Dr. Charles E. Irvin to Speak at Convocation

Dr. Charles E. Irvin

Delivering the Convocation address this year will be Dr. Charles E. Irvin, "a dynamic, excellent speaker" in the words of Alfred L. Davis, Institute Vice President of Development and Public Relations.

A talented and diversified individual, Dr. Irvin has taught at several colleges and has been active in business and industry as well.

Known as the "Merchant of Message" his inspirational, humorous, and informative lectures have been heard by one half million listeners, yearly.

Having attended Oberlin College, Ohio State University, and Michigan State University, Dr. Irvin holds an AB, AM and EdD degree.

He is an author and has been an athletic coach. In addition, he has served with the United States Air Force Intelligence in the Mediterranean and was Assistant Director of Military Welfare of the National Red Cross.

A college instructor of business speaking and communication he taught at Oberlin College, Ohio State University, Allegheny College and Michigan State University.

In the business world he has held positions dealing with labor, personnel, promotion, sales, training, and public relations.

He has written a book, "How to Sell Yourself, Your Ideas, Your Products" as well as numerous articles for professional journals.

Dr. Irvin now devotes his full time to speaking and consulting in sales training, management training, and business and industrial communication.

Some members of the Board of Trustees, which selected him for the Convocation speaker, heard him earlier this year, speaking at the Middle Management Seminar held at the Town House.

Editor Resigns

Lately and most unexpectedly, Leslie M. Greenberg resigned as editor-in-chief of the Reporter.

Gene E. DePrez and Lawrence D. Downs have been appointed acting editor-in-chief and acting managing editor respectively, by advisor Mr. Hector H. Sutherland.

The Reporter staff for the coming year will be announced in next week's issue.

Student Council Elections Set

Today representatives for next year's Student Council will be elected during classes. The five major responsibilities of a Council representative are outlined below.

In the past Student Council has been ridiculed for lack of efficiency and effectiveness. Council can be effective and efficient if the representatives fulfill their basic duties. Candidates for representatives have taken the time and effort to submit the required petition.

Candidates for each department are listed below. Students are asked to again review the five major responsibilities of a Student Council representative, then choose the people in their department who will do the best job as a representative to further the efficiency and effectiveness of Student Council.

The major responsibilities of a Student Council representative are:

1. To represent his department in all affairs and activities that come before Student Council.
2. To effectively communicate to his department all business conducted by Student Council.
3. To effectively communicate to Student Council the ideas and opinions of the students of his department.
4. To actively participate in Student Council functions, committees, and discussions.
5. To be thoroughly familiar with the problems presented to Council in order to intelligently vote on these problems.

Deans Named

Renaming of all division chairmen as Deans of their respective colleges was announced this week by Dr. Mark Ellingson, RIT president, as an additional move in the recent major re-organizational program of the Institute.

Affected by the change will be all division chairmen and the Director of RIT's Evening College. Use of the new titles is effective immediately.

Receiving the title of Dean are: Earle M. Morecock, Dean of the College of Applied Science; Harold J. Brennan, Dean of the College of Fine and Applied Arts; Miss Edwina B. Hogadone, Dean of the College of Business; C. B. Neblette, Dean of the College of Graphic Arts and Photography; James W. Wilson, Dean of the College of General Studies; and Burton E. Stratton, Dean of the Evening College. All hold the rank of professor.

Dean Johns to Retire; Began Career in 1919

Alfred A. Johns, Dean of Students, and recently appointed Vice President, Student Personnel Services will retire this summer after serving the Institute in various capacities as teacher, advisor, and administrator for the past 41 years.

Dean Johns, in his long service to RIT, has devoted his efforts to promoting the highest ideals of education.

Perhaps his own words can best express the reason that his pending retirement will mark a distinct milestone in the history of the Institute.

"A great many students have attended the Institute since September 1919. Many have achieved distinction in their respective communities and probably the Institute has had at least some small part in the success of the great majority.

"The future holds great promise. In greater and greater numbers students come to us because they have confidence in the Institute and faith in the faculty. On the eve of the anticipated 'explosion' of student population and as the Institute plans to expand, to move, or not to move—I know that it will continue to merit the trust and command he respect of new generations as they seek to achieve success.

"It has been a good forty-one years. The Institute's successes have been pleasant and satisfying; the shortcomings have been opportunities for growth and improvement. I give up active work with the feeling that the best years for the Institute lie ahead, for both students and faculty."

A brief summary of Dean Johns' background will indicate the idealistic realm in which his ideas were fostered and toward which his goals were oriented.

Being a native Rochesterian, Dean Johns was a graduate of West High School in 1911.

He received his B.A. degree from the University of Rochester.

Head Resident of Dorm Appointed

Eric Anderson (Ph 4) has been appointed Head Resident of the Men's Dorm for the school year 1960-61.

Head Resident of Nathaniel Rochester Hall is a new position created to perform some of the duties of the Assistant Director of Housing.

Eric, who has been a floor advisor for the past two years at the Men's Dorm will receive his Bachelor's Degree in Photography this year and will do post-graduate work next year in Printing.

There are three duties that Eric will perform in his new position:

1. Coordinate duties of the Men's Dorm floor advisors.
2. Work closely with the Dorm Council's President and various committees to have a successful residents hall program.
3. Work with the Director of Housing on administrative details, such as, re-assignment of rooms within the dorm.

Any of the other duties previously handled by Mr. Mileur will be re-assigned to Mr. Dickie, Assistant Director of Housing. Most of these duties will be concerned with the physical aspect of the Men's Dorm.

A call to serve his country in World War I interrupted his studies on the second plateau of higher learning, at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

After completing military service in 1919, he returned to Rochester to become an instructor of Industrial Arts, Mathematics, and Physics at RIT.

In 1921 he became the Director of Industrial Arts. The duties of Registrar and Supervisor of the Chemistry Department were given to him in 1926.

Paralleling his educational interests at the Institute he served on the school board of Ironde-quoit in 1929, and sixteen consecutive years thereafter.

Dean Alfred A. Johns

He returned to the U of R to obtain his M.A. degree in 1937.

While embarking on his career at RIT he has found numerous opportunities to serve his community and his country.

Concerned greatly with the rehabilitation and educational problems of the veterans, he has done

Techmila to be Distributed

Students will be able to pick up this year's edition of Techmila, the RIT yearbook, Wednesday and Thursday, May 18 and 19 at the front door of the Techmila Office in the basement of the Clark Building. The students will be asked to form two lines starting from the Bookstore and leading to the Techmila Office. These lines will be composed of five departments each and each student is asked to make sure that he is in his proper place.

This year's Techmila will not be mailed out. All students leaving RIT by May 28 are urged to pick up their edition either Wednesday or Thursday. In case it is impossible for all graduates to come for their books, Techmila will be distributed following the graduation rehearsal on Friday, May 27.

Books will also be distributed in the Techmila Office on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 31, June 1 and June 2.

It is obligatory that all students present their Student Association card when picking up their copy of the Yearbook.

EDITORIAL

Editorial Staff View

In view of Les Greenberg's resignation we feel it our obligation to express our feelings. Les resigned his position for reasons other than lack of capability, interest and devotion to his job.

In our estimation, Les has done an outstanding job as editor-in-chief of the Reporter and we regret the loss of his services.

Les, thank you for the excellent job you have done in your various positions on the Reporter in the past two years, especially for the fine job as editor-in-chief. Good luck to you in any future endeavors you may undertake.

Find Your Own Road

This is the time of the year when many people stand upon convocation platforms across the country and tell millions of young people going out into the world "the path to travel."

Not being seers we can only quote Walt Whitman from his "Song of Myself."

"Each man and each woman of you I lead upon a knoll,
My left hand hooking you round the waist
My right hand pointing to landscapes of continents and public roads.

Not I, nor anyone else can travel that road for you,
You must travel it yourself.
It is not far, it is within reach,
Perhaps you have been on it since you were born and did not know it,
Perhaps it is everywhere . . .

Convocation Chaos

Almost everyone has been inconvenienced by the change of this year's convocation date from June 4 to May 28.

Last year's ceremonies proved so successful by utilization of the Rochester Community War Memorial that the Administration again planned to hold graduation there.

However, a church organization beat RIT to the desired booking date. For this reason graduation was moved up one week.

Growing is not a painless procedure. It is true that it looks like little or no foresight was used in this situation.

Consider the advantages of holding the ceremonies at the War Memorial rather than at locations that have been utilized in the past. It is closer to the Institute, air conditioned and able to accommodate more people comfortably.

Then remember that "life is not a bowl of cherries." The Administration is painfully aware of all the problems that have been caused by the updating of graduation.

Unfortunately it is too late to help this year's situation. To eliminate a reoccurrence of this situation RIT has reserved the War Memorial tentatively for the next five years for its Convocation ceremonies.

Not Only for Students

In the Reporter flag on the first page the following statement appears: Official Publication of the Rochester Institute of Technology.

It is true the Reporter is put out by students, but it is not solely a "student newspaper." It serves the alumni, faculty and staff and is a very big public relations arm of the Institute. Many people who are not officially connected with the Institute receive copies of the Reporter.

In effect then the Reporter is not entirely a student newspaper and to consider it so would be shortsighted. Most of the contents of the Reporter are directed to the students but not all.

Due to the fact that we are not solely a student newspaper and in practicing good journalism it is sometimes imperative that some "hot" items not be printed in our publication until the facts surrounding the situation be thoroughly investigated and be found to have some merit.

Letter to the Editor

Reasons for Resigning

Dear Editor:

As of last Monday, May 16, I resigned as editor-in-chief of the RIT Reporter. I should now like to explain why I took this action.

Is the Reporter a student newspaper or is it the official publication of RIT?

This is the question I have tried to answer all year. This is a question which must be answered if the Reporter is to be useful as either.

When I accepted the position of editor of the Reporter it was under the impression that I would head the student newspaper, something I now realize the Reporter is not.

I believe that the editor of a student publication has an obligation to those whom he is serving—the students themselves. As editor of the Reporter I feel that I have not been able to fulfill that obligation.

If the Reporter is the official voice of RIT, it would be most helpful if someone let the editor know what the feelings of the school itself were. If the Reporter is the voice of the Institute it should be known as such, and not publicized as something it is not, namely a student newspaper.

There are many stories that I should like to bring to the attention of the student body: stories which I can not print as editor of the official voice of the school.

I do not believe that keeping the student body informed of problems I see is waving dirty linens; a feat a member of the Administration reproached me for.

I strongly believe that only when the RIT student body is fully informed will they be able to intelligently evaluate the occurrences on this campus.

Yet, the problems that face the paper are by no means one-sided; many students complain about the Reporter, yet there is much to be desired in the support students give it.

No matter how poorly the Reporter may have appeared at times; many people spent many hours to make it what it was.

However, the problems facing the Reporter are not the only reasons for my resignation.

This past year has opened my eyes to many disturbing things at RIT.

I can see no reason why I, as Editor of the Reporter, had to request that the Administration explain why they were requiring all male sophomores to live in the dorm.

I can see no reason why I had to ask the Administration to let the students know of the change of graduation date.

During my freshman year I heard some students say, "I'm just fed up with the nonsense I see around the Institute. I'm going to retire from public life and not have anything to do with the Institute. In fact I'm going to join those thousands of Alumni who think that RIT is not worth sending money to."

When I heard this I thought "These people are bitter. I will not let this happen to me." But I now know why these people said these things, and I'm afraid I must agree with them.

Latest and Greatest!

A number of students have been having a hard time getting served at the G.P.I. and the Crescent Beach Hotel; if you want to save yourself some embarrassment stick to Steve's, the Carioca and the Hi Fi 400. For the women; a tunic worn over your bermudas or slacks is the latest in sportswear. Home made espresso can be brewed from imported, "Riviera" coffee, using it double strength and perking it twice as long. On the turntable; "Music to Scare the Hell Out of Your Neighbors", is the strangest thing we've heard in a long time. If you'd like a different type evening catch Cecil and Jenks, currently a Sparky's.

In Athens; Theta Gamma seems to be following the trend of "big nationals" by dropping their affiliation with Alpha Psi. If you own a Catalina bathing suit consider yourself among the lucky few; the city stores are sold out of them and can't get more. The Last Blast was a success; too bad more of you couldn't find it in your hearts to support it. Nostalgia; "Shanty Town" and "A Date With Carmen".

And in This Corner!

Since the very beginning of this column we have heard many comments, all falling into, generally, one of two categories. Some say, "I enjoy reading it" and the others, "I don't understand it". To this latter group we feel we owe an explanation. The purpose of Barometer is not to try and educate the student body in any of the many subjects we touch on, only to make you aware of what is happening around you in school, fashions, entertainment, etc. In this way we hope to stimulate some interest in things other than text books and lab reports so that you yourself will add a little spice and variety to your college life.

It is not a well known fact that a good deal of the loss of money which occurred during the past Spring Weekend was due to students sneaking in through the back door to avoid buying tickets. Probably at one time or another we have all tried to get around paying the price of admission to something or other, but don't you think that college age is a little old for "sneaking under the circus tent"? What is it about some of the students at RIT who don't even have enough respect for their school and fellow students to be honest?

FROM HERE to Obscurity

JENNIFER BRENNAN

At the end of every school year the old political pros crawl off into a corner licking the wounds suffered in the process of trying to make RIT a better institution for the student. Some of these battle-scarred veterans graduate. Others, discouraged by the nature of campus politics and the lack of idealism on the part of the students, retire and devote their time to academic pursuits.

In the past RIT has lost the leadership of some of its finest students during their senior year. Anyone remember Don Lenhard? How about Nick Mihael and Bob Grimm? This year, running true to form, we have effectively discouraged John Sturge, Jim Brennan and Les Greenberg from participating in campus activities during their senior year.

However, there are several benefits to small groups and smaller individuals because of this. This situation indicates that the vendetta of several Forensic members (resentful of Student Council's decision to eliminate their lavish awards) is satisfied; that our second in command can leave with ego intact; and that several small special interest groups are successfully able to manipulate situations that should be considered as problems affecting the whole student body.

Special interest groups, in fact, have alarming control over campus affairs. It seems unfortunate that these groups are powerful and influential enough to successfully effect a large portion of our campus life. A current example of this was the Spring Weekend election of Mr. Campus. Traditionally Mr. Campus has been a hardworking individual in some segment of RIT extra-curricular affairs; this year the Greeks were able to install an individual with few of the necessary qualifications.

Even this would not be so disappointing if it were not for the questionable and haphazard manner in which the election was managed - or mismanaged. And if the margin between candidates was the several votes rumored why wasn't a tie declared? And why do students belonging to fraternities lack the integrity to vote for the individual they deem worthy rather than he pawn of their particular group?

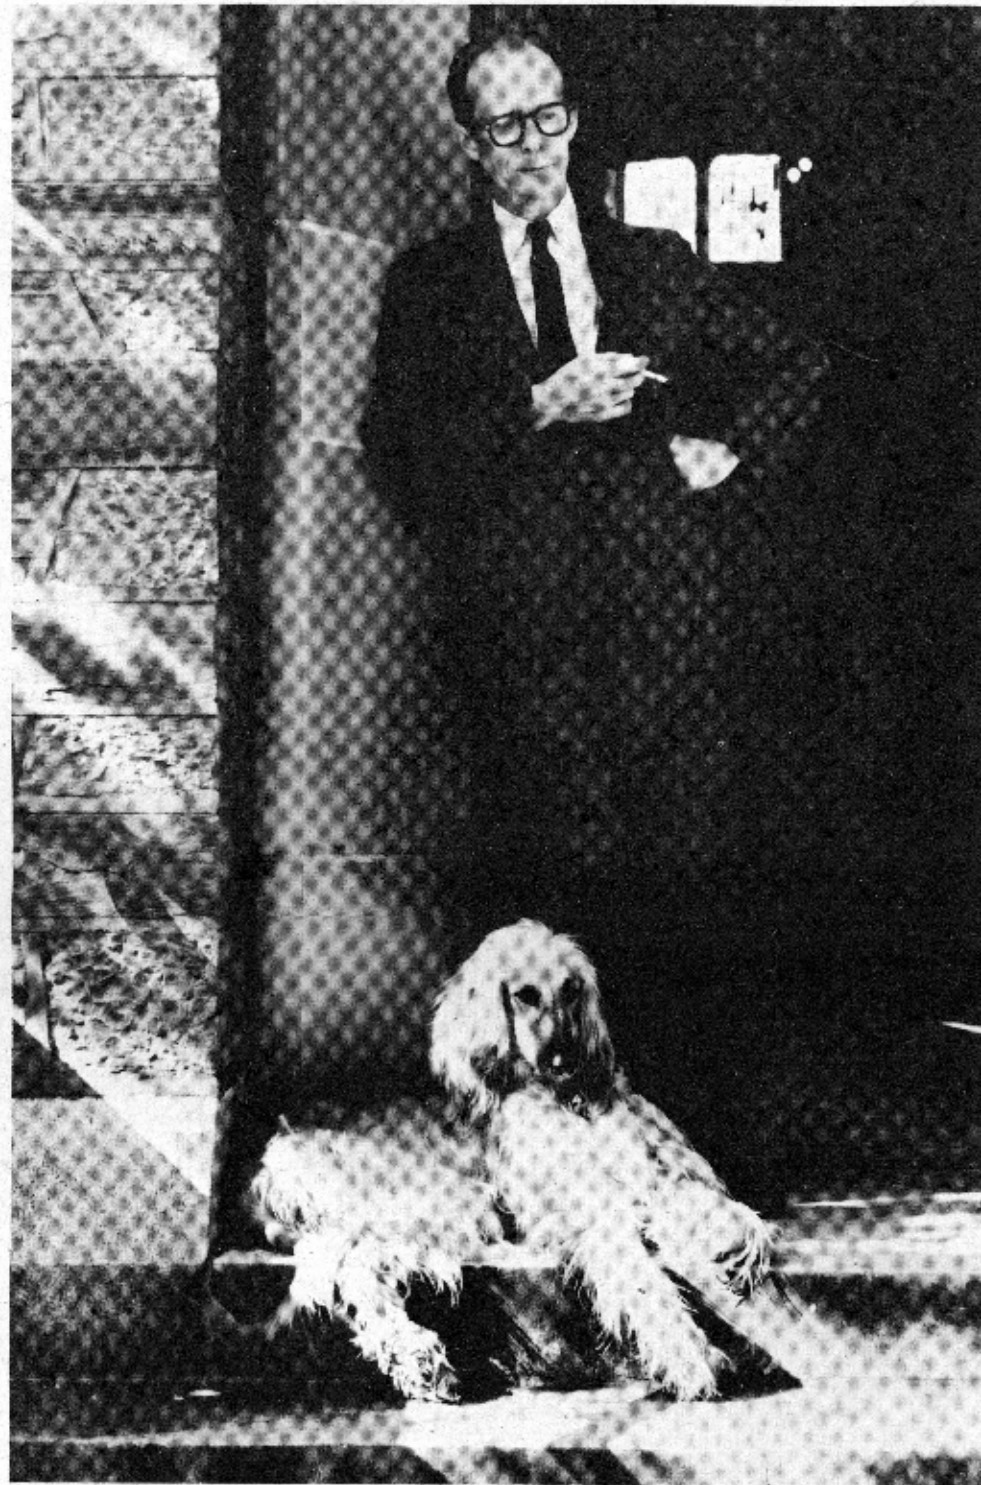

Another special interest group currently on campus that is receiving a few unnecessary bricks is the Inquirer staff. The special interest of this group, however, seems to be a genuine desire to activate some student "Grey matter" and to provide information that is either too controversial or too "hot" for the Reporter to handle.

In spite of a few stories that fight imaginary battles the Inquirer is providing an outlet that student opinion needs. It often seems rather silly to refer to the Reporter as a student publication when it must additionally serve the interests of the administration and the alumni. Perhaps the Inquirer will provide an outlet for the frustrated writers and editors of the Reporter.

The only group that can combat these situations is the group that is disdainfully referred to by the school politicians as the "mass."

"CONCERNING CORNELL"

Last Fall, 18 photographers from RIT, all third-year students, explored the Cornell University Campus and came up with some interesting results. These are only a few of the 100 photographs which were in "Concerning Cornell," an exhibit at the Willard Straight Hall Art Room at Cornell for three weeks.

Working as a group the students covered Cornell classrooms, architecture, faculty, students, and general campus area, pointing their cameras at everything from lazy dogs to inquisitive students. What were they interested in? The photographs answer that question.

The photographs were shown at Cornell for two reasons according to Charles Arnold, assistant professor at RIT. First, to allow RIT students to produce photographs for a specific purpose, and second, to give Cornell students a better look at their own school. "Cornell was chosen for photographic study," he said, "because it is a visually exciting campus and is a challenge to explore."

The photographers attended the opening to watch the reactions from Cornell students.

Sigma Pi Holds Initiation; Becomes Official Chapter

Ceremonies for the official Beta Phi Chapter, Sigma Pi Fraternity were held Saturday afternoon May 14, in the RIT Chapel.

Initiation of all members as brothers of the fraternity, presentation of the charter making the colony an official fraternity chapter and the installation of new officers constituted the ceremonies at the chapel.

A dinner was held at the Mardi Gras on Lake Avenue after the chapel ceremonies. Institute Vice-Presidents Mr. Alfred Johns and Mr. Robert Belknap, brothers of Alpha Zeta Chapter, St. Lawrence University and Harold Jacobson, Executive Director, James Hills, Assistant Executive Director and Field Representative and Edwin Oyer, Province Archon of Alpha Province of Sigma Pi were guests of the new brotherhood.

Beta Phi Chapter is the fourth chapter in Alpha Province, and is the 66 chapter of Sigma Pi Fraternity.

much in this area to aid the servicemen.

The realization of the lack of veteran facilities following the war inspired a group of approximately 800 men, including Dean Johns, to promote government action in constructing such facilities as the Military Hospital in Buffalo, Kingsport Hospital, Canandaigua Hospital and the hospital at Tupper Lake.

For the duration of World War II Dean Johns was Chief of Auxiliary Police of Rochester. From 1940 through 1949 he served as a member of the Selective Service Board.

Governor Dewey appointed him to serve on the Board of Visitors to the State Agricultural and Industrial School at Industry in 1943. His service was continued for fourteen years.

After retirement he and Mrs. Johns, who is Director of the Women's Residence Halls, will spend their free time enjoying the domestic pleasures of life, such as gardening, reading, and the like.

Undoubtedly Mr. Johns will continue his already extensive study of the Civil War.

A voyage abroad for the purpose is planned for the fall.

Miss L'Amoreaux Joins Staff of Reading Group

Because of its expanded activities, the RIT Reading Laboratory has recently acquired the full time services of Miss Marion L'Amoreaux as Assistant Director beginning in September.

Miss L'Amoreaux who will assist Mr. Abram B. Herr Director of the Laboratory, has a wealth of experience.

She comes directly from the Newark Central High School in Newark, N. Y., where she was chairman of the language arts department.

A graduate of Oneonta Normal School, Miss L'Amoreaux holds A. B. and M. Ed.'s degree from St. Lawrence University and has done graduate work at both Syracuse and Cornell Universities, where she also taught summer reading courses.

She has been a consultant and a speaker at many conferences and workshops on reading. In addition she is a fellow of Delta Kappa Gamma and is a member of the International Reading Association.

According to Dr. Laurence Lipsett, Director of the Counseling Center of which the Reading Laboratory is a part, "Miss L'Amoreaux will assist in the whole spectrum of reading services." These have grown considerably in the two years since the Laboratory's founding.

It now serves both East and West Irondequoit High Schools and the Harley School while conducting both evening and Saturday classes, in addition to its regular reading services at the Institute.

Expansion of the Laboratory itself will take place as Miss L'Amoreaux will need an extra room for her classes. Presently the Reading Laboratory has all of its classes in one room on the first floor of the Smith House, which also houses the Counseling and Medical Center.

Painter, Photographer Collaborate

An exhibition of photographs and paintings will open at the George Eastman House on Saturday, May 21. It explores the approach of a photographer, Gregory Smith, and a painter, Albert Alcalay.

The photographic series contained within the exhibition, "Gloucester Revisited", is a collaboration between the photographer and the painter working as a team. Smith and Alcalay searched Gloucester to "transform commonplace details into abstract designs of unexpected beauty."

They have tried, "To see the pores of Gloucester . . . (to photograph) the textures created by man and enhanced by nature's weather . . . Gloucester revisited and loved—this has been our eye."

Gregory Smith is President of Eastman Gelatin Corporation, as well as an active amateur photographer.

Albert Alcalay has recently received the Guggenheim Fellowship to paint and study in various parts of America. Since coming to the United States from France in 1951, Alcalay has painted and taught in Boston. at 5:30 p.m. in the Dryden Galview the exhibition on May 20 on view until June 20.

Researchers Visit

Last Tuesday, May 3, Herbert Phillips, and James Marshall, representing the Graphic Arts Research Department, visited companies located in Milford, Conn., and New York City.

The trip took two days, and during this time they visited U.S. Motors, in Milford, and J.G. Saltzman Co., in New York.

The purpose of both visits was to discuss a co-operative project concerning web offset printing, and the loan of additional equipment.

The diploma states the qualities that college wives must have to enable their husbands to obtain their degrees. Newly formed this year the RITSWA meets the third Wednesday of every month at the RIT Chapel. As outlined in their constitution the objectives of the RITSWA are "to unite in one local organization those persons who are the wives of the day students at RIT; to promote a spirit of friendliness to provide social fellowship; to stimulate culture and to encourage a feeling of belonging to and being a part of the school."

Auction Sale Raises $800

The auction sale of student furniture at the School for American Craftsmen has netted over $800 for the student scholarship fund. Due to the accumulation of furniture not claimed by respective students, SAC held the sale to obtain more storage space for current articles. Approximately 65 pieces were sold including dining room sets, sideboards, coffee and occasional tables, benches, and magazine racks. Each article was marked with the cost of materials and the excess of the winning bids are earmarked for the scholarship fund.

Official results for the Utica College Invitational Bowling Tournament have finally arrived.

RIT placed first in two of the three main events and second in the other.

In the doubles, Charlie Albertson, a freshman printer, and Ray Vasil, a sophomore printer who is also burning up the baseball diamond, combined for a 1136 total to take the top position. They beat out Snyder from Syracuse U and Smith from T.D.P. (Syracuse) who had a 1130 total. In addition, RIT bowlers took 6th, 7th, 8th and 10th places. Ed Stewart and Bill Boehm combined for a 1084 total for 6th, Bill Frost and Joe Mazzara had a 1074 for 7th, while Frank Catanzaita and Jim Trealar were one pin behind with a 1073 for 8th place.

Joe Dengler and Bruce Anderson rounded out the first ten with a 1070 total. The other two RIT doubles finished in 12th and 29th places.

The Institute's representatives did just as well in the singles, placing 6 members in the top 20 positions and 11 in the top 30. There was a total of 77 bowlers in the singles event.

Bill Frost, a third year Business student, took top honors in this category with a 641 total, outclassing Utica College's Getek who had a 621.

Joe Dengler took third with a 597 total while Ed Steward placed 10th with his 56. Jim Trealar was a pin behind with a 565 total for 11th place. Gary Frind took 16th with a 547 and Ed Boes 20th with a 540. Other from RIT who finished in the top thirty include Ray Vasil at 24th, Bruce Anderson at 25th, Charlie Albertson at 26th, Bob Goodman 28th and Frank Catanzaita 29th.

The only event the RIT representatives didn't take the top position was in the team contest. Here, RIT's No. 1 team, which consisted of Bruce Anderson, Joe Dengler, Gary Frind and Jim Trealar, finished in second place. Their 2113 total trailed the winning Utica College's 2180.

RIT's No. 2 team came in third with a 2064 while the No. 3 team took fifth with 2035. The No. 4 team edged into 10th place with a 1963 total to have all four RIT teams place in the top half. A total of 20 teams had been entered.

Tigers Win Fourth; Trounce Utica 12-2

Paced by the hitting of Hank Werking and Joe Andreano, RIT's up and down Tigers pounded out a 12-2 win over Utica College last Friday. The victory was the fourth in 9 games this season.

Werking went 3 for 5 while Andreano was 3 for 4. One of Werking's hits was a homer which enabled him to collect 3 rbi's bringing his leading total to 16. Andreano had a double and triple in his three hits. The center fielder is now batting just below the .500 mark for the 9 games so far this season.

Dud Armanini, Tom Kubala, Dick Justino, and Ray Vasil each collected 2 hits in the slugging rampage.

Ray Vasil started on the mound for the Tigers and the slim lefthander blanked the Utica nine for 5 innings before being pulled. Alexander wanted to save Vasil for the Hartwick game the next day. (The Hartwick game on Saturday was rained out).

For the spell he was in there, Vasil fanned 8 to bring his total to 63 for the year. He walked only 1 and gave up 2 hits in bringing his record for the year to 4-2.

Netmen Edge Alfred U. 5-4

RIT's netmen edged their way to their fourth victory of the season by downing a tough Alfred University 5-4 at the Ellison Park courts.

The two teams split the singles, with Lupton, Greene and Beals taking victories for the Tigers.

Alan Lupton stopped Jack Handy 6-4 and 6-2 while Dick Greene won his fifth straight match of the season with a 6-2 and 6-1 victory over Ollie Clark. Captain Jerry Mattison dropped a 3-6, 6-4, 6-3 match to Art Bresnick. Joe Green beat Gary Frind 6-2 and 6-4; Dick Beals romped over Al Scheffler in two 6-2 sets. Alfred picked up the last of the singles as Bob Meltzer stopped Chuck Loescher in three sets 6-8, 6-3 and 6-2.

In the crucial doubles, Lupton and Mattison combined to pull a easy victory over Handy and Mietzer 6-1 and 6-1. Green and Frind then wrapped up the match for the Tigers as they edged out a 6-4 and 6-3 victory over Green and Clark. Alfred picked up the last doubles as a consolation when Bresnick and Fred Baskind topped Loescher and Beals 6-2 and 6-4.

Golfers Notch Second Win; Top Geneseo State 5 1/2-3 1/2

RIT's golf team picked up their second victory of the season as they downed Geneseo State 5 1/2-3 1/2 on the loser's course.

The big win for the Tigers was produced again by the middle two of Dick Roberts and Phil Markham.

Roberts stopped Don Checko 2-1 for his sixth straight victory this year. The first year Art and Design student has won all his matches this year and the 77 against Checko was the lowest card turned in by an RIT golfer this year.

Markham topped Bill Spinder in his match 3-1 and together they won the best ball 1 up.

RIT's first two men dropped their matches. Jim Cook defeated Jerry Abel 4-2 while Steve Maloney took captain Russ Carter's measure 4-3. Geneseo also won the best ball 1 up.

The match then came to rest on the final two players as it did in the Tigers first meeting with the Teachers from Geneseo. This time however, Dick Lyndon defeated Phil Mullin 2-1 and Tom Olson sewed up the match by beating Jim Toner 2-1. The best-ball was tied.

The previous Wednesday the team picked up its initial victory with a 12-6 win over a winless Brockport State. In the other side of the three way match, RIT dropped a 10-8 loss to Oswego State.

The golf team finished the season with its third victory as they downed Oswego State 14 1/2 to 3 1/2.

All RIT players won their matches except captain Russ Carter who had the luck of drawing Joe Capossella who fired a 4 over par 76. Carter shot a 77 but still lost the match 3-0. Dick Lyndon and Jerry Abel also shot 77's for RIT.

Capurso Takes 2 Championships

John Capurso, RIT's record setting foilman, took the top position in both the epee and foil in the Amateur Fencing League of America's Western New York Division Championships held last weekend at RIT.

Capurso, a third year Art and Design, set the school record last season for the number of victories in a row, 30, and also finished with a 34-2 record, best in the RIT's fencing history.

Jim Mason, also of RIT finished second in the epee followed by Paul Scipione. Scipione also took third in the foil division.

Other members of last year's fencing varsity who finished near the top were Bill Streeter who took second in the sabre and Neil Cannon who took third in the same event.

Fran Benton, from Buffalo, won the women's foil championship.

Greene Undefeated In Tennis With Five Straight Victories

Dick Greene, back in his usual position as second man on the tennis team, remains as the only undefeated singles player this season.

Dick has rolled to five straight victories this year, bringing his four year total in singles to 18-2. It's second only to that of first man Alan Lupton's who has lost only one match during his varsity career.

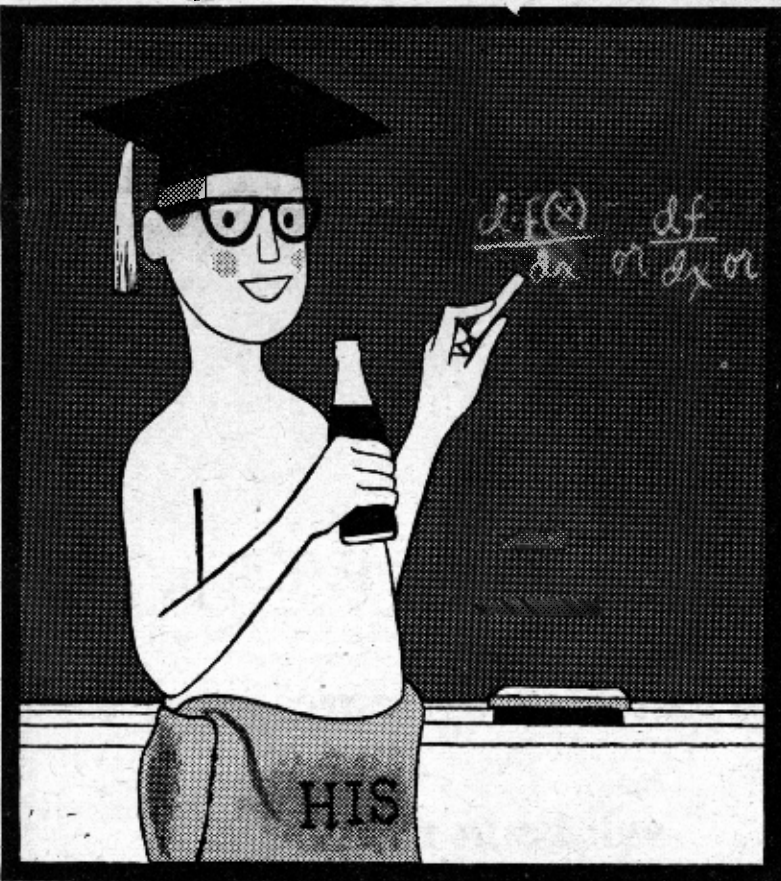

The fifth year Chemistry student started on the varsity as a freshman in 1956 and went on to compile a 3-1 record as second man on the team. The following year, still playing the second position, he finished with a 5-1 record.

After skipping a year in 1958, Dick came back in 1959 and this year played as third man, following Alan Lupton and captain Bob Gelder. In went through the five match season undefeated.

Most of Dick's winning can be based on his way of playing. A catlike person, the small player has a lot of stamina which enables him to cover the court well. In addition, he is well able to anticipate many of his opponents next moves which gives him a decided jump on the ball.

Besides tennis, Dick is an outstanding fencer. In 1959 he set a school record for the most consecutive bouts won in a season (since broken by John Capurso). During his three years as a member of the varsity, he rolled up records of 14-12, 23-7 and then 34-5 record during his 1959 season. In the North Atlantic, Dick placed third in 1957 and fourth in '58 while competing in the foil.

After graduation from RIT, Dick plans on going to Iowa State to work for his Masters.
