Student Life Team: new web site, programmatic offerings

NTID's Student Life Team now has a new website: <http://www.rit.edu/~426www/>. Information about the department's activities and faculty and staff members is available as well as a calendar of events. The site was designed and set up by Chad Taylor, an information technology student from Hensall, Ontario, Canada.

The Student Life Team recently presented its 7th annual Paraprofessional Job Fair to provide opportunities for students to find out what kinds of jobs are available on campus this summer and next academic year and enables them to discuss those opportunities with other students currently holding the positions. Programs featured included: PAH! Deaf TV, Chatting About..., Explore Your Future, Summer Vestibule Program, Student Sports Advocate, Student Development Educator, Multicultural Peer Educator, Residence Life, RITSign, Freshman Seminar Teaching Assistant, and PIERS.

Another program recently sponsored by the Student Life Team was the Leadership Retreat, which was open to all students who signed up. Featured presenters and role models included: Libby Pollard, president of the National Association of the Deaf; Dr. Robert Davila, vice president for NTID; Dr. T. Alan Hurwitz, dean of NTID; Karey Tompkins Pine, Student Life Team manager; Debbye Byrne, NTID Student Congress president, and several others.
