Class of '66 is first to exceed goal in Pacesetter campaign

A victory dinner at the Oak Hill Country Club on May 22 celebrated the success of the Pacesetters '66 spring drive. The 1966 senior class pledged a total of $29,345 to be the first class to go over its goal for pledged contributions. This is $5,345 over their $24,000 goal.

Over 65 per cent of the senior class contributed to the new campus fund.

Arthur L. Stern, chairman of the Board of Trustees, presented citations to Bert Hundredmark, general chairman of Pacesetters '66, for outstanding leadership and enthusiasm; the School for American Craftsmen, for outstanding increased giving; and the Electrical Department, for highest total class percentage of giving and high average gift. Sara Jayne Freeman, captain of the SAC drive, and David Foran, captain of the Electrical drive, were present to receive the awards.

There remain 78 people to contact for the Summer Quarter drive, according to Nancy Cole, coordinator for Pacesetters. This should bring the campaign yet further ahead of its goal.

James R. Carey, Alumni Relations, Alfred L. Davis of Public Relations, Paul Hassenplug, director of development, and Ray E. Baker, Student Association president, were on hand to mark the conclusion of the three-week campaign.

National IFC president speaks to RIT greeks

Robert W. Krovitz, president of the National Interfraternity Conference, spoke to the RIT greeks on Saturday, May 21, at the IFC sponsored greek seminar. His topic was "Responsibilities of the Fraternity."

The seminar was planned to provide an atmosphere where all general greeks could meet and discuss the amount and methods of progress in the fraternal system, both from the past, and in the future.

Following Krovitz' keynote address, the greeks broke into discussion groups concerning the new campus, the function of a good IFC, scholarship, and pledging programs. The groups considered these areas for more than an hour before they rejoined in M-219 for the close of the conference.

Before the closing, Krovitz commented on the maturity and interest which he noted in the greek's attempts to improve themselves.

Rylance presents gavel to Baker at inauguration banquet

A symbolic "handing over the gavel" marked the inauguration of the 1966-67 Student Association President Ray E. Baker. Past President David H. Rylance presented the gavel to Baker at the inauguration banquet held May 19 in the Island Valley Country Club.

Following his swearing in by Arthur Stern of the Board of Trustees, Baker administered the oath to vice president elect J. Thomas Staab. James Henderson, Lionel Suntog, Gary Proud, Bruce Miller, Robert Feldberg, William Blaufuss, Walter Kelin, and Selina Zygumt received the oath of office for the Student Activities Board, after which Staab swore in the 66-67 Student Senators.

Awards were presented to Rylance, Baker, Student Court and Activities Board members for their service during the past year. Special awards were presented to Niles Oliver, Personal Contribution; Selina Zygumt, Personal Initiative; and Harold O'Rourke, Scholastic Achievement.

Donald Hanson was recognized as the Outstanding Senator.

The ceremony was completed with the swearing in of the Chief Justice of the Student Court, Ralph Atkins. Atkins, a third year Printing major, served on Student Court for the 65-66 school year.

Drama Guild holds banquet

On Tuesday, May 24, the RIT Drama Guild held its annual banquet at the home of Mrs. Duane H. DaBoll, director and acting advisor. Richard Neidich (Photo 4) turned his presidential duties over to Edward True (Math 4); Joseph Evrard (Photo 4) turned his duties as vice president over to Gary Webb (A&D 1). Ella Conners (FA 4), secretary, and Edward True, treasurer, turned their books over to incoming officers Marilyn Rogers (Ret 2) and Jane E. Tuckerman (SAC 1).

At the combined banquet and meeting, the active members discussed the activities and happenings of the past year.

The two major productions for the 66 - 67 season will be "Antigone" and "You Can't Take it With You." The Guild also plans to tour with the children's play, "Land of the Dragon," during the winter.

Costanza, Robinson, VanderVeen earn 'Athlete of the Year Award'

Police Bureau gives awards

The student body of RIT and Dr. Mark Ellingson, RIT president, received special award citations from the Rochester Police Bureau on Friday, May 20.

The awards were given "to those citizens who have made outstanding contributions to the community either through life-saving gestures or by going to the aid of law enforcement officers," according to Police Chief William Lombard.

In ceremonies held in Midtown Plaza as part of Police Week, brief summaries were read concerning what the citizens did. To Dr. Ellingson, the following statement was read: "On Jan. 30, 1966, and for three days later the city was stunned by a snow storm. To sustain people, you and the Institute contributed over $400 worth of food. . ."

David H. Rylance, past president of the Student Association, was on hand to accept the award for RIT's student body. The citation read: "On Nov. 9, 1966, the city was pitched into darkness during the black-out. A convincing number of students came to our aid at the Public Safety Building and offered assistance in any way we could use them"

Eleven other citizens received citations as part of the "Citizens Appreciation Day" ceremonies. Chief Lombard said, "This is living proof . . . contrary to a popular conception . . . that there are people who are willing to become involved and go to the aid of their fellow man."

U.S. Steel donates $20,000

The United States Steel Foundation has donated $20,000 to the New Campus Fund.

Expressing gratitude for the gift, Dr. Mark Ellingson said "this will lend enthusiasm and encouragement to the members of our Board who are working so diligently" to raise the remaining portion of the $18.8 million fund goal.

Thus far, more than $15.5 million has been raised. All buildings at the 1,300-acre campus are currently under construction and occupancy of the new campus is scheduled for September 1967.

Bob Costanza of Fairport, Jim Robinson of Dunellen, N. J., and John VanderVeen of Glen Aubrey have been named co-holders of the 11th annual Athlete of the Year Award. The trio was honored Monday, May 23, at the annual RIT athletic awards banquet at Logan's Restaurant. Frank Silkman, recipient of the first Athlete of the Year Award in 1955, made the presentation.

This is the first time the balloting of the 14-man selection committee has ever resulted in a three-way tie. On two occasions dual awards were made.

Costanza, a third year student in Business Administration, is the number one player on the varsity tennis squad. He has not lost a set this year, piling up a 7 - 0 record in singles matches. His three year singles record is 22-1, with the lone defeat coming while playing varsity competition as a freshman.

In doubles play, Costanza has a 21-2 record, losing only when he teamed with the number four or five player in an effort to strengthen the team. RIT won both matches by 5-4 scores.

Costanza has been on the Dean's List and is a solid B student.

"Costanza is a fine leader," said net coach Bill Toporcer. "He assists in coaching other players, and he does an outstanding job on the court."

Robinson, a former All-State high school star in New Jersey, sparked RIT's basketball team to a fine 18-9 record after five consecutive losing seasons. He is

Admissions 'unsettled'

Sue Denny

According to Registrar Donald A. Hoppe, that flood of freshmen expected for the Fall Quarter is not so bad as the picture previously painted. "The best word to describe the situation with admissions right now is unsettled," said Hoppe.

The number of freshmen who were registered in September of 1965 was 1,009 and the figure for this year should not be too much more, probably 40 or 50 more, although the number of transfer students is apparently on the rise. The total number of day school students registered for this past year was 3,180 and this is expected to rise slightly.

The big factor affecting registration for this year is the problem of the draft. It will make for up and down figures for a while, since those now in school may push for action

Ray Baker and Tom Staab were installed in the offices of president and vice president, respectively, last week at the Inauguration Banquet. Now at the helm of RIT's Student Association, they hold the reins on what could be a very good year in '66 - '67. Baker has proven his ability to work diligently in his capacity of vice president of the S. A., and Staab has displayed administrative skill in the preliminary organization of the college union.

The Student Association has become an increasingly more effective governing body in recent years, and with the strong support of the Institute administration, there are very few things, indeed, that cannot be done by this group. The principle behind the Student Association, however, is a critical one. In order for it to function effectively, there must be total student support. Without this support, there are many things that can never be done.

Support can come from the student senators and from the Student Activities Board members, and this is very able support. It is not enough, however; nor is it enough that students play out their grievances as individuals or small groups. It takes a total movement and total support, channeled through the Student Association governing body, to get things done.

As a student body, let's see to it that Baker and Staab and the entire Student Association have a good year -- an active year. It is the student body which brings action to the S. A., and it is the S. A. that organizes this action and makes RIT a better place for students.

june 2—to join or not

June 2 will be a day of considerable consequence for the fraternity system at RIT. This is the day that fraternities extend their bids to rushees and this is the day that bids are accepted or rejected.

Three years ago the percentage of greeks on campus stood at 15 per cent. Some sources indicate that the present percentage of fraternity and sorority affiliation is closer to 13 per cent. In view of an expanding enrollment, this is not a favorable trend for the greek system.

There can be no doubt that in many respects the greek organizations on campus are distinctly advantageous, and for many students, fraternity and sorority life represent a worthwhile part of their undergraduate college days. For the greeks to allow their membership to diminish is unfortunate, both for themselves and for the campus as a whole.

June 2 could be the date that marks either a continued decline or a renewed surge in greek membership. It is entirely up to the persons involved in greek affairs to see that the latter alternative applies. It is not only the greeks who would benefit, but the entire campus.

letters to the editor

NEGRO VIEWS EXHIBITS

Dear Editor:
Last week, our campus became the subject of much controversy, caused by two otherwise unsensational displays advertising the annual Spring Weekend. As a Negro student at RIT, I have been confronted by many other students, some of them total strangers, who were surprised, confused or simply curious. The question bothering many students seems to be this: Why should Negroes be offended by two displays which depict characters from American history; characters which were known to exist not as oddities, but as being quite normal to the time?

I would like to try and answer this question, not only because it is reasonable, but also because I realize that the displays in question were constructed not with any offensive intent but merely as an attempt to illustrate a few of the many images of the Old South.

We, as Negroes, point with pride to the fact that the labor of our forefathers helped build this nation into what it is today, even though they received few of the benefits. We also are quite selfish in our claims to being the originators of jazz music. It is exactly because we are proud of this heritage that we insist it be treated with dignity. We insist that our mannerisms, our facial features, or any characteristics which identify us with being Negro, not be exaggerated to the point where they become ludicrous. We also look forward to the day that when the word Negro is mentioned, the image that comes to mind is that of a normal human being -- not of a type or character.

The two displays on our campus last week fell far short of these wishes. The fact that the mere mention of the Old South brings to mind the image of a Negro eating watermelon or lazily fishing from a dock, is itself an indication of the stereotypes held by American society -- stereotypes which are limited, misleading and, most of all, unflattering. That group of jazz musicians who so unabashedly beat out their silent melody on the lawn of Ritter-Clark gym might have been ample tribute to the Negro's contribution to American music had it not been that their physical appearances were so extreme that they became laughable. The fact that they were musicians was secondary to the fact that they were Negro types. And as Negro types they were, of course, hackneyed stereotypes.

In conclusion, I should like to make the observation that history reveals that the institution of slavery has subjugated the peoples of many diverse tribal, national and ethnic groups. Its infliction upon the American Negro is in no way unique. What is unique, however, is the fact that only in America has slavery been made the subject of laughter and derision -- with the Negro as the butt of the joke. The time has come that we erase this attitude from our culture; and the protests against the two Spring Weekend displays took place because of this desire to

We sure are sorry about missing last week's Reporter. It's bad policy to disappoint all you people who get up early Friday morning just to be the first ones at the news stands and indulge in our slight scribbles. Or is it that you were just getting in and you were looking for something to put over your face so that the early morning sun didn't hurt your eyes? Well, in either case, we regret neglecting our support. The main reason we didn't make last week's issue was that all the heat flying around after Spring Weekend expanded our main spring TOO MUCH and "stopped out clock." Being all prepared now, we are set to try out our new "Mickey Mouse" watch.

LATEST & GREATEST:
On the Yearbook: After two weeks of looking through the pages of our beloved yearbook we have come to these conclusions -- the dull, dark, drabby cover prepared you for the funeral inside -- the "Geek Speaks" has better tone control -- for a widely-known school in the area of graphic arts it was a very poor representation. Word has it that next year's book is going to be run off on the Student Union ditto machine rather than being sent out to a printer.

A fine example of photography was seen in Main Street with the exhibition of the seniors' photo theses. . . . Hats off the Fraga's tiger team shots. . . . Congratulations to Dave Folkman for another tremendous cartoon in last week's paper. . . . The tunnel for the instructors, so that they could go to the parking lot, recently caved in as construction showed on Washington Street.

We thank you for your letter to the editor, Louise Smith. How near-sighted can people be . . .

The Sex Seminars were a great success. Thanks for your support. The air conditioning in the library has been turned on again. . . .

Bulletin Board of the Year: To Spring Weekend Showboat . . . We the students weren't aware that iced coffee was being served in the same urns that the "HOT" coffee was being served.

IN ATHENS:
Congratulations to Sigma Pi for their scholarship awards. It's good to see some publicity about scholarship in the greek organizations. We imagine that many non-greeks are uninformed about such programs existing among social fraternities. It is a fact that most social fraternities have such programs. The Phi Sig alumni gave the brothers $110 for Fall Quarter and will be awarding a nearly equal amount for Winter Quarter at their up-coming dinner dance at the end of this month.

Congratulations to the brothers of Tau Beta Rho for their inaugural banquet at the Island Valley Country Club. . . . We hear that Clint Cook is offering his services to any organization that needs a guest speaker.

Congratulations to SP's Denny for his scholarship award and scholastic achievement last quarter. . . . The alumni of TX defeated the brothers in softball. The alumni of PSK defeated the brothers in softball. The alumni are getting out of line again . . .

RIT Women's Club installs new officers

Background piano music by the wives of faculty members provided the setting Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Mark Ellingson for the annual RIT Women's Club installation tea. Sororities sponsor workshop May 21

On Saturday, May 21, Alpha Sigma Alpha and Alpha Xi Delta co-sponsored a Sorority Workshop from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at 50 Main Street.

Preceding the workshop was an address by Dinah Hebert, Alpha Xi Delta, president of the RIT Panhellenic Council. Her topic was "The Role of the City and College Panhellenics."

Following the address, the meeting broke into seminar groups to discuss such subjects as open bidding, rushing problems, fund raising, membership and moral standards, and how to get another sorority on campus.

Refreshments provided by the sororities' pledges prefaced the second session workshop and the morning was concluded by a mass meeting of both sororities.

Davis elected DeMolay prexy

At a recent meeting of the RIT DeMolay Club, officers for the coming year were elected.

Elected president was Kenneth E. Davis Jr., a second-year printing student. Vice president-elect is Stanley A. Wnukiewicz Jr., a second-year photographer. Filling the position of secretary-treasurer will be John N. Currie (Pr 2). The groups' chaplain will be Will J. Roden, a freshman in Mechanical Engineering.

Davis, from Concord, N. H., has served as Master Councilor of Rumford Chapter in Concord, and has been awarded the degree of Chevalier, the Order's second highest award.

Wnukiewicz, of Patchogue, L.I., has served as Master Councilor of Charles W. Taylor Chapter.

Currie, of Athol, Mass., is a Past Master Councilor of Isaiah Thomas Chapter and one of this year's Chevalier designates.

Roden, a Past Master Councilor of Round Hill Chapter in Endicott, has also been active in jurisdictional work in western New York.

Advisor to the group is Robert S. Tompkins, a member of the faculty in the School of Printing. He is a Mason in Painted Post Lodge 117 in Corning. Tompkins was named advisor to the club when it was first organized in November of 1964.

The officers will be installed at the organization's annual dinner, to be held at the Coachman on May 19.

The DeMolay Club at RIT has been active in assisting the DeMolay Chapters in the area during the past year. It is the hope of the new president to expand the club's scope more directly to the RIT campus and student body, and to more widely diversify its activities during the coming term.

Students find new pastime

by Grant Hamilton

As Spring Quarter draws rapidly to a close, many students have found a new pastime . . . apartment hunting. Because of the new housing policy, more RIT students are looking for off-campus housing than ever before.

There are a wide variety of apartments available in and around the city. The problem is finding one. After the want ad column of the paper has been exhausted, it's off and walking. It's surprising to see how well most APARTMENT FOR RENT signs are hidden.

After a number of possibilities have been found, the real problems begin. Each student has his own set of qualifications for an apartment. Cost, size, whether furnished or unfurnished, and the location are main considerations. After the student has found his "dream" apartment he still must deal with the landlord.

"It's not good to rent to students." "My doctor said my health couldn't take it." "We had to throw the last bunch of boys out." These are some of the more tactful answers received in one short afternoon of apartment hunting. Do not despair, fellow students! There are a great many landlords who will take your money. If you have not yet found your apartment, you might try contacting some seniors who are giving up apartments. Their landlords must not mind students.

Despite all the problems and complaints, most students are happy to get away from the dorm for a year. Happy hunting!

Alpha Phi Omega announces officers

Alpha Phi Omega fraternity has announced the election of new officers for the 1966-67 school year.

NSF and AEC give grants

The College of Science has received grants totaling $21,000 from the National Science Foundation and the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Biology Department received $8,000 from the AEC for the purchase of equipment which will be used in teaching RIT's first radiation biology course this fall. The National Science Foundation awarded the Biology Dept. $6,000 for purchase of equipment for a new course, laboratory techniques.

The Physics Department received a $7,000 NSF grant for the purchase of instructional scientific equipment, including the addition of demonstration apparatus for lectures and library materials for both faculty and staff.

RIT DRAMA GUILD PRESENTS "THE BRUTE"

The Drama Guild of the Rochester Institute of Technology was formed during the fall of 1964 by a group of enthusiastic students who wanted a group on campus to produce dramatic productions as a regular function at RIT. The Guild began with only a few active members, but they did not close themselves from outsiders. As a result each play had in its cast many students from outside the Guild.

During the '64-'65 season the Guild began an extensive building program and by the spring of the year they were substantial enough to have the school support them in the purchase of lights and tools. The fall of 1965 brought a new administration to the Guild. Under Richard Neidich (Photo4) and Mrs. Duane DaBoll, director, the Guild increased its membership and was able to produce three complicated plays. Mrs. DaBoll introduced many new thoughts and ideas about production, publicity, and especially acting. The result was that the Guild was able to do the almost impossible task of staging the fall play Only an Orphan Girl in only five weeks. This involved extensive lighting, sound, and special effects.

The creditor refuses to leave.

During the winter quarter the Guild had less of a problem because there was ample time and they were acquainted with the new lights and equipment they had acquired. With the help of Robert Studley (Photo 4) and Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity the Guild staged the Glass Menagerie.

During the past spring the Guild has worked on The Brute by Anton Chekov. Pictures of this production appear on this page. The cast of The Brute has traveled to several civic organizations in the area. It is hoped that this production can be recast in the fall of '67 and travel more extensively in the area.

The '66-'67 season should be a more adventurous one for the Guild. With the support of the Institute and the Student Senate, the Guild will stage two major productions on campus. Antigone will be produced during the fall and You Can't Take It With You in the spring. In addition, the Guild will go into the new field of children's entertainment with the production of Land of the Dragon which will go on the road during the winter of the '66-'67 season.

The Guild has gone through another building year this year and with each year, new and interesting ideas and productions come from a small group of people with the help and support of the student body.

GOLF TEAM MUST WAIT TILL NEXT YEAR

As this column is being written, the varsity golfers have a season record of four wins, six losses, and one tie. They have one match to play, that with Potsdam, but are already assured of a losing season.

What should have been a good year started out right at the beginning as a poor one. Coach Earl Fuller, in his first season at the helm, lost his number one player, Bob Honegger, because of academic difficulties.

"Not having Honegger meant the difference between a winning and losing season, and perhaps a perfect season," Fuller told me.

In 1965, the golf team led by Capt. Honegger, Gary Briddon, Gary Legler and Joe Rossetti, compiled a 4-4 record. The foursome, with the year's experience behind them, should have been the "terrors" of the links.

This season, Briddon, Legler, and Rossetti have done an excellent job. No more can be asked of them. Paul Flagg has proved himself as the able number four man. In the number five and six positions is where the team is weak. If Honegger had played, Fuller would have had five top-notch golfers competing. It would have made for a better record.

Wait till next year.

TRACK TEAM COMES UP WITH EXCELLENT SEASON

With one more meet to go, against Roberts Wesleyan, the Tiger track team has so far compiled a 5-1 record. It is fairly safe to assume they will defeat Wesleyan tomorrow as they have whipped them once before this season, 90 1/2 - 45 1/2.

Before this season RIT had never won an outdoor track meet. Pete Todd, in his first year as coach, expected his club to break the ice this season.

"Track is relatively new at RIT," said Todd before the season began. "The team was 0-2 in 1964 and 0-6 last season. We look for a break-even season."

The team has come through with a 6-1 season. Walt Wilcox must be given special mention. This man did one great job. In two different meets he was a double winner for the Tigers. Against Oswego on May 10, the man set school records in the 120 high hurdles and the 440 intermediate hurdles.

In a triangular meet against Niagara and Canisius on May 14, Wilcox outscored the Canisius team single-handedly. He took first place in the 100 and 200-yd. dashes and the 120-yd. high hurdles. He placed fourth in the broad jump.

Great job, Pete Todd, Walt Wilcox, and track team.

Women's varsity tennis team loses to Brockport

The women's varsity tennis team lost its second match of the season 3-1 May 17 in Brockport at the hands of Brockport State.

Linda Van Brunt brought home the only Tiger victory by defeating her opponent in singles 7-5, 6-0. Sue Vansant, captain of the team, lost her second match 4-6, 4-6.

Connie Rudd and Carole Warner, who round out the women netters squad, dropped their matches to a more experienced Brockport squad.

Carey named freshman coach

Bill Carey, coach at Waterloo Central School, is the new freshman soccer, basketball and baseball coach at RIT.

Carey announced his resignation from Waterloo and acceptance of the RIT post on May 12.

At Waterloo, Carey coached basketball and baseball, building tremendous records in both sports. His overall basketball record was 67 - 33, and his teams won the Section 5 Class A title three years in a row, from 1962 - 64.

In baseball, Carey's teams won two Section 5 titles. He also coached the Hobart freshman soccer team.

Theta Xi downs Phi Sig at Greek softball

Theta Xi avenged an early season defeat, by defeating Phi Sigma Kappa 14 - 6. Clint Cook held Phi Sig at bay while his teammates, led by Ron Palmer and Lou Bombace, pounded Phi Sig's outfield.

Unable to come up with the hits when they needed them, and sloppy fielding by Sigma Pi told the whole story in both games as they lost to Phi Sigma Kappa 12-9 and to Alpha Epsilon Pi 8-2.

In the Phi Sig, Sig Pi game, Sigma Pi started out with five quick runs, but then Phi Sig buckled down. Eight runs in the second inning broke Sigma Pi's back and from then on it was all Phi Sig. Colin Wood was the winning pitcher, while Gary Bloodworth was the loser.

Alpha Epsilon Pi continues to be the hottest team in the league as they won their third in four games by upsetting Sigma Pi 8-2 and winning a forfeit to Phi Kappa Tau. A standout defensive play came about when AEPi's Ed Kagan made a spectacular catch to halt a Sigma Pi uprise.

Varsity baseball record now 4-8; Church fans 19 against Utica

RIT 17, Utica 1

Gene Church, left-handed sophomore from Penn Yan, struck out 19 batters as the Tigers shelled Utica College 17-1, halting a nine game winning streak by the Pioneers. The game was at Utica on May 17.

The Tigers chalked up their win in 10 starts behind Church, who struck out the side in the sixth inning and scattered four singles in gaining his second victory of the year.

Rick Urquhart led the Tigers' hitting barrage, striking four singles in five attempts. Tom Holbertson, catcher John Serth, and Church each had a double in the 15-hit attack.

Utica needed the victory to advance to the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference baseball tournament to be held in Yankee Stadium. The Tigers now show a 3-7 record.

RIT 5, Plattsburgh 4

The Tigers edged Plattsburgh State in 10 innings, 5-4, May 20 at Plattsburgh, as Rick Urquhart singled in the winning run.

The Bengals, winners of four of their last five games, scored twice in the top of the eighth to send the game into extra innings.

In the 10th with two out, Ray Rignel singled, advanced to second on a miscue and scored when Urquhart lined his second hit of the game.

Church relieved Greg Zimmer and gained his third victory of the year.

Potsdam 7, RIT 6

The Tigers drew 12 walks, left 16 players on base and lost to Potsdam State 7-6 on May 21 at Potsdam.

The loss was the Tigers' eighth against four wins. Church slowed Potsdam after the first inning, but five errors didn't help his cause. Six of Potsdam's seven runs were unearned.

Church struck out 16 in eight innings of relief to bring his whiff total to 45 for his last 23 innings pitched. He got 10 strikeouts Friday at Plattsburgh and had 19 last Tuesday against Utica.

Serth led the Tigers at bat with a bases loaded double and two singles.

Costanza, Robinson

a second year student in the School of Art and Design.

Robinson set a new RIT season scoring record with 529 points averaging 21.2 per game. He was named the Eastern College Athletic Conference Sophomore of the Year after winning Sophomore of the Week award four times.

At one point during the season, Robinson strung together 34 consecutive successful free throws, using his one-hand push shot. He converted 131 of 157 free throws during the season for an average of 83 per cent.

"Robinson gave us the spark we needed," said Lou Alexander Jr., basketball coach and athletic director. "His consistent scoring and general fine play helped us to a great season." The basketball squad won the award for the best team at RIT.

VanderVeen, a fourth year Mechanical Engineering student, compiled a 30-10-3 record in four years of wrestling. He capped his career with a 10-2-1 dual meet log this season, proving a worthy captain for Coach Earl Fuller.

VanderVeen put together a 10-0-1 record as a freshman, then won five and lost two in his sophomore year before an injury forced him out of action. He was 5-6-2 as a junior before his sensational senior year.

VanderVeen finished third in the Hiram Invitational in 1964-65, then took a second in the 1965-66. He showed the same improvement in the highly-touted 4I tourney.

VanderVeen has been on the Dean's List for four years, is vice president of the Lettermen's Club, and a member of the honorary engineering fraternity.

"VanderVeen is one of the most outstanding student athletes we have ever had at RIT," said Fuller.

Bob Feller, former Cleveland Indian pitching great, was guest speaker at the banquet.

Athletes cited for their outstanding achievement in their respective sports were: John Serth, baseball; Bob Finkler, basketball; Charles Bennett and Fred Franke, cross country; Gary Legler and Gary Briddon, golf; Jim Olin, fencing; Jean Guy Naud, hockey; Jorge Rivas, soccer; Walt Wilcox, track; and VanderVeen, wrestling.

Tournament held at Edgerton Park

Alpha Phi Omega sponsored a city-wide marble and jacks tourney at the Edgerton Park Recreation Center on May 21. This was the second year APO sponsored the tourney in conjunction with the City Recreation Bureau.

There were two divisions in jacks and marbles, one under 12 years of age, and one for over 12 but under 15 years of age. First, second and third place trophies were given in each of the divisions.

Varsity golf team has record of 6 wins, 3 losses

The Tiger varsity golf team finished the season with a win over Potsdam 6-3. Matches were played at Potsdam on May 21.

Their record for the season was 5-6-1. Last year, Coach Earl Fuller's chargers were 4-4.

RIT's Gary Legler had the low score of both teams, shooting a 77.

RIT Cindermen defeat Oswego

by James High

The cindermen of RIT displayed their versatility on May 18 as they defeated the Oswego track team 93 - 51 at Oswego. This, after three of their sprinters were sent to the hospital because of a car accident on the way to the meet.

During the meet the Tigers racked up eight first places and won both the 440 and mile relays.

Double winners for the Tigers were Walt Wilcox and Chuck Bennett. Wilcox took first places in the 100-yd. dash with a 10.3 effort and in the 120-yd. high hurdles. Wilcox gained a second place in the 220 and thirds in the 440 intermediate hurdles and the broad jump. Wilcox was also one of the four-man 440 relay team.

Only a quarter of a point behind top scorer Wilcox was Bennett. He took top honors in the broad jump and triple jump with a distance of 38' 6 3/4". Bennett then placed second in the 440 intermediates and the 120 high hurdles to round out his 16 point total.

Other first places were taken by 220 star Pete Kozowyk, 440 star George Southworth, 880 star Jim High, and javelin star Mike DiToro. High also placed second in the mile and third in the two-mile, while DiToro placed third in the discus. Top efforts were also turned in by the 440 relay team of Wilcox, Kozowyk, Dick Poole, and Leo Derkowski, and the mile relay team of Kozowyk, Poole, Southworth, and Jack Campbell.

Second place finishers for the Tiger team included Bill Fretz in the 880-yd. run, Dan Benz in the two-mile run, Vic Bedzyk in the pole vault, Ron Sorochin in the high jump, Joe Frank in the discus, Pete Basti in the broad jump, Wayne Belleau in the triple jump, and Poole in the 440. Lynn Fuller and Poole took thirds in the shotput and the high jump respectively.

Admissions

be leaving, while those who did not apply may do so if notified of a student rating. Also, summer applications may increase following June exams. These, however, are "mere speculations," said the registrar.

Hoppe explained that there has been no significant increase in the difficulty of being admitted to RIT. Scores on the College Boards have increased slightly in importance, since scores have tended to be on an up-trend. However, the most important factor, according to Hoppe, is motivation. "I'd much rather admit a student who has worked for a while, and knows what he wants to do."

Film wins award; produced by SAC

A movie produced at the School for American Craftsmen has captured one of the top amateur film awards in the nation.

"The Music Rack," a 25-minute color sound production which shows Prof. Wendell Castle creating one of his handcrafted wood articles, has been named winner of the Golden Eagle, top award of the Council on International Non-theatrical Events.

In addition, the film has been entered in the Edinburgh, Scotland, film festival scheduled for later this year.

The movie was produced at a cost of $3,500 for showing at the First World Congress of Craftsmen in New York City in June 1964. The movie was produced through a grant from the American Craftsmen's Council.

Originally conceived by Castle, the film shows a music rack as it progresses from "pieces of wood to a piece of beauty."

Produced in Castle's workshop in the basement of the School for American Craftsmen, the movie took six months to complete.

The music rack shown in the movie is now owned by and located in the Museum of Contemporary Crafts, New York City.

A number of local people who were involved in the production include Archibald Miller, a professor of sculpture at the University of Rochester, the writer and narrator; Tom Muir Wilson, a former professor in the School of Photography at RIT who is currently teaching at the Minneapolis Art Museum, the producer and director; Neil Croom, a photography professor at RIT, the technical advisor.

Ars Antiqua composed and played original music for the production.

Castle, who has been at the School for American Craftsmen for four years, has received many honors for his craftsmanship. His creations appeared in the 13th annual Triennial exhibition in Milan, Italy, and he has had a number of one-man shows in Rochester, Chicago, and New York and has appeared in more than 100 exhibitions during the past four years.

Castle has been invited to Washington -- headquarters of CINE -- for the Golden Eagle presentation in September.

Memorial Fund to be established

The Bernice Campbell Fund, in memory of Dr. James B. Campbell's late wife, will soon be established. Students and faculty are urged to make this fund a meaningful tribute.

From the fund an award will be given each year to the RIT girl who best exemplifies high ideals. She will be chosen by a joint student-faculty committee.

Further announcements will appear in students' folders.

eliminate those unflattering stereotypes which contribute to the humor.

James D. Bracy (A&D 5)

OUT OF PROPORTION

Dear Editor:

I personally do not feel that the fraternities set out to belittle any group of people in their Spring Weekend display. Their object was to depict a situation of that era. Their undertaking was not to please everyone in the city, but to show life as it was. You cannot destroy the past, not even by lying and saying it never happened.

From the other side, we do not need to dwell upon these things either. I dare say there are many of either race who are proud of that past. Because one race carried the problem so far, must the other in retaliation carry it to the other extreme?

The fact is recognized that the Negro has suffered tremendously, but must they, when approaching an equal footing, attempt to rule over others, making themselves no better than their grandfather's masters?

In regard to the letters in last week's Reporter, I feel that the whole subject concerning the displays has been blown out of proportion.

'Techmila' seeks new staff members

Interested students are invited to apply for positions on the 1967 Techmila staff. Openings are available in many of the yearbook's production areas, including administration, layout and design, photography, literary, advertising, and office management.

The yearbook receives the largest single share of the Student Association fee, provides every student with a tangible record of the year's activities, and is a rewarding experience for Techmila staff members.

Those students interested should leave their names, departments, and telephone numbers in the Techmila folder opposite E-125.

Blowers wins award in IEEE student competition

William Blowers, a senior electrical student, received a second place award in the IEEE Student Paper Competition held May 14 at Clarkson College, Potsdam. His paper, "A Proposed Method of Under-Water Communication," was done as his senior thesis. Entering district competition, he was awarded second place out of a field of six students from other colleges in the state.

First place went to Clark Hamilton of Union College, and third place went to Katherine Owen of Syracuse University.

Motion to suspend WITR's financial support withdrawn

Student Senate again this week touched on WITR, the campus radio station. This came about as a withdrawal of a motion to suspend the station's finances on the grounds of mismanagement of funds.

Representatives of WITR were present at the Student Activities Board meeting May 17, at which time an extended discussion of the facts leading to the charge was heard. On the basis of the meeting the board decided that no suspension action was required, and this was recommended to Senate this week.

To prevent a recurrence of the problems that have arisen this year, WITR has been requested to operate with the assistance of the Financial Director of the Student Activities Board, Gary Proud.

Tunnard discusses city development

The developing characteristics of Rochester and other American cities was discussed by Christopher Tunnard, professor of city planning at Yale University, on May 23 at RIT.

The program, part of the continuing Sperry and Hutchinson sponsored seminar "This Rochester: Community or Calamity," was held in E-125 and was open to the public.

Prof. Tunnard was one of the first to recognize and outline the concept of "regional cities" or "super cities" -- including the largest urban center in the world, stretching along the Atlantic coast from Bangor, Me., to Norfolk, Va.
