

Senior Communication Specialist: Constellation Brands

Bruce A. Austin baagll@rit.edu

5 September 2008

Constellation Brands seeks a full-time Senior Communication Specialist. The successful applicant will be responsible for researching and developing speeches, presentations and communication materials for employee communications and executive communications. Responsible for writing and editing employee publications as well as Intranet communications.

To learn more about the job posting, visit www.prsarochester.org/jobs.html.