I’m Mike Saffran with an RIT NEWSMINUTE for Monday, Jan. 21, 2008—week six of winter quarter.

RIT today . . . Martin Luther King Jr. Day (classes are in session)
• Workshop: Introduction to Web 2.0, noon, Wallace Library-third floor (additional workshops all this week as part of Social 2.0 Week)

RIT this week . . .
• Tuesday, Jan. 22: Lunch ‘n’ Learning workshop: Stopping Procrastination, noon, Eastman Building, room 2358
• Faculty Scholars Series: Marla Schweppe, “From the World Stage to the Virtual Stage: The Life of a Designer,” 3 p.m., Wallace Library-Idea Factory
• Wednesday, Jan. 23: Federal and Public Service Career Fair, 11 a.m.-2 p.m., SAU-Fireside Lounge
• Immersive Theater, 2 p.m., Van Peursem Auditorium (same time Thursday)
• Thursday, Jan. 24: Graduate study information session, 5 p.m., Bausch & Lomb Center
• Theater: “A Raisin in the Sun,” 7:30 p.m., LBJ, room 1510 (additional performances Friday through Sunday)
• Friday, Jan. 25: Spirit Week begins
• Comedian Pablo Francisco, 8 p.m., Clark Gym
• RIT Players present “On the Twentieth Century,” 8 p.m., Ingle Auditorium (same time Saturday, 2 p.m. Sunday)
• Friday Night in the RITz: Country Night, 10 p.m.

This has been an RIT NEWSMINUTE.

Archive of previous podcasts and podcast transcripts available at: http://www.rit.edu/news/podcasts