

Ross Stuckless honored by CEASD

May 1, 1998

The Conference of Educational Administrators of Schools for the Deaf recently honored Dr. E. Ross Stuckless, professor and research associate in NTID's department of educational career research with the Edward Allen Fay Award for his significant publication contributions to the field of deaf education. Stuckless has chaired the American Annals of the Deaf committee for 16 years.