Senate Monday night approved a veto presented by Student Association President, Greg Evans, which halted a planned student referendum on RIT's controversial graphic mark.

The original motion, presented before Senate two weeks ago, set the Election Board of Controls chairman, Jon Roberts into action. He was requested to make the arrangements with the Institute's Information Systems Department at the new campus to print enough IBM card ballots for students and faculty alike.

addressed the assembly to elaborate upon the Institute's plans for telephones in the new campus dorms.

According to his report, the Institute plans on a "Centrax" system whereby students will be billed directly for any toll calls made. He stated that there would be no monthly rate for the use of the phones, which will be installed into each dorm room. A secondary deposit will also not be needed.

Under the Centrax system, students will be able to reach any Institute extension or dorm room by dialing a four-digit number. All local and toll calls will be administered just as with any other private telephone.

TRAINER RECEIVES $300

RIT's student athletic trainer, Jeff Brooks (Photo 1), was granted $300 from the Student Association to help cover his travel and living expenses for a trip to the National Athletic Trainers's Assosiation training camp this June.

Jeff has been actively engaged in the athletic program here at RIT and is highly recommended by both Alexander, Director of Athletics, as well as by numerous student athletes who felt that a qualified student trainer was needed.

In the past year, RIT has gone through two trainers who will not be returning next fall.

CU-SENATE DISPUTE

Senate discussed the problem of deciding who was responsible for the financial support of semi-social organizations on campus such as the Glee Club, Drama Guild and Boswell.

A motion was presented calling for the acceptance of this responsibility by the Student Association and not the College Union.

The RIT Chapter of the American Red Cross didn't meet the expected quota of 200 pints of blood donated by RIT students but the drive, held last week, was deemed a huge success anyway, according to Mrs. Bev Linton, spokeswoman for the chapter.

According to Mrs. Linton, the chapter received 149 of the 153 pints pledged by RIT students. An additional 40 student donations were rejected because of medical reasons.

At the present time, RIT maintains a 350 pint total for all donations during this school year. This figure, we are told, represents RIT's best contribution since the program began on the Tech campus.

The fraternity pledging the most donors was Phi Sigma Kappa with 38. Theta Xi was second with 34 and Alpha Xi Delta third with 12. The remaining contributions were donated by the general student body, faculty and staff

Mr. James Black, announced his resignation as Director of Men's Housing at a recent meeting of the Men's and Women's Residence Halls Association.

Mr. Black began his employment at RIT in July of 1965 as Associate Director of Men's Housing and became Director the ollowing year. He received his Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry from RIT in 1964 and since then has done graduate work in student personnel services at Syracuse University.

Mr. Canham originates from Boston, which is one of the Monitor's publication sites. Other editions are published in Los Angeles and London. All totaled, the Christian Science Monitor is said to be one of the world's four best newspapers dealing with international news and analysis.

In the past, RIT has presented some of the most prominent public figures to address the graduating classes, not the least of whom were: Alton Blakeslee, chief science writer for the Associated Press; Lester P. Faneuf, President of Bell Aircraft Corporation; Dr. Edward Teller, professor of physics at Berkeley and "father of the 'H' Bomb"; and Werner VonBraun, present director of the Apollo moon program.

Last year, you will recall, Chet Huntley of NBC-TV news, addressed the graduates and was said to have delivered an "effective, stimulating speech" to the B.F.A., M.S., and M.F.A. candidates.

This year an anticipated 1,600 students will receive degrees or diplomas upon successfully completing their courses of study.

panty raids—really now...

We of the Reporter congratulate those rare individuals who so courageously took it upon themselves to make their extra-curricular college lives just a little more interesting.

We condemn, however, the method by which these students perpetrated their attempt. They obviously overlooked the hazards which materialized in the Spring of 1963 for those students involved in the raid of that year.

Not only were students, faculty members, and some members of the administration badly injured during the chaotic time but some men were suspended or placed on social probation for their actions.

We of the Reporter strongly feel that this type of recreation is unnecssary on any American college campus today. The days of gold fish swallowing, block dancing, roller derbying, and pantie raiding are over. Today's college student must depend upon the established recreation and social organizations for on-campus recreation.

At RIT, the College Union holds the responsibility of providing these necessary social outlets. It is their job to see that sufficient entertainment is available for the Tech student so that he need not rely upon his dubious inginuity for recreation. It is the Union's responsibility to see that each student has the access to some form of recreation on campus.

Next year, we'll hopefully be occupying a new campus equiped with a College Union Building (not a Student Union livingroom). We all expect to see dramatic changes in the social lives of most Tech students. We can only hope that the newly ratified College Union Board of directors is thoroughly aware of the problems they will face and that they are willing to accept the challenge of providing more recreation for the students of RIT.

pass-fail positively

This weekend a seminar on the pass-fail grading system will be held at Roberts Wesleyan College. The various aspects of the system will be considered.

The basic idea of pass-fail is to take the emphasis off grades, and place it on learning.

There are many ways pass-fail can be administered. Some colleges have a total system, others for certain courses, and others allow the student to choose a number of hours of pass-fail courses.

After the seminar, student government should act on

As we see it, there is only one way to make pass-fail worthwhile--a total pass-fail system.

To give the student a choice of pass-fail courses would only serve as an easy way out of hard courses. To make some courses pass-fail would increase "grade grubbing" in other courses while the pass-fail course suffered.

Pass-fail should increase the value of education by taking the emphasis off grades. Any plan that would detract from this pass-fail ideal must be defeated.

Racial Crisis

Dear Sir,

Ishould like to express my appreciation of Bill Thompson's letter (April 2 issue) which did demonstrate a profound understanding of the tragic dimensions of the current racial crisis, and my horror at the editorial in the same issue which did not.

The point that Mr. Thompson was making was not to condone the recent racial disorders, but rather to attempt to understand them. He also recognized the place of suffering in the processes of human redemption.

This letter is being written on Good Friday, which has always stood as the exemplification par excellence of this very hard truth. Passion must undergird all attempts at reconciliation.

PANTY-RAID-PASS IT ON ...

I find my depression over the future of racial relations in our country dissipated a little when a freshman student can respond to such a situation with this degree of compassion and wisdom.

If you're tired of the ordinary spring and summer sports such as tennis, golf and swimming, there's something new that's gaining in interest -- skydiving.

The sport first developed in France just after WW H. Those steel-nerved Frenchmen probably liked parachute jumping so much they decided it would make a nice peace-time hobby. Jump meets are now held between May and October all over the U.S.

There's no one reason ever given as to why people take up skydiving. Some consider skydivers insecure and out to prove themselves. But there's nothing too sane about chasing a little white ball over hill and dale or beating a poor tennis ball to death either.

Skydiving is an expensive sport. First jumps cost about $35, following jumps (if there are any) are $12 and equipment (if your heart is dead set on this sport) ranges from $100 to $500.

Training consists of two hours of ground instruction, one hour of learning how to fall by doing 6 foot standing jumps and finally jump-

What Is The Purpose For The Ratification?

by Alan Horowitz

What is the purpose for the College Union Ratification anyway??? Is it really necessary? From looking at the ballot, I think anyone with any intelligence can see that it is a farce. We are given a choice of one name for each position and asked to say either yea or nay. Obviously if we say nay, it won't make very much difference, because there is only one candidate. Now the selection committee will no doubt counter in saying that there is a space for a write-in candidate. It would probably take a very large coup to get one can-

The selection committee has been weeding out all the would-be candidates for the past several weeks. Shouldn't we, the student body, have more of a choice? The Firing Line

by Neil Shapiro

A rather interesting thing happened to me on my way to the Reporter, last week. (Take it, Mr. Bones.)

While walking around Midtown Plaza waiting for some blond hippie to throw herself at me (my daily constitutional) what did I spy gazing forlornly into a window display of lacy unmentionables, but a rather buxom RIT coed.

Astounded at this unbelievable stroke of luck, I began a conversation with her.

"Whatcha doing?" I asked, while suavely lighting a Lark.

An almost inaudible sigh escaped her soft appearing lips, as her nose pressed harder against the window pane, "Trying to figure out what went wrong," she said. "What went wrong?" I asked.

I'm noted for unexpected responses.

"Do you think maybe pink ones would have been better than white ruffles?" she asked, pointing with her nose at a colorful display of undergarments.

"Well, I always preferred something a little less pretentious, myself."

"You . . . you're like all the rest!" she screamed, hitting me around the region of the eyes and nose with her purse.

"What? What?" I said trying to calm her.

"You don't care . . . you just don't care," she said and returned to gazing into the window.

'About what?"

"After all the trouble we went to," she sighed. "Helping distribute the pamphlets, making soap impressions of the keys, doping the house mother, buying shortskirts . . ." Her voice seemed to fail her, she seemed to shrink into herself. (Still a 36, though.)

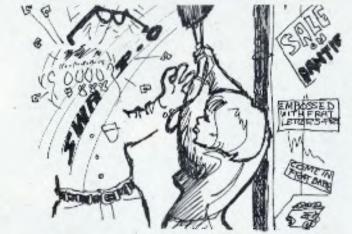

I wasn't yet too sure of what she was talking about, so I decided to question her more closely. After she screamed, I just decided to question her.

Holding the five symmetrical scratches on my cheek, I asked her, "What were you planning?"

"A PANTIE RAID!!" she said so loudly that one of the Midtown Guards looked at me suspiciously.

Stepping back, and smiling at the guard, I said, literally astounded, "You mean you were behind that!" Thinking back, I recalled that everyone thought that the ringleader lived in the NRH. This made the French Resistance look like Madame Bovary's clinic!!

"What would you do for excitement if you were locked up in a little, grimy room day after day with the same little, grimy girl?" she asked accusingly.

"Well, I'd . . ."

"I mean if you were me," she said threateningly.

"Oh well, I guess I'd be looking for a little excitement . . ." the light dawned, "like maybe a . . . a pantie raid." I was aghast at the awesome simplicity of the plot.

"That's right," she said, obviously relieved that I had finally caught on. "So, we went to all the trouble of arranging everything . . . Hell, it cost almost $100 in laundry bills alone . . . and . . . and what happened?"

"I dunno, what happened?"
"NOBODY SHOWED!" she wailed. "We just sat there. Hundreds of us, staring out our windows, singing lewd chants, waving frilly flags... and nobody showed up. Except one Pinkie to check for LSD."

She looked so sad and forgotten, a tiny figure lost in the hurry and bustle of Midtown that . . . well, my heart went out to her.

"How do you feel, now?" I asked. "Frustrated."

I'd like to take this space to thank Pathos for buying me that Southern Comfort on The Rocks, after he lost the War of The Columnists Contest. The score was 4 to Zip.

This is the election year when more people have thrown their hats out of the ring than in it. Romney, Rockefeller, and Johnson have all backed out of the Presidential race, and the party that stands to gain the most is the Republicans. With one strong candidate in Richard Nixon, the GOP has less to worry about post convention wound-healing than their 'motley crew" of opponents. That is, if

Rocky does indeed stay out. The Democrats on the other hand, have three strong candidates vying for the top spot. Kennedy, a shrewd and powerful campaigner with money and blitz tactics, is waging the most colorful war, but many observers belive he has made too many political enemies in the past to gain the needed support. Minnesota's Senator Eugene Mc-Carthy, an intellectual of sorts. and extremely popular with the young and old alike is still doing surprisingly well despite rumors that his organization isn't as stable as it could be.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey was whisked into the party spotlight with Lyndon Johnson's dy-namic "abdication speech," and many of the party leaders who don't trust Bobby and see little hope in a McCarthy sweep, could swing to his side.

The question on Vietnam seems interesting. Last week Nixon told an editors' conference that the candidates should call a moratorium on the Vietnam subject to give the administration time to gain a stable footing in the peace probes. The recommendation was greeted with thunderous applause.

Though many political speculators will lay odds to who will be the next President. We feel that too much has happened already, and too much could happen in the near future to guess on the winner.

Army Spies on Vietnam 'Pot' Users

Washington (CPS) —The Army has "undercover drug agents" among its troops in Vietnam.

Alfred Fitt, assistant secretary of defense for manpower, admitted under questioning by a Senate subcommittee recently that a few such agents are operating in Vietnam. He said this was part of a six-point effort of education, investigation, and laboratory tests aimed at stopping drug use among soldiers.

Fitt claimed, however, that marijuana use by soldiers is "minor." This came in response to testimony by John Steinbeck IV, son of the novelist, who told the subcommittee that 60 per cent of the troops in Vietnam use marijuana.

Steinbeck, who just returned from Vietnam and wrote a magazine article on drug use among the troops, also said the Army was giving soldiers pep pills to make them better fighters. Although he admitted that large amounts of amphetymines are being supplied to troops in Vietnam, Fitt said they were for "weight reduction."

MIT Seeks Deferments for Graduates

Cambridge, Mass. (CPS) — Massachusetts Institute of Technology is asking for occupational deferments for 800 draft eligible graduate teaching and research assistants.

Dean Irwin Sizer of the MIT graduate school said the school will in a few days be sending letters to the local draft boards of the 800 men. These 800 are about half of MIT's 1600 teaching and research assistants. The rest are women, foreigners or already in school and thus not eligible for the draft.

All graduating seniors and firstyear graduate students will become available for the draft in June, under a February order eliminating most student deferments for graduate students.

MIT is the first school to ask for occupational deferments for teaching assistants However, at a House subcommittee hearing in March, Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey did imply that such deferments are available to teaching assistants.

In Washington, a Selective Service spokesman said the System has no specific response to MIT's action. He said it would be up to local draft boards to decide on the individual cases. The spokesman said the students must be able to demonstrate three things:

-That they are employed in work that is the national interest; -That they cannot be replaced by others with the same skills;

-That their removal "would cause a material loss of effectiveness of such an activity.'

Although MIT has made the graduate assistants, individual teaching and research assistants can ask their own local boards for occupational deferments.

Foreign Grants

On May 1st, the Institute of International Education will offucially open its competition for 1969-70 United States Government and foreign graduate grants for academic study or research abroad, $nd for professional training in the creative and performing arts.

HE annually conducts competitions for U.S. Government scholarships provided under the Fulbright-Hays Act as part of the educational and cultural exchange program of the U.S. Department of State, and for grants provided by various foreign governments, universities and private donors. Under these programs, more than 950 American graduate students will have an opportunity to study in any one of 50 countries. The purpose of the grants is to increase mutual understanding between the people of the U.S. and other countries through the exchange of persons, knowledge and skills.

Candidates who wish to apply for an award must be U. S. citizens at the time of application, have a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the beginning date of the grant and, in most cases, be proficient in the language of the host country. Selections will be made on the basis of academic and-or professional record, the feasibility of the applicant's proposed study plan, language preparation and personal qualifications.

Present city campus recreational facilities are starkly undesirable. Henrietta, however, will provide great possibilities for picnic areas and playing fields, to say nothing of the bridge and brook.

Moving conveyor will lighten the work load for cafeteria employees next year & provide a great convenience for students.

DORMANT BUT AWAKENING

People have been thinking and talking about what housing will be like next vear tor months, and dispite the many disadvantages of the projected housing policy, there are positive aspects to new campus housing and as can be seen construction is now to a point where the buildings are more than brick shells.

We present this article with the hope that the photos will give students some idea as to what housing will indeed be like at Tech's new home.

View of the yet uncompleted dining area. The modern casual atmosphere will be a welcome relief after using the present facilities.

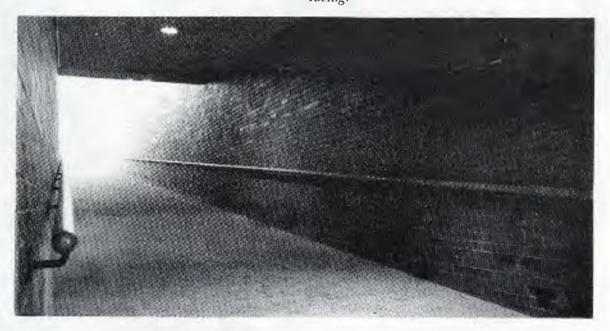

On of the two serving lines in the dorm cafeteria providing an excellent chance for clean and efficient service.

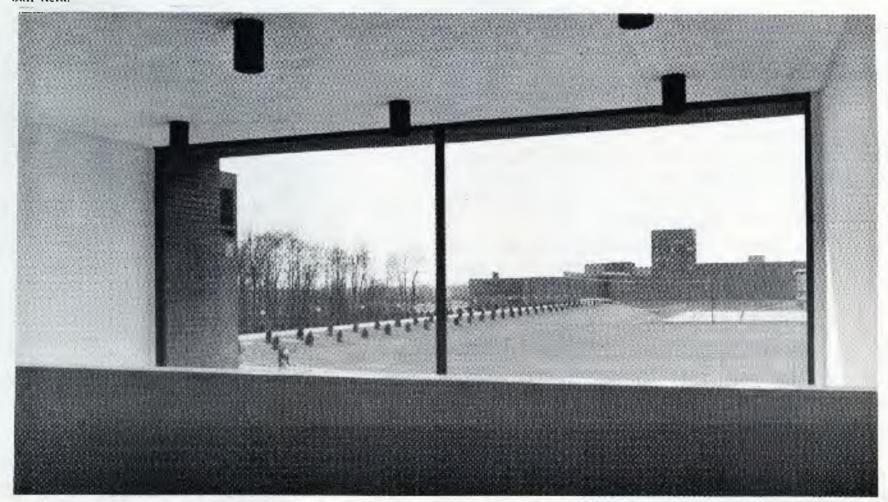

Once furnished, this room will provide a comfortable and spacious atmosphere for studying and living. There is room for 1900 people in the dorm complex.

Entrance from main plaza to central dining area. This will facilitate fast and easy travel without crowded conditions. Ideal for wheelchair racing!

The mezzanine of a dorm lounge provides an excellent view of the extensive athletic facility which includes an ice rink, swimming pool, two gyms, a soccer feld, tennis courts, and ample room for a football field.

What To Do On Your Way To The Nearest Bank

Whatever one may say against computers - they do have their good points, as Ed Simon, the Reporter's Business Manager discovered.

The Reporter receives much of its advertising from a company called The National Educational Advertising Services, or in college newspaper slang - NEAS. In return for our printing the ads they send us, they give us money. We always considered this an equitable arrangement, but last week (for a time, an, how) we were overjoyed by it.

Ed, a normally quiet gentleman, let out a blood-curding scream as he opened the mail last week. Later on, some of the office wags compared the sound to that of cash register ringing up a sale.

After we revived him and convinced him to let go of the check he was holding we got the story out of him.

It seems NEAS had sent us their usual tri-yearly money but what a delightful difference! Instead of the typical string of three digits to the left of the decimal, a veritable file of four stared up at quickly glassing eyeballs. And, and the first one

Three Kids Grab Purse

Three similar, yet seemingly unrelated, petty thefts took place recently on the Tech campus. The first, perpertrated in broad daylight, occoured at the bookstore when one of the cashier's purses was stolen by three children who ran into and out of the store before a group of students. The purse was recovered but the cashier's wallet containing cash and credentials has not yet been recovered.

A similar occurrence happened in the library as a child walked out with a group of pharmacy books. The Pinkerton in the library's vicinity was notified and chased the boy but to no avail.

Finally, another in a series of College Union thefts took place. This time the eigarette machine in the Union's lobby was vandalized. Both cigarettes and cash were stolen.

Immediately the staid, practical individuals in the office began to make their staid, practical plans.

"The Heck with Letchworth Park. Let's rent Rhode Island for the staff picnic this year."

"You wanna merge with the New Rork Times?"

"So how come Johnson can't balance his budget?!"

"How many deluxe-super-collossal electric typewriters did you say we need? I mean, how many do we WANT?'

Then Grant Hamilton, who probably carries honesty to a fault more than any other living human being, decided to call

For the sake of brevity, and it still hurts to say this, not only did NEAS know about their mistake but there was already a telegram on the way telling us that they had stopped payment on their check.

They also said that 21 other schools were receiving their telegrams. In the words of the NEAS man, "I think our computer wasn't feeling well."

Well, the thought was there and we've decided to place one free ad for the NEAS. Here it comes:

'Make-Up Workshop' Given By Drama Guild

A six-session, Saturday afternoon "Make-Up Workshop" is being offered now through June 1 by RIT's Drama Guild and Extended Services Division.

Designed for students, teachers, organization leaders and community theater members, the workshop will include instruction in make-up for stage, television and photography.

Demonstrations and laboratory sessions have been scheduled in corrective, age and character make-up; use of hair goods and special effects such as plastics, latex and molds; design of make-ing from a plane but with a line pulling the chute out for the student. After qualifying, the trainee is allowed to open the chute by himself after falling a certain distance in order to clear the plane. Skilled skydivers can perform spirals and turns in the air, spot jump (get as close to the center of a 1000 foot circle as possible) or even water jump. The last is the most dangerous since jumpers only have 15 seconds to degear while in the water.

Only about 15% of first time skydivers are girls and the first time is usually the last. They do make ardent spectators though. It's a pleasant feeling having men literally falling at their feet.

Further information about the workshop, which is limited to 30 participants, may be obtained by contacting James M. Papero, assistant director, Extended Services Division.

Lotion Plans Coming Year

David Lotion, newly elected president of the Men's Residence Halls Association, has begun planning for the coming year which should prove to be both unique and unusual.

Dave, however, wants to orient any male students who will be living in the dorms and plan to take part in residence hall government next year. He is therefore asking all interested students to contact him before the summer months so that he can further his plans for the coming season.

A Letter to David Parks

(The following comprises the text of a letter sent to RIT student David Parks, from an anonymous author in Detroit, Michigan. The REPORTER presents it for your inspection.)

Dave:

It was plenty disgusting to read about you in the Negro newspaper called "Michigan Chronicle." As a tourist in Detroit, I am just passing through the city, and there is a big newspaper strike on. For want of something to read, found that people are scraping the bottom of the barrel, and even resorting to perusing colored papers, of all things. Needless to say I was shocked at the vulgar items published, the transfer of the properties not to mention the awful griping & constant complaining done by members of the 2nd-classers & rabblerousers.

Actually, boy, what did you expect in the Army? You ought to know perfectly well that underdogs have always done menial tasks throughout life, so why wouldn't you be smart enough to figure things out, and know that it would pretty much be the same in the Armed Services as in private life? Anybody with an ounce of sense would know that, wouldn't they now, boy?

Sorry you don't get along with the white soldiers, but maybe you have a chip on your shoulder. You have no respect for yourself, so they automatically look down upon you as a black boy. It doesn't do any specific good for you to address him as Mister Pale, "Olay" and all those sweet names you blacks have cooked up.

You had no business talking and laughing with those Victnamese gals, probably attempting to seduce them, and they are perfectly innocent and don't realize that colored boys aren't the same as whites. Shame on you Dave. But giving you the benefit of the doubt, maybe you were carrying on a decent conversation. Evidently the Sgt. didn't think so; he was wise to your antics. Most of us are.

Here in Detroit, I'm told that the Nigs are bolder than just about anywhere. All the decent lawabiding citizens have long since fled to the suburbs, leaving the Nigs in the "inner city" to pay taxes, etc. to the suburbs, leaving the Nigs in the "inner city" to pay taxes, etc. to keep the hig burg operating. It goes without saying, they can't pay for anything, much less running a city the size of Detroit, so naturally the place is quickly going to the dogs. Pity the poor mayor, who is having a heck of a time worrying and quickly getting grayer, inasmuch as the black population is such a genuine menace. And big nuisance and detriment to society.

Think of it this way: Being born BLACK has a great advantage. Negroes can be ignorant, lazy, pathetic, a junkie, drunken bum, illiterate, unemployed, or passed up for promotion, etc. and can simply blame Whitev.

blame Whitey.

In my estimation, the only thing you Negroes are experts at, is the following—and you surely are experts too:

Robbing, murdering, stabbing, stealing, looting, rioting, swearing, raping, trouble-making in general. The crime rate of all Northern cities skyrocketed practically simultaneously with the coming of thousands of Negroes from the Southland a few years ago. Nobody invited them. They just poured in, unwanted (natch)!

They just poured in, unwanted (natch)!

The cities foolishly began issuing them Welfare checks, and for generations now, the Negroes have been living the Life of Riley off hardworking lawabiding serious minded white taxpayers. We are getting wholeheartedly sick and tired of keeping 2nd classers who do nothing to get a job, just gripe and complain, murder & steal. They are so content to live off welfare and of course they are experts at bringing huge numbers of pickaninnies into this world for others to provide for. Seldom do thes black babies ever get to see their fathers; The best solution is to get yourselves a spot over in Africa where you'd be appreciated, and make a new home. You just ain't welcome in America, because you are a giant-sized disgrace for which we are ashamed in the eyes of the world. We're sick of apologizing for your lack of manners, and excusing your terrible conduct. Just stop and think for a moment—how like a paradise U.S. would be without blacks.

'Tell Them You're A Negro'-Guy

I am sure no matter what happens, who is killed, who is martyred, which towns are burned down, there will be bigots. I feel contrary to popular belief, the majority of white people in this country are bigots.

I am especially bittered by the death of Dr. Martin Luther King. Because after Tuesday's concern, TV specials, marches here and there, and, oh yes, the riots on Wednesday, the majority of you have resumed your Thursday attitudes. I have no advice for you -what can be said. I do, however feel remorse and sorrow for you and wonder what in hell, if anything could ever shake you out of your apathy.

Perhaps an experience like one cago to go on a march.

The march was originally sponsored by Dr. King, but he withdrew after Mayor Daily and the city made one or two promises of better jobs and housing in the city of Chicago. Both of which I had been refused there.

CORE, of which I am a member, decided to go anyway, against Dr. King's advice and without him. I was one of 100 to march. It was to be a non-violent and peaceful march.

In the march of one hour and 45 minutes, 3,000 white animals taunted, threw bricks, eggs, cannon crackers, pop bottles and god knows what all at us. I saw the teenager next to me hit in the side of the head with a brick that laid his face open from head to neck. The lady on my other side nearly had her foot blown off with something. Fortunately a Negro lady two down with a small baby in her arms was unharmed. I saw a nun hit in the back of the head with a brick. Cicero is basically Polish, Lithuanian, etc., all of whom I believed to be good Catholics.

Six whitestrying to break through lines of Chicago police, sheriffs, state troopers and national guards-der to pray at a filling station where a 14-year-old boy who had the guts to go to Cicero to look for a job was beaten to death by a mob. Believe me it's hard to pray when 3,000 jeering, inhuman animals have you backed up to the front of a gas station. At that point, after marching through all of white Cicero, the national guard finally deployed. This was one of the most magnificent sights I have ever seen. On the march to the gas station they simply sat in their trucks and watched the bombardment, but going back as far as the eye could see, every three feet stood a guardsman, facing the crowd with fixed bayonets.

At the end of the march the 3,000 spectators began to move in for hand to hand combat. I ran like hell, and I don't consider myself a coward, but I was very definitely afraid for my life. The guardsmen had to shoot a few people at this point.

We at RIT have the same problems, by the way. I am sure there are those of you who are unaware, others who are aware and couldn't give less of a damn. God help you

I am a Negro, and because of it The march was conducted in or- I was turned down to live at 249 South Plymouth Avenue and at 2 Atkinson Street. In July of 1964 an apartment owner told me over the telephone it would kill her mother if she were to rent to a Negro. Before she knew of my race she stated that she would rent to me. I then drove around Rochester to find housing and after three days

Berkeley, Calif. (CPS) - The University of California student government has voted to begin legal action against the Berkeley administration in an effort to regain control of student funds.

Chancellor Robert Hayes has stripped the Student Senate of the Associated students, University of California (ASUC) of financial authority last fall after a student election was held in violation of administration rules barring graduate students from ASUC elections. The ASUC recognized graduate students as members of the Association and allowed them to vote in a campus election.

The ASUC Senate voted to begin legal proceedings after three months of negotiations with the administration. ASUC President Dick Beahrs complained that the administration, "is not taking our efforts at negotiation seriously. The law suit will make them take them seriously."

Since last fall, authority and supervision over the Student Union Complex has been in the hands of the Union Program and Facilities Board (UPFB), a body where students are outnumbered by faculty members and administrators. The students have refused to participate in UPFB proceedings. Six of 13 ASUC Board Chairmen, students who head various divisions of the student government, say they will submit their current budget requests to the ASUC Senate anyway.

Board chairmen accused the administration of "gross neglect of the pressures of time and planning and the spirit of coopera-tion," and they pledged not to cooperate with the UPFB.

of denials, wound up in the married student's apartments.

More recently on our campus, a student, white of course, was told that if he lived in a certain apartment he at least would not have to live with any "niggers," at which point I told them what they could do with the garage that I rented from them.

Several people's reaction to this news was to paint "We do not rent to Niggers" across the buildings and watch them burn down. I have personally submitted my information to the Urban League and FIGHT. I hope something comes of it, even though the majority reaction will be, "oh well we're moving anyway." I am sure no matter what happens, who is killed, who is martyred, what is burned down . .

Why don't you try telling someone you are a Negro sometime. Your color won't matter, the result will be the same. It's largely the word that produces a completely negative

Housing policy has been the topic of discussion for some students concerned with where they'll be living next year. In an interview with a number of RIT coeds, the Reporter reveals some student opinion on this topic.

TOPIC: Should single coedsover 21 be permitted to live off cam-

Lanna Pejobic (A&D 2, 20) -Yes, of course!

Ann Richardson (Pr 4, 21) - Yes, by the time a girl is 21 she should be able to make up her own mind about where she wants to live. I don't believe that the administration or anyone else should make this decision for her.

Karen Pryzlak (A&D 2, 19) -Everybody should be allowed to live off campus if they want to.

Barbara Newson (Ret 1, 19) -Monetarily it's better to live off campus. I don't think it's fair that some girls should have curfews and others not. When you live off campus, unless four or more girls live together, they can't live as cheaply as you would expect. On the other hand, I feel that every girl needs dorm experience.

Debby Ellison (Ret 1, 19) - No! Definitely Not! No one over 21 should be restricted to do something against his will. It's a 21year-old's right to live off campus if she wants to.

Bacon Fires One Hitter For 5-1 Baseball Win

Warren Bacon started the varsity baseball season off on the left hand with a 5-1, one-hit victory over Brockport State at the New Campus April 20.

The senior curveballer struck out nine, walked one and was touched for a lone hit by Brockport's Bob Norton in the sixth inning. Norton smashed a ground ball just past the outstretched glove of shortstop Rick Urquhart with one out and no one on base.

Only two balls managed to reach the outfield. Bacon gave up one in the first and one in the eighth. The Golden Eagle's lone run came on a. three-base throwing error in the Urquhart made his single good for two Tiber RBI's. Jesse Coleman drove in a run with a single and Dick James' double was good for two runs.

The contest was also the opener for Brockport.

Monday, Buffalo State came to town with Oswego invading the campus Wednesday. Today the Tigers meet the University of Buffalo at the new campus in a game starting at 3 p.m. Tomorrow the new campus will be the battleground for a doubleheader with Plattsburg. Wednesday the squad takes to the road for the first time with a contest at Houghton.

High Scores In IFC Action

by Al Alaimo April 20 Games

In the first game of the year, AEPi overwhelmed Triangle, 23-3, on the dazzling plays of Phil Cohen and the big sticks of AEPI's tremendous pitcher-catcher combination that accounted for eight hits in 10 at bats. Steve Creson also was 3-for-3 for the day. Clint Coles was leading batter for Triangle with two hits and two RBI's.

The second game saw Phi Sig down the Engineers, 14-11, in a real hard-fought battle. Losing 14-3, the Engineers rallied hard for eight runs, only to run out of time. Ron Stage led Triangle with five RBI's. Bill Burns of PSK helped his team out with a big three run homer.

The third game which plotted PSK against the Purples of TEP was the most exciting game of the day. It saw TEP in the lead all the way, but the Big Red were not to be denied, as John Gardella got up with two away in the last inning and knocked home the winning two runs. Ron Swanson had a home run with one for TEP in the fifth.

This proved to be the day of the offense as Phi Kappa Tau walloped Theta Xi, 32-14, in a long, error filled game that saw TX go through its entire pitching staff. Al Countryman of PKT had complete control of his team, as he was also a big stick, aiding his own cause with a home run. Teammate Don Frace also had one in the big 14 run fifth inning. For TX, pitcher Jack Farrington also tried to aid his cause with a big homer in his first at bat of the year.

April 21 Contests

AEPi's Golden Lions continued their winning ways by downing TEP, 9-8, and TX, 13-5. In the opener, TEP chucker Ralph Longobardi and team held Stu Cojac and company until the last inning when Phil Cohen scored on a Dave Pliner single to clinch the win.

In the second game of a doubleheader for AEPi, rookie pitcher Bruce "The Whip" Grayson held the defending champs to five runs as his teammates tallied 13 times. Big bats for AEPi were Stu Cojac, Steve Creson, and Mark Minson. Norm Schoenberger led the Vikings with two ground rule doubles in four times at the plate.

The Engineers of Triangle had a rough day again, as they suffered two losses. In the first game with PKT, the Engineers held close until the third when PKT took the lead 7-4 and never looked back. They won the game, 22-9, with Harry Richards going 4-for-6 at the plate.

Frosh "Nine" Lose To MCC

By Ron Carroll

Although each team had eight hits, Monroe Community College scored more and beat RIT's frosh baseball team, 8-2, April 18 at MCC's diamond. RIT's opener was lips adding single tallies for the marred by erratic pitching in the first eight innings which accounted for all of MCC's runs but the team showed solid hitting and a good defense.

In the top of the fifth, secondbaseman Pete Koval walked, advanced to third on a putout and error, and scored on a sacrifice fly by shortstop Ralph Arnold. Arnold doulbled in the eighth and scored on a fielders choice. The frosh play their next game against Hobart April 24 at the New Campus.

In their second game of the day, the Engineers held tight until the fifth and went ahead of Sigma Pi, 8-7, only to have the Sig Pi's grab eight quick runs to win the game, 15-8. Jerry Mazcha of Sig Pi led all hitting with two HR's, one a grand slam, and eight RBI's.

On tap for tomorrow; TX vs. PSK and SP vs. TEP at 9:45 and PKT vs. TEP and TX vs. SP at 11:30. Sunday sees TX vs. TEP at 9:45 and SP vs. AEPi and PKT vs. PSK at 11:30.

By the way, for those of you still desiring baseball cards of these players, there will be a short delay due to a complete taxing of our supply.

RIT Runners In Marathon

Friday, April 19, was the date of the 72nd running of the Boston Marathon. It is a race where people of all ages run, jog, and walk a distance of 26 miles, 385 yards, from Hopkinton to Boston. This year 1,014 people were officially entered and 890 showed up for the start of the race.

In the crowd of runners at the start of the race were 15 Rochester runners. Two were RIT students. Another was a graduate of RIT, and one the freshman coach of the cross country team.

Winner of the race was Ambrose Burfoot with a comparatively slow time of 2:22:17. The first Rochester runner to finish was Dick Ashley, the coach of the frosh cross country team. He placed 24th with a time of 2:43:14.

The first of the RIT crew to finish was Jim High. He placed 177 and completed the race in three hours, 31 minutes, and 53 seconds. Behind him was Fred Franke, a graduate of the Art and Design School. Franke ran the 26 plus miles in 3:39:46 to place 217. Clarence Yaniski also completed the distance. Throughout the 535 officially recorded finishers his name did not appear but his time was approximately five hours.

Stickmen Win 1st By 9-5 Score

After dropping its first varsity contest to Hobart College, 25-5, the lacrosse team came back to take a 9-5 win over the University of Rochester at the River Campus April 17.

Together, Co-Captains Bruce O'Palks and George McGraw accounted for five of the nine Tiger goals. O'Palka had three and Mc-Graw two. Steve Paine tallied twice with Bill Linthicum and Ed Philrest of RIT's scoring.

A return match with the Yellowjackets is on tab for tomorrow at the new campus beginning at 2 p.m. 0 2 2 5--9 RIT . U of R..... 1 2 2 0--5

RIT goals: O'Palka 3, Paine 2, McGraw 2, Linthicum, Phillips. UR goals: Harrison 2, Joseph 2, Seeley, Wax. RIT assists: O'Palka, McGraw, Murray. UR assists, Saves: Chambliss (RIT), Goldstein (RIT) 1. Bernard (UR) 11, Nash (UR) 6.

Alexander Ends Coaching Career; Big Building Problem To Face Carey

Another era came to a close last week with the resignation of Louis A. Alexander Jr. as head basketball coach of the Tigers. The 38-year-old Alexander will continue as athletic director guiding both the athletic and physical education programs.

Bill Carey will succeed Alexander. Carey, in his second year at RIT, has coached the freshmen basketball, soccer and baseball teams. His soccer team last fall went undefeated in seven games.

"This has been in our plans for six years," Alexander stated, "and now seems the appropriate time to turn over the coaching rems to someone else.

"Bill Carey has tremendous qualifications. I feel our basketball program is in good hands. He has proven in his two years here and at Waterloo (High School) that he will do an outstanding job.

"With the addition of lacrosse this year and swimming next year and our move to the new campus, I felt I could not continue to do both jobs."

A graduate of the University of Rochester, Alexander became a top basketball player there. He set the single season basketball scoring record at the U of Rwith 237 points in a 16-game season. The mark has since been broken.

During his senior year, he became the team captain and was named as one of the 50 top college basketball players in the East. After serving in the Navy, Alexander became assistant basketball coach at RIT

In 1956, Alexander took over the coaching from A. Leo Fox, whose team had just completed an undefeated season with 17 wins. The first three seasons saw Alexander's squads come through with 16-3, 15-5, and 18-2 records. Since then, only the 1965-66 and 1966-67 teams have had winning seasons. This year the team finished 6-18.

During anine-game losing streak by the basketball team this year, student groups began calling for the removal of Alexander. An editorial appeared in the Reporter headlined, "Remove Coach Alexander," claiming that he was "unimaginative" and "unispiring" in his coaching techniques.

"This did not have any effect whatsoever on my decision," he said. "In fact, it almost made me change my mind and decide to remain as coach."

Before coming to RIT, Bill Carey served 13 years as physical education instructor and basketball coach at Waterloo. Between 1963 and 1965, his teams won an unprecedented three straight championships in the Section 5, Class A basketball tournament. Prior to his Waterloo position, he taught and coached for three years at King Ferry.

Carey is a 1950 graduate of Cortland State where he received a Bachelor of Science in Education degree and later a Masters degree in 1960.

As for next year's team. "Well, when a team loses five starters and the coach, most anything can happen," Carey answered. "I've got a few good freshmen moving up and a couple transfers that could make a big difference."

Trackmen Defeat Oswego

By Jim High

RIT's track team ran their first meet of the season April 20 and literally ran away with the victory by scoring 124 points to Oswego's 21. The Tigers gave up points to Oswego in only seven Lynn Fuller was a triple winner for the team scoring wins in the shot put, discus, and javelin. In the javelin, Fuller set a new school record of 170'8 1-2".

Fred Higham and Dick Hennip were double winners. Higham won the 100 yard dash in 10.1 to tie the school record and then ran a 22.1 220 for a record breaker. Hennip scored victories in the 440 and tied for first place with Ron Sorochin in the high jump.

In the low hurdles, Chuck Bennet placed second running a 16.0 breaking the school record for the event.

During the meet, the Tigers scored 14 first places out of a possible 17. In eight of the events, the Tigers shut out Oswego by placing in the top three positions.

Other first place finishers were Bill Fretz in the 880, Jim High in the mile, Dan Benz in the 2mile, Pete Basti in the broad jump, and Bruce Scutt in the triple jump. The 440 and mile relay teams also scored victories.

Today and tomorrow the mile relay team will be competing in the Penn Relays. Wednesday the track team will be traveling to LeMoyne for the LeMoyne Relays and Saturday they compete against Houghton and St. Bonaventure at Houghton.

Swimming Now A Varsity Sport

Varsity swimming was officially added to RIT's athletic program in March.

RIT's athletic committee voted unanimously to allow the sport to compete intercollegiately under the auspices of the athletic department, effective July 1.

This brings to 13 the number of varsity sports offered at the Institute. Lacrosse achieved varsity status last year and began its first saeson April 13.

John Bucholtz, currently a physical education instructor, will assume the coaching duties when the team prepares for the season next November at the new campus. Bucholtz is a 1966 graduate of Cortland State where he received a Bachelor of Science in Education degree. He coached the RIT swimming club this past year in four meets against area colleges.
