Summary:

NTID's Office of Admissions uses technology to connect with prospective students. Websites and CDs help students find detailed information about RIT/NTID programs. The AIM (AOL Instant Messenger) (NTIDatRIT) was recently announced for students with unanswered questions to contact Admissions regarding their application status. NTID Admissions uses videoconferences and NetMeetings to present information to groups of students nationwide. The Office's goal is to give students accurate, helpful information in the quickest way via the use of technology.
