Lighting to Highlight Actions For Protection

With warm weather approaching, more students will be spending the evenings outdoors. This year action is being taken to prevent recurrences of the troubles encountered last spring.

Frank P. Benz, vice president of business and finance, has announced that an $11,000 contract has been made to install quartz filament lights across the entire campus. Installation is expected to be completed May 1.

The new lighting is expected to be a 300 per cent improvement over the present lighting. While the Institute is not able to place lighting on the public ways, all the alleyways between the buildings are being lit. Approximately 23 lights will be installed within the central area of the campus. Lights will also be placed on the gym, Kate Gleason Hall, Library, Graphic Arts Research, School for American Craftsmen, and the Student Activities Center.

Lighting on the Spring Street buildings will be set to flood the sidewalks and parking areas. No lighting has been added along Washington Street near Kent Hall and Frances Baker Hall. This is because of the difficulty in lighting the tree lined walks and in part due to the objection of private residents in that area.

It is expected that these lights will give the Institute a more unified appearance and encourage evening students to make use of the buildings outside of the central buildings.

More immediate protective measures have been taken to prevent trouble. Dr. James B. Campbell, vice president of Student Personnel Services, has requested two sororities to move their Spring Weekend projects. Alpha Xi Delta has moved its activities to 50 Main West. Student Personnel Services is also assisting in moving Delta Omicron's project to a better area.

It was felt that it is not advisable that these coeds should be traveling on the dimly lighted South Plymouth Avenue area during the late evening hours. Although no trouble has yet been reported, precautions are still being taken.

Night watchmen are working on a rotating schedule during the evening and early morning hours. There has been no change in the number of Pinkerton guards on duty since last fall.

Rinfret Names Resident Advisors For 1964-65

Robert C. Fisher has been named Head Resident of Nathaniel Rochester Hall for the fall, winter, and spring quarters of the 1964-65 school year.

Melvyn P. Rinfret, Director of Housing, lists Fisher's qualifications as "extremely good", including two years as a resident advisor.

As Head Resident, Fisher will be in charge of the main desk, coordinating the 16 floor advisors, room changes and student employment at the dorm.

Bob Fisher is a third year Business Administration student from Hyde Park, N.Y. He is a member of the freshman soccer team, a member of the business fraternity, Delta Sigma Pi, and business manager for this year's Techmila.

Mr. Rinfret also named 16 new floor advisors for NRH. They are Dave Rylance, Martin Harris, Bob Schuleit, Ralph Israel, Earle-Wootton, Ray Rignel, Joe Evrard, Al Conklin, James Plumley, Kent Peters, James Wildey, James Rasmussen, Gerald Mills, Steve Janis, Neal Mulvenna, and Craig Babcock.

Tony Puskarz was named as advisor at Francis Baker Hall. Jan Meades, Kathy McCormick, Kathy Collins, and Mary Ann Latosi will be advisors at Kate Gleason Hall. Jonna Gane has been renamed Head Resident for the Kage.

Prices Reduced On S.W. Tickets

In an effort to stem the continually rising costs of Spring Weekend, the committee this year has decided to offer a price reduction for weekend ticket packages.

To the individual student the saving will be realized in a Friday night far below traditional costs and a reduction in the overall weekend. Ticket sales will start on Apr. 27 and continue through May 8, the Friday of the weekend.

For those students planning to attend the entire weekend, a bonus day has been arranged for May 1. During this time the full-weekend package price of $10 has been reduced to $8. Tickets bought on an individual basis will appear as follows: Friday evening (price includes a full course dinner, a wine sample, and beer tickets) $4.50 per couple or $2.50 stag; Saturday evening $3.50 per couple; and Sunday afternoon, $2 per person.

The committee has emphasized the fact that if bought separately, the weekend tickets would amount to $12 so that bonus day purchases will represent a saving of $4.

Sherman Explains Recent Elections

by Ron Sherman, President Student Association

The Annual Student elections are over but not final. For the first time since I have been at the Institute a feeling spread through the campus that the election was not as well controlled as it should have been. In essence, there were various rumors developed and it is the intent of this message to clarify these false impressions.

It is true that the election procedures this year were not as they were in the past. No one person or area is at fault, for it was the responsibility, or lack of it, of the entire campus community, the administration and faculty, Election Control Board, the student body and myself.

The biggest problem was the College of General Studies forcing the election out into the halls of the Eastman building, rather than in E125 as they had been planned. That room had been reserved for the election by A. Stephen Walls, Director of Student Activities. The two classes that were scheduled to meet in E125 had been changed to M400, but due to a problem in the sound system in the latter room Dr. James Wilson, Dean of the College of General Studies, requested that the machines be removed from E125 so that the two classes could meet.

Dr. Wilson has always felt that the academic program takes precedence over all student co-curricular activities, and in this we agree, most of the time.

In the case of the elections, the corner stone of our lives as useful American citizens, I must take issue. If there are questions on any elections, no matter how false they may be, a student will remember this more than any lecture, no matter if it was hard to hear the instructor.

On the surface, moving the voting machines into the halls would have been no problem especially for the College of General Studies. But a problem did arise on account of this action. Due to the great number of people using the hallway as it had been intended to be used, the hallway was far from being isolated. In the past, E125 was used and the one person voting and the one working the machine were the only students near the machines.

Another aspect of this was that there were voting machines in the hall, one for every department, and a greater number of personnel was needed. This area of responsibility falls directly upon the Election Board of Control, the student senators, and those who signed to serve on the election committee. Those students who were supposed to work in the election and did not added to the burden of those students who had to work overtime. I cannot commend those interested students enough.

Members of the Election Control Board, those selected by departments in Senatorial caucuses, should have been ever-present to safeguard the rights of their constituents.

One impression was that a student voted twice. His name was seen written on the registration list and he was seen leaving the booths twenty-five minutes later. On investigation it was found that the student's name had indeed been written on the registration list. It was done by the registrar's office since the student had changed departments. When he was seen leaving the voting booth, it was only after he had identified himself and signed the registration list as he was supposed to do.

Students who had graduated last quarter or dropped out of school were on the registration lists. It was the impression that there were votes cast for those students. On closer examination it would have been noted that those who were registered, on block, or out of school for the quarter were carefully indicated. Another false impression leading to rumor.

Candidates for office were seen in the area of voting booths and in some instances actually registering voters and being near the machines. It was the responsibility of the whole Election Board of Control to prevent this,

Hellenic Holiday Hoopla

There was much crying and moaning after last year's Spring Weekend that the load was becoming too much; that the cost of participating was becoming phenomenal; and that the man hours involved ( at the cost of class hours ) was reaching astronomical figures. Meetings were held as a post-mortem between all of the participants to arrive at an answer, and IFC itself issued a statement as to their feeling on the relative worths of the various segments of the weekend.

The end result of all this self examination was the proposal early this year that the carnival and the indoor advertising be discontinued, and that only outdoor advertising and the float remain. The very logical idea behind this was of course to eliminate the adverse factors that have been mentioned. At that time there was mass agreement ( or at least no dissension) that this arrangement would profit all. Things have changed.

With the withdrawl of Sigma Pi fraternity earlier this month from Spring Weekend, the Spring Weekend committee and Student Council once again find themselves behind the eight ball. Just when they felt that they had solved the problems of their weekend, it apparently appears that they have not. Sigma Pi, in its letter to the other participants in the weekend and the committee cited as their reasons many of those which had been previously put forth. It would have taken more money than they cared to spend on such temporary displays, then they have a house which they must maintain, and where they feel the money could be more profitably invested; their winter quarter grade point average was below par, and they felt the standards of the fraternity would be even more hindered by a quarter's effort toward Spring Weekend; and lastly it was opinion of Sigma Pi that the tensions and pressures of the event affected adversely the bond of brotherhood that is the mainstay of any fraternal organization.

The Reporter can neither criticize nor condone the action of Sigma Pi. It was a difficult decision, and they did what they felt best for their membership. We do wonder however, why this reasoning was not heard much sooner, say around Fall Quarter, when steps might have been taken to remedy the situation. As for the Committee and the Student Council, the bomb that has been laid at their table bears much investigation and evaluation lest it explode and leave nothing but a crater where Spring Weekend used to be.

The Young Lady Returns

Each year, with a slow trembling step, a young lady arrives in Rochester. Whenever she comes through, there is a certain Old Man who stubbornly refuses to admit or accept her presence.

And so each year she must face the vestiges of this Old Man who is unwilling to relinquish his grip on a city that is noted for one of her favorite projects—flowers.

It is not long before she matures and blossoms, ousting the cold blows of the Old Man and his deadening effect on life, and providing the warm mists for a life awakening and beginning on its eternal journey.

Vernal equinox they impersonally call her; but to all she is the sign of freshness, the period of planning and preparation, and a time of goodness.

Yes, Spring is here in Rochester—somewhere.

Dear Editor:

Recently I received a copy of the RIT Reporter. Parts of it are quite good. But you have spoiled it by color prints of the Genesee Brewery. Why? With all the plants like Ritter's, Kodak, Delco, and numerous other factories you have to put these prints in your paper.

Now, if young people want to drink I suppose they will. But it is a sad commentary that RIT alumni have to have a cocktail hour before a reunion dinner. Not long ago, some Hochstein students gave a program for some big wigs of RIT. These children had to wait until their betters(?) had their cocktails. What an example! I give to Hochstein.

I'm also a graduate of Geneseo. Every year at our annual alumni dinner they invite you to a cocktail hour first.

I understand a sort of tavern is to be built on RIT's campus in Henrietta. You know, I would gladly give to RIT Fund except for this.

I'm a retired teacher of 34 years' service in Rochester. I'm not narrow minded; in fact, quite the opposite. But when one sees a young neighbor with three young children drink himself to death it makes one heartsick.

Please don't send me any more of your papers. I'm just not interested. I asked for this favor two years ago because of a most immoral letter in the paper. Matter of fact one of your professors wrote a letter criticizing it.

Dear Editor:

WRIT wishes to thank the Reporter for the excellent publicity given us and wishes to take this time to answer some questions raised by Richard Neidich in last week's Reporter.

What Jerry Lewis meant by "comprehensive" I couldn't say. Comprehensive could mean a larger listening audience than any other station as was the case in the two surveys taken in the dorm last quarter. Incidentally, in both surveys WITR showed up on the bottom of the list and in the second survey, no one was tuned to WITR.

As to the question of our projected income, it was originally reported as being $505 (Dorm Council Minutes, Apr. 6) which included any possible beer ads. In this light, the figure in Mr. Lewis column is correct.

Our actual income thus far this quarter is $377 with a projected income of over $500 due to the recent publicity.

Almost everything Mr. Neidich has to say about our proposed FM transmission is correct but the following points. should be expanded upon:

- 1. The advertising now is to offset the initial cost of our proposed FM.
- 2. If we get an educational license, it is not necessary to be on the air all year.
- 3. A five to eight mile radius will cover the entire city and reach into the suburbs.

WRIT had been aware of all the points Mr. Neidich came up with for some time before making the proposal public and in this light I question Mr. Neidich's motives for writing the letter that appeared in the last issue of the Reporter. I also question why Mr. Neidich chose not to mention that he is a member of the Board of Directors of WITR; perhaps they wish to remain anonymous.

The last point is best covered by discussing the Reporter's editorial which asked for a merger between the two stations. Such a merger could come about as I see no reason that a Student Senate-Dorm Council radio station couldn't function as a working campus station. One thing has to be kept in mind however, that is that a radio station is not superior because of its equipment but rather because of its management and staff. WRIT has proved in the past two quarters that its management and staff are far superior to WITR's and therefore I feel that WRIT could take its present staff over to the Student Union and inside of a year, give the students of RIT an operating campus radio station.

Dear Editor:

I have just seen the Talisman Film Festival presentation of "The Ballad of a Soldier." This film was the most beautiful film I have ever seen. But where were the students? At the 10 o'clock showing there were three members of the Student Activities Board, one Senator, four students, and three instructors. At the four showings a total of less than 80 people.

After having seen the questionnaires filled out by 25 per cent of the student body you begin to wonder what they actually want. In the questionnaire the consensus of opinion was overwhelming in its desire to have more cultural activities on campus. After tonight's movie I wonder where the student support is.

The comment of all those at the movie was the same—"beautiful." I wish to congratulate John Patterson and the Cultural Committee for presenting this movie. It is too bad the "cultural minded" students did not attend.

Spring fever manifests itself in many outward signs but perhaps the most common is 'spring dress.' As the long cold days of winter slowly disintegrate into the warm loose days of summer the clothing begins to make the same change. At RIT this could be disastrous.

Heaven knows we at RIT could never win an award as the best dressed students in the world, nor is this author advocating that we try. I am advocating that we try to improve our dress during school hours.

As a downtown college we must assume certain responsibilities that many suburban colleges find no problem. One is the responsibility to dress suitably for our urban surroundings. People judge a school by its constituents. Because RIT is not only in the center of the city, but also in the center of civic offices, there are many prominent people who view us every day.

One must admit that a sweaty sweat shirt and a pair of dirty dungarees by no means shed a very responsible light. This dress is fine in the dorms, on a picnic, while painting or scrubbing, but not while going to class.

There is also the person no one has to look at to see what he is wearing: they hear him coming!

This may be college and all that, but the person clothing himself this way for classes loses in three ways. While clothed in this type of attire it is doubtful that he will concentrate to the degree necessary to do proper work in class. Second, he sheds a bad light not only on the Institute, but everyone connected with it. And lastly, if the Institute loses, so does he.

I do not advocate that everyone dress up to come to school but rather to dress as responsible, mature thinking college students. It is a challenge we should meet, for as we grow, so does RIT, not vice versa. Save the "grubby clothes" for play.

The final examination in a psychology course at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, consisted of only one question.

The Oklahoma Daily said the professor wrote on the blackboard: "Why?"

The professor refused to explain the question, leaving students to their own imagination. One student received an "A" with a one-word answer: "Because."

News from Institute Alumni

Norman Kent (A '25) recently conducted a lecture and art critique at Douglass College, New Brunswick, N. J., under the sponsorship of the New Brunswick Art Center. Mr. Kent, a well known artist, author, art instructor, illustrator, and plate-maker, was awarded the Outstanding Alumni Award in 1961.

Sherman Explains

and by so doing, prevent possible problems arising about the validity of the election. As far as this year's election, all registration lists and voting machines were double checked and there is no reason to doubt the validity of this election.

We can all ask ourselves as to the value of this message and wonder if it was really worth putting all the cards on the table. It would have been a lot easier to have forgotten the whole thing and let it bury itself in the summer. But here is a case in point where rumors spread through the Institute could have been detrimental to the efficient operation of the student government next year.

It is about time we students realize that there is no perfect system and that everything we do can change of necessity. It also points out the fact that with a little bit of investigation the truth is not hard to find.

This also points out the area of responsibility of the president of the Student Senate. In the area of delegated authority, it is his responsibility to make sure the rights of the student are protected. So with this and with the clear conscience that all charges levied at the recent Student Senate elections are without substantiation, I now declare the election legal and final.

Evening College Awards ISO Management Diploma

Annual Management Convention held in the Chamber of Commerce. Graduates representing 50 area industries and businesses, have successfully completed one or more of the diploma programs offered by the Management Division of RIT's Evening College.

Dr. Forrest H. Kirkpatrick, assistant to the chairman of Wheeling Steel Corp., will address the graduates. Also participating in the program will be Dr. Mark Ellingson, RIT president; Vernon R. Titus, director of the Management Division, and Donald McMaster, chairman of the Industrial Management Council.

Dr. Kirkpatrick, a student of the art and science of management, is a member of the Industrial Relations Committee of the National Association of Manufacturers, the Advisory Council on Personnel Administration of the National Industrial Conference Board, serves on the boards of the Ohio Manufacturers' Assoc., and the West Virginia Manufacturers' Assoc., is a member and past president of the Board of Governors of West Virginia University, and a member of the National Institute of Industrial Psychology in Great Britain.

Faculty Members

Chosen to Serve

SQC Seminar

Faculty members for the 14th annual program of Statistical Quality Control for the Graphic Industries, sponsored by RIT, on June 8-12, were announced today by Arlo DeWinter, assistant director of RIT's Extended Services Division.

Serving on the faculty will be: Shirley Rasmussen, quality control staff, S. Curtiss & Son, Inc.; William M. Cranston, Bindery and Finishing Superintendent, Western Printing & Lithographing Co.; Donald Macaulay, president of Paper and Printing Quality Control, Inc.; Prof. Albert D. Rickmers, School of Photography, RIT; Warren L. Rhodes, director, Graphic Arts Research Dept., RIT; B. E. Sooy, vice president, manufacturing, S. Curtis & Son, Inc.; Edward E. Stephenson, production services manager of the Sutherland Paper Co.; Dr. Mason E. Westcott, The Statistics Center, Rutgers University.

Applications for enrollment must be received by June 1. Sessions begin promptly at 8:30 on Monday, June 8 at Rochester's Treadway Inn. Tuition for the complete program, including supplies, papers presented, five luncheons and coffee breaks, is $250.

The week-long program will conclude on Friday, June 12, with the presentation at lunch of the seventh annual RIT-SQC Award, given annually to the individual who has made the greatest contribution in quality control for the graphic industries.

Ontario's Alumni Elect Officers

The Ontario Alumni Club of Phi Sigma Kappa recently elected officers for the coming year. Presiding over the Rochester area club will be Jerry P. Huffman (Elec '61). Jerry, who is an engineer with General Railway Signal Co., will be remembered as an outstanding RIT wrestler. Other officers elected were: Jim Carey (Bus Adm '63), vice president and secretary; and Franz Griswold (Bus Adm '63), as treasurer.

Since its beginning in February 1963, the club has had a number of social activities and has made a number of contributions to the local chapter. The club awarded a total of $180 to undergraduates for academic achievement. Included in this figure was a $75 grant to Donald De Fazio (Photo 3), which was awarded at the fraternity's Founder's Day Banquet.

Superduperman Member Of Ripsnorter Staff!

by Judy Cohen

Our story begins low in the offices of that fighting newspaper, The Ripsnorter! An incredibly miserable and emaciated-looking figure shuffles around. For this is the assistant to the copy boy . . . Clark Bent, who is in reality, SUPERDUPERMAN!

"ASSISTANT COPY BOY!"

"I'll tell you why I called you in, Fink. It's payroll time. Here are your week's wages. Twenty-five cents and a good bus token—spend it wisely!"

"Twenty-five whole cents! At last—after scrimping and saving for four years, I now have $50 . . . enough to make a down payment on that mink sweatshirt for Lois Pain, girl reporter!"

"Well, here I am with the mink sweatshirt! Lois says I'm a creep hah! Boy if she knew my real identity, she wouldn't call me a creep . . . 00p! There's Lois at a big meeting with the managing editor."

(At the meeting) "Listen gang, a big story is about to break! The unknown monster has been terrorizing Rottenchester for months and the police are helpless. The unknown monster has announced when and where he will strike! This story is hot hot hot!! I want you to go out there gang. I want you to fight, I want you to die for the good ol' Ripsnorter, gang. Now get that story, gang!"

(Hiding in the trash can) "Psst, Lois!"

"Whataya want, you incredibly wretched creep?"

"Please, don't chase me away. I got a present for you."

"Another mink sweatshirt . . . wad dit set you back?"

"Please, I spent my life's savings!"

"Thanks, creep. Now go away . . . you bother me."

"Ha, boy! She should only know I'm more powerful than a locomotive!" The unknown monster, eh. This is a job for Superduperman! I'll just go into this phone booth and change into my costume."

"Now, I'll just take off my shirt . . . sweater . . . under-shirt . . . knickers . . . T-shirt . . . vest . . . swim trunks brush my teeth . . . wash my feet . . . and stand revealed as . . . SUPERDUPERMAN!"

"Now to the window . . . on to the sill . . . up, up, and A-W-A-Y-Y-Y-Y!"

Well, readers, we never will find out what happened with Superduperman and the monster, but we did get a good look at a typical newspaper office, right? Right! A typical newspaper office is full of adventure, hot news, and heaven knows what all. Yessir, a newspaper office is a great place for people to meet with all kinds of scoops and unbelievable happenings of the day. If you, too, want to be a part of a great newspaper, now's the time to join up!

Come down to the Reporter office in the Clark basement to sign up or drop a note in the Reporter folder across from E-125. You, too, can be a Clark Bent!

By this time most of you who read this page regularly have seen the questionnaire beneath this story. In fact some of you have filled out the form and dropped it off outside the Reporter office in the basement of the Clark Building. We have received 549 questionnaires already and we are hoping for more every week. We need 1000.

It is a great feeling to know that students really care about athletics at RIT and do read the sports page in the Reporter.

We have been writing in favor of athletic scholarships all year. It is time that the students express their opinions on the subject. There is little sense in our preaching over empty pews or talking Kinsey to the DAR. We need a reaction of some sort to let us know whether or not our efforts are in vain. All we can do is ask you to fill out the form if you have not already done so.

- ☐ I feel that RIT should offer athletic scholarships.
- ☐ I feel that RIT should continue its policy of no grants in aid to athletes, thereby giving all students an equal opportunity to participate on RIT varsity teams.
- ☐ I do at present, or have in the past, played a varsity sport at the Institute.

Bob Davenport, Doug Mantegna Elected Soccer Co-Captains

by Nick Cerchio

In a recent meeting the RIT soccer team elected its co-captains for the 1964 season. Elected were Bob Davenport and last year's captain, Doug Mantegna. Both will be playing their last year of varsity soccer for the team.

Bob is a third year student in the Mechanical Department and makes his home in Spencerport, N.Y. He will be playing his third year on the soccer team.

Doug is a third year student in the School for American Craftsmen and commutes to and from school from Honeoye Falls. Mantegna was elected to the second string all-state soccer team last year.

Doug Mantegna

In the way of new players for the squad next season will be a number of boys that Coach Dickie hopes will bolster the team. He is looking to these boys (who include a number of transfer students) to provide the backbone for the team this fall.

Along with all-stater Mantegna will be another all-stater, Rudy Siciliano. Rudy played on the team two years ago and made the all-state first team. He then had to return to Italy for a year but is back now and will participate this fall.

One of the most promising new prospects will be Broome Tech transfer Rodger DuBois. Rodger made the junior all-American squad in 1962 and performed excellently for the Broome Tech squad.

Frank Ferruzza will be returning to the line-up this year after he was forced to sit out a year due to a knee injury. Frank had to have an operation to repair the knee but will be in playing condition come fall.

Lettermen's Club To Hold Election Of New Officers

There will be an important meeting of the RIT Lettermen's Club on Monday, April 27, at 7 p.m., in the Student Union at 90 Troup St.

Of primary importance will be the election of new officers and the formation of new committees which will guide the club for the next academic year.

The meeting is open to all athletes who have received a letter in any of the eight varsity sports offered by the Institute. This does not exclude those who have not joined the Lettermen's Club. Anyone who has not officially joined may do so at this meeting.

All athletes who have received their varsity letter are encouraged to attend.

Visual Victors

Winners in the Creative Arts Festival Photo Contest were Ron Sherman, first place; Ken Spencer, second place; and Brock Palmer, third place. The show was held last week at 50 Main St., W.

More than 100 prints were submitted and judged by Prof. Robert G. Koch and Prof. Charles A. Arnold Jr.

Al Marshall, another transfer, and Matt Deutcher are also among the new boys to watch. Rounding out the new faces is Jorge Rivas, a foreign student from Mexico. Coach Dickie says that he has great hopes for this boy.

The team will have a practice game with Syracuse University soccer team this Saturday at 2 p.m., on the Cobbs Hill pitch. All are invited to see a preview of next year's team.
