A packed house of first year Liberal Arts majors – as well as CLA faculty and staff – listened attentively to Danielle Gatti and Eileen Shannon, the featured speakers at this morning’s College of Liberal Arts Assembly. Danielle and Eileen each offered the new RIT students insights and advice about the academic journey they began this week. Danielle is a fourth-year Advertising & Public Relations majors who consistently earns Dean’s List status; Eileen is a 2003 graduate of Professional & Technical Communication and a 2005 graduate of Communication & Media Technologies who works as a prospect researcher in RIT’s Office of Development.
