Hundredmark appointed Pacesetters '66 chairman

Bert Hundredmark has been appointed Pacesetters '66 Chairman by Harris Rusitzky ('56), Chairman of the Alumni Giving Committee, and David Rylance, Student Association president.

In making the appointment, both men commented on the past efforts of the graduating seniors in showing support for RIT and its future. The Classes of 1963, 1964, and 1965 have pledged over $86,000 to the project, and the student body voted another $10,000 in November of 1961.

Hundredmark has appointed a "College Pacesetter Cabinet" — made up of a representative from each academic area. "College Captains" appointed are: Gary Proud, Business Administration; Donald Kennedy, Retailing; Bert Hundredmark, Foods; Donna Brown, Art and Design; Sara Jane Freeman, SAC; Clint Cook, Chemistry; Darlene Hosey, Med. Tech; George Geyerhahn, Photography; Richard Begbie, Printing; Dave Foran, Electrical; and Thomas Hoh, Mechanical.

This group of 10 seniors is now at work planning the campaign that will take place from May 2-13.

One of the areas which the Cabinet hopes to stress is helping the RIT student to learn more about the Institute, not only the new campus, but the present campus, and to provide the opportunity for questions to be answered.

Students to be ranked for draft

Men students who wish to know their class standing for draft status will soon be able to obtain this information from the Office of the Registrar. Donald Hoppe, Dean of Admissions and Records, has announced that a system in currently being worked out to rank the student within his particular college.

Students in the past have not been able to secure this data because of the prohibitive cost of clerical work. However, recent draft deferment criteria which as been released by Se-

BAKER, STAAB, ZYGMUNT ELECTED

★ ★ ★ Staab and Baker emphasize future

Ray Baker and Tom Staab swept to victory in the Student Association elections on the platform, "Foundation and Future." With emphasis on expansion of placement services, increased counseling facilities, and a more united student body, Baker and Staab hope to build a foundation for the future at RIT.

Believing that a student should begin planning for life outside of college the moment he enters the Institute, Baker and Staab look forward to a Student Association Committee providing manpower for RIT's Placement Services, and gaining knowledge and experience under the direction of Irving VanSlyke.

An "open door labeled advisor" program is another step on the Baker-Staab platform. Under the proposed program, students will be able to gain quick answers to the questions they have concerning scholastic subjects, employment, and life in and out

Ray Baker was elected president of the Student Association yesterday, and Tom Staab got the vice presidential nod for the 1966-67 academic year. Selina Zygmunt gained the secretarial position in voting which saw 1,102 students cast their ballot.

Of the votes cast, Baker received 698, while opponent Gary Proud polled 381. Staab outdistanced Jack Bitner, his vice presidential challenger by a vote of 629 to 437. Sandra Donatucci, the other secretarial candidate, lost to Zygmunt in the closest race, 530 to 515.

Results were announced at 9:30 p.m. last night in the Pioneer Room of NRH by Niles Oliver, chairman of the Election Board of Control.

Of the total student body, 41.1 per cent cast ballots, as opposed to only 38 per cent who voted last year. The School of Printing showed the highest percentage of voters with 59.1 per cent. The School of Retailing was next with 49.9 per cent, and Food Administration showed 40.3 per cent.

Thirty-three Senators were elected, representing every department, and their names will appear in next week's Reporter.

THE WINNERS—Ray Baker, president elect of the Student Association is congratulated by vice president elect Tom Staab as Selina Zygmunt, secretary elect, looks on.

Voting for Mr. Campus and Miss RIT will take place May 10, 11, and 12 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Voting machines will be set up in the Eastman Building in front of E-125 and in the Main Street Building lobby.

Candidates for Mr. Campus are Clint Cook (Chem 5), Richard Begbie (Pr 4), David Rylance (Pr 4), Earle Wootton (Pr 4), James Olin (Pr 4), and John Patterson (Chem 5).

Candidates for Miss RIT are Kathie McCormick (Ret 4), Susan Bland (Ret 4), Charleen Graupman (A&D 3), Barbara Popp (FA 4), Jeanne Kentner Clarke (Ret 4), and Joan Davis (Ret 3).

On Saturday evening, May 14, during the Mississippi Moonglow at Midtown Plaza, the new Mr. Campus and Miss RIT will be announced.

At this time also, trophies will be presented for competitive events to the participating organizations of Spring Weekend.

Organizations to compete on new basis in 'Showboat'

Major revisions have been made in the policy of the Spring Weekend Committee concerning the competitive events which will be included in "Showboat," Spring Weekend '66. Class A competition will involve only outdoor advertising and the carnival, while Class B will consist of carnival competition only.

Awards will be given for overall in Class A participation, for outdoor advertising in Class A, and for the carnival. In Class B there will be an award for carnival competition.

Outdoor advertising competition has been the subject of ma-major revision also. This year, a financial limitation of $300 has been set for organizations participating. The Spring Weekend Committee has established cost standards for materials, and will review each structure to see that the limit is observed.

A size limitation has also been imposed upon outdoor advertising structures. All organizations competing in outdoor advertising must build within a 15-foot area.

Construction for outdoor advertising must be completed by 10 p.m. May 8, and carnival construction must be finished by 9 p.m. May 12.

symposium's banner year

Last year the Reporter had the occasion to review the second issue of Symposium, the student literary magazine. It was not a pleasant task because it was necessary to criticize severely the content and technical quality of the magazine. This year it is a different story, however, and it is a great pleasure to make comment on the recent issue of Symposium.

There can be no real comparison between this year's issue and that which appeared last year. The quality of material is exceptionally good and the technical quality is excellent. Poetry and prose in this issue reflect a maturity and sophistication which was glaringly absent last year. The photographs and prints, without exception, are of superb quality. The arrangement of material in the magazine is delicately done, and the pages fit together so well that they almost turn themselves.

Congratulations to Gary Metz and the rest of his fine staff for a literary magazine which reflects the best of what RIT is, and one which would compare favorably with any other publication of its kind. It is hoped that the RIT student government will extend whatever help is necessary to see that this fine contribution to student life is perpetuated in coming years. D.G.

s.a.c.—action or agitation?

Tuesday afternoon, April 19, like David meeting Goliath, the Student Action Committee challenged the administration. The committee's avowed purpose was to both "inform the student body," and to "exploit every facet of student affairs effectively—to improve the college as a whole." They have failed to do a serious job of either.

The committee was disorganized. Students should have received copies of the questions so that they could follow the program better. The administration should have received copies of the questions before they arrived, so that they could have come prepared to answer the questions in detail. With the above disabilities, the assembly would have still succeeded if the committee had attempted to cover less material in the time they had.

Even if the assembly had been organized, the committee would have still failed in their avowed purpose. Instead of attempting to formulate and discuss significant problems, the committee merely took assembly time to find answers that they should have sought in their five weeks of prior existence. They only took the first step; they only recorded questions common to the entire campus. They made no thorough investigation of the questions that they asked.

It is not necessary that any group of students spend their time in the investigation and solution of student problems, for there are student organizations on campus now which are specifically set up to do that. The Student Action Committee consistently refused to ask, or accept, the help of these organizations. They did not ask Decem Jani to aid them in securing the information which they desired, and they refused the help of the Student Senate, whose function it is to initiate action of student complaints and problems.

The assembly and actions of the committee will produce no significant changes on campus. The Institute has not been improved. The students still know little more than they did before the assembly. The student body lost the battle. Perhaps the next time that Goliath is challenged, David won't forget his slingshot. H.O.

letters to the editor

lack of candidates

Dear Editor:

There is of late, a very apparent lack of suitable, willing candidates to fill the positions of leadership available on RIT's campus. Not only is this need being felt in the areas of student government, but it is also asserted within the various organizations.

Many would blame this situation upon apathetic students, but is it really true that RIT students don't care? I don't believe so. Certainly there is, has been, and always will be a certain element of our student body that for financial, scholastic, or social reasons cannot afford to be deeply involved in extra-curricular activities. However, the majority of students who don't, and furthermore won't participate aren't apathetic, they're simply afraid. They're frightened that they might commit themselves to a position they have neither the aptitude or determination to fulfill. Only a handful of students are willing to gamble their GPA's girlfriends, and alcohol for a job that may appear to offer little in financial, scholastic, or social rewards.

Afraid of accepting responsibility, the students of RIT are rapidly committing themselves to a life of subtle domination.

Only when more individuals exhibit enough courage to enter the areas of leadership, can we expect to have sound social and organizational programs.

many questions unanswered

Dear Editor:

I attended the discussion held in the Gym by the Student Action Committee, hoping to have some of the doubts, questions, and rumors about RIT policy straightened out. To a certain degree, this was good, but many questions were unanswered. Although numerous good questions were raised by the students, the administration's answers were often vague, if not completely avoiding the issue.

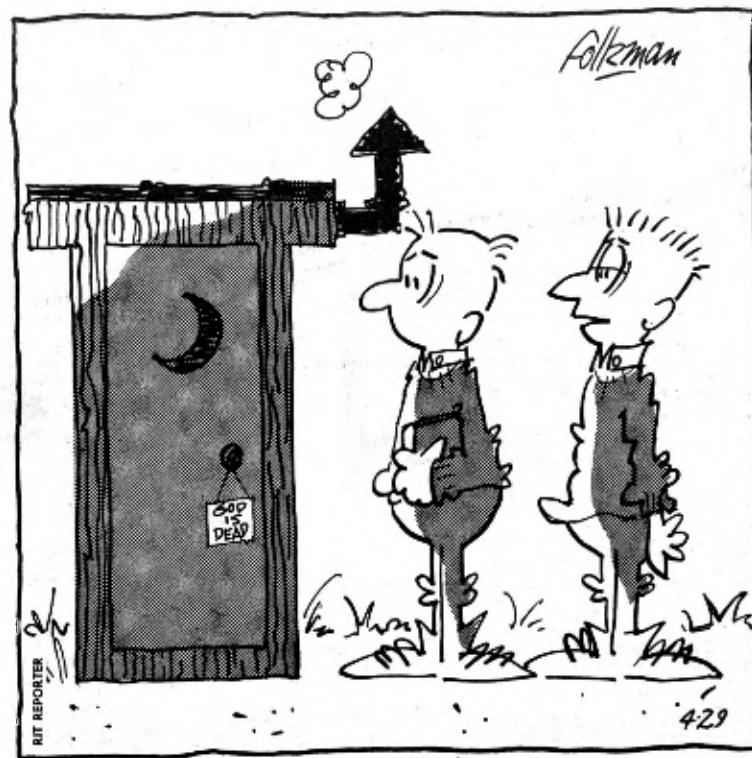

For example, I was quite surprised at the administration's answer to a student's question about housing conditions, when he was advised to either accept the conditions as they stood, or to find another institute.

In my opinion, such an answer is of no use to a group of students who are concerned enough about their school's policy to try to improve conditions by attending and participating in a discussion about this.

When I attended, I expected to find that there was something I could do to improve an undesirable situation.

I hope that there is a better answer to the questions asked by the students of their administration than transferring to another institute.

interaction—the key

By Dr. William J. Hayles
Associate Professor of Chemistry

I believe student apathy is a myth. But ignorance and fear of self-expression abound.

They exist in the faculty and administration, too. And to the extent that they exist anywhere on campus they debilitate the educational process.

The word 'college' derives from the same root as 'colleagues' and should have similar implications. We—students, faculty and administration—should be colleagues in the learning process. All of us should be students in the broad sense. There should be a unity of spirit for which I find a

Frosh Daze Committee begins plans for fall

The Frosh Daze Committee under co-chairmen Joan Davis (Ret 3) and Dave Jones (Bus Adm 3) has begun planning for freshmen orientation, 1966. Frosh Daze programs from past years are being studied and revisions are being made.

Anyone interested in working on this committee should contact the co-chairmen through their department folders in Main Street West or through the Frosh Daze committee folder located across from E-125. A meeting of all those interested will be held Thursday, May 5, at the Student Activities Center at 7:30 p.m.

of the Institute. According to Baker, "a student will not look for advice if he must spend several days seeking out an advisor who also doubles as an instructor. Why should he open six doors when one should suffice?"

The diverse make-up of the student body at RIT has created a great need for unity. The Baker-Staab platform calls for more cohesiveness among faculty, students, and staff, as well as among students themselves. They hope to accomplish this through seminars such as the Faculty-Student Relations Seminar planned for May 9, through the placement of students on housing policy committees, and through greater inter-organizational representation in student government.

WITR announces electronic music

During Easter vacation, Mark Weinstein of the campus radio station WITR, and Phil Fraga, representing the RIT Reporter, paid a visit to Brandeis University in Massachusetts. The purpose of the visit was to put together a program of electronic music which could be brought back to RIT.

In 1961, Brandeis built a laboratory devoted solely to the exploration of this new and exciting field. Now, through the facilities of WITR, electronic music will make its preview performance at the Institute. The program will be aired at 8 p.m. Sunday, May 1, over the wall boxes of Nathaniel Rochester Hall and also at 600 kc. on the AM radio dial in the Kage and Kent Hall.

Alpha Sigma Lambda suspended by action of Student Senate

At an induction ceremony March 28 in a meeting of Student Senate, five students were given what David Rylance, president of the Student Association and chairman of Alpha Sigma Lambda, referred to as the "highest award Student Association can confer on a student," that of election to the honor fraternity of Alpha Sigma Lambda. One week later Alpha Sigma Lambda was suspended.

Withdrawal of recognition occurred through a resolution introduced by Senator Harold O'Rourke (Pr 4) on the Senate floor April 4. The suspension was based on the failure of the fraternity to file a complete copy of the constitution and by-laws, including method of selection of members, with Director of Organizational Affairs Martin Morrissey. This failure, O'Rourke stated, is a violation of Article X of the Student Activities Board By-Laws. Included in the resolution was a clause calling for termination of the suspension upon approval of constitution and by-laws by the Senate.

O'Rourke, in stating his position, placed blame for lack of recorded by-laws on the change-over of officers and members from year to year, rather than on the present members of ASL.

Gregory elected Theta Xi prexy

On Wednesday, April 20, the brothers of Theta Xi Fraternity elected officers for the 1966-67 academic year.

David G. Gregory (Photo 3) was elected president to succeed Ronald Palmer (Mech 5). In the vice presidential race, James Halliday (Pr 3) was elected, and Edward Russo (Pr 2) was selected to hold the position of house manager. Robert Adamson (Pr 3) will serve as treasurer.

The newly elected officers will be inducted on May 4, and will begin their terms of office immediately.

On Thursday, April 21, Theta Xi held their annual initiation banquet at the Mid-niter Restaurant. The banquet honored the newly initiated brothers. They include: Denton Ortman (Pr 2), Timothy Sauter (A&D 1), Alan Gardiner (A&D 1), Daniel Benz (Bus Adm 1), Gary Watters (Ret 2), and Dean Santner (Pr 2).

Scholarship is an important factor in the greek system. To even be considered for pledging a fraternity or sorority a student must have a cumulative 2.00 GPA. One must maintain this average to be initiated and remain an active member. Recognition is given to those individuals who have shown high scholastic achievement by their fraternity or sorority.

The total fraternity and sorority GPA's are usually above those of the total men's and women's GPA's. As an example, last quarter the all Greek GPA was 2.42, while the total student GPA was 2.38. Since the total student GPA includes the greeks, the difference between greek and non-greek is even greater.

GREEKS ON CAMPUS

GRAPHICS—D.C. FOLKMAN

The greek leaders on campus have been honored by the Student Body and the Administration. "Miss RIT" and "Mr. Campus" selections in the past, show the confidence and respect accorded members of greek organizations, as do nominees of this year.

Greeks are influential on Student Senate and Activities Board, which boasts a 51 per cent greek membership. Residence Hall Association and Dorm Council show approximately the same percentages. Campus activity participation, such as Reporter and Techmila staffs, Blood Drive, and Campus Red Cross, is largely greek supported. Decem Jani has released the names of greek members previously serving on their board, and will undoubtedly do so at the end of the current year.

Student rallies and conferences are widely greek-attended, and many of them are greek-originated.

Brother and Sisterhood are not just words from a dictionary. They stand for friendships out of which can come and will come the happy life for all. The happy life of Brotherhood and Sisterhood is a rich reward for the work and responsibility that go with it. These rewards are shared in many ways—sometimes in happiness, sometimes in sorrow—often just in the course of daily life.

Brother and Sisterhood in action takes many shapes, it appears in many places, and it does many things. The rewards it offers are a richer life, closer friendships in the years during and after school, and a sharing of the work and successes of and many of them are greek-originated.

The social life of the greek is highlighted by various weekends sponsored by the individual fraternities. The greeks also take an active part in Spring Weekend, one of the biggest social events of the year, and help it to become the success which it is.

Parties sponsored by Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council include the Greek Toga Party and the Roaring Twenties Party. During the Winter Quarter, I.F.C. sponsored a Friday afternoon "Happy Hour" which consisted of an informal beer party held at a different fraternity house each week. In addition to these all-greek gatherings, are the individual fraternity and sorority parties held regularly throughout the year.

Look at any major athletic team here at RIT and you will find that greeks occupy a substantial part of it. Our excellent wrestling team this year was 58 per cent greek. The roster for this spring's baseball team was just completed, and greeks comprise 23 per cent of it. These are only two examples, many greeks also participate in hockey, basketball, soccer, and track. Year after year the 15 per cent of the student body that belong to fraternal organizations more than fills its quota in RIT's sports program. Those greeks who do not participate very often turn out to support the teams in their inter-collegiate competition. Furthermore, to help create a well rounded individual, a series of IFC sports is conducted throughout the school year.

paucity of evidence. There appears to be almost an academic apartheid—a very high resistance in the lines of free intellectual communication between three groups which ought to resemble the Trinity.

How often do you go into a professor's office to discuss things not in the textbook? How are you received? Did each of your professors last quarter have to say, "I don't know" at least once? If not, either he is an intellectual fraud or your class was a flock of sheep.

Someone has not only been writing, someone has been talking, too! Or perhaps he even read ahead in his text - or, God forbid, read some of the references at the end of the chapter. You can't know the agony of lecturing for an hour to 50 blank, expressionless, unquestioning faces, nor the joy of seeing a brow furrow and a hand tentatively raised. Some profs resent all questions? Recommend them to industry or the sanitation department.

How often do you discuss matters of substance with your fellow students? Not homework or assigned reading but those questions which arise as a result of, but are only indirectly related to them. How much do you know about their in-depth attitudes towards such things as foreign policy, homosexuality, religion, poetry, smoking 'pot', student government, etc.? How often do you admit to yourself that you don't know something and then do something about it?

Do you believe there are administrative policies that ought to be changed? Is the administration taking the initiative or do you think they are too complacent? What have you done except to exchange complaints in isolation?

Do you want a change? There are some sinecurists who do not.

Sigma Pi fraternity installs officers

Sigma Pi fraternity installed new officers at its annual Orchid Ball on April 2 at the Trenholm East. The new officers for 1966-67 are: John Kosta, president; John Vanderploog, vice president; Donald Bence, secretary; Kenneth Hagemen, treasurer; Louis Morin, sergeant at arms; and Michael Adams, herald.

Earle Wootton was named the year's Honor Brother. Kenneth Hagemen from the Fall Pledge Class and Lynn Fuller of the Winter Pledge Class were presented with the Honor Pledge awards. The last pledge class gave brother Bo Foisy an honor pledger award.

Peter Clark, alumnus of '59, received this year's Honor Alumni award. Clark is treasurer of the fraternity Alumni Association and is currently working on a space project with Eastman Kodak.

Prof. Edward A. Brabant of the School of Printing faculty, a Sigma Pi alumni, won the grand prize in a liquor raffle, — a bottle of champagne.

Tennis team keeps winning; Costanza, Upitis outstanding

by Dick Sienkiewicz

RIT 5, Oswego St. 4

RIT's tennis team, coached by Bill Toporcer, continues to win. Victors of their first two games this season gives them 16 wins in 18 tries since 1964. In 1964 the Tigers were 7-1; in 1965, 7-1. Both losses coming at the hands of Hartwick by identical scores of 5-4.

The team opened the new season by squeezing out a win over Oswego St., 5-4, April 20. Trailing 4-2 at the end of six singles matches, the Tigers swept all three doubles matches in chalking up their first win.

Bob Constanza sparked the netters with a straight sets triumph in the number one singles assignment defeating the Lakers' Larry Smith, 6-2, 6-2. Constanza and partner Andy Davidhazy added a second point for the home forces with a straight sets victory in the number one doubles over Smith and Randy Rienzo of Oswego St., 9-7, 8-6.

Oswego St. sported a 3-2 record coming into Rochester, having opened their playing season early with a trip to the southern part of the state.

In other singles matches, Rick Hughs (OS) defeated Bob Worth, 5-7, 6-0, 6-4. Al Upitis beat Rienzo (OS), 4-6, 6-1, 6-3. Len Charnoff (OS) whipped John Helms, 6-1, 6-0. Larry Cole (OS) rallied, upsetting Davidhazy, 5-7, 7-5, 6-1.

Other wins in the double matches for RIT included, Worth and Helms over Hughs and Cole (OS), 1-6, 8-6, 6-1. Upitis and Kayser defeated Charnoff and Day (OS), 7-5, 4-6, 6-4.

RIT 7, Geneseo St. 2

Geneseo St. invaded the Rochester courts for their first game of the season April 22, and were promptly defeated, 7-2.

The Tiger netters, paced by Bob Constanza and Al Upitis, romped to four wins in the six singles matches, then swept the doubles competition.

Constanza whipped Skip Scorza of Geneseo St., 6-3, 6-1, for his second singles victory of the season. He teamed with Bob Worth to conquer Scorza and Tim Smith of Geneseo, 7-5, 0-6, 6-2, in the doubles.

Upitis remained undefeated in singles competition by battering Geneseo's Mike Woods, 6-1, 6-2. Upitis, along with John Helms, licked State's George Pixley and Woods, 6-3, 6-2, in doubles competition.

Other wins in the singles for RIT were; Davidhazy over Harold Matthews (GS), 6-3, 9-7, and Kayser beating Mike Lance (GS), 6-4, 5-7, 6-3.

Losses, in singles matches, to the rivals were; Smith (GS) conquering Worth, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2, and Pixley (GS) mastering Helms, 6-3, 6-4.

Ken Barta combined with Davidhazy to succeed over Matthews and Thompson (GS), 7-9, 6-2, 7-5, for RIT's third doubles win.

John Serth, Tiger catcher, belts a line drive against Geneseo in last week's action. Tigers lost 4-3.

Tigers drop decision to Geneseo, 4-3

Greg Zimmer was the victim of four RIT errors as the Tigers dropped their third straight baseball decision, 4-3 to Geneseo. Coach Bruce Proper's squad is still looking for its first victory of the young season.

Gary Conboy was the hero for the visiting Geneseo nine. He held the Tigers scoreless for seven innings while his teammates chalked up three runs.

Bill Camann's double in the top of the eighth chased home the winning run for the Blue Knights. RIT combined two singles and a pair of Geneseo errors for three tallies in the last of the eighth. Jerry Ernst closed the door on the Tigers in the ninth to preserve the win for Conboy.

Flashy southpaw Gene Church hurled the final two frames for RIT.

The contest was Geneseo's first start of the spring.

Oswego earns victory, 6-3

Gene Church fell victim of a big inning as the Tigers dropped a 6-3 decision to Oswego State.

Church was sailing along with a 3-0 lead and a one-hitter for six innings. But the sophomore lefthander met trouble in the seventh inning.

Oswego scored five runs in the seventh to send the Tigers to their second straight defeat. The Lakers parlayed two singles, four walks, and three RIT errors for the win.

Church fanned nine in his effort at Genesee Valley Park.

Utica overcomes lead; wins 7-3

Utica College erased an early RIT lead and went on to defeat the Tigers 7-3. The game was halted after seven innings because of rain. It was the Tigers' fourth straight loss of the season.

Warren Bacon, the Tigers' starter, struck out eight batters and allowed only two hits before being lifted in the sixth inning. Gene Church finished the game for the Tigers.

Utica capitalized on three Tiger miscues and scored four runs in the fifth and three in the sixth, all of them unearned. An error and a balk by the Utica pitcher fashioned the three Tiger runs.

Baseball team downed in opener

A strong pitching performance by a pair of University of Buffalo hurlers spoiled RIT's 1966 opener.

The Bulls rode the arms of Leo Rutkowski and Jim Pirozolo to an 11-0 victory at Buffalo. Rutkowski held the Tigers hitless for five innings and Pirozolo completed the shutout. The pair struck out 16 RIT batters.

RIT managed only two hits. Capt. John Serth singled in the sixth frame and Jim Weatherby cracked a pinch double in the eighth.

Buffalo took advantage of wildness by the RIT moundsmen. Warren Bacon and Greg Zimmer surrendered 15 walks.

The Tiger defense produced two double plays. Catcher Serth and first baseman Bob Finkler combined for the first twin killing. Shortstop Rick Urquhart, second baseman Keith Thompson, and Finkler accounted for the other double play.

The loss marred Bruce Proper's debut as varsity coach.

Serth Elected Baseball Captain

John Serth has been elected captain of RIT's baseball team, according to Coach Bruce Proper.

Serth, a junior and the starting catcher, batted .311 last season, including four doubles, one triple and a home run.

"Serth is a fine receiver with demonstrated leadership abilities," said Proper, "He is also knowledgeable in handling pitchers and I think the players made a fine choice in choosing their captain."

Basketball Team Entered in Tournament

The Tiger basketball team will participate in the four-team Rochester Basketball Tournament next Jan. 27-28, at St. John Fisher College.

The Athletic Committee voted unanimously to take part in the competition at their March 31 meeting.

Awards Dinner to be Held May 23

The 1966 Annual Athletic Awards Dinner will be held at Logan's, 1420 Scottsvill Road. The event will take place May 23 at 7 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Bob Feller, former Cleveland Indian pitcher. Highlight of the affair will be the presentation of the 1966 Outstanding Athlete Award.

Did You Know?

Dr. Mark Ellingson, now president of RIT, coached the wrestling team in the years 1927-36. His teams won 37, lost 25 and tied two, for a .597 pct.

The Yankees, Cardinals, and the Mets have expressed interest in catcher John Serth, according to Coach Proper.

Since attaining full inter-collegiate status two seasons ago, the hockey team has compiled a record of 27 wins and only 10 losses.

Boornaziain has become the "forgotten man" of the hockey team.

Jim Robinson has been voted to the All-Opponent squad by the Oswego State basketball players. Robinson hooped 28 points against the Lakers last season.

Tina is pregnant. Spirit II is the father-to-be.

Evening College Student Council explains purposes and projects

The roots of the Rochester Institute of Technology go back to about the year 1829 when a group of civic minded leaders saw a need for an educational and cultural institution in the frontier village which later became known as the City of Rochester. One hundred and thirty seven years later there emerges an organization known as the Evening College Student Association.

The Association of Evening College Students is established by and for the evening students of RIT to encourage and plan activities which will help meet the social, recreational and cultural needs of the evening student. The association holds to the belief that the evening students should have the same opportunities and privileges as day students and that co-curricular activities are of great value in the students' total educational program.

The association through its Executive Council and Senate can inaugurate many activities to the wants and needs of the students and administration but its accomplishments are measured only by the degree of active participation by the students.

In summary, the purpose of the Evening College Student Association is three-fold: One, the social and cultural development of "all" evening students; two, concerning itself where necessary with representing the interests of evening students in those areas which apply directly to their educational growth and opportunity; and three, to ascertain the needs of evening students, and to inform and educate other members of the Institute community, as well as the general public, so as to enlist their interest and support in meeting those needs.

"We will always be students. Let us hope we will always be learners."

EDITORIAL

This could and should become one of the most satisfying periods of a person's life.

A person should force himself to find the time to become involved in extra activities so that he might better round out his personality and become a vital part of society.

There is more to education than just learning the exact answer to a problem. A person has to have adaptability and flexibility so that one might come to realistically satisfying solutions for the ever-increasing perplexing problems that will confront one in one's future.

While at the Evening College, try to do the best you can scholastically, but don't despair if you seem to have more than your share of disappointments. There is more to success than an "A" on a report card. What really matters is what you as an individual are able to give to the class discussions, and more important, what you are able to take away with you.

Don't just come to the Evening College for education alone — mix or learn to mix with other individuals. When there is a dance, meeting, game or whatever might be on the agenda . . . ATTEND. This is your school and it will not be an effective, efficient organization without the support of each and everyone of you. You might think, "Well, what have I to offer?" Nonsense, if it weren't for you and 9,500 just like you, there wouldn't be an Evening College. Don't lose these enriching opportunities. They are so necessary to your whole structure.

When people gather and topics and problems are discussed and an idea or thought is presented, try to grasp the full intent of the thought and then try to analyze and find defects in it. If the imperfection is great enough, challenge it and a whole new chain of reflexive thinking might develop and in so doing a better function might develop.

If nobody were to challenge other ideas and plans then we wouldn't progress very far. We would become pegs in round holes. By enriching ourselves through the learning process we enlarge our horizons of wants and needs and motivate ourselves to become more dynamic in personality and more responsible in duty.

The Evening College will change your ideas, your concepts, and sometimes your whole philosophy on life.

Don't underestimate yourself or your abilities, at least give yourself the opportunity to prove what you actually have. Believe me, there is greater satisfaction in being a "Joiner" and in turn becoming a "Do-er".

Roger Bunce named as frosh baseball coach

Roger Bunce has been named freshman baseball coach. He succeeds Dario Armanini.

Bunce is department head of Physical Education at Jefferson High School. He is also president of the Central Western Zone of the New York State Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.

In 1943 Bunce was graduated from Jefferson where he played football, basketball, and baseball. He received degrees from Ithaca College in 1949 and Brockport in 1953.

Forestville Central School was Bunce's first coaching assignment. He directed the football, basketball, and baseball teams there for three years.

Bunce returned to Jefferson in 1951. He was an assistant football, wrestling, and junior varsity baseball coach. In 1955, Bunce switched to West High where he won city championships in baseball, football, and swimming.

Once again Bunce returned to his high school alma mater in November of 1962 as department head.

Golf prospects look bright

Bob Honegger, Gary Briddon, Gary Legler and Joe Rossetti comprise a solid nucleus for this season's golf team. Honegger, however, is ineligible because of academic difficulties.

The foursome competed in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference regional tournament last fall and tied Syracuse University for first place. Individual scores for the linkmen were: Honneger, 78; Legler, 79; Briddon, 81; and Rossetti, 84, for a total of 322. In the ECAC finals, RIT placed ninth in a field of more than 60 schools.

Honneger, the captain, was the number one player last year. Briddon, a sophomore, should take over the number one spot, with Legler number two, and Rossetti number three. Junior Ken Sanford and senior Ken Goodman should add strength.

Earl Fuller will coach the team for the first time this year, succeeding Bob Klos.

what's happening?

This week's "What's Happening" switches from the dining and dancing scene to the stepped-up pace of "Rock, Rhythm and Blues." The spotlight is on Ralph Sacheli's Club 414, located on the corner of Ridge Road and Dewey Avenue.

Club 414 features the hottest band in the Rochester area. The Showstoppers have been able to draw a steady crowd with their capitalization of the Liverpool Sound of famous recording groups. Open six nights a week, Tuesday through Sunday, Club 414 offers band entertainment from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

The crowd is young, the drinks are reasonable, and the listening and dancing pleasure limitless. If what you're looking for is a complete change-of-pace evening, we recommend the Club 414.
