'Rec' Room Opens Soon

Plans for the student recreation room located on campus are now completed.

Previously heralded in the Reporter, the opening date of the "rec" room, situated in the basement of the Institute's Chapel, is Friday, Nov. 6.

S. A. Fee Raised; Roll-Call Vote Results Given

Editor's Note: The following is a copy of the roll call vote taken at the Student Council meeting of October 19. The question in point was the $6 Student Association fee increase.

Many members of the student body had requested results of the roll-call. At Council's meeting last Monday discussion centered about the failure of some Student Council members to report the group's action to their constituents.

Originated by the RIT Women's Club, the recreation room will be solely operated by and for the students. Facilities for ping pong, dancing, listening to hi-fi, and card playing will be presently available.

Consisting of one large room where most of the activities will take place, and a smaller adjoining room for card playing, the "rec" room has a private entrance on Plymouth Avenue South. This will enable students to gain access to the room without disrupting any activities in progress in the Chapel.

Student Council will sponsor the opening sessions, Friday Nov. 6, from 8 to 11:30 p.m. and Saturday evening, Nov. 7, between 8 and midnight. No specific program will be planned.

The main object of having the recreation room is to give student members of RIT a place, on campus, to enjoy themselves as they see fit.

Student attitude toward the recreation room will govern its future. Part of the room will have an area for table tennis enthusiasts; tables and chairs will dot the edge of the room, with dancing space in the center. Dancing or listening to music whichever occasion suits the individual, will be furnished by the hi-fi phonograph and records provided. Card players can indulge in their pastime in a smaller room adjacent to the main room.

Members of the Women's Club will be available when the "rec" room is open to supply food in

Council Representatives Accused Of Inadequate Student Contact

Controversy on the representation members of the Student Association are receiving from their Student Council representatives unexpectedly came to light during Council's weekly meeting, Monday October 26.

Two major issues that brought the undercurrent of controversy to a head were the recently publicized Student Association fee raise and a new subject, that of forming a student court to judge students on various infractions of Institute rules.

Every student at RIT has the right to speak up before the Student Council when he agrees or disagrees with any issue concerning the student body.

Bob Solomon (Ph. 2), bypassed the usual procedure of voicing his opinion through his representative and came to the meeting personally to speak on his own behalf. Jack Lloyd, Student Council president, pointed out that this is a basic right of every student.

Concerning the fee-raise, which was passed by a roll call vote last week, a motion to rescind the raise was temporarily tabled in order to give representatives another opportunity to check with their class mates on whether or not to sanction the fee-raise.

Formation of a student court enabling students "to be judged by their peers," was also introduced by Mr. Solomon. Discussion on the subject uncovered a previous policy initiated by the Executive Committee two years ago. This policy was that the Executive Committee itself act as a board of inquisition concerning infractions of various school rules by students.

"Most well known colleges have a system of this type," John Beusch, president of Inter-org, pointed out, "It would not be difficult to get information on the subject."

As a result, a committee is being formed to determine the necessary requirements for a student judicial body. Reports of the committee's findings will be presented to Council.

Other business covered during the meeting included presentation of donor registration cards to representatives for the RIT Blood Drive, general information to Council members that freshmen are in the process of electing representatives who will be present at weekly meetings starting November 9.

Bloodmobile Visit Slated on Nov. 19

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit RIT on Thursday, Nov. 19.

Wednesday, Nov. 4 is deadline for those under 21 years of age who wish to give blood. The Red Cross will then obtain permission from the parents of these students.

Donors 21 and over have until Friday, Nov. 13 to submit their cards. The bloodmobile will be at the Institute from 9-11 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. on the 19th.

To create interest in the blood drive, Inter-organization Council will sponsor a contest between the fraternities, sororities, residence halls, and religious organizations on campus.

'Mad Hatter' Dance Opens Gamma Phi Fall Weekend

Harvest Festival time is here! Tonight is the beginning of the Gamma Phi sponsored fall weekend.

Polish Falcon Hall will be the scene of this evening's square dance, the Mad Hatter Dance, from eight until midnight. Everyone attending should come bedecked in a "crazy" hat and be ready to swing his partner.

Crowning the queen of the Harvest Moon Ball will highlight Halloween night's semi-formal dance to be held in the Ritter-Clark Building from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Vic Plati and the "Pastels" will provide music for dancing and Joyce Fasano will sing for fall weekend's main event.

Westminster Park Inn on East River Road is the setting for the Sunday afternoon Remembrance. Relaxation, dancing and entertainment from 2 to 6 p.m. will conclude the biggest weekend on the RIT fall social calendar.

Techmila Photos Set

The photo staff of the RIT yearbook, Techmila, has announced that it will begin taking group pictures on Friday, Oct. 30.

Lists of names and appointment times will be posted on the various department bulletin boards, and appointment slips will be placed in student folders.

WRIT Silenced

The voice of the men's dormitory radio station, WRIT has been temporarily silenced.

In a meeting with members of the outgoing radio board on Wednesday October 21, Dean of Students, Alfred E. Johns, suspended two students from school and placed two others on probation. All were members of the former radio board.

In a statement to this newspaper Dean Johns stated, "The action taken by these students in reference to the new radio committee was out of order."

He went on to explain that on the whole members of the board were a very responsible group, but that a few of them had gone off on a tangent.

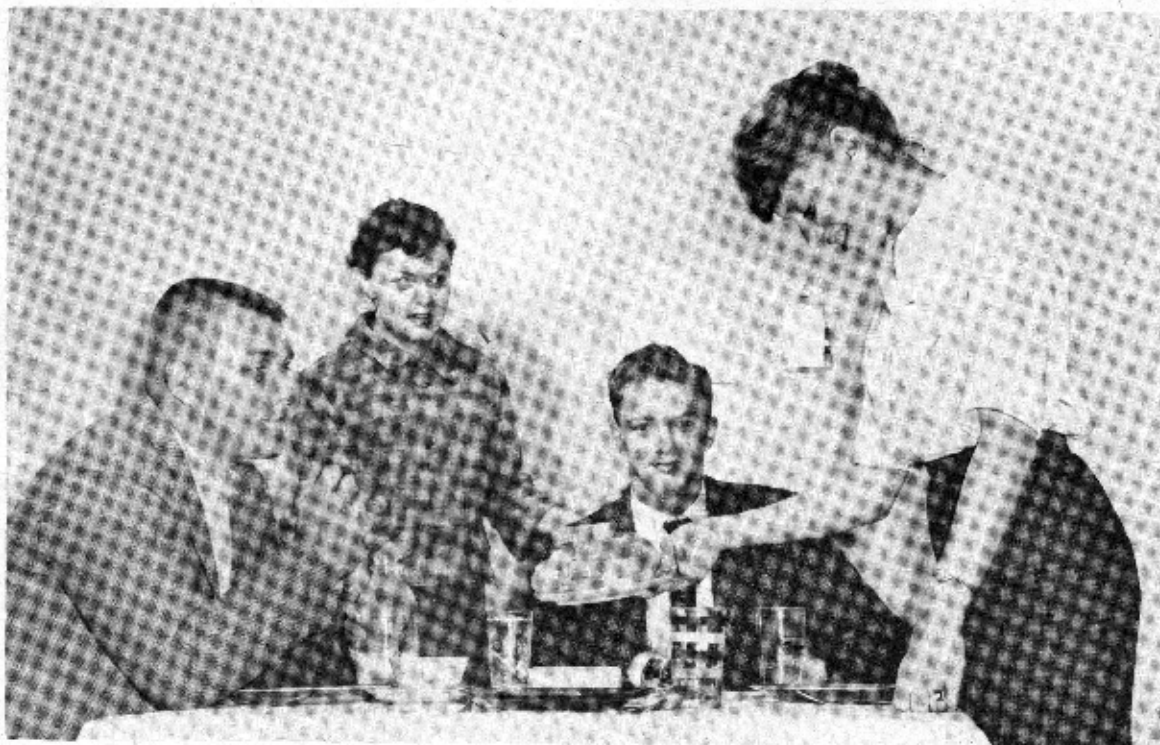

Reechoing the sentiments of Director of Housing, Mr. Melvin Rinfret, Dean Johns said, "WRIT is a creature of the dormitory hall, by the dormitory council for the dormitory students."

When asked about campus wide radio the Dean commented, "One of these days we will have a campus wide radio station and I hope some of these same fellows can be there to operate it."

The following is a statement by Jim Paulus, president of the men's dormitory council, on the subject of the radio station.

"Radio Station WRIT will be off the air for an indefinite period of time.

"This is being done to facilitate a complete reorganization, acquisition of a good staff, and repairs to the radio room, so that WRIT can return to the air with a guaranteed high quality of entertaining broadcasts."

Taxation Without Representation?

Much discussion on the recent fee-raise for the support of various co-curricular activities has been heard by all members of the student body.

As a result many opinions have been formed; some of these seem to stem from persons unfamiliar with the full scope behind the issue. Previous issues of the Reporter have given detailed reports concerning this subject.

We refer you to issue No. Two, Oct. 9, Page Seven, where information was presented to clear up an error pertaining to a $6 fee increase originating from the Comptroller's Office.

Reports of the shelving of this same issue by Student Council and then their passing it were presented in the two following publications.

After all this coverage some students still appear unoriented. The full amount of this raise is to be allotted to all campus co-curricular activities.

Consequently, if you belong to any organization you will benefit by this raise. Many of you have undoubtedly been accosted by uninformed sources who have "wondered why RIT, a small school, has such a high fee . . ."

Most of us are proud of our unique educational institution that is growing constantly by leaps and bounds. The school's reputation grows every year; part of this is due to "progressive policy" of the Administration. The other part evolves from the impression various clubs and organizations of the Institute make on other schools.

Like it or not prices have gone up and to maintain our present status quo, the Student Association must have an increase in financial backing.

The fee problem is a good example of why you as members of the Student Association should be interested in what goes on at its meetings. Your representatives are human too, and unless you ask them what goes on, and further give them your ideas, they can only fly blind as to what action to take on various issues.

We live in a free country where the littlest man can speak if he wants. Don't be afraid to take advantage of this right, within reason, of course. Student Council will welcome any and all constructive ideas you have. Tell your class representative about them and you will at least have the satisfaction that your idea was considered, if not fully approved.

A Thank You for the 'Rec' Room

"When we have our new student union . . ." For almost as far back as anyone can remember, this statement has been behind one of the most prevalent student complaints at RIT: Lack of a student union.

When the present facilities opened at 90 Troup St., some of the most drastic needs were met, and for a while complaints ceased. But only for a while—more recently, students have felt the need for a school-sponsored gathering place which could be used mainly for social events. The present union is used more for meetings and lounging than anything else.

It was because of this situation that the Reporter was quite pleasantly surprised to note plans for a recreation room that were announced by the RIT Women's Club at the beginning of the school year. The plans are now a reality, and the Reporter wishes to be first to thank this organization for its efforts to better social life at RIT.

Facilities for dancing, listening to Hi-Fi and card playing will be offered in the "rec" room on Friday and Saturday nights. It is to be held in a room of the RIT chapel. A committee of Student Council is in charge of the actual operation, although members of the women's club will be present to serve refreshments.

Once more, we say "thank you" to the Women's Club members. They have done their part. Now it is up to RIT students to make full use of the "rec" room, and take advantage of the fine opportunity that is offered.

A group of students in the Printing Department have formed the nucleus of what will become a national organization devoted to italic handwriting. This group has met informally through the past year with the purpose of working toward the establishment of such an organization. Plans have finally been resolved and work is now well under way.

Italic handwriting is a modern adaptation of the old manuscript styles known as Chancery script. The present day form is written with a fountain pen equipped with a special steel chisel-edge point to retain the thick and thin characteristics of the original script.

The style offers a sharp contrast to the usual ill-defined and frequently illegible forms of the ball-point pen writing of today. It offers a disciplined though individually adaptable style for those who wish to reform and take pride in their writing. An example of the style is contained in the heading over this article.

Anyone is welcome to attend meetings of the group here in the school whether out of curiosity or to learn something about the style and how to write it. Kay Kramer should be contacted for further information.

Past the childhood of Spring, after the adolescence of Summer, the maturity of Autumn explodes, bombarding the earth with showers of vivacious reds, vigorous oranges, enticing magentas, and toasted browns, and we welcome it.

The summer miracles of nature, soft greens, pale yellows, and cool blues become electrified by the crisp, brisk nip of Jack Frost's crystalline wand. Suddenly, limpid leaves become vibrant crackling carrillons of color. Each Purple thistles throw off the fuss-down of childhood and stand stiff, skeleton-like, revealing their back-bone of age and wisdom. Pale green little jack-o-lanterns turn on their bright orange flames and glow among mossy brown foilage. Thus, Autumn dances her fiery fall frolic, the leaves drop, drift, die; "branches bare;" and the death of Winter draws nigh...

GREEK TALK

Gamma Phi

Fall Weekend is here, and the brothers of Gamma Phi can relax from the preparation and enjoy the benefits of hours of hard work.

The weekend will consist of the Mad Hatter Dance on Friday night, the Harvest Moon Ball on Saturday night, with dancing and relaxation scheduled for Sunday afternoon. The highlight of the Harvest Moon Ball will be the crowning of the Queen.

Gamma Phi held the first sere-nade of the year to congratulate brother Merle Delancey who was pinned during the summer.

Congratulations are also in order for brothers Howard Sherry and Dave Adams who were also pinned, and for brothers Bob Beech, "Doc" Follett, Bud Kipfer, Jim Treloar, and Frank Catanzarite, all of whom were recently married.

Kappa Sigma Kappa

This past weekend, the brothers of K.S.K. and the sisters of Phi Upsilon Phi enjoyed their annual masquerade party. Prizes were given for the best dressed. The brothers are looking forward to more joint parties with their sister sorority.

Since the opening of school, many of the alumni have been stopping in at the house to see the progress that has been made. Right now Ed Catapane, the new alumni officer, is in the process of revamping the alumni file so that a closer contact between the brotherhood and the alumni can be maintained. Plans are being made to build the alumni as an even stronger element of Kappa Sigma Kappa than it has been, with alumni reunions, parties and joint meetings.

Once a month, Dave Bowersox, chaplain, will be taking brothers to State Hospital as part of the charity program to assist in shows that are put on for the benefit of the patients.

Usually the brothers take an active part in the entertainment, and around Christmas become dancing partners at the annual dance.

Phi Upsilon Phi

The Inter-Sorority tea held on Wednesday, Oct. 28 was successful due to the large number of freshmen girls who attended it. It is hoped that they will also attend the three sorority teas which will be held in the following weeks.

Dr. Vuglen Talks On Mr. K's Visit

"Khrushchev's visit to the United States." This was the topic of the speech given by Dr. Stephen Vuglen to those present at the first regular meeting of the International Students Club, which was held in the main dining room of Nathaniel Rochester Hall on Tuesday evening, Oct. 20.

Dr. Vuglen, an instructor in Economics and International Affairs here at RIT, was well qualified to deliver a speech of this nature, as he is a graduate of the University of Vienna and has traveled in many parts of the world.

Dr. Vuglen opened his speech by telling about the reports that U.S. officials gave to President Eisenhower after Premier Khrushchev's visit. These reports stated among other things that Mr. K was surprised at not seeing bread lines, that U. S. mayors are not under the direct command of the President, and that a Democratic governor would support the foreign policy of a Republican President.

He went on to say that the Russian leader was sincere in his talks about peaceful coexistence, but that the era of bi-power talks is ending and that in the future many nations will be taking part in summit talks.

The audience was told that Mr. Khrushchev was well informed before he came, and that he played his part well.

Following the main part of Dr. Vuglen's speech, a question and answer period was held in which such questions as "Do you feel that Mr. Khrushchev's visit bettered the relationship between the U.S. and Russia?" and "What do you think the typical Russian person's views on the U.S. are?"

In answering the first question, Dr. Vuglen stated that he felt that the visit had helped, but that we must not expect everything to change with one visit.

This committee, which falls under the social affairs branch, will be responsible for the general management of the recreation room. Any persons interested in serving on this committee should contact John Beusch, president of Inter-organizational Council.

Pitchmen Nip Fredonia In Muddy 3-2 Battle

MUD BATH—An RIT and Fredonia player hit the dirt while the ball behind them slowly sinks in the mud. The game, played in a steady drizzle, turned the field into a sea of mud soon after the start. Tigers won their second straight, 3-2. (Feldman Photo)

RIT's fledgling soccer team is starting to develop some teeth in its attack.

The tiny Tigers downed the Fredonia State Teachers eleven 3-2 at Genesee Valley last Saturday. It marked the second straight win for the pitchmen after they had dropped their first three games.

The goal that gave RIT the victory came late in the final period on a shot by Corrado Zollo. The goal was Zollo's second of the game.

The Tigers opened with a wild burst of activity and within the first five minutes of the game, most of which was spent in Fredonia territory, they bounced 2 off the goal post. Two other clear shots were missed by the offensive line before they finally put one in the net for a 1-0 first quarter lead.

RIT put another into the net before Fredonia was able to score in the closing minutes of the second period to hold a 2-1 half time lead.

A goal by Gellineauto in the third period, during which RIT's offense and defense both sagged, tied up the game for the teachers and set the stage for Zollo's tie breaker late in fourth period.

Bokhan scored the other RIT goal on an assist by Cazenio.

The game was similar to the past three in that it was played on a wet muddy field, making the ball slippery and hard to handle. However, with so much experience in the mud, the Tigers have become at home in it.

The next outing for RIT will be tomorrow when they meet a hot Roberts Wesleyan college eleven. Roberts holds a 5-2 record not counting a match against Oswego last Wednesday.

Ed. Note: - Talked to after the game, some of the persons connected with the soccer team mentioned the cheerleaders Fredonia had brought with them. According to persons talked to, they made the game much livelier than it might have been without them. Maybe RIT could come up with something similar to help our soccer team and give them some constant support. After all, it is just the first year Fredonia has had a regular soccer team and it can show what work can do. Soccer fans, here is your chance to give the soccer team some more benefit.

Photo Salon . . .

Prints or slides in color or black and white are eligible for the salon, largest exhibition of its kind in the world. Data and entry forms are available from: J. Lawrence Hill, Jr., Exhibits Director; 643 Highland Avenue; Rochester 20, New York.

Entries may be submitted for one or more of the following sections: pictorial color slides, pictorial prints, nature prints, nature color slides, pictorial color prints, and stereo slides. The entry fee for each print section entered is $2.00 and for each slide section, $125. A maximum of four photographs may be entered in each section.

Rochester Medals will go to the best three photographs in each of the six categories. One Photographic Society of America Stereo Division Medal will be given for the stereo slide showing the most originality in the application of stereo techniques.

The Salon was founded in 1929 to enhance photography as a medium of artistic expression and to provide a place where the best efforts of the world's photographers may be exhibited.

Soccer Team Faces Roberts Tomorrow

Tomorrow, the soccer team will meet its last rival of the 1959 season and also the toughest.

Roberts Wesleyan College will invade the Tigers home grounds at Genesee Valley in an attempt to better their already good record.

Roberts, as of last Sunday, was sporting a 5-2 record, one of the best in the surrounding area.

And as of the same time, RIT was holding a not so good 2-3 record. But the Tigers are on the crest of a hot streak, with their wins coming in their last two games.

Earlier in the season, for the sake of comparison, Roberts downed Fredonia 4-1 while RIT topped the same team this past Saturday 3-2. Fredonia was the only team faced by both teams so far.

At the beginning of the season, the two teams played to a 1-1 tie in a scrimmage at Roberts' pitch.

Coach Jim Dickie feels slightly optimistic about the game. "Although they are on a hot streak, he commented, 'Our boys aren't exactly cold themselves and so this could turn out to be one of the best soccer matches the team has played all year.'"

38 Appear for Basketball; Freshman Prospects Good

Basketball practice officially opened as 38 turned out for a general meeting called by Lou Alexander. Eighteen showed for the varsity, with nine of these being lettermen.

Of the nine returning lettermen for the varsity, 2 were starters on last year's five which compiled the fine 16-2 record. Coach Lou Alexander will probably build around these two, Ron Milko and Don Paladino, as well as the "big" man this year, 6-7 Harry Beardsley.

"It is Beardsley, reports Alexander, who can give the team the lift it needs. If he develops the potential he has shown, he may help the team compile a respectable record, or at least better than even."

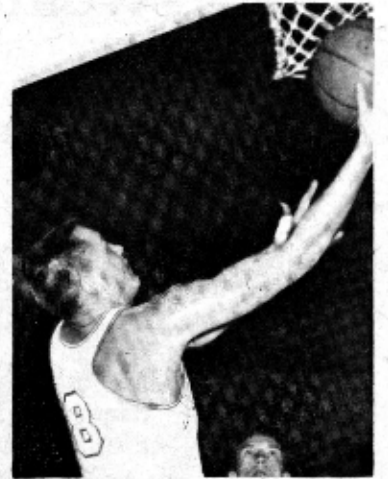

Milko and Paladino, continued the varsity coach, "will provide some of the experience needed."

On the other side, frosh coach Bob Klos is more optimistic. Although only 20 showed up for the frosh tryouts, which is considerably less than in the past few years, there is more height than in almost any other year.

Klos reports that one boy scales in at 6-6, 2 at 6-4 and another 6-3, as well as several others over six foot. Going back to last year, the coach came up with this comparison in height which is amazing. Last year's team had an average height of less than six foot with the tallest player being 6-2.

Mr. Klos also reports that it is not too late to come out as yet. He also mentioned the fact that a frosh manager is still needed. The manager goes on all the away trips as well as having to be at the home games.

Institute Bowlers Open Season

With eight bowlers having 500 series, RIT's bowling league officially opened on October 20th.

Gary Frind, a second year electrical student, topped all the bowlers for the night with a 588 series. Gary had games of 169, 214 and 205 to total his 196 average.

Other high series included a 560 by Bill Frost, a 555 by Jim Treloar and a 544 by Joe Mazara. Treloar, who averaged a 185 for the night's bowling, was last year's trophy winner for high average.

Bill Gulliver took the honors for high single with a 237 game.

The bowling during the past week was to establish team handicaps but hereafter, all games bowled will be for the team trophies.

Besides trophies for the first and second place teams, trophies are awarded to the persons having the high average, high series and high single game.
