Some light summer reading

Despite excruciating pain caused by an abscess in my gum, I am proud to deliver the first of three summer issues of News & Events. (Please excuse any misspellings in this blog post—I've taken a Vicadin and I'm starting to feel a little dizzy...)

This issue seemed like a piece of cake to produce, especially after coming off of the 12-page Commencement issue. Four pages seems like nothing after that one. But, I certainly don't want to seem cocky. The same amount of care and dedication was put into this summer issue, even though our readership significantly decreases during this time.

There have been thoughts of producing an online-only version of the publication during the summer, but nothing has been decided on that point yet.

One more quick note: A special 'thank you' to all of you who responded to our recent University News survey. Your time and efforts are greatly appreciated.

Happy reading. And we'll see you in July.
