'Spirit' Put To Sleep To Relieve Suffering

Last Tuesday morning, Sept. 29, the official mascot of RIT was put to sleep by the Seneca Park Zoo veterinarian. The tiger, known as "Spirit," had been suffering from a pelvic constriction.

Spirit, born July 29, 1963, was acquired for the school by three interested students who called themselves the "Tiger Committee." The cat was flown to Rochester Oct. 29, 1963 and was kept at Seneca Park Zoo. Over the months following his arrival, he made a number of appearances on TV and at the RIT campus. To help pay for Spirit, shares of "Tiger Stock" were sold at one dollar each to students and faculty. The $1,000 goal was reached within several months; well before payment was due on the loan secured from Student Senate.

At the beginning of the summer, several physical difficulties were noticed in Spirit. His right front leg seemed to be deformed, and his hind legs seemed unable to properly support the tigers' 125 lbs. Recent investigation of the mascot's health revealed the front leg deformity to be correctable, and the hind leg difficulty, caused by a calcium deficiency, was treated and corrected almost immediately.

Later examination at Cornell Veterinary School disclosed a pelvic constriction. After study, it was felt that treatment was impossible and that Spirit should be put to sleep to save him more pain.

Louis DeSabato, director of the zoo, has said that a new male will be procured as soon as possible. He has further stated that it will be considered RIT's mascot and a suitable presentation will take place.

The Tiger Committee has arranged a suitable resting place for the mascot's remains and for saving the skin of Spirit.

New Athletic Staff Announced

Louis A. Alexander Jr., RIT director of athletics, has announced the appointment of Miss Janet Prock as instructor of women's physical education, and Bruce Proper as freshman coach.

Miss Prock, 22, a native of Cleveland, is a graduate of Capital University, Columbus Ohio. She recently completed studies for a Master's Degree in Physical Education at Indiana University.

Miss Prock will be responsible for the women's physical education and recreational program succeeding Mrs. Marie Nuttal, who has retired after 25 years at the Institute.

Proper, a former All-County athlete at Brighton High School, was selected by the Athletic Committee from a group of 74 applicants to succeed Bob Klos who resigned from the Institute staff last spring as frosh basketball coach. Proper will also coach the frosh teams in soccer and baseball. Dario Armanini, Institute trainer, has been frosh baseball coach for the past two seasons. Head soccer coach Jim Dickie has also handled the freshmen.

Proper, 28, was a three time All-County baseball catcher at Brighton where he was graduated in 1954. After a year at the New York Military Academy, he entered Ithaca College, starring in baseball and graduating in '59. He received a bonus from the Los Angeles Dodgers and played with their farm system teams at Green Bay, Wisc., Odessa, Texas, and Orlando, Fla.

Women's Housing Augmented With Lease of Perkins Hall

Additional housing for 71 women students has been acquired by RIT with the leasing recently of Perkins Hall at 521 Main St. W. The hall was formerly used by nursing students at Rochester General Hospital, Westside Div.

Perkins Hall will be operated on the same basis as Kate Gleason Hall with five advisors and a head resident, Mrs. Belle Lyman. The new hall will be represented on the Women's Residence Halls Council.

According to Miss Deanne Molinari, head of the Women's Housing Dept., the building is composed of single rooms with a comfortable lounge on each floor and a beautiful lobby on the main floor. There are kitchenettes on each floor which will enable the girls to have snacks and coffee while putting in long hours of studying. They will not cook meals in the hall. In the basement is a recreation room which the coeds will use to let off excess energy.

The reaction of the students residing in Perkins Hall is very enthusiastic. They are happy with the setup and are somewhat envied by the girls living in Kate Gleason Hall. The only drawback is the few blocks that will have to be walked in order to get to classes. And, of course, the male students of RIT will find it a little farther to travel on a cold day to see the young ladies in their lives.

Fraternities Hold 3 Day Workshop Over Summer

The men of RIT's fraternities were on the move this summer. For the first time since the founding of the fraternities, Interfraternity Council sponsored a Greek Workshop. The three day meeting was held before the start of the fall quarter. It was the beginning of a movement to upgrade the fraternities and provide a closer brotherhood among the greek letter organizations.

The Workshop consisted of five sessions which were conducted for three days. The program was opened by RIT's president, Dr. Mark Ellingson. Other Institute speakers included Keith Mosley, Director, Information Services; Dr. James B. Campbell, Vice President, Student Personnel Services; A. Stephen Walls, Director, Student Activities; James Carey, Assistant to Director, Alumni Relations; and Thomas Strader, IFC advisor.

Other speakers present at the workshop were Dr. Alexander Cameron, dean of students at the University of Rochester; Jack White, national field representative for Phi Sigma Kappa; and Allen Fredd, Sigma Pi field representative.

Decem Jani Observes RIT Problem Areas

Formed only two short years ago, Decem Jani has left an indelible mark in the improvement of the Institute. "DJ" functions in an advisory capacity and acts as a liaison between students and administration and faculty. The Board was formed as a result of student concern over the lack of a medium for student opinion to be heard.

Students often talk of problems at the Institute, recommend suggestions, request implementation of these suggestions, but are seldom informed as to the effects of their recommendations. Student Association, important as it is, has a function too broad in scope to allow it to spend any considerable amount of time on any one particular problem.

The precise purposes and objectives of Decem Jani are spelled out in its Statement of Purpose: ". . . to discover and investigate present and potential problem areas; advise the proper Institute segment of any ideas or projects that would aid in the development and progress of the Institute. The Board shall have no authority, but shall recommend to the responsible center(s) concerned, their solution to a given problem area. The Board shall not restrict itself to any particular area, but shall serve the entire Institute — students, faculty, and administration.

"The work of the Board shall be in the interests of furthering the aims and objectives of the entire Institute, directly reflecting the best interests of the students."

Decem Jani takes as much time as it feels necessary in investigating and deliberating problem areas. As stated in the Purpose, the Board intends to serve the entire Institute community.

Students serving on the Board are selected on the basis of maturity and the segment of the student population they represent. These areas include married and single students, men and women, fraternal members and non-members, those living in RIT housing, fraternity housing, apartments, and at home.

The Board is composed of juniors and seniors. Students once selected to serve on the Board will serve as long as they remain at the Institute as undergraduate students. New members are selected by the incumbent Board members in the spring of each year.

Decem Jani, the Board's name, has definite implications. "Decem" is Latin for ten. "Jani" is plural for Janus, the Roman God of beginnings and endings, and openings and closings. Janus had two faces, allowing him to look both forward and backward at the same time.

Past chairmen of the Board are Larry Downs (Bus Adm '63) and Bill Wing (Photo '64). Serving as chairman this year is Kingsley Jackson (Pr 4). Members of the Board, except for the chairman and secretary, remain anonymous.

Anyone wanting to contact Decem Jani can do so through its folder in the main corridor of the Eastman building.

A Trip Through Life

And passed through the Harbor of Adolescence.
And now, in my little Boat called
Life,
I am setting sail in the Ocean
called Time.
But what will happen between now
And the time I reach the Shore of the Future?

Letters to the Editor

Dear Student Body:

We have lost a dear friend! Our mascot was born on July 29, 1963 at the Dallas Zoo. I first saw our 20 lb. bundle of fur at 2 a.m. Oct. 29, 1963. During that fall Spirit appeared at many school events until at 94 lbs. he was a bit too large to handle.

Spirit was purchased through contributions of students, administration, and friends of the Institute. He was a spoiled bundle of fun who wanted only to be with the students he loved.

By March Spirit acquired a female companion named Tina; and the first of his ailments appeared in a malformed front paw.

Later, treatment was begun for a calcium deficiency. Nearing completion for this treatment a pelvic constriction allowing no discharge of waste matter compounded his misery and forced the humane decision to put him to sleep.

Although he died before he could sire offspring he did accomplish what was requested of him: he raised to the highest degree in history Student Pride in R.I.T.

I can not say—but. I only hope
My little Boat will not sink.
I hope the water will not be rough,
And also that they won't be smooth.
For if they are completely
smooth—
I'll never learn how to handle my Craft.

Greek Talk

by Harold O'Rourke

With the hustle and bustle of your first few weeks of college life, you will notice the fraternities swinging into their fall pledging programs as they take a keen interest in you. Ultimately you will be faced with a decision whether you wish to affiliate with one of these groups or whether you wish to remain on the outside.

When a man leaves college and goes out into the world, he is faced with a much different life than he experienced at school. The world is no longer defined. You are not given a list of assignments that you must complete and then either pass or fail. The things that you do are up to you, and you alone.

A man must learn to work with other people and not simply a textbook. In our technical world of today a good education is a must. Even so, a highly technical education may prove harmful. If a student's life is centered exclusively upon studies, he will lose touch with a great part of the real world.

A student's life should be a testing ground. He must learn to use the education he received at college. He cannot become completely encircled by the exacting world of the university, or he will become merely a magnet picking up small filings of information and not being able to apply them.

Interfraternity Council feels that a fraternity provides an environment in which a man can learn to work with people and practice many of the ideas he otherwise would only memorize for classes. These ideas are expanded with his interactions among his fellow brothers. He learns to use his ideas and accept new ones. This combination of social and technological education will help every man to become an individual with an understanding of life. He can use this education to deal with his fellow man-- not merely operate a slide rule!

Beware the Gripping Upperclassmen!

Freshmen! Don't listen to upperclassmen. They don't know what they're talking about. Too often gullible freshmen listen in awe to an 'o so wise' upperclassman who, while smoking a cigarette and downing a stimulating beverage in a local establishment, unwinds a tale of woe and disillusionment regarding RIT. Hours later the freshman leaves the upperclassman and says to himself, "If this is true, boy, did I ever make a mistake in coming to RIT!"

Well, wait a minute. Isn't it rather stupid for an upperclassman to return to a school he doesn't like? He spends well over two thousand dollars a year for an education and if he feels that he isn't receiving what he expected, then why stay? Yet he sits down for a few hours and complains about instructors, courses, or the Institute, but does he realize that many schools and departments of the Institute are of world renown and recognized leaders in their fields?

Yes we're in pretty sad shape here at RIT. Do you know why? It's because we have too many conversationalists and not enough do-ers. Changes will not occur nor improvements be made if nothing is done to effect their change.

Freshmen, think for yourselves, know the facts, then see the right people (department heads, instructors, Decem Jani, Student Senate, and many others). You have made an investment in your future and you should be willing to protect it. Your diploma will be worth, not only the effort you put into it, but will be backed by the reputation RIT has as a fine educational institution. Apply, Freshmen, what the Institute is trying to instill in you — think, then act.

Interest—First Step Toward Goal

Now that classes are one week old and the puzzle of wondering how the courses would be has passed, many RIT students will begin to take time to look at their school.

Some will be sure to see that RIT offers many things that cannot be found on other campuses. Technically, RIT is a fine school, and it is approaching many liberal schools on their own non-technical level. This is where the Reporter comes into play.

Twice each year the Associated Collegiate Press rates college newspapers. This rating is based on the number of times per week the paper is published and the size of the school. Last year the Reporter received a Class A rating. There is one rating higher than Class A — that of All American, and this could be the goal of the Reporter with the help of the student body. With the help of the Reporter could rank on the highest level among nearly 500 college papers.

One main requirement is interest, not experience. The Reporter has an opening in every position from editors to production staff. If you are interested fill out an application form and put it in the box in front of the Reporter office in the Clark Building or in the Reporter folder across from E-125.

Rinfret Emphasizes Precautionary Measures for All RIT Students

Melvyn P. Rinfret, Institute Director of Housing, has outlined security measures for incoming freshmen. He points out that as RIT is located in the downtown area of the city, and as many students live in relatively unsupervised, or unprotected, apartments, it is wise to review some of the problem areas.

In any city there is more opportunity for burglarizing, attacks, and similar incidents of a problem nature. Because of this, it is necessary first to employ all of the precautionary measures available, and second, to be prepared to act properly in the event of any incident, Mr. Rinfret said.

First, in order to prevent possible burglary, it is advisable to keep all doors locked and all windows closed when not in an apartment. It is especially wise to remember, especially when the weather is warm, that it is better to return to a stuffy apartment that is secure rather than to one that has been burglarized. In this one simple way, we can avoid the loss of many valuable clothes, equipment, etc.

Second, regardless of our place of residence, we should review what action to take if we have been burglarized or attacked. Generally speaking, it is usually better if we do not handle the situation by ourselves; indeed, the police department of the city of Rochester is keenly alert to all of our present and potential problems. In case of burglary, we should contact the police at LO 2-9400 and the Institute at LO 2-8195 as soon as possible, regardless of time of day. In case of attack, we should be able to judge whether we can escape, or whether we must protect ourselves. In either case, the incident should be reported immediately to the police, and then, to the Institute. We are all advised to avoid trouble if at all possible, to avoid any potential troublesome area, and to travel with companions. We should also remind ourselves that it is against the law to keep or carry concealed weapons; and, therefore this method of self-protection must be avoided.

As we remain in this downtown area we shall continue to be extremely concerned over the welfare and safety of all of our students. Therefore, we shall continue to investigate and follow through on all possibilities in order to fulfill this end. One major improvement has been the creation of a central communications area, located in Kate Gleason Hall, our main women's residence hall. Here, our Pinkerton staff is radio-equipped to answer immediately any emergency call to LO 2-8195.

Although we do not anticipate any severe problems concerning safety, we do feel it is best to be prepared to act properly in the event of any unusual situation. Therefore, we urge all of the students, whether entering or returning, whether in the residence halls or out in town, and whether resident or commuting, to review carefully the points in this article, in order that any action needed would be in the nature of routine, Mr. Rinfret concluded.

Student Parking Rules Outlined

Just like most other downtown institutions, RIT has a parking problem. It is easy to identify the problem — too many cars and not enough parking spaces — but somewhat more difficult to solve.

For other additional reasons, it is Institute policy not to recommend or encourage students to keep cars on campus. There are always security risks, police regulations on street parking, and developing neighborhood problems.

If, however, a student finds it necessary to use the student parking lots, then an official parking sticker must be purchased for each quarter the facilities are needed.

The Institute Bursar, David B. Calman, has indicated that cost of parking stickers will be $3 per quarter, except for the Winter quarter when the cost will be $4. Calman also notes that proper auto registration is required for purchase of a sticker.

The Bursar also points out that student parking lots are patrolled, and $5 fines are assessed for parking violations.

The Song of Silver

The clear beauty of natural ice is graced only by rabbit, fox, and snow, But under the control of man is bound and held to support novice, amateur, and pro.

Infant weakness, awkward and proven grace, all on common ground; From hence timeless hours of a cheerful heart, and boundless practice, a cheerful heart, and boundless spirit produce the ever rising strains of The song of silver.

Craig Babcock

Student Center to Feature Talisman Film Festival

The 1964-65 Talisman Film Festival will present a distinguished list of "significant" motion pictures from a world-wide collection which traces the artistic and entertainment history of the cinema, according to John H. Patterson, Cultural Committee Chairman and Thomas B. Barker, Festival Manager.

The series which begins this Saturday, October 3 with Sergi M. Eisenstein's classic Potemkin includes films from all the world centers of motion picture production. France, Italy, India, Sweden, Japan, Poland, U.S.S.R., and Great Britain as well as the United States are represented in the series of 17 programs which are to be shown in the Student Activities Center Theatre.

To enable more students to attend this year's showings, a special series subscription ticket has been designed and will sell on a limited number basis for five dollars (a saving of almost half) for the entire program. Guests of the Festival will be admitted for the usual fifty cents that was charged last year.

An innovation of this year's Festival which stresses that the educated man must be cinematic as well as literate will be detailed program notes that will attempt to show the reasons for the significance of film and how it fits into the development of cinema art. These notes, a free bonus, given to all attending the showings will provide a solid background for the study of cinema and the intelligent viewing of the motion picture which has emerged as the international art of the twentieth century.

Navy Recruiters To Visit Campus

On Oct. 7 the Navy Officer Information Team from the Buffalo Navy Recruiting Station will be at RIT for the express purpose of explaining to interested Juniors and Seniors the opportunity available as a commissioned Naval Officer.

This information team will have full particulars on Officer Candidate School, Navy Nurse Corps, Medical, Dental, Staff, Supply, and others. Qualifications differ for the various programs and this visit will afford students the opportunity to determine which program they are best suited for.

Student Union Activities

"Where are you going?" "Down to the Student Union." "Student Union, I think I have been there once in two years! There is nothing there." "You don't know what you are missing. Over 15 organizations now hold office space, in the Union." "An Inter-Org office, huh?" "Not only that, free coffee is now available at all times. There is plenty of space to relax, watch TV, play cards, read, or even play ping-pong. The Union has been completely remodeled, and all by students. The Student Association has added new light fixtures, coat racks and other facilities. It is a great place for an organizational meeting. It is close to the Inter-Org office, Student Association office and student central duplicating facilities. All organizational mail comes there also." "The Union doesn't sound like a bad place after all." "I told you, you didn't know what you were missing!" "Come on, how about a game of ping-pong?" "Great, let's go!" # Pitchmen Defeated; Cross Country Win

Dan Gersey led the cross country team to a season opening win last Saturday as the Tigers trounced the St. John Fisher Cardinals 40 to 21.

A Freshmen Daze picnic crowd of 1200 watched Gersey sprint to the lead at the gun and steadily pull away from the rest of the runners with only Mike Connor of Fisher staying in competition. Gersey maintained a 10 second lead throughout the first half of the race, then slowly pulled away from Connor and coasted home a full 36 seconds ahead of the Cardinals fleet runner.

Harald Lorentzen of RIT finished third, followed by the Tiger's Fred Franke. The other squad members are Jim Hartsig, Ron Sinack, Dick Poole, Art Wiley, Marty Bender, Pete Kosowyk, and Leo Derkowski.

The win against Fisher is considered a good sign for the varsity harriers with only Franke and Sinack returning from last year's squad. The next big hurdles are against the University of Buffalo at Buffalo and the LeMoyne Invitational in Syracuse.

The following entering freshmen will be on the freshman cross country team: Charles Benet, James High, Fred Higham, Richard Payler, David Brown, Douglas Madden, David Higgins, Gerald Melino, Carl Grove, Robert Pryce Jones, Thomas Dougherty, and Donald Johnson.

St. John Fisher College scrambled to a 3-1 upset win over the soccer team last Saturday in the season opener which highlighted the Freshmen Daze picnic.

The fired-up Cardinals maintained control of the ball throughout much of the game and were aggressive on defense. Time after time the men from Fisher drove in close to the Tiger nets and only fine defensive play by center halfback Tom Morris and goalie Andy Davidhazy kept the game scoreless throughout the first half.

The Tigers came back strong at the beginning of the second half and were on the scoreboard first on a goal by Jorge Rivas. That, however, was the extent of Tiger scoring for the afternoon despite several near misses in close to the goal. Faulty passing on the part of the Tigers was capitalized on by the Cardinals and they soon tied the score and came on to win by the margin of two perfectly placed corner kicks. The upset evened the series between the cross-town rivals at two wins apiece.

Athlete of the Week

Andy Davidhazy

To kick-off this column we have chosen a man who not only has been the backbone of the soccer team for the past three years, but who has also been one of the biggest supporters of the Tiger sports program in general.

Andy Davidhazy is a 22-year old Photo student who, as goalie for the soccer team, has made many fantastic saves in his three years in the nets. Andy's abilities are not limited to his net-minding chores. He is often called upon to play the center-forward position where his hard shots have often penetrated the opponent's goal for that all important point. Andy developed his amazing skills playing in South America for 10 years and at the Boston Latin School. The other team members respect Andy as a leader and have elected him co-captain of this year's squad.

Off the field, Andy is a quiet, easy-going student who may be found at any sports event in which he is not participating, with his camera busily recording the high points of activity. Andy is always willing to discuss the sports program with anyone at any time and has definitely been an asset to the Tiger sports program.

Gersey In Dual Role

Astute observers at the Freshmen Daze Picnic last Saturday may have noticed something unusual happening. At the finish of the cross country race at half-time of the soccer game, Dan Gersey was well out in front of the pack and breezed home to an easy victory. For Dan, however, a four and a half mile run wasn't enough exercise for one day, so he kept right on running . . . into the woods.

Before the last runners had crossed the finish line, Dan emerged from the shrubbery wearing a SOCCER uniform and proceeded to play a major part of the second half at left wing.

Artists, would you like to see your cartoons published? Drop a note in the Reporter folder in the basement of the Clark Building.

Freshmen Daze, the first week of classes, and the first soccer game are all behind us, but ahead lies many weeks of activity, not only academic and social, but also in athletics.

In the past many of our teams have done quite well, some were mediocre, and some weren't very successful at all. It was these latter teams that drew cries of "Why don't we have athletic scholarships?" The ensuing campaign to obtain scholarships all but obliterated the efforts of the men who were participating on the inter-collegiate teams. It was no longer an honor to play on the varsity team. Many players ignored the training rules because they felt there was no one there to replace them. They were right! ! There were no students waiting for a shot at these prized positions.

NOW, however, the days of the playboy who thought he was doing the school a favor by playing on the team are over, dead and gone.

A much more professional atmosphere exists in the locker room and on the field where the no-profanity, no back-talk rules are being enforced to the letter. Training rules are also being enforced. In short, the teams are being given a professional atmosphere to participate in and team members are responding with professional dedication. Any doubters are invited to attend one of the practice sessions of the soccer or cross-country teams.

It is my belief that this school has always had the talent within its walls to produce winning teams as may be witnessed by the many excellent players on the intramural teams. Only a warped attitude toward the varsity teams based on popular, but often untrue, information has kept these men from playing on the team.

Through this article I hope to promote a better appreciation for our inter-collegiate teams and the men on them. Toward this end an "Athlete of the Week" column will appear regularly on this page. It will not necessarily be the hero of the past week's game, but rather a man who has shown consistency in his dedication to his sport.

Behind the Scenes

A warm welcome to the two new members of the Athletic Department, Miss Janet Prock and Mr. Bruce Proper.

Our best wishes for a speedy recovery to soccer halfback Manny Forst who was injured in a pre-season scrimmage with the U of R.

The soccer team will miss the services of Co-Captain Bob Davenport who is recovering from an injury suffered last spring.

Pre-Season Predictions

SOCCER—six wins, five losses—Coach Dickie's team laces a rough schedule early in the season and will be lucky to find their first winning season.

CROSS COUNTRY—four wins—Coach Salmi's squad still lacks the depth required to hold off stronger opponents.

RIT Mourns Loss of Tohjo; Victim of Auto Accident

Yasuji Tohjo (Photo 2), of Suginami, Ku, Japan, was killed in a tragic automobile accident in June.

Tohjo and a friend were returning to Rochester from a trip to Washington, D.C., when the accident occurred.

Yasuji participated in RIT's varsity athletics, obtaining a varsity letter two years in tennis and one in soccer. Last year he was undefeated in all his matches.

Yasuji Tohjo was well-liked on campus and his death grieves all those who knew him.

Plans for memorials to him are underway. Student Council is considering a sportmanship trophy in his name. The Lettermen's Club will undertake a drive to purchase Japanese cherry trees for the new campus.

'65 Frosh Daze a Success

The 22nd of September not only marked the beginning of fall but also the first of many Freshmen Daze events. Annually, as part of the RIT program, volunteer upperclassmen and campus organizations plan a busy week of get-acquainted activities for the incoming freshmen. This year's activities kept new students busier than any previous freshmen class.

At 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, events were kicked-off with a welcoming address by Dr. Mark Ellingson, Institute president, at Ritter-Clark gym. Following the assembly, new students were given an opportunity to visit the major buildings making up the "concrete campus." Later in the evening an informal dance at the gym gave the frosh a moment of relaxation before continuing with another day's activities.

Wednesday marked the day when all freshmen officially became a part of RIT. After fumbling through a dozen IBM cards, completing questionnaires and signing blank lines, registration was completed. Throughout the day, 'Tiger Tours' gave newcomers to Rochester a chance to see points of interest about the city.

During the evening hours on Tuesday and Wednesday, freshmen residents of Institute housing were given a chance to become familiar with the routines of dormitory living. Rules of order and notes of interest were presented by resident hall advisors.

The matter of study, which is often overlooked during Frosh Daze, was given first place on the program for Thursday. In an introduction to academic emphasis, various departmental groups met in the educational research facilities of 50 Main St. West for some helps and ideas on how to study as college students. An open house and dance at Nathaniel Rochester Hall concluded the program.

Friday was the day for fraternities, sororities, clubs, and other campus organizations to make themselves known to the Class of '68. An early morning assembly acquainted new students with the facilities and services of the Institute. Evening entertainment featured the Brandywine Singers in a concert at the gym.

High point of the Frosh Daze program was the picnic held at the new campus site. For many this was the first opportunity to see RIT's new campus construction. Visitors and freshmen also viewed the soccer and cross country teams in action.

RAA Announces Year's Program

RAA holds three quarterly dinners which are sponsored alternately by each of the represented faiths. These are open to the entire student body. It also sponsors the RAA Orientation Dinner for incoming freshmen and Brotherhood Assembly during Brotherhood Week.

The Religious Activities Association attempts to provide a realistic, stimulating force on campus and encourages students to attend and support the churches of their faith.

Located as it is in the downtown area, RIT is within walking distance of several of Rochesters' finest churches.

Newman Club

The RIT Chapter of Newman Club, a national organization for college students of the Roman Catholic faith, is active socially and spiritually. The club holds many communion breakfasts and sponsors religious speakers.

Developing a stronger faith among Catholic students under the guidance of its chaplain, the organization promotes religion, education and social life for its members. The club also sponsors parties for under-privileged children in the area.

Hillel

The purpose of Hillel is to provide the Jewish students of the Institute with a means for gathering together in order to enjoy mutually, through study and discussion, adequate and accurate knowledge of Jewish life.

It seeks to acquaint the student with the faith, literature, history, and the life and thought patterns of the Jewish people.

Among Hillel's activities is a convention lecture series at which many prominent persons have been guest speakers. It also sponsors the Lox and Bagel Breakfast and trips to different colleges during the year to meet with other Hillel chapters.

SCF

Student Christian Fellowship seeks to unify members of Protestant denominations, promote Christian ideals and increase understanding of other religions on campus.

SCF participates in social service projects in the RIT neighborhood and maintains a weekly program of supper meetings and worship services. SCF also holds fall and spring retreats, a fall picnic and a Christmas party.

ICVF

The Inter-Varsity Christ i a n Fellowship encourages students to lead others to personal faith in Jesus Christ, to strengthen spiritual life through study of the Bible and prayer, and to consider Gods' place for them in the world mission of the church.

This group is non-denominational and invites all students and faculty to become members.

Count Basie Ends TEP Weekend

One of America's most popular jazz bands, the incomparable Count Basie with his internationally famous orchestra, will be in Rochester for a concert on Oct. 11 at the Ritter-Clark Memorial Gymnasium, it has been announced by Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity.

At the helm of the orchestra is one of the most talented musicians in the business today, William "Count" Basie. Except for a period in 1950 when he led a swinging sextet, Basie has led a big band continuously for two and a half decades. He has recently been rediscovered by another generation of young Americans by his frequent guest shots on network television.

Count Basie has gained a global reputation for his undying allegiance to the beat, his loyalty to the blues as a basic form, and his ability to produce — year after year — a series of best-selling records.

Housing Policy Released

by Melvyn P. Rinfret
Director of Housing

This year the Recommended Housing Program for all RIT students will continue into its second year; all single students who will be under the age of 21 as of Oct. 1, are required to live in recommended housing facilities.

Many students will fulfill this requirement by living in residence halls. Others will fulfill it by living in fraternity houses, the Powers Hotel, the JYM&WA, the Richford Hotel, or the Brick Church Institute. All of these students will comply with housing policy simply by listing their local address when they register for classes.

Any single student under age 21, and not living at home or in the above-mentioned facilities, however, must follow special procedures in order to fulfill the requirement. Proper procedure includes the following:

Sutherland Named Associate Director, School of Printing

Hector H. Sutherland, faculty advisor to the Reporter, has been appointed associate director of the School of Printing. The appointment, announced by Dr. Leo F. Smith, vice president of academic administration, became effective September 1.

Prof. Sutherland was graduated from Dartmouth College and received his master of arts degree from New York University. He has been professor in the School of Printing since 1954 and has served as assistant to the school's director, Byron G. Culver.

The new appointee holds membership in the Society of Technical Writers and Publishers, International Graphic Arts Education Association, Epsilon Pi Tau fraternity, National Council of College Publication Advisors, and Psi Delta fraternity. In 1963 he was the recipient of a Gannett Newspapers Grant for a special journalism workshop at Syracuse University.

Before coming to RIT, Sutherland taught at the Edgewood School and Greenwich Country Day School in Connecticut and at the West Virginia Institute of Technology. He served with the Air Force during World War II.

His wife is the former Martha Scofield. They have two children, James and Janet.

1. Determination that the housing facility desired is on the recommended housing list. (This information is available in the Housing Office, located in Nathaniel Rochester Hall.)

2. Obtaining of three copies of the Official Rental Agreement from the Housing Office, or from the main desk at Nathaniel Rochester Hall.

3. Completion and submission of all three copies. (The student retains one copy, one copy is left with the householder, and one copy is returned to the Housing Office within one week of occupancy.)

As we have already had one year's experience in this program, a minimum of procedural problems is expected this year. In order to eliminate unnecessary duplication of effort, we are requiring that an Official Rental Agreement be submitted only once for an entire rental period, whether that be one quarter or an entire year. Therefore, be sure to check the proper quarter or quarters that are to be the rental period. (This information is found on the reverse side of the Official Rental Agreement.)

Please be advised, however, that other specific procedures must be followed whenever there is a change of address. These procedures include completion of a Change of Address form, as well as the completion of another Official Rental Agreement. The Change of Address form, obtainable either in the Departmental or Housing Office, is due immediately whenever there is a change of address. The rental agreement for the new facility, completed as described earlier, is due within one week of occupancy.

Please be sure that both you and the householder understand all of the stipulations in the rental agreement. The agreement has been drawn for the benefit of both the householder and the student. It has been reviewed by both students and administration and has been changed where advisable. Two social regulations that bear continual emphasis concern the use of alcohol and entertaining members of the opposite sex. Unless householder and student agree to the contrary, possession of alcohol is allowed, but entertaining members of the opposite sex is prohibited. Any exceptions to these regulations, as well as any exceptions to any regulations, must be listed on the reverse side of the rental agreement under No. 6 before the Official Rental Agreement is submitted to the Housing Office. Other regulations affecting both householder and student should be reviewed just as closely. If the student has any feeling that the facility should not be on the recommended list, he should report this to the Housing Office for investigation. (The facility would not be on the recommended list unless it had passed inspection; however, a violation could have occurred since the time of inspection.)

Please remember also that the householder, if he is renting by the week, can hold you accountable for one week's rent in advance, and if he is renting by the month, can hold you accountable for a full month's rent in advance. New York State law allows a householder to require one week's notice of vacating if you are renting by the week, and one month's notice of vacating if renting by the month. Therefore, in order to protect themselves, many householders may require an extra week or month's rent in advance. In other words, when you originally move into an apartment, the householder may charge you two month's rent in advance.

In addition, many householders may require a security deposit, to protect against damages. When a householder does require such a deposit, be sure that you receive a dated receipt for the exact amount of the deposit. In some cases, the householder may require that you sign for certain specified items provided in the apartment or room; again, be sure that all items mentioned are in good repair before you sign.

The entire program is in operation because the Policy Committee of RIT feels that it is in the best interests of the students. Only by having a program affecting all of the students, whether or not they are in the residence halls, can we provide adequate, safe, and clean accommodations. For this reason it is imperative that all students comply.

The Policy Committee has agreed that students failing to comply should be suspended from classes until such time as they do comply. Please remember that compliance is for everyone's benefit and the Housing Office is available for discussion of any and every problem that may accrue.

Courage consists of being able to hang on one minute longer.
