

Submit Your Paper for the Communication Ethics Award

Bruce A. Austin baagll@rit.edu

24 March 2008

Now! You can submit your work for consideration for the Department of Communication's 2008 Ethics and Communication Award. Written essays, research papers, interactive CDs, websites, performances and speeches are all projects eligible for consideration.

The Ethics and Communication Award, made possible by a generous PTC alumnus, recognizes outstanding work in the study of ethics and communication by PTC or APR students. Project authors may be individuals or teams, must be PTC or APR majors, and the project must have been executed and completed during the 2007-2008 academic year.

The deadline for submission of projects and papers is Friday, 4 April. For more information write Professor Barbara Smith, bhsgpt@rit.edu