Eight packed pages of news

This week, News & Events is filled with eight pages of interesting RIT news, features, events, photos and announcements.

But, don't look for News & Events in your mailbox today. News & Events will deliver on Friday, March 14—and unfortunately, due to the HUB's schedule, you may not find News & Events in your campus mailbox until Monday. We decided to delay delivery so that we could bring you the most up-to-date information on the recent Imagine RIT press conference held March 11.

PAETEC was revealed as the lead sponsor of the Imagine RIT: Innovation and Creativity Festival in a “pep rally” of sorts.

I asked our printer to hold up production so that we could include a photo or two that helped to capture the excitement and energy of the event. (A special ‘thank you’ to Elizabeth Lamark for getting us two photos in a hurry...)

Just to mention a few other great stories in this issue:

- * Our student spotlight features a former University News co-op student who is making connections in Kenya
- * An announcement of the new Pollution Prevention Institute at RIT
- * Two Viewpoints essays
- * The announcement of our new provost
- * Photo lectures and gallery shows

And so much more...

So, look for News & Events on Friday. And enjoy!
