

Communication Thesis Presentations, Friday, 9 November

Bruce A. Austin baagl@rit.edu

5 November 2007

The Department of Communication invites the university community to two presentations of undergraduate research by Advertising & Public Relations majors on Friday, 9 November beginning at 10 a.m.

Barbara Giudice will present "Social Workers' Views on the Use of Media and Interpersonal Communication Channels to Create Social Support Awareness in Emotionally Abusive Relationships."

Amy Darling will present "Appealing to Your Needs: A Content Analysis of the Food and Apparel Advertisements Targeting College Students."

The presentations take place in Eastman (bldg. 01), room 4287.

An e-newsletter published occasionally by the Department of Communication and distributed to students and their family, alumni, faculty and others who have expressed an interest in communication.