

DOC Students and the “Senior Prom”

Bruce A. Austin baagll@rit.edu

18 May 2009

The Department of Communication’s chapter of PRSSA partnered with the Legacy Senior Citizens (Erie Station Road) community in Henrietta for a Senior Prom on Friday evening, 15 May, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Among the participating members of the RIT chapter of PRSSA in the Department of Communication was Lauren Hittinger, Haley Clint, Nicole Sherman, Alison Bird, Rich Henry, Erick Davidson, Samantha Dudics, Alecia Crawford, and James Kase.

Encore, the female singing group in the College of Liberal Arts provided entertainment along with one group member who played piano for the seniors earlier in the evening.

All attendees were "pinned" with their choice of "cause" ribbons, setting the tone and purpose for uniting with the Seniors’ community on this event.

Wilma King, PRSSA advisor, noted: “The students had fun, looked great, worked very hard on the event, and represented the DOC, the CLA, and RIT very respectfully, providing sincere and significant outreach to the community.” The event was covered by Fox News at 10:00 and News Channel 8 at 11 on Friday.