Congratulations to Megan Hilts, a 2008 Communication & Media Technologies graduate. As one of hundreds of applicants for a position with Blue Fountain Media, a New York City web design firm, Megan became one of ten invited for an interview and was offered the position. She begins her professional career in sales and online marketing.

An e-newsletter published occasionally by the Department of Communication and distributed to students and their family, alumni, faculty and others who have expressed an interest in communication.
