REGISTRAR—Mr. James M. Mileur newly named RIT registrar surveys a group of IBM cards. His appointment will become effective July 1. (Feldman Photo)

Appointment of Jerome M. Mileur, as Registrar of RIT was announced last week by Dr. William T. Bush, Assistant Dean of Students. The appointment will become effective July 1.

In accepting the new position Mileur will relinquish his position as Assistant Director of Housing; a position he has held since joining RIT in Sept., 1953.

As Registrar, Mileur will assume some of the responsibilities of Alfred A. Johns, Dean of Students, who is retiring this June, after 41 years of active service at RIT. The remaining duties of Dean Johns shall be transferred to Dr. William T. Bush now assistant Dean of Students.

Mr. Mileur born in 1934 in Salem Ill. came to RIT from the University of Illinois where he received his Master of Arts degree in Labor and Industrial Relations. He previously attended Southern Illinois University for a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Speech.

As Registrar Mr. Mileur shall be in charge of scheduling and planning registration proceedings, orientation programs, recording and collecting of grades and records, statistics on geographical, age, sexual, and departmental distribution of the students.

In order to simplify and expedite his new position Mr. Mileur plans to make full use of the six new IBM data processing machines to be installed on the RIT campus.

RIT Fencer All American

RIT, in only its second year in the National Collegiate Athletic Association, has produced an All-American athlete. Ron Bambas (Pr 3) of Detroit, placed fifth in the sabre competition of the NCAA national fencing championships held last weekend at University of Illinois.

The top six finishers in each weapon; foil, epee and sabre, comprise the All-America team.

Bambas had a 17 win - 7 loss record. John Capurso (A&D 3) placed 10th in foil with a 14-12 record and Jim Mason (A&D 3) finished 25th in epee with a 6-17 mark.

New York University won the team championship, with RIT finishing 11th in a field of 30 of the top fencing powers in the country.

Late News

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Mark Ellingson addressed a general faculty and staff meeting. He presented the information obtained from questionnaires circulated on issues pertaining to RIT's moving.

When the Reporter went to press this information was not available. It will, however, appear in next week's Reporter.

Candidates Slate Platforms; Two-Party System in Effect

Institute students will go to the polls Tuesday in the third annual school-wide election to determine the next president and vice-president of the Student Association.

Campaigning by presidential candidates Larry Albertson and John Beusch, and vice-presidential hopefuls Jack Blackert and Charles Decker began April 4 at a noon coffee hour. They are scheduled to conclude Monday with an assembly in Ritter-Clark gymnasium, where the candidates will deliver their final campaign speeches.

Two voting machines, donated for the day by the Monroe County Board of Elections, will be set up Tuesday in E-125 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Voting students will be required to present their Association cards. These will be marked and names checked against departmental lists.

The Student Council Senate, in its capacity as the Election Board of Control, will oversee the balloting. The Board consists of one representative from each department.

Subject to Council approval, the Election Board controls all phases of the campaigning and elections, including scheduling and censoring of campaigns, if required. Publicity and advertising also come under the Board's supervisory scope.

Absentee ballots are being sent to all block students. All such ballots are numbered to prevent possible abuses.

Election Board members will officiate at the final tabulation of the votes and will count the absentee ballots.

EDITORIAL

Vote Wisely!

Seated in the left side of Eastman-125 is clique A and on the right side we find clique B. Operating with the power they hold, they can destroy the integrity of your council.

At a recent Student Council meeting, the way this meeting was being monopolized, you would summarize that the "Ides of March" had carried the principles of democracy out the window. These two groups of upperclassmen are supposed to be showing the effects of leadership to those below them, but this was far from the point being stressed.

As one member of the council was holding the floor, another member was sitting on the side-lines snickering at him in a low, but audible tone. This member as you probably already have guessed was from the opposing clique.

When are these members going to grow up and act as members of an elected body to represent their constituents wishes and not their own desires or that of their clique's.

With Student Council elections coming up in a few days, it would be to each and every students advantage to thoroughly investigate each nominee's qualifications, and not what he promises on the stand. Attendance at one of these meetings would serve the purpose adeptly.

Keep in mind also your selections for representatives. You will want to select the best who will not only represent you, but who will work for your best interest. Let's have MEN on Student Council, who will truly work on an unprejudiced basis.

Experience Is The Best Teacher

There have been two school wide elections for Student Council officers. In each of these elections the Reporter maintained a policy of neutrality giving preference to neither side.

However the editorial staff of this year's Reporter believes that it is time that we, as the Gad Fly of this educational community took a definite editorial stand on the candidates involved in this election.

All candidates have been given equal space and coverage, on our news pages, the view's expressed here are purely editorial. Platforms?

After looking over the platforms of the candidates for the last three elections we still see many of the same issues raised.

All candidates say they will try to do some things which are possible and a few that everyone know's are not.

Then, the question arises what then if not the platform is to be the deciding factor?

Experience?

There is no question in our mind as to the Student Council leadership experience of John Beusch.

Anyone who has attended Student Council meetings in the past three years is familiar with his activity in student affairs.

Student Council responsibilities are but a part, though a very important one, of John's scope of service.

Mr. Buesch's competent and varied experience lead us to the conclusion that the deciding factor in this election is experience and that John Beusch has this experience.

Letter to the Editor

Housing Rules Questioned

DEAR EDITOR:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my objections to the new ruling passed by the Administration on March 9, 1960. This ruling states that all first and second year male students be compelled to reside in Nathaniel Rochester Hall, effective September, 1960.

There are numerous reasons why I have such strong objections to this new rule. One of the primary reasons for my objection is that of the additional financial cost involved. It is by no means inexpensive to live in the Dorm, and I could live much more cheaply elsewhere. Many of the freshman as well as myself have already made their plans for next year, and we are now faced with this new ruling.

Another reason for my objection is that the freshman were neither asked about this ruling, or informed of it at the beginning of the year, when we should have been.

I also believe that the Dorm would not have the facilities to accommodate both freshman and sophomores next year, and if they did have the room I can not see how anyone could get any work done with the noise caused by so many students living in one building.

These are only some of the reasons for my objections, but I feel that they are all valid reasons. I therefore hope the administration will reconsider putting this ruling into effect, and I know, by means of a petition passed among the freshman, that most of them fell the same way.

FROM HERE to Obscurity

JENNIFER BRENNAN

We, as college students, are commonly referred to by our as the "silent generation." The name comes from a collection of essays by graduating Princeton students that was published under this title several years ago. This was a chronicle of their individual hopes and ambitions for the future; their interpretation of the meaning of life and the promise it held for them.

The responses of this particular group of individuals seemed to express the characteristics of the great majority of contemporary college students. He is typically characterized as being - - security seeking, unresponsive, irresponsible, and lacking in idealism.

A most unattractive picture - and certainly inaccurate for at least one small segment of our generation. This small segment is represented by the Southern Negro college student - who willingly forsakes security to realize an ideal. In spite of oppression the Negro has absorbed some education - and with it the belief in the brotherhood of man.

What is our obligation to the Southern student - we Caucasians who speak of the "Negro problem?" Our obligation and responsibility is immeasurable for, as George Schuyler points out, there is no real "Negro problem" - there is, however a "Caucasian problem." The Negro has not established white ghettos or discriminated cruelly against the white by refusing him education and opportunity. The problem to Caucasians is painfully real - we have devoted centuries to propagandize the superiority of the white man over the black man. Historically we have subjugated, exploited, persecuted and humiliated the Negro.

The southern Negro college student is fighting these injustices and there is no power that can stay his progress. And the "silent generation" is no longer silent (Continued on Page 3)

While you are being besieged with tons of literature, much hand shaking, and mass oratory why not take time out to carefully consider each candidate, keeping the following ideas in mind.

We feel that a candidate and his platform go hand in hand because one can be no better than the other. Which platform do you feel is the most practical, well based, and will benefit you most?

Then look at the candidate. Is he someone who can follow through with his ideas; has he had sufficient experience in life to become a mature subtle person? Consider his past record at the Institute, and maturity of age. Has he realized that by focusing his attentions on a limited number of activities he can contribute more than by just being a member of a great many organizations?

If a candidate couldn't make the grade last year is he any better qualified now, or has he just rewritten his platform, increased his acquaintances and picked up a popular running mate? Is his running mate someone he has worked well with in the past and has the same qualifications?

Maturity, past record, solid platform and running mate are the basic things you should consider and then go to the poles on April 12 and help put your choice into office.

SMPTE, DLE Hold Contest

instead, technical reports written on the various aspects of photographic technology (chemistry and physics) will make up the entire contest.

Sponsored by the student chapter of the Society of Motion Pictures and Television Engineers and the photographic fraternity, Delta Lambda Epsilon, the contest is being offered to encourage more student scientific research in the field of photography.

Six student papers will be selected for honors. Two awards of $25 will be presented to the top two winners at a joint meeting of DLE and SMPTE on May 19 at the Dryden Theater.

Yours in Brotherhood

Yours in Brotherhood.

RIT students faculty and staff will soon be receiving letters signed in this fashion. What are they, and where do they come from?

They are letters from the Student Council Defense Fund Committee. A group set up by council to obtain funds for the establishment of scholarships and the defense of students dismissed from school and imprisoned in the sit-in strikes at segregated lunch counters in the South.

Defense fund committee chairman, Jennifer Brennen and member Janet Ross explained that contributing to this fund was one way in which people could fight segregation and show a true belief in brotherhood.

The activity of this committee at RIT parallels that of similar groups at other local universities and schools throughout the nation. Any money obtained by this group will be forwarded to the National Student Association fund set up for these same purposes.

Student Council first showed its interest in the present segregation issues by passing a resolution supporting the ideals being expressed by the students involved in the first sit-down strikes.

About 25 RIT students along with other local college students took part in a picketing action against the Rochester branch of the F.W. Woolworth Crop. The Woolworth firm is one of the concerns having segregated lunch counters in the South.

(See Reporter Issues of Feb. 26, and March 11).

The Reporter will publish a list of those groups contributing to this fund.

Dorm Improvements Planned; Sophomores Must Live in Hall

The many student protests against the new housing requirements were recently commented on by Dr. Mark Ellingson, President of RIT, Mr. Alfred A. Johns, Dean of students, and Dr. William T. Bush Assistant Dean of Students.

This new ruling requires all second year male students to reside in the men's dormitory.

Dr. Ellingson pointed out that "We cannot meet all of our obligations and not make rules. It is not common to institutes of this sort. We do however believe that this matter should be reviewed, and the administration would be willing to hear the student council representatives, the "Voice of the students" in all matters if they would only take the initiative to be heard."

Dean Johns emphasized that "This dormitory was purchased under a government loan for which reports of utilization must be high.

It is felt that Nathaniel Rochester Hall has few, if any, equals among institutions of higher learning as a residence hall for male students. These renovations and additions should make it an even more attractive and effective residence facility. The Institute hopes to be able to continue to improve its residence halls and other physical facilities. This is just one facet of a long-range plan to improve various facilities for the benefit of the students and for the benefit of the Institute as a whole."

As continued evidence of the Institute's growth and progress, he explained contracts have been formulated and work has begun on several projects in Nathaniel Rochester Hall.

A completely new snack bar will be built in the lower lobby in the room presently used for the storage of permanent records.

The newest equipment will be utilized to make an attractive and effective snack bar.

Complete renovation of the elevators will make travel by this medium more pleasant. This renovation will include various safety installations and maintenance free services.

A combination Admissions Center and Conference Room will be located in the area currently occupied by the snack bar. Students will use this area for closed meetings of various committees of the Dormitory Council and other organizations. The remainder of this area will be used as a reception room and as office space for the Admissions Office. Matching pine-paneled partitions, unique lighting devices, and other attractive features should make this a point of pride for present students and should prove stimulating to prospective students and their families.

A completely new recreational area is planned for the basement. Ping-pong tables, and other athletic equipment will be moved into this new location.

The mezzanine will not be overlooked in this improvement plan. An effective temperature control device will be installed in this area. It is hoped that the mezzanine will continue to be used as a lounge and study area.

Various spaces on the third floor, namely, guest rooms, the Senator's Room, the Congressional Room, and the Governor's Room will be converted into student quarters. The Presidential Room will continue to be utilized for student meetings and as a study and lounge area. The Pioneer Room will continue to serve as an area for larger meetings of student and faculty groups; as usual, reservations for this facility should be made in advance.

but is responding in a surprising and overwhelming manner to the plight of the most courageous segment of their generation. Locally the "silent generation" at RIT, the Colgate Rochester Divinity School, and the University of Rochester is organizing a fund drive to be used for the defense of those students arrested in sit-downs at segregated lunch counters.

That RIT students keenly feel their obligation to fellow students less fortunate is something that every student, every faculty member of the administration can be proud of. We are helping to prove that we are not members of the "silent generation" but are willing to assume our responsibility to our fellow men and sacrifice to see a realization of our ideals and; more specifically, our belief that all men are brothers. Booker T. Washington said it so well: "There is no escape - man drags man down, or man lifts man up."

Forensic Awards Restricted

Parking lots and Awards! Student parking lot problems have long been a problem on the RIT Campus. John Sturge (Pho. 3), Student Affairs Division head of Student Council and his parking lot committee have, this past year, attempted a number of methods to relieve the problem of parking lot violators.

Pasting of large violation stickers on the cars, the latest method employed by the committee, has thus far been effective. Sturge related this to Student Council at its April 4, meeting.

Sturge also announced that he is looking into the possibility of devising a method of ending all these problems. Briefly, the lots would have a coin operated gate which would open on the deposit of a certain amount of money.

All problems concerning the prevention of violators, and who could use the lots are going to be worked out by a special committee.

"This is just a proposal and may not be applicable here at RIT. Such a program is in effect at the University of Buffalo," Sturge commented.

Standardization of awards for student participation in school activities was studied by a committee headed by Jim Brennan (Pr. 3).

The main issue in the awards question was awards given the Forensic Society. According to the committee's report students have long complained that Forensic awards have been too lavish for the amount of work put into the society and in comparison with those awards given other organizations.

The committee proposed to restrict Forensic Society awards to the same type as those given to the other organizations and to set requirements to receive the awards.

After an hour of debate and much "out of order" comment by Council members speaking pro and con on the issue, the proposal to the type of awards given was accepted. The part of the proposal stating the requirements for recipients was deleted.

Government Offers Many Careers

Prospects for rewarding careers in the Federal Government were never better.

Positions are open for the 1960 college graduates throughout the Federal Service and a wide variety of careers are offered. For example, Federal agencies need college graduates for positions in the field of supply, procurement, personnel management, electronic data processing, management analysis, economics, budgeting, and general administration.

The way to a career in government is the Federal Service Entrance Examination, which covers almost all entrance level positions for college graduates except those in the fields of accounting, engineering and the physical sciences. This examination is designed to bring into the Federal Service highly qualified career minded people who have the potential to develop and become the government's career managers and professional leaders of tomorrow.

College juniors and seniors should apply now for the Federal Service Entrance Examination by securing a 5000AB application card from their college placement office or local post office. The final date for the submission of applications is April 25.

GARD Aids Book Printing

Personnel from RIT's Graphic Arts Research Department recently contributed to the production of a new book by Ralph Evans, Director of Color Technology for Eastman Kodak.

The book, "The Eye, Film, and Camera", has 16 pages of experimental 3-color process color printing which was done in the GARD, as part of its continuing research into the processes of color reproduction.

Separation negatives were furnished by the Kodak Co., but the rest of the work was completed through the efforts of the research technicians. Their efforts have made a significant contribution to this important book since the information contained in these special color plates could not have been included otherwise.

S.W. Closes Skating Rink

"To all good things an ending must come". With Spring Weekend peeking around the corner, the RIT skating rink will close down for about two months.

It will be defrosted from April 10 until June 27 so that the rink can be used for the upcoming Spring Weekend to be held the first part of May.

Even with the weather odds against it, the giant ice cube maker will reopen June 2 to 7 cater to daily sessions of an ice skating school. These sessions will run until Sept. 3.

Sanctioned by the U.S. Figure Skating Association, and under the direction of Mr. Lewis Elkins, the greatest number of skaters will be from the Genesee Figure Skating Club.

Dr. Staud to Address Annual Brehm Lecture

Dr. Cyril J. Staud, vice president in charge of research, at the Eastman Kodak Co. will speak at the 10th annual F.W. Brehm Memorial Lecture, to be held at the Dryden Theater Thursday Professional Photographic Fraternity, in honor of the late Frederick W. Brehm, a member of the photography department faculty from 1930 to 1950.

A graduate of the University of Rochester, Dr. Staud earned his Ph.D. degree at M.I.T. and joined Kodak as a research chemist in 1924. He was named Research Supervisor of the organic research laboratory in 1927 and Superintendent in charge of Kodak's emulsion research lab in 1931. He became Director of Research in 1947, and assumed his present position in 1955.

Included on the Lecture program will be the presentation of Honorary Membership in DLE to Professor C.B. Neblette, Mr. Edward Steichen and Dr. Staud. Associate Memberships in DLE will be presented to Professor Hollis N. Todd and Mr. Richard D. Zakia.

Dr. Cyril J. Staud

night, Apr. 18, at 8 p.m. He will talk on "Non-Pictorial Photography."

The lecture is open to the public and all students are invited.

The Brehm Lecture is sponsored by Delta Lambda Epsilon, Martial or Marital?

From the GOLD and BLACK of Wake Forest College (N.C.) comes the story of a professor in the process of handing back blue books after a quiz.

The professor stopped, turned to the board, and wrote "martial." He explained that it did not mean the same thing as "marshall," as some had written on their quizzes. He did go on to say that some spell it "marital," which is the same thing.

Human Factors Workshop Starts

An analysis of human values that affect efficiency, cost, and morale will be made at the third annual Human Factors Workshop which began on April 7 and which will continue for four sessions, concluding on April 28.

The purpose of the workshop is to help supervisors make more effective use of manpower through a better understanding and recognition of human factors involved in problems related to placement, lost time, morale, motivation, and individual performance.

Details may be obtained by contacting Mr. Robert Livermann in the Evening Division Office.

Mens' Fencing Team Takes North Atlantic

The RIT men's fencing team won the 10th annual North Atlantic Intercollegiate Fencing Conference Championship held March 12th at Drew University in Madison, N.J.

Twelve schools competed in the tournament, with host Drew placing 2nd, Newark College of Engineering finishing 3rd and defending champion University of Buffalo taking fourth.

A six-man team represents each school, with the number 1 and number 2 fencer in each weapon (foil, epee and sabre) competing against the fencer of corresponding rank from each school.

In foil, the RIT foil team of John Capurso and Bill Streeter finished 2nd among the foil teams. Capurso had a record of 8 wins-

3 losses. Streeter, last years sabre champion, fenced foil to provide a stronger, better balanced team. The move paid off as Streeter posted a 9 win-2 loss record.

The RIT epee team was lead by Derry Mounce who posted a 7-4 record. Jim Mason won 6-lost 5. In sabre, the team of Neil Connon and Ron Bambas finished 2nd. Connon had a 6-5 record while Bambas won 10 and lost only 1.

Bambas, Capurso and Streeter all qualified for the individual competition. Bambas placed 4th in sabre and Capurso and Streeter finished 4th and 5th respectively in foil.

This has been a tremendous year for the RIT fencing team. Coaches Paul Scipioni and Gabor Marshall, in their first full season of coaching, have produced an incredible record. RIT racked up 17 straight wins over two years before dropping a 14-13 match to Toronto University. They finished the season with an 8-4 record, with the other 3 losses coming at the hands of Buffalo (twice) and Syracuse University. The team had a strong nucleus but lacked depth.

In foil, John Capurso (A&D 3) won 30 consecutive bouts before meeting defeat. He finished the season with a 34 win 2 loss record for a .944 average, breaking all RIT records for individual performance. Bill Ottemiller (SAC 2) and Chuck Dunham (Elec 2), both in their first year on varsity, performed well against their more experienced opponents.

The epee team was lead by Derry Mounce (Ph 4) with a 21-15 record for a .583 average. Mounce finished his RIT fencing career with a 4 year average of .636, setting a new high average record for 4 years of fencing. Jim Mason (A&D 3) finished with an 18-15 record, and Phil Johnson (Mech 3), in his first year of fencing, had a 10-8 mark, a new record for first year of varsity competition.

Jim Gaulden (Pr 2) joined the team late in the season. His 3-12 record is no indication of the tremendous potential which he displayed. It also does not show that nearly half of his losses were by only 1 touch. He and Johnson show great promise for next season.

The veteran RIT sabre team took top honors with a .700 average. Neil Connon (Chem 5) was high man with a .707 average and a 29-12 record. Ron Bambas, 4th in the North Atlantic and 5th in the NCAA, had a 26-11 mark giving him a .703 average. Bill Streeter (Ph 4), in his second year as captain of the team, dropped 10 of his first 17 bouts but finished the season with a 28-12 record (.700 average) with 2 losses in his last 23 bouts.

Connon, Mounce and Streeter all graduate this year. Despite this the future looks bright. Scipioni and Marshall have proved to be an extremely capable coaching combination.

Tigerettes Finish With 1-4 Record

The 1959-1960 season of the women's fencing team came to a close with the Intercollegiate Womens' Fencing Association Championships at Elmira College, Elmira N.Y., April 1 and 2.

With a 1-9 record the Tigerettes placed 10th out of a field of 11 in the two day foil event.

Fairleigh Dickinson University at Teaneck, N.J., took the trophy with a 10-0 record, and also produced the individual champion when Madeline Miyamoto, with a 42-1 record, won the title in a fence-off with the defending champion, Fran Sidoti of Jersey City State Teachers' College.

Schools fencing in the complete round-robin event were: Fairleigh Dickinson at Teaneck, Jersey City State, Paterson State Teachers' College, Hunter College, Montclair State Teachers, College, Brooklyn College, New York University, Elmira College, Fairleigh Dickinson University at Rutherford, RIT and Drew University.

Fencing for RIT were Susie Heacock, with 19 wins, Gloria Schick, Sandy Meek, Joan Miller, and Noel Anderson.

In the regular season matches the girls had a 1-4 record, winning over Fairleigh Dickinson at Rutherford, and losing to Fairleigh Dickinson at Teaneck, Montclair State, and Elmira (twice). At the IWFA Christmas Invitational Tournament held at Hunter Meek was among the finalists and placed 12th in the individual competition of 50 girls from 10 schools. Miyamoto, who has been ranked both 6th and 7th nationally, also placed first in that event.

Matches sponsored by the Western New York Division of the Amateur Fencers' League of America also saw RIT girls in the spot light. In the Junior Division Tournament Sandy Meek placed second, and in the Novice Tournament freshman fencer Susie Heacock captured first place, followed by Noel Anderson, and Joan Miller in the 10-entry event.

Individual varsity season averages were: Sandy Meek (captain) .619, Susie Heacock .579, Gloria Schick .333, Joan Miller .272, Shirley London .250, Noel Anderson .222.

Faced with a handi-cap at the beginning of the year in that he had only one returning veteran, the captain, Coach Paul Scipioni developed the freshmen candidates into a fighting varsity unit.

Bowlers Go To Tournament

The RIT bowling league will mark up another first today when 4 four-man teams take part in the Eastern Intercollegiate Bowling Tournament.

Twenty schools are expected to participate and each school can send up to 4 four-man teams. RIT will be represented by the maximum number allowed. The tourney is at the Pin-o-rama in Utica, N.Y.

Most of the bowling club's hopes will be resting on its first team. This team, as released by Larry Dambrose, will include Bruce Anderson, who has a 195 average, Joe Dengler with a 183, Gary Frind at 181 and Jim Treloar at 177.

The second team will consist of Ed Boes, Charlie Albertson, Bill Frost, and Bill Boehm. Members of the third team are Larry Albertson, Bob Wilbert, Leigh Stewart and Joe Mazzarra; while the fourth team consists of Frank Catanzarite, Bob Goodman, Gordon Brown and Ray Vasil.

Be perspicacious!

Not this: a student who studies drowsily no matter how much sleep he gets.

This! Perspicacious... sharp! NoDoz keeps you awake and alert—safely!

If you find studying sometimes soporific (and who doesn't?) the word to remember is NoDoz. NoDoz alerts you with a safe and accurate amount of caffeine—the same refreshing stimulant in coffee and tea. Yet non-habit-forming NoDoz is faster, handier, more reliable.

So to keep perspicacious during study and exams—and while driving, too—always keep NoDoz in proximity.

The safe stay awake tablet—available everywhere. Another fine product of Grove Laboratories.

Need Cash? Enter Contest

Need $10?

Any crystal ball readers, fortune tellers or others who have the ability to look into the future, here's your chance to pick up an easy $10.

All you have to do is pick the winners of RIT's first two home baseball games, and the scores of each.

If nobody is able to get both the scores right, the winner will be the one who has one of the scores right. And if the misfortune of having nobody guess either of the scores right comes about, the person with the nearest scores will be the winner.

The two games to be used for the contest are the April 20 match against the University of Buffalo and the April 23 game against Geneseo. Both are home games which will be played at Genesee Valley Park.

Just fill out the attached form and leave it in the Reporter office (top of the Clark Building) before Wednesday morning, April 20. The winner will be announced in the April 29 edition of the Reporter.

Editor's note

For all you wrestling fans, the review of the past season will appear in next week's issue of the Reporter. Written by the regular wrestling writer, Bob Cully it will contain the season averages for all the wrestlers.

It's a puzzlement:

When you're old enough to go to college, you're old enough to go out with girls. When you're old enough to go out with girls, who needs college? Oh well, there's always Coke.
