course that he will instruct has been designated as Ph. 158672, "How To Load A Brownie Camera."

Mr. John A. Begovich, as a result of his excellent instructing in Offset Camera I in the winter quarter of this year, will become the instructor in all of the Offset Camera courses for next year:

Also announced was the fact that Mr. Alexander S. Lawson will be given a leave of absence for a year so that he may go to Inhambane in the state of Mozambique in Southern Africa to teach the natives there the different classifications of types, which they are so much interested in. Accompanying him as a representative of the U. S. Army will be Mr. Peter W. Jedrzejek, late of the RIT faculty. Mr. Jedrzejek will instruct the natives on how to fill and hold a pen at the Right angle for doing layouts.

Mr. Culver said that some other changes are in the planning stages and probably will be carried out in the fall.

STARTS WEDNESDAY

★ RIT Capital ★

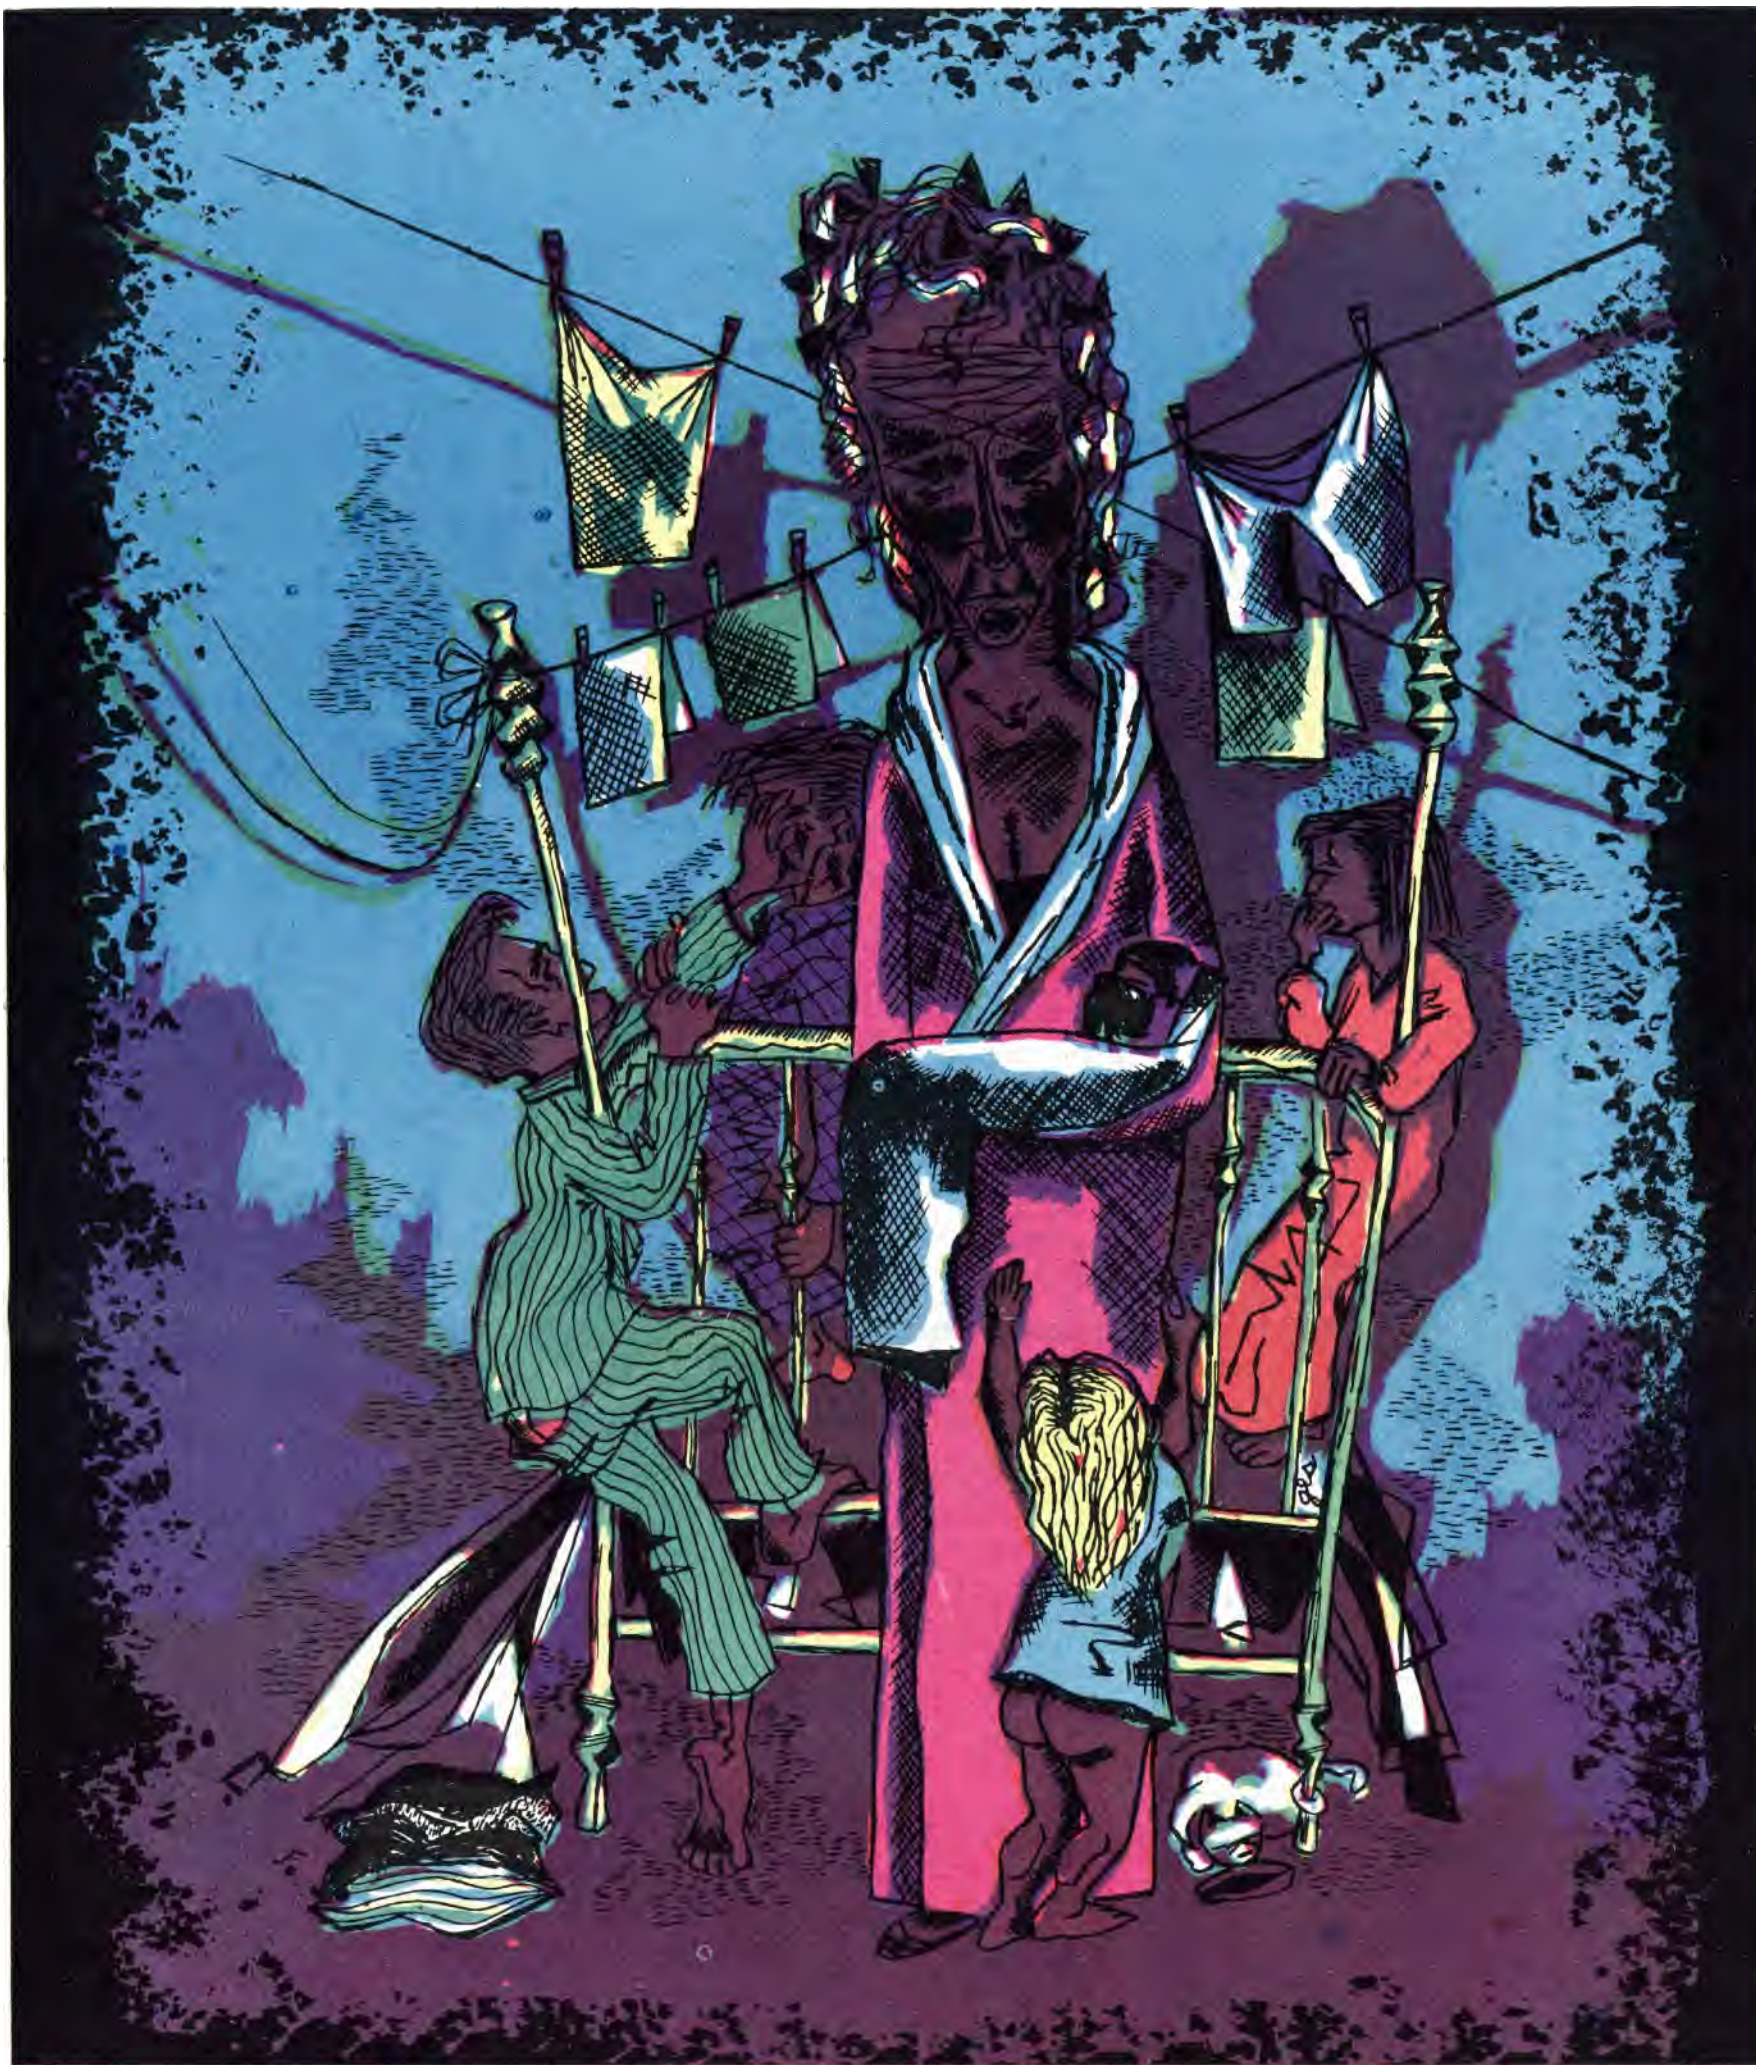

BAHLER BARDOT

"muscle-men and dolls fight for their LOVE..."

IN

Dare Me

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF TODAY'S EDUCATION, one of a series. Join the growing ranks of RIT's Illustrious Alumni. Your future is great in a growing America.

TIMETABLE

APRIL

Wednesday 1, Belated Easter Egg Hunt, Dr. Mark Ellingson's lawn. (o)
 Friday 3, Tau Epsilon Free-for-all, War Memorial. (c)
 Saturday 4, Kate Gleason Open House, 9 p.m.-5 a.m. (o)
 Sunday 5, Marriage Services at the First Presbyterian Church, Dr. Cayley officiating. (o)
 Monday 6, Turn-about Day; students replace faculty and the administration. (o)

 Tuesday 7, Beat-nik Day; Immoral Day, 8-12 p.m., Ladies' Rest Room, Bevier Building.
 Wednesday 8, General Assembly, Ritter-Clark Gym, topic: "How to Stamp Out Foreign Cars," by Edsel Ford, Jr.
 Thursday 9, Annual Panty Raid on Baker Hall, 8-12 p.m.; a police escort will be provided.

RIT ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
 Rochester Institute of Technology
 ROCHESTER 8, NEW YORK

Form 3547 Requested