

Newspaper Journalism Co-op Available

Bruce A. Austin baagll@rit.edu

14 April 2008

Three internships at the Genesee Sun are currently available; each is for an approximately 20-hour week. One position is reporting; this includes feature stories, breaking news, and sports. The intern is encouraged to be creative in pitching story ideas and the more aggressive the story concept the better. The second is as a photographer to cover the same range of stories as the reporter as well as some studio work. The third is for someone who does design work.

The Sun is based in Avon that runs every other week. We are looking for interns that are hard working and dedicated. We are a very aggressive newspapers that attacks very serious issues in our region and Rochester.

For more information contact the publisher, Mr. Josh Williams at 585-226-3203 or through the web site: www.geneseesun.com