RIT's Sports Information Department has a Co-op available beginning December 2008. The Sports Information Department is responsible for the promotion of RIT's 24 intercollegiate sports to various media outlets.

The Co-op student will assist in day-to-day operations, maintain the Athletics web site on a daily basis, schedule student workers for games and office work, travel to "away" contests and provide media relations to local media, generate feature stories for local media, and will help write, edit and design selected athletic publications.
