Religious Organizations to Sponsor Graduation Date Changed Annual Brotherhood Observances

New York Rabbi Assembly Speaker

Rabbi Norman Lamm

An assembly on Thursday, Feb. 25 will be one of the highlights of brotherhood week on the RIT campus.

Guest speaker at the assembly will be Rabbi Norman Lamm, Associate Rabbi of The Jewish Center in New York City.

Rabbi Lamm, in addition to his duties at the Jewish Center, is an instructor in Jewish philosophy at Yeshiva University's Teachers Institute.

A native of Brooklyn, Rabbi Lamm was valedictorian of his class, and received his B.A. degree, summa cum laude, when he graduated from Yeshiva College in 1949.

He was ordained by Yeshiva University in 1951, and served in New York City and Springfield, Mass., before he took over his duties in Oct., 1958.

He is editor of "Tradition", A Journal of Orthodox Jewish Thought, which is published by the Rabbinical Council of America. Rabbi Lamm is also a member of the Jewish Law Commission of the same organization.

Rabbi Lamm is a charter member of the Association of Orthodox Jewish Scientists, and a member of the Yeshiva University Lecture Bureau.

Dorm Movie

From the best seller novel comes the international film classic "The Cruel Sea" to the Men's Dorm screen.

This is the story of the battle of the Atlantic during World War II. The cruel destructive sea is made more cruel by man. Startlingly real fiction with deep emotional qualities brings insight into the hearts and minds of the men who lived, fought, and died it.

Jack Hawkins, Donald Sinden, Denholm Elliot, and Virginia McKenna are the featured stars.

Show times are 3, 7 and 9. Admission is 35 cents.

Brotherhood Week will soon be in full swing on the RIT campus.

Through the efforts of the Religious Activities Association, the Newman Club, Hillel, SCF and other groups, a well-rounded program that should interest every member of the student body has been planned.

Leading off the week is a square and round dance which is scheduled to be held in the Ritter Clark Building Saturday night.

First dance will be at 8 p.m. and will continue until everyone has sore feet or 12 p.m., which ever comes first.

Sunday morning, Hillel is holding its annual "Brotherhood Lox and Bagel Breakfast." Feature of the breakfast, will be the serving of the traditional food of the Jewish People.

At the function, to be held in E 125 at 11:30 a.m., a plaque will be presented to Mike Blobstein (Pr 58), whose effort's brought about the founding of RIT's chapter of Hillel in 1955.

Rabbi Norman Lamm, Associate Rabbi of The Jewish Center, in New York City, will be guest speaker at the Brotherhood assembly held on Thursday, Feb. 25.

Women's Club Sponsors Korean Boy

HAK BOO—A young Korean boy, currently being sponsored by the Women's Club of RIT. He will be featured in a slide program to be shown this evening in E-125.

In a small wooden refugee hut on the Han River near Seoul Korea lives a little eleven year old boy with all the hopes and enviable dreams of any other boy his age.

Since 1955 the Women's Club of RIT through the Save the Children Foundation has sponsored this little Korean boy, Hak Boo, and given new hope to his mother, brother and sister.

This Friday Feb 19, in E-125 at 8:15 P.M. Mr. Harry Clark shall present a slide show entitled "Travel in Korea and the Far East for the benefit of the Save the Children Foundation. A donation of 60 cents is being requested.

Mr. Clark a Massachusetts Institute of Technology Senior, served in Korea as an M.P. and visited various refugee camps supported by SCF funds.

The RIT Womens' Club firmly believes that by helping an individual and giving him hope and or reason to live, that this might tend to better the world.

The way they have chosen to accomplish this feat is to be kind, helpful and generous to this little Korean boy and give him the best education that is possible. After all, knowledge is the best possible road to truth.

During the last five years, necessities have been sent periodically to Hak Boo's family along with money to pay for Hak Boo's education.

Being a women of minimal means Hak Boo's mother labors daily as a scrubwomen or sews for others. His sisters and brother also work on neighboring farms and construction jobs to add to the families meager income.

The many hardships that this Korean family have faced are now beginning to bear fruit. As of this date hak Boo is in the fifth grade in the "school on the hill", a good start in the right direction. All is not done yet, many more years of schooling are needed to complete the job started by the RIT women's Club.

Students graduating this spring will have an increased summer vacation this year due to a recent announcement that this year's graduation will be a week early.

Originally scheduled for June 4, a new date of May 28 has been decided upon because the War

Committee Formed Summer Activity

"It is the unanimous decision of the committee that a standing summer activities committee be formed." Bill Ferguson (Ret.2), chairman of the student summer activity related these results of the committee's findings at the Feb. 15 Council meeting.

Positive approval of a formal dance for one of the Spring Weekend events and more discussion on the proposed student court completed the weekly assemblage.

Formation of a standing summer activities committee to be composed of all "B" block student council members to determine the necessary allocation for future summer programs, and to organize a program of social, athletic and organizational activities for summer students was initiated as part of Student Council's program on the hearing of a report from the committee formed to study the problem of summer activities.

A member of Student Council questioned the reported "polling" of students to determine whether or not a formal dance would be part of this years Spring Weekend. Fred Guevara, Spring Weekend committee chairman, defended the accusation by stating that he could not possibly talk to all the Institute's daytime student body. He further stated that he has written proof in the form of ballots and that the majority of students polled (about 300) expressed a desire for a formal affair. Council gave Mr. Guevara a vote of confidence on the issue and there will be a formal dance during Spring Weekend.

Revision and clarification of the proposed student court took up a major portion of the meeting. The court question was again tabled but council hopes to finish and pass the student court at next week's meeting.

Prizes totaling more than $180 will be awarded in this year's annual photographic salon competition at RIT. The contest is sponsored by the Photographic Society of RIT.

This competition is open to all students, not only those enrolled in the Photography department. Entry is free to Photo Society members, but non-members must pay a hanging fee of 75 cents.

All entries must be submitted to room C-313 on February 18 from 12-1 p.m. and on Friday, Feb. 19 from 12-1 and 4-5 p.m.

Memorial is unavailable for the original date.

Rehearsal will be held on Friday, May 27.

All non graduates will follow the normal schedule as listed in the catalog. Classes will continue until May 30 with finals starting on Tuesday, May 31 and continuing through Friday, June 3. There will be no classes or tests on Monday, May 30 because of the national holiday, Memorial Day.

With graduation occurring one week earlier than normal many problems have of course been encountered.

The only thing that has definitely been decided about graduation is the site which will be the same as last year, the War Memorial. No definite plans have been made in regard to speakers or social events preceding graduation or after the morning ceremonies.

RIT Will Honor Its First Librarian

Rochester Institute of Technology's first librarian, Miss Eleanor Gleason, will be honored at a tea given for her by the RIT Women's Council at the Institute's Library this Saturday, Feb. 20, at 3:30 p.m.

An oil portrait of Miss Gleason, painted by nationally known artist Stanley J. Gordon, will be unveiled at the tea. The portrait will be permanently hung in the library.

Miss Gleason became the first full-time, professionally-trained librarian of the Institute in 1910, and continued in this capacity until 1918. She was responsible for the first full-scale cataloging of the library's collection, and also initiated the use of the Dewey Decimal System.

Miss Gleason, who lives at 3434 East Ave., is the sister of the late Miss Kate Gleason, generous supporter of the Institute, and Mr. James E. Gleason, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Institute.

Stanley Gordon, who was commissioned to do Miss Gleason's portrait, is a native Rochesterian and graduated from RIT's Department of Art & Design in 1943. He is presently serving on the faculty of the department, lecturing in both day and evening school classes.

Dr. Mark Ellingson, RIT president, will unveil Miss Gleason's portrait, and will tell briefly about her contributions to the Institute. Dr. Leo F. Smith, dean of instruction, will introduce Librarian Thomas E. Strader and will speak on the role of the library to the Institute.

Expected to be on hand for the tea, along with the principals, are friends of the Institute, members of the board of trustees and their wives, members of the women's council, and members of the faculty, staff and student body.

Reporter Must Be More Than Student Paper

In the cafeteria last week we heard a member of the Freshman journalism class complaining "the Reporter doesn't express the student viewpoint." We hear other day school students complaining about their "student newspaper." We would hastily explain that the Reporter has to be more than just a student newspaper.

All expenses for producing the Reporter are paid for by the school. Student Council has not and does not monetarily contribute to the paper. Costs for running this paper for one year are higher than student council's budget.

You may have noticed the Reporter is called the Official Publication of RIT. This paper is mailed to many friends of RIT. It is mailed to people interested in the Graphic Arts Research Division's progress in color printing, to the Board of Trustees, to many prominent Rochestarians, and to many benefactors of the Institute.

The Reporter is also mailed every other week to some 12,000 around the world. This week is not an alumni edition. To these alumni the paper is the major contact with their alma mater. There is at present no RIT alumni magazine published.

5,000 evening school students who read about the activities of the Institute in this paper take the Reporter back to their homes and places of employment where it is read by many other Rochestarians.

In putting this paper together we the editors must therefore remember that our responsibility is basically threefold: to the administration who bear the financial costs and all the Institute's friends who read the Reporter, to some 12,000 alumni, and to the day school students and faculty.

You the 2,000 day school students are but a small portion of the total readers of this paper. We would urge you to keep this and the other facts we have presented in mind as you read the Reporter. Then possibly you can realize why we print the alumni or other news which may not interest you.

WEEKEND BEATNIK

From Here To Obscurity

by Jennifer Brennen

Judging by the reaction to my last column, the RIT fraternities and sororities apparently felt that I intended to direct my comments specifically toward them. I did not; my intention was to direct the question to all students and not exclusively to fraternity and sorority members.

However, the strong reaction on the part of these groups proved that the "shoe fits" - and uncomfortably so.

No one would take this current rushing foolishness seriously if it were not for the blatant and cruel injustices that underly the system itself. However, many arguments can be presented to the social groups proving the injustice of the fraternity sorority system. Yet the members always have what they feel is the winning argument. Traditionally it goes like this: "I have the right to choose my own friends." This argument is nothing more than subtle and evasive reasoning designed to obscure the moral questions involved. Reasoning of this nature can lead to personal and group values that condemn ethnic and religious groups, personality traits, liberalism, and intellectualism per se.

In spite of this, there is an ever increasing part being played by these social groups in campus life. And there is an equally increasing number of students within these groups who are able, without feeling guilty, to build their own record of popularity and success upon the injustices suffered by others and the general pettiness of the fraternity sorority system.

There is also a great deal to be said on the basic conflict between the values that constitute the fraternity system and the democratic society in which we live. Woodrow Wilson had this to say about this conflict during his years at Princeton.

"My own ideals for the University are those of a genuine democracy and serious scholarship. The two indeed, seem to me to go together. Any organization which introduces elements of social exclusiveness constitutes the worst possible soil for serious intellectual endeavor . . . Any organization that has the idea of exclusiveness at its foundation is antagonistic to the best training for citizenship in a democratic country."

The Only Male At Girls Dorm

"I'd like to introduce myself, my name is Otis. I live in 55 South Washington Street which is part of RIT. I have the distinction of being the only male resident of the KAGE and am quite proud of this little feat. I am not only a part of the happy family but I assist them in any way that I can.

I'm really a very old boy and sometimes can't do my required work. There are times when my capacity of work is overloaded and I have a breakdown. I don't feel too badly about this because my friends tell me that such disorders are becoming more common among Americans than ever before. There are complaints - of course - but soon I'm on the mend.

Some girls whom I don't consider my friends, paste signs, notes and messages on me. It takes all my power to knock them off during the course of the day. These same girls even interrupt my work by stopping me in between floors to talk to the other residents. I guess its good because then I can find out who's going with whom and where they went.

Well, anyway - it has been a pleasure meeting you and anytime you come over to Kate Gleason Hall, I'll give you a ride upstairs, for I'm Otis the Elevator.

Italic Writing Club Growing

Making a place for itself in an age of specialization, the Italic Handwriting club has been gaining in momentum and membership since it was established at RIT last fall.

Under Institute sponsorship a committee for italic handwriting was set up to stimulate and promote an interest in this unique style of writing.

Since September the response to the club's publicity and promotion activities has been far beyond anticipation. Numerous enthusiastic letters and cards have been received from all over the country. These have requested information or pledged support to the club's program.

Alfred F. Horton Assistant Professor of Printing at RIT has been heading the committee. He is being assisted by Fred Eager of Rush, N. Y. and Richard King of Newark, N. J.

At the present time the group has available a two-page prospectus which outlines the purpose and activities of the club.

Counselor Certified

Mr. John A. Osborn of the Counseling Center has recently received certification as a psychologist from the University of the State of New York, Education Department.

According to state law one can not offer his services as a psychologist to the public without such certification.

Requirements for certification include a master's degree, or equivalent study, and a certain length of experience.

Mr. Osborn holds a B.S. degree from Geneseo State College and took his graduate study at the University of Buffalo and Albany State College. He has been practicing since 1946. Last March Mr. Osborn joined the RIT Counseling Center.

Now all three of the Institute's counselors are state certified psychologists "which is fairly unusual," claims Dr. Laurence Lipsett, director of the Center.

Like No Man!

(ACP) -- Southern Illinois University EGYPTIAN carried this item:

A beatnik received quite a shock from a member of the Office of Student Affairs recently.

An unclassified student was being advised for the winter quarter by a member of the staff and was wanting to take 14 hours from the same department. The staff member informed the student this was not possible.

Snapping his fingers, the student reportedly said, "Like man, I gotta have the 14 hours, cause, man, I'm gonna turn this world upside down."

The adviser leaned back and calmly replied, "Well, like man, you're still not gonna do it."

GREEK TALK

Kappa Sigma Kappa

This year's KSK pledge class has been one of the most active the brotherhood has had in recent years. Ray Mahoney, pledge master, has been taking the entire pledge class to the library for study hours. Last week end, the pledge class invited the entire brotherhood to an early breakfast.

Congratulations to the pledges for winning their first wrestling match in the pledge tournament, and the first round in bowling.

Dave Bowersox took the brothers and sisters of P.U.P. out to the state hospital to help in the monthly show for the patients

Printing Expert To Speak Here

Dr. Walter Roehr, senior research associate at Kimberly-Clark Corp., will present a lecture on "Printing Surfaces and Coatings" to students in the Dept. of Printing on Tuesday, Feb. 23 at 11 a.m.

A recognized expert in the graphic arts field, Dr. Roehr has contributed to the development of several paper testing instruments. One of these is the base sheet formation tester now marketed as the Thwing Formation Tester. Another is a rotary rupture and pick tester for measuring bonding strength of paper.

His study on interaction between paper surfaces and printing inks lead to Kimberly-Clark's development of heavily coated papers and to his present recognition as an expert in the field of the graphic arts.

Professors Contribute

Prof. C. B. Neblette, head of and Dr. Leo F. Smith, Dean of Instruction, have contributed articles and worked on the editing of the new edition of "Encyclopedia Americana."

Mr. Neblette was consulting editor for the Photography and Graphic Arts Section, in which appears his article entitled "Color Photography."

The contribution by Dean Smith covers the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, and Soviet Russia in the field of technical education.

On Monday, Jan. 1, the project committee of Delta Lambda Epsilon, professional photographic fraternity, received a vote of confidence to organize a departmental library. The library has been approved by the Institute administration and will be tentatively located in Room 319 of the Clark building. This was the result of the need for a fraternity project to establish more cohesion within the organization, to build up the name of Delta Lambda Epsilon, and to be of benefit to the Photo department and the photographic field in general.

Basically, the library consists of a president, three division heads, three department heads and sub-committees.

At present, the two active committees in the library are the salon committee and the duplication committee. The salon committee is at work gathering photographs for a salon to be exhibited on campus while the duplication committee is in the process of duplicating instructor's files as well as all student papers that are in the instructor's offices, in order to make this material available to the student.

Evening Enrollment Up

More people are going to school in the evening than ever before.

According to figures recently released by Donald A. Hoppe, Evening Division Registrar, total enrollment in RIT evening courses has increased almost 10 per cent over last year.

After making a final tally of second semester registrations Mr. Hoppe indicated that evening enrollment for the current school year would probably come

Instructor Minor White's Prints Presented in Washington Show

Currently on display at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C., is a photographic exhibit by Minor White, lecturer in the Photography Department here at RIT. The one-man show which began on Jan. 4 will run until the end of Feb.

Included in the show are about 41 pictures which are representative of the work done by Mr. White over the past 15 years.

Most of these pictures have been published in such periodicals as U.S. Camera, Art Digest, and Aperture. The latest issue of Infinity (American Society of Magazine Photographers) has a picture of his on its cover.

Mr. White considers it a signal honor to have his pictures exhibited at the museum. The Smithsonian Institution is constantly holding photographic exhibits but only photographers who are invited to, may display their prints.

Students and faculty of the Photography department were invited to attend a program planned by a committee of the Women's Council of RIT.

The movie was shown last night at the George Eastman House.

Highlighting the events of the evening was the showing of the old time movie "The Camera Man" starring Buster Keaton.

Staff Serves on MSA

Three of the Institute staff will visit other higher institutions as members of Middle States Association teams surveying for accreditation by MSA.

Dr. Mark Ellingson, RIT president, will visit Pratt Institute in Brooklyn. He will study the administrative organization.

Dean Leo F. Smith will go to Broome County Technical Community College where he will also study the administrative organization.

Announcing a comprehensive Postgraduate Education Program for engineers, scientists and mathematicians

Ever since the founding of the company some forty years ago, IBM has recognized education as an integral and continuing part of a professional person's life.

Through formal educational programs within the company, and through affiliations with universities, it has long been possible for IBM employees to earn scholastic credits.

Now a comprehensive Postgraduate Education Program, surpassing any previous programs, has been initiated at IBM for plant and laboratory personnel.

ADVANCED DEGREE UNIVERSITY PLAN A qualified engineer, scientist or mathematician, who has been with IBM at least a year, may compete for a fellowship or a scholarship in selected fields at the university which he believes offers the finest opportunities for advanced study. All benefits that would normally accrue if the candidate were on active employment will be retained.

• Doctoral Fellowships: Selected candidates will receive full tuition, fees and regular salaries for full-time study up to three years.

• Masters' Scholarships: Selected candidates will receive full tuition, fees and regular salaries for an academic year of full-time study.

ADVANCED DEGREE ON-SITE PLAN A qualified engineer, scientist, or mathematician will have the opportunity to undertake part-time graduate studies at an IBM plant or laboratory, concurrent with active employment.

• Masters' Degrees: Candidates will be able to complete their studies at company expense under programs operated in conjunction with universities near IBM facilities.

ADVANCED STUDY PLAN (NONDEGREE) These studies offer continued educational opportunity throughout a career at IBM. They are not generally degree-oriented. Given at or near IBM facilities, they are designed to help retain mastery over basic engineering, science, and mathematical subjects and to gain knowledge in advanced fields such as number theory, finite mathematics, magnetism, solid state physics, and network analyses.

Zoyhofski Brothers Star On Wrestling Squad

As you scan down the wrestling line-up and find the name Zoyhofski listed at 167 and 177 it doesn't mean that the team is short of men and one man wrestles both positions.

The situation is just the opposite, as the team has an exciting one-two punch in the persons of Dick and Dave Zoyhofski. This year marks the first time the brothers from Orchard Park are members of the same team and they have meant double trouble for the opposing teams.

Dick Zoyhofski, a third year mechanical student, is in his second year of varsity competition. His value as a team man high school Dave took fourth in the AAU's and last year won the 191 pound championship. This season his record is 5-1 and he appears well on his way to equalling his brother's sophomore record.

From these outstanding records comes the question, "What is it that makes them work the way they do?" Coach Fuller answers it this way, "They combine intense team and individual desires to win into their wrestling. As serious trainers and conditioners they always move right along with their competition as it improves they also improve." A sign in the locker room reads; "When the going gets tough, the tough get going." It describes the Zoyhofski Brothers perfectly.

Sports Timetable

- Friday, 19 Basketball, Utica, home, 8:30
- Saturday 20 Fencing, Syracuse, home, 12:00
- Wrestling, Merchant Marine Academy, away
- Basketball, Fredonia, away

is shown in the fact that both years he has wrestled at 167 pounds rather than at his normal 157 pounds for the sake of a better balanced team. Despite this his record is an outstanding one.

After an undefeated freshman season two years ago, he compiled a 12-2-1 on the varsity last year. This season he is currently working on an undefeated year with six straight wins. Over the two years he has an unbeaten string of 16 straight matches and appears within reach of the school record of 29 straight matches without a defeat.

Dick also has an impressive tournament record. As a freshman he took second in the West Point tournament and second in the AAU's. Last year he took fourth in the 4I's. This year he brought home a second place finish from the Wilkes Tournament, losing in the finals to a Pan Am Champion who was a member of the olympic team.

At 177 pounds Dave Zoyhofski has given this year's team added balance and depth. As a sophomore in the Business Administration department he is a year behind his brother in school but is the older of the two, due to the time he served in the Army following high school.

Dick's record is almost unbelievably identical. In his freshman year Dave was also undefeated and took second in the West Point Tournament. While in

Tigers Back in Shape; Top Fredonia 86-65

Rough and Tumble—Fredonia State player heads for the floor during last Friday nights' game. RIT won 86-65.

Kay Kramer, Paladino Lead Winning Attack

It finally happened. The basketball team won two straight, an almost believable feat since the beginning of the year.

Their victims this time were the Blue Devils from Fredonia State as they routed the teachers 86-65.

The game was considerably different from the usual Tiger performance. Unlike the other games, when RIT's field goal average was around a meager 33 percent mark, the red hot Techmen clicked at a 52 percent pace, clicking on 35 of 65 attempts. It was during the second half that the team really came on and looked like the Tigers of old as they slipped through 20 of 35 tries from the field for a tremendous 57 percent accuracy.

Big gun for the Tigers was Kay Kramer, who took scoring honors for the night with 23 points. During the last three games, after becoming a regular as the replacement for injured co-captain Ron Milko, the 6-2 forward has clicked at a 22 point per game average.

Also chipping in with double figures for the host team were Don Paladino with 16, Marlin Siegwalt with 17 and center Harry Beardsley with 13.

The victory brought the Tigers back to within one win of the .500 mark at 8-9. Fredonia is now 9-4.

Tonight, the Tigers will face off against a Utica College five at the Ritter Clark gym.
