

DOC Receives Grant to Support Its Students

Bruce A. Austin baagll@rit.edu

20 January 2009

The Department of Communication (DOC) is once again the grateful recipient of a generous grant from the Sharon and Joshua Weinberg Tzedakah Fund. As it has previously, Sharon and Josh Weinberg's funding supports students who major in Communication. The Department employs their funding to support its annual Ethics and Communication Award. Offered annually in conjunction with the initiation of selected DOC students in the national communication honors society, Lambda Pi Eta, the Award recognizes excellence in ethical sensitivity and awareness.

Josh Weinberg is one of the earliest Professional & Technical Communication graduates (1989) and operates a San Francisco-based public relations firm specializing in technology.