

Communication Honor Society Meets Friday, 11 a.m.

Keri Barone klbgpt@rit.edu

22 September 2008

The Department of Communication's chapter of the National Communication Association's (NCA) Honor Society, Lambda Pi Eta, hosts an informational session this Friday, 26 September, beginning at 11 a.m. The session combines light refreshments with important details on membership requirements for the next class of inductees. The meeting takes place in Eastman (building 01), room 3287.

If you support community service initiatives and have achieved academic excellence we would love to add your individual knowledge and skills to our organization. Lambda Pi Eta provides a wealth of opportunities for networking with peers and professionals in your chosen field.

At the meeting we will share exciting news about upcoming events, including the 66th Annual NYS Communication Association Conference at the Hudson Valley Resort & Spa, the national NCA conference in San Diego, and the Eastern Communication Association Conference in Philadelphia.