Moonlight Girl Chosen

HER MAJESTY—Miss Betsy Frankel (SAC 1) reigned over Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity's Winter Weekend after being selected Moonlight Girl at the dance last Saturday evening.

Council Notes

Monday's meeting of the student council began with reports from the various division heads. As part of this business a motion was passed granting the 327 dollars requested by the hockey club. With this motion was the stipulation that in passing it, Student Council should go on record as supporting intercollegiate hockey at RIT.

The chairman of the campus activities committee announced that applications for blood donors in connection with the up coming blood drive will be accepted till next Tuesday. In as much as students under twenty-one have to have parental consent, the committee will mail to their parents a form to sign relieving the student of this responsibility.

The selection of Kay Richane as chairman of the social division was voted on and passed. He succeeds former chairman Joe Farage. Kay outlined his policy for the social program and discussed committee plans in preparation for Spring Weekend. Also with regard to Spring Weekend it was announced that Buddy Morrow's band will fill the vacancy left by the Les Elgart orchestra when they canceled their contract.

Charles West of IFC spoke on behalf of the recent Winter Weekend sponsored by Council. He explained the reason behind the

Pianist Firkusny Leading Musician

"A true poet of the piano." This tribute has often been paid to Rudolf Firkusny who will be featured when the Rochester Philharmonic presents "Salute to RIT" on Thursday, Feb. 9.

Firkusny is a major pianist of international esteem, having won highest honors in the world's leading musical centers.

At the age of ten, Mr. Firkusny made his debut with the Prague Philharmonic. By the time he was 18, he was well known throughout Europe.

On Firkusny, Harold Rogers, of "The Christian Science Monitor," has said, "the element that brings Mr. Firkusny to the fore—he is unquestionably one of the Titans of our time—is his ability to listen for the secret sound . . . that transforms music from the scholastic to the inspirational."

His first American performance took place in New York City in 1938.

Now an American citizen, he makes annual global tours. He has recently returned from his first visit to Australia and the Far East. The distinguished musician divides his season between many countries.

His annual tour of the United States and Canada includes per-

Institute to Host Second Annual Newspaper Conference

College editors and advisors from all over western New York State will meet at RIT on Friday, February 17, for the Second Annual College News Conference. The conference will be sponsored by the local Gannett newspapers, the Rochester Times-Union and Democrat and Chronicle and RIT.

Over 100 representatives are expected to attend the sessions which will run from early in the morning through the afternoon. The program will be similar to last year's and will include clinics on news, feature and editorial writing. Photography, art work and advertising sessions will also be held during the day and each will be conducted by professional newspaper men. An open forum new in this year's program will give editors a chance to quiz a panel made up of college publication advisors, on problems not covered in other sessions.

Highlight of the day's events will be a luncheon talk given by Dr. James Eagan, vice president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. A tour of the Gannett newsrooms will follow the conference.

Group and panel discussions will take place in the afternoon giving the participants a chance to express their own opinions on subjects that are of prime importance to all college editors.

Arab to Speak On Middle East During Assembly

The Arab-Israeli conflict will be the topic of a speech by Mr. Saadat Hasan at a student assembly Feb. 9 in the RIT gym. Mr. Hasan is the chief of press and public liason for the Arab States Delegations Office in New York.

Having been born in Jordan and educated in both Palestine and the U.S., Mr. Hasan is familiar with the problems and background surrounding the Arab-Israeli conflict.

During the Palestine War, Mr. Hasan was one of the organizers of the first national committee to care for the Arab refugees.

In 1949, Mr. Hasan came to the U.S. where he obtained his Bachelor of Science and his Master's degree in chemical engineering at the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Here in the U. S., he was active in establishing the Organization of Arab Students in the U.S. and the Federation of Islamic Associations in the U. S. and Canada.

He joined the Arab Information Center in 1955 and acted as director of the Chicago branch until May, 1960 when he was promoted to his present position.

Audience Delighted by Roch. Civic Orchestra

Over 1000 members of the student body and the faculty and staff of the Institute invaded the Ritter-Clark Memorial Building last Friday to hear a concert presented by the Rochester Civic Orchestra.

A well known and distinguished orchestra that is more than a quarter of a century old, the Civic Orchestra was making a return performance, having played at the Institute last year.

Conducted by Dr. Paul White, the orchestra opened its program with Tchaikovsky's Overture to 1812. This composition had been written to record Russian triumphs over Napoleon. Found in the piece are parts of both the French and Russian national anthems and near the end you can hear all of the church bells of Moscow ringing.

Next presented was the Rustic Wedding Symphony, the fifth of five movements being played. This piece had been very popular at the turn of the century and for twenty-five years after.

Other selections played included the final two movements of the Firebird Suite by Stravinsky, and a composition called College to Priest, that was a bit of nonsense and is not at all in the serious tone as the other selections played were.

Dr. White gave the audience the choice of picking the final number. They could pick from two Broadway shows, Westside Story or Sound of Music. After two votes Dr. White found it impossible to select the winning number, so he announced that both selections would be played.

Much Merit in Area College Plan

Two area colleges, St. John Fisher and Nazareth, announced last week that they were going to participate in a joint venture to make courses now available at one school or the other, available to students at both institutions.

An important feature of this plan is a more complete utilization of faculties and facilities at both schools. All too often in our colleges and universities well trained instructors and expensive equipment is left idle because there is an insufficient number of students interested each year in a particular course. A plan such as outlined last week would greatly enlarge the potential student body and could go a long way in eliminating much of this waste.

RIT has long offered many specialized courses to those not already enrolled in its day or evening classes through the Extended Services division of the Evening College. We understand that in the past the Institute has even offered special courses designed to supplement and fulfill the curriculum of some courses offered by area colleges.

Continued steps in this direction of cooperation between our college administrators could well provide a partial solution to the problem of growing tuitions and "lack of space", and give American students a more complete and comprehensive education.

Thank You Dr. White and Company

Our thanks, on behalf of the Institute, to Dr. Paul White and the Rochester Civic Orchestra for a pleasant, stimulating interlude last week.

We hope that these musical mornings will become a steadfast tradition for many years to come. Dr. White and the members of the orchestra have more than earned a perpetual welcome on camps.

Our Mainstay is Cooperation

The bungling excuses people call events are sometimes due to poor planning. More often than not, however, they are due to poor cooperation. Cooperation is the mainstay of our Country. Without it, government could not be run (even with it, there seems to be a fair amount of problems) and our social system would become outmoded and chaotic.

It is not necessary to carry this idea to a ridiculous extreme, yet it is possible to build a more efficient system by using it. Just by using a little cooperation with common sense, it is not unreasonable to assume that everything will function a little better and much smoother.

To carry this point further, one would have to practice cooperation and use it effectually. Men are animals; even so, they are supreme on earth. This fact is undeniable, but, one can still see men unwilling to cooperate and run their affairs in an orderly manner. Actions are still carried out in an unordered and sometimes primitive manner. No amount of speechmaking or complaining will ever remedy this situation.

Only man can accomplish this.

Our Apologies

It seems that our communication network with the State Department broke down with the change in administration.

With the paper put to bed on Tuesday, the Reporter staff was watching President Kennedy's news conference on TV and were taken completely by surprise when the release of Captains McKone and Olmstead was announced.

Welcome back to freedom Captains McKone and Olmstead.

Eastman House Features Prints

A new show of 140 prints opens in the Contemporary Gallery at the George Eastman House, Rochester, New York, today, Feb. 3, illustrating the work of seven young contemporary American photographers.

The photographers range in age from 26 to 36, and, geographically, are located in California (2), Kentucky, Mississippi, New York (2), and Wisconsin. They are: Lyle Bonge, Richard M. Garrod, William J. Maund Jr., Ralph Eugene Meatyard, Ray K. Metzker, Kenneth Van Sickle and Don Worth. Three have stated that they are self-taught in photography.

The exhibition was arranged in conjunction with the magazine, "Art in America," of which Beaumont Newhall, Director of Eastman House, is photography editor. These seven men were selected by Eastman House to represent photography in the forthcoming "New Talent" issue of the art magazine.

In the exhibition, 20 prints of each man are shown. The selection, design and installation are by Nathan Lyons, Assistant Director of Eastman House. The exhibition will remain on view through April 1.

TRUCK—Iola Sanitarium X-Ray Truck is open for business behind the Eastman Building during its annual visit to RIT.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The Interfraternity Council wishes to cooperate with the Student Council to the utmost, however, to do this it is necessary that I.F.C. be consulted on matters that will have an affect upon its members.

The communication has not existed in the past. Because of this, on Jan. 19, at a special meeting, the interfraternity council decided by a unanimous vote that the fraternities suggest to their members that they not support student council's winter weekend.

The reason for this decision is the undemocratic handling of the social calander by the social division of student council. Any organization which wishes to make or change the date of some social event must go to student council's social chairman, however, the social chairman may make or change any date at his own will. The injection of student council's winter weekend and moving Spring Weekend from its traditional date are examples of this. Both of these moves by the social chairman have caused difficulty for some fraternities.

The interfraternity council is pleased that student council's weekend was a success. However, for the good of all organizations on campus, it would seem that some corrective action is needed in the social division of student council.

Yours truly,
The Interfraternity Council

Dear Editor:

The demonstration by the members of "F. T. G." on the afternoon of Jan. 20, was very amusing. I do not object to the antics of these khaki-clad veterans of the "River Kwai," although the reason for their apathy toward Greek organizations remains to be seen. Perhaps the satire would have been more enjoyable, had it been given a real purpose.

If this purpose was to present a picture of maturity as opposed to the childishness of pledging, the posters which F. T. G. members used in the demonstration could have carried some other message. However, this message quite accurately depicted the attitude of the group, even if it is slightly over-used.

Spirit is a good thing on the part of an independent group of students. F. T. G. was able to muster quite a large number of people. I wonder if the spirit of this group carries over into support of activities such as the S. C. winter weekend.

Sincerely yours,
Kamal J. Richane

Dinner Honors Retailers

Twenty-five RIT retailing students were honored at a dinner given by the Rochester Retail Merchants Council at the Chamber of Commerce, Feb. 1.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Ford Perine, assistant advertising director for Life magazine. For the past five years, RIT students of high academic standing have been chosen to attend this annual dinner.

This dinner coincided with the celebration of National Retail Merchants' Week. In connection with National Retail Merchants' Week, a citizens' committee headed by Dr. Mark Ellingson, President of RIT, acquainted the public with the importance of retailing and retailing as a career.

Many Summer Session Courses Offered By Both Foreign and Domestic Colleges

Vienna

The University of Vienna, offering summer courses at its St. Wolfgang Campus near Salzburg, combines study with outdoor life at a mountain lake. Its aim is to enable English-speaking students to become acquainted with Austrian educational and social values. Courses being offered include German language, liberal arts, law and political science, and physical education. General eligibility for either a three or six-week program is determined by at least two years of college study, but applicants for certain courses must meet other specific prerequisites.

The fee for the full six-week program, including tuition, maintenance, tours and excursions, and attendance at the Salzburg Festival is $250, with an optional four-day trip to Vienna costing $30. A few scholarships covering partial or full fees are available.

Applications for both the British and Austrian programs may be obtained from the Information and Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 1 East 67th St., New York 21, New York, or from one of the Institute's regional offices. British summer school scholarship applications must be received before March 1, 1961, and admission applications before March 31. Scholarship applications for Austrian schools must be returned by March 1, and admission applications by May 1.

Hawaii

The 1961 Summer Session Program to beautiful University of Hawaii in Honolulu, Hawaii, is now open for enrollment. Dr. Robert E. Cralle, Director, University Study Tour to Hawaii recently announced.

Summer Session in Hawaii offers an unusual opportunity for students and teachers to enjoy a wonderful summer vacation of travel, study and Island fun.

A full 6 weeks (45 days) program rates start from as little as $555 for students and $569 for teachers and include: round trip transportation by major air and steamship lines, Waikiki Beach hotel and hotel-dormitory accommodations, Island sightseeing trips, colorful Hawaiian social and leisure functions . . . 22 exciting events in all. Transportation from the campus to living accommodations is also a free service of the Program.

Over 215 courses in 39 fields are offered in the Summer Session's curriculum, taught by a distinguished visiting faculty from Europe, the Orient and the United States. Cost of the program is tax deductible, Dr. Cralle states, when teachers are earning in-service requirements for professional advancement. Extra credits earned by undergraduate students are transferable to nearly all colleges and universities.

Recognized as the finest Summer Session Program offered, complete information including 20 page bulletin and application Form is available by writing to: Dr. Robert E. Cralle, Director, University Study Tour to Hawaii, 2275 Mission Street, San Francisco 10, California.

British

Four British and two Austrian summer schools are offering special six-week courses to American undergraduate and graduate students in July and August, 1961, it was announced by the Institute of International Education.

Under the British University Summer Schools program students can apply for study at one of four schools, each concentrating on a particular subject and period. At Stratford-upon-Avon the subject will be Elizabethan drama; at the University of London the course will be the study of English literature, art and music of the 17th and 18th centuries, using materials preserved in London's buildings, galleries and records; at Oxford the subject will be English history, literature and the arts from 1870 to the present. The theme of the Edinburgh School will be the political and economic history, philosophy and literature of Britain from 1559 to 1789. Although the courses are designed for graduate students, undergraduates in their last two years at a university will be considered.

The inclusive charge for board, residence and tuition for six-weeks at each of the four British summer schools is L90 (approximately $254). A limited number of full and half scholarships are available to undergraduates and graduates in this program.

Both Austrian summer schools include in their programs the opportunity to attend performances at Salzburg's famed music festival. The Salzburg Summer School stresses the German language and requires that all students enroll in a language course. Other courses—foreign policy, Austrian literature, European music and history of Austrian art—will be taught in English. The fee for the entire six-week program, which includes registration fee, room, board, tuition, examination fees, several conducted tours and three Salzburg Festival tickets, is $225. A few full scholarships are available and a halfterm program is offered for a fee of $135.

decision of IFC in asking its members not to attend the weekend as a form of protest.

A suggestion that the library should stay open one extra hour was discussed under new business. Then Council broke up into departmental caucuses to choose members from each department for election board control.

Means of Preventing the Common Cold

Don't be average.

Otherwise, you'll have three colds this year, missing three to seven days of work, and blowing not only your nose but a good deal of money as well.

During the months of October and November there have been times, according to Gallup surveys when one out of every seven people had a cold. On a single February day, some 20 million men, women and children may be complaining of sore throats, inflamed eyes and dripping noses. Some of the sufferers take all this lying down, some don't—but we as a nation spend some 75 to 100 million dollars a year on cold-prevention remedies, many of which are actually useless.

Arrange "environment" control. Go to great lengths to avoid being cold and wet at the same time; in combination, the two conditions

BRIDGE TOURNEY—Friday evening Jan. 27 found the Pioneer Room of Nathaniel Rochester Hall choked with bridge players.

Retailers at Convention

What happened to five retailing students on the loose at the National Retail Merchants' Association Convention in New York City? Retailing students found out at an assembly held Jan. 30 in E-125.

The students, all members of the new retailing fraternity, Eta Mu Pi, held a panel discussion at the assembly and recounted their adventures while in New York. Panelists were Nancy Bell, Janet Morrow, Richard McCormick, Pat Mathews and Janet Ross.

At the convention, they attended conferences on various phases of retailing. They also toured the clothing market with resident buyers from the Fredrick Atkins buying office. The students covered the infants' wear, basement merchandise, and better dress markets.

In the course of their tours, they encountered Anne Fogarty, well known dress designer; and Richard Cole, head of Cole of California. Not only were the students honored at meeting these well known people, but they were also surprised to find that the VIP's were flattered that the retailing students had requested to see their lines. While previewing the new styles, they also were shown around the designing rooms where tomorrow's clothes are born.

Pleasant diversion was offered in the form of sight-seeing. Dinner as the guests of McCurdy's at the Top of the Sixes and an opportunity to see "The Sound of Music" rounded off the New York excursion.

Dorm Presents Nathan's Night

How would you like to attend a "Blast," a "Buzz," and a "Flicker"? On Feb. 3, 4, and 5 the Dorm Association of Nathaniel Rochester Hall, will present three gala events which will be a great time for all those who attend. The girls from all the city-wide girls' colleges are being invited.

The first event will be "Nathan's Blast," a beer party which will be held at the Broad Street Grill, Friday night, Feb. 3, from 9 until 1. Admission will be $1 per person.

On Feb. 4, dancing at the Ritter-Clark Gym from 8 til 12 will be the feature of "Nathan's Buzz." Jerry Fogel, a local DJ, will be the master of ceremonies and accompanying him will be talent from the Rochester area.

The movie "Yankee Doodle Dandy" will feature the "Nathan's Flicker," and an Open House at Nathaniel Rochester Hall, Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 Refreshments will be free, and girls will be admitted to the movie free.

"ABOUT THIS FOREIGN EXCHANGE THING, FENNER."

"Here in the Ise Peninsula, famous for Ise Shima National Park of Forest, we can find no fields but only mountainous hills and terraced lands. People living in such a natural environment looked for their means of life in the sea. As a result, the job of "Ama" became a peculiarly favorable one for the women. As a result, beautiful natural pearls are due to the hard work of women."

Outstanding Speakers Address Seminar

The present Middle-management seminar series, sponsored by the Evening College, has produced a number of outstanding speakers. These are all professional men who have reached the top in their various fields. This particular series of ten seminars has featured the following men:

The first meeting was headed by James L. Hayes, Dean of the School of Business Administration at Duquesne University. He received his A.B. from St. Bernard's College here in Rochester, his M.S. at St. Bonaventure University where he served as a professor from 1941-1959. He has been a Dean at Duquesne since leaving St. Bonaventure. He is an author and lecturer for the American Management Association, the Editor of the Catholic Business Education Review, a Director of the Olean Exchange National Bank and a past Lt. Gov. of the N.Y. District Kiwanis Club. His talk was titled: "How Managers Manage."

The most recent speaker was Dr. Martin F. Gainsbrugh who spoke on "The Economics of Business Enterprise." He received his B.A. from the University of Rochester, his Ph.D. from Columbia University, and is presently serving as an Adjunct Professor of Economics at New York University. He has written numerous books and other publications, and served in various Governmental activities involving economics. Dr. Gainsbrugh has been a Chief Economist for the National Industrial Conference Board since 1939.

GREEK TALK

Kappa Sigma Kappa

Well the beginning of Winter Quarter brought with it the familiar sight for this time of year, namely beanies. Pledging has started and we want to extend our best wishes to all the pledge classes and wish them success in becoming fellow Greeks. This year we pledged 44 prospective brothers, one of the largest classes ever pledged by KSK.

The Christmas season brought added gifts to some lucky young ladies this year. We would like to extend our congratulations to brother John Berdine who became engaged to Miss Nancy Sidon of Warren, Pa. The following brothers we congratulate for having become pinned over the holidays. Jerry Habinak to Miss Clara Enderlein, a student at Capitol University in Ohio, and Roy Gilbert to Miss Dianne DeStephano.

We are happy to see that Don Paladino is now out of the hospital and recuperating after undergoing a knee operation. He will be back to school next September and will again be playing ball for RIT. Congratulations are in turn for alumni Donna and Wes Bernhardt upon their new arrival.

Congratulations from the brotherhood go to Miss Pat Mathews, President of Phi Upsilon Phi Sorority on being chosen by the student body as queen of RIT at this past Winter Weekend.

The coming of the winter quarter meant that we had to make final plans for our annual Sweetheart Ball which will be held this year on the weekend of Feb. 24, 25 and 26.

This year's over-all chairman is Bill Sloan; Friday night chairman, Chris Tertinek; Saturday night chairman, Bob Jankowski and Sunday afternoon Chairman Eli Liss. The Advertising Chairmen are Dave Randall and Don Gaeta, Photography is by Paul Johnson, printing by Bill Lamoreaux and tuition tickets will be handled by Joe Hickey.

Friday night "The Prelude" will be held at Marasco's Hall on Goodman Street, from 8 to 12. Saturday night "Interlude" will be held at the Rochester Country Club on East Avenue from 9 to 1 with music by Vic Plati's big band. Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of Kappa Sigma Kappa's Sweetheart for 1961. Sunday afternoon "The Finale" will be held at the Westminster Inn on the East River Road from 2-6 featuring blind jazz pianist Edward Clute and accordion virtuoso Vito Altavilla.

Again this year we will award to the holder of the lucky ticket a quarter's free tuition.

Taugner Paintings Are Exhibited

During the month of January, paintings by Robert Taugner, Assistant Professor in the School of Art and Design were exhibited at the clubhouse of the Rochester Branch, American Association of University Women.

At the monthly meeting of the group, on Jan. 17, Professor Taugner addressed the members of the Rochester branch and explained the symbolism that appear in his paintings.

RIT Sponsors Public Safety Clinic

Working in cooperation with the New York State Public Service Commission, RIT sponsored a school bus clinic in the interest of public safety.

The extended services division has outlined a program to develop a better understanding of what is required for safe and adequate school bus fleet maintenance and operation.

Attending the clinic on Jan. 31, were School Board members, Superintendents of Schools, Supervising Principals, Principals, Business Managers, School Transportation Supervisors and Directors.

The program ran from 5:00-9:00 in the evening and discussed were some of the following practical problems:

— What are the responsibilities of the local school board with respect to district owned buses?

- What are the staffing requirements and qualifications of school transportation personnel?
- What is a good preventive maintenance program?
- What constitutes suitable equipment and facilities?
- What kinds of records should be kept?
- What is the role of the Public Service Commission in regard to bus regulation and inspection?

The program consisted of a panel discussion followed by a period of free questioning. Mr. Edward J. Shaughnessy, President of the Greece Central School Board, served as moderator. Mr. Charles D. Chase of the N.Y.S. Public Service Commission was the head speaker for the evening.

Resources were furnished by Mr. Harry Frank, also from the Commission.

Brooks Addresses SAM On Investment Field

Mr. Donald Brooks of Goodbody, a local brokerage firm, spoke on Monday evening, Jan. 16 at the S.A.M.'s first meeting of 1961. "Career Possibilities in the Investment Field" was his subject.

The meeting in the Pioneer Room of Nathaniel Rochester Hall was followed by a serving of coffee and doughnuts in the Green Room of the Snack Bar.

Tiger Tales

Undefeated Ron Bambas Currently Leads Swordsmen

Ron Bambas

The leading swordsman of the RIT fencing squad this season, is Ron Bambas (Pr 4). Ron brought fame to himself and to RIT last season, when he was selected All America in the saber division of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. fencing team. He was the first RIT All America.

Enjoying a current winning streak which leaves him as the only undefeated fencer on the team, it is hard to believe that Ron only started fencing when a freshman at RIT. He credits then Tiger coach, Art Plouffe for giving him the initial push that propelled him to his present position.

Ron's biggest match came during the Nationals last year, held at the University of Illinois. It was the match, that if won, would place him fifth nationally in the saber. He was down 4-0 in the 5 minute match, then went on to win the next 5 touches and the match 5-4.

"Anyone can fence," says Ron, "but it helps to have quick reflexes, be fast and be constantly thinking." He likens a fencing match to a chess game, where you constantly try to outmaneuver your opponent.

Besides fencing, Ron's other interests lie in hunting, fishing, dancing "and of course, girls!"

After graduation, the star fencer would like to set up shop in Rochester, though he comes from Detroit.

Fencers Drop 14-13 Contest To Toronto

A single point proved to be the difference as the RIT swordsmen dropped their second loss of the year to University of Toronto 14-13, at Toronto.

The loss brought the season record of the Tigers to 2-2. The outcome of the meet was unusually close, considering that the Tigers won only the sabre division.

Toronto won the foil division by a score of 5-4. The leading fencer in this competition was Charles Dunham who compiled a 2-1 record.

Leading the Tigers in the epee division was Jim Mason as he compiled a 2-1 record. This showing lacked support and the Toronto team eventually won the weapon 6-3.

The Tiger's show of strength came in the sabre competition with All-American Ron Bambas and Charles Dunham both fencing to perfect 3-0 records. Their combined showing gave the Tigers a 6-3 victory in the weapon but was not enough to win the accumulated team championship.

By winning his three matches, Ron Bambas remained undefeated for the year. This Saturday, Feb. 4, the Tigers will again face the same Toronto squad, but this time will be at home in the Ritter-Clark gym. The action will get under way at 12 noon.

Cagers Bow In Overtime

WHERE'S THE BASKET—The number 13 appears to be unlucky for the Tiger's Bill Lamoureux. (Sherman Photo)

Spotting their ninth loss of the season, to three wins, the court Tigers lost to the Detroit Institute of Technology Dynamycs in one of the closest games played this season. After coming from behind to tie it up 54-54 with ten seconds remaining, the tigers dropped the game 64-60 in a five minute overtime period.

Leading scorer for the tigers was Bill Lamoureux, with 15 points. He was followed by co-captain Kay Kramer, Ron Avery and Charles Albertson, all with 10 points.

The first half was a close one. Near the end, it looked like the Tigers might pull far away from Detroit. After exchanging the lead, the Tigers pulled ahead by 6 points with 4 minutes remaining, but Detroit closed in and tied it up at 27 apiece. Then, in the last second, Ron Avery scored a basket to give the Tigers a 29-27 halftime lead.

Starting off poorly in the second half, RIT fell behind 9 points and trailed Detroit 44-35 early in the half. Constantly picking away at the Detroit lead, they finally made it 52-54 with 2 minutes remaining. After exchanging the ball a number of times, Gerry Abel made it 54-54 with a shot from the sidelines with 10 seconds left, to force the game into overtime.

With the game at 60-58 Detroit, with 20 seconds left in the overtime period, a foul gave Detroit 2 more points. Lamoureux's basket, with 15 seconds left made it 62-60, but Detroit once again was fouled, and the game ended at 64-60, favor Detroit.

The cagers will return to action this Friday, Feb. 3, when they play host to Baldwin-Wallace University from Cleveland.

Cortland State Edges Grapplers

Now at the midpoint of the season's schedule, Coach Earl Fuller's grapplers still have yet to field the entire first string in a match. Injuries to key men and a series of close matches again proved to be the determining factors as the matmen dropped a 15-14 contest to Cortland State last Saturday night.

Captain Dick Zoyhowski was forced to sit out the match due to an elbow injury that continues to bother him.

In the 115 pound opening match the Tiger's Paul Rode dropped a 6-0 decision to his Cortland opponent.

Charlie Missakian again proved to be a powerhouse in his 123 pound weight class for the Tigers. With one of his patented attacks he had his opponent under pressure from the start of the match. At 2:14 Missakian pinned his man for the only fall of the entire evening.

The 130 pound contest saw RIT's Dave Egan drop a decision to Cortland. After falling behind early in the match, Egan came back in the third period but time ran out.

Ramon West put the Tigers back out in front again with a 5-0 win in his 137 pound match. The Baltimore Bullet was in control throughout the match.

Providing the other end of a one-two punch was Jim Kennedy in the following 147 pound match. He reversed his Cortland opponent in the second period and rode him for the rest of the match to gain a 3-2 win.

The wins by West and Kennedy saw them both remaining undefeated for the season with identical records of 4-0-1.

In the 157 pound contest the Tiger's Roy Hiler pulled a muscle early in the match but managed to complete the bout, dropping a decision to the Cortland grappler. The 167 pound match went right up to the final seconds before it was decided. RIT's Jerry Hejtmank was reversed just before the final buzzer and dropped a 4-3 decision.

Dave Zoyhowski put the Tigers back into the lead 14-12, with a 3-0 win in his 177 pound contest. "Big Zye" was all over his opponent as he again looked very impressive and fast in gaining the win.

The windup heavyweight match saw Ken Klaus drop a 4-3 decision to the Cortland heavyweight. The win gave Cortland the points they needed to win the meet 15-14.

The Cortland win brought their record to six victories and no losses while the Tiger's record now stands at 2-3 for the season. This is the first time in years that the team record had fallen below the .500 mark.

In the preliminary action of the evening, Coach Gary Dotzler's freshman team captured six of the eight matched to down the Cortland JV squad 18-8. This weekend both the freshmen and the varsity squads travel to Lock Haven, Pa. to face the Lock Haven State Teachers College.

Fred Babcock Wins Reporter Sports Contest

Fred Babcock, a third year electrical student from Weedsport, N. Y., was the winner of the recent sports contest sponsored by the "Reporter."

His winning entry was just two points off of the total actually posted by the RIT Basketball and wrestling varsity teams. In the action over the weekend the two teams scored a total of 74 points and Babcock's entry of 76 points proved to be the closest of all those submitted.

Most of the guesses proved to be on the optimistic side as only a few were submitted with totals lower than were actually scored by the teams.
