

Administrative Support Technology (AST) Sign Vocabulary
CD-ROM Project: A Self-Instructional Sign Language
Resource for Faculty, Staff, & Students (T04P)

Frank Caccamise
NTID/RIT
Camille Aidala
Mary Lou Basile
Vincent Ortolani

Email: fccncr@rit.edu

Thursday, 6/26/03 -- 4:30 PM
Location: LBJ [060] 2nd Floor Street

Strand: In-Service/Pre-Service Strategies
Type: Poster Audience: All

Summary:

The goal of this project was to develop a sign language self-instructional material that would provide random access to signs for Administrative Support Technology (AST) terminology. The process followed to help ensure collection of AST terminology and signs that accurately reflect current usage by skilled signers' knowledgeable about AST is described. In addition, factors and options considered for recording signs and determining the format to be used are provided. Results of an evaluation to help assist planning for future development of similar materials are also reported.